After this, when king Demetrius saw ^s that the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his forces, every one to his own place, except certain bands of strangers, whom ^ohe had gathered from ^pthe isles of the heathen: wherefore all the forces of his fathers hated him. Moreover there was one Tryphon, that ^qhad been of Alexander's part afore, who, seeing that all the host murmured against Demetrius, went to Simalcue the ^rArabian, that brought up Antiochus the young son of Alexander, and lay sore upon him to deliver him this young Antiochus, that he might reign in his father's stead: he told him therefore all that Demetrius had done, and how his men of war were at enmity with him, and ^rthere he remained a long season.

In the mean time Jonathan sent unto king Demetrius, that he would cast those of ^sthe tower out of Jerusalem, and ^tthose also in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel. So Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy people, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if opportunity serve. Now therefore thou shalt do well, if thou send me men to help me; for ^uall my forces are gone from me. Upon this Jonathan sent him ^wthree thousand strong men unto ^xAntioch: and when they came to the king, the king was very glad of their coming. Howbeit they that were of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of an hundred and twenty thousand men, and would have slain the king. Wherefore the king fled into the court, but they of the city kept the passages of the city, and began to fight. Then the king called to the Jews for help, who came unto him all at once, and dispersing themselves through the city slew that day in the city to the number of an hundred thousand. Also they set fire on the city, and gat many spoils that day, and delivered the king. So when they

of the city saw that the Jews had got the city as they would, their courage was abated: wherefore they made supplication to the king, and cried, saying, ^yGrant us peace, and let the Jews cease ^zfrom assaulting us and the city. With that they cast away their weapons, and made peace; and the Jews were honoured in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all that were in his realm; and they returned to Jerusalem, having great spoils. So king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and ^athe land was quiet before him. Nevertheless he dissembled in all that ever he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, neither rewarded he him according to the benefits which he had received of him, but troubled him very sore.

After ^ythis returned Tryphon, and with him ^zthe young child Antiochus, who reigned, and was crowned. Then there gathered unto him all the men of war, whom Demetrius had put away, and they fought against Demetrius, who ^aturned his back and fled. Moreover Tryphon took the ^belephants, and won ^cAntioch. At that time young Antiochus wrote unto Jonathan, saying, ^dI confirm thee in the high priesthood, and appoint thee ruler over ^ethe four governments, and to be one of ^fthe king's friends. Then ⁶⁵ Simon encamped against ^mBethsura, and fought against it a long season, and shut it up: but they desired ^{mm}to have peace ⁶⁶ with him, which he granted them, and then ^mput them out from thence, and took the city, and set a garrison in it. As for Jonathan and his host, they ⁶⁷ pitched at the water of ⁿGennesar, from whence betimes in the morning they ⁶⁸ gat them to the plain of ^oNasor. And behold, the host of strangers met them in the plain, who, having laid ^pmen in ambush for him in the mountains, came themselves over against him. So when ⁶⁹ ^pthey that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and joined battle, all that were of Jonathan's side fled; insomuch ⁷⁰ as there was not one of them left, except Mattathias the son of ^qAbsalom, and Judas the son of Calphi, the captains of the host. Then Jonathan ⁷¹ rent his clothes, and ^scast earth upon his head, and prayed. Afterwards turning again ⁷² to battle, he put them to flight, and so they ran away. Now when his own ⁷³ men that were fled saw this, they turned again unto him, and with him pursued them to ^kCades, even ^kunto their own tents, and there they camped. So there ⁷⁴ were slain of the heathen that day about three thousand men: but Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

XII.

Now when Jonathan saw that the time served him, he chose ^a*certain* men, and sent them to ^aRome, for to confirm and renew ^bthe friendship that they had with them. He sent letters also to ^{bb}the ² Lacedemonians, and to other places, for the same purpose. So they went unto ³ ^aRome, and ^centered into the senate, and said, Jonathan the high priest, and the people of the Jews, sent us unto you, to the end you should renew the friendship, which you had with them, and league, as in former time. Upon ⁴ this the Romans gave them letters unto the governors of every place, that they should bring them into the land of Judea peaceably. And this is the copy ⁵ of the letters ^dwhich Jonathan wrote to the Lacedemonians:

Jonathan the high priest, and ^ethe elders of the nation, and the priests, and the other people of the Jews, unto the Lacedemonians their brethren send greeting: There were letters sent in times past ⁷ unto ^fOnias the high priest from ^gDa-

rius, who reigned then among you, to signify that you are our brethren, as ^gthe ⁸ copy here underwritten doth specify.

⁸ At which time Onias entreated the ambassador that was sent honourably, and received the letters, wherein ^hdeclaration was made of the ⁱleague and friendship. Therefore we also, albeit we need none of these things, for that we have the holy books of scripture in our hands

¹⁰ ⁱto comfort us, have nevertheless attempted to send unto you for the renewing of brotherhood and friendship, lest we should become strangers unto you altogether: for there is a long time

¹¹ passed since you sent unto us. We therefore at all times ^jwithout ceasing, both in our feasts, and other convenient days, do remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as reason is, and as it becometh us to think upon

¹⁴ us. Howbeit we would not ^kbe troublesome unto you, nor to others of our confederates and friends, in these wars: ¹⁵ for we have help from heaven that succoureth us, so as we are delivered from our enemies, and our enemies are brought

¹⁶ under foot. For this cause we chose ^l*Numenius the son* of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and sent them unto the Romans, to renew the amity that we had with them, and the ¹⁷ former league. We commanded them also to go unto you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of our brotherhood. ¹⁸ Wherefore now ye shall do well to give ¹⁹ us an answer thereto. And this is

²² now therefore, since this is come to our knowledge, you shall do well to ²³ write unto us of your ^lprosperity. We do write back again to you, that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore our ambassadors to make report unto you on this wise.

After this came Jonathan home again, ³⁵ and calling the elders of the people together, he consulted with them about ^{vv} building strong holds in Judea, and ³⁶ ^w making the walls of Jerusalem higher, and raising a great mount between ^x the tower and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be alone, ^y that men might neither sell nor buy in it. Upon this they came together ³⁷ to build up the city, ^l forasmuch as part of the wall toward the brook on the east side was fallen down, and they repaired that which was called Caphe-natha. Simon also set up ^z Adida in ³⁸ ^z Sephela, and made it strong ^a with gates and bars.

Now ^b Tryphon went about to get ³⁹ the kingdom of ^c Asia, and ^d to kill Antiochus the king, that he might set the crown upon his own ^e head. How- ⁴⁰beit he was afraid that Jonathan would not suffer him, and that he would fight against him; wherefore he sought a way how to take Jonathan, that he might kill him. So he removed, and came to ⁴¹ ^f Bethsan. Then Jonathan went out to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for the ^g battle, and came to ^f Beth-

⁴² san. Now when Tryphon saw that Jonathan came with so great a force, he durst not stretch his hand against him;

⁴³ but received him honourably, and commended him unto all his friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his men of war to be as obedient unto him, as

⁴⁴ to himself. Unto Jonathan also he said, Why hast thou put all this people to so great trouble, seeing there is no

⁴⁵ war betwixt us? Therefore send them now home again, and choose a few men to wait on thee, and come thou

with me to ^h Ptolemais, for ⁱ I will give it thee, and the rest of the strong holds and forces, and all that have any

^j charge: as for me, I will return and depart: for this is the cause of my

⁴⁶ coming. So Jonathan believing him did as he bade him, and sent away his host,

⁴⁷ who went into the land of Judea. And with himself he retained but three thousand men, of whom he ^t sent ^m two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with him.

⁴⁸ Now as soon as Jonathan entered into ^h Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and took him, and all them that came with him they slew with the

⁴⁹ sword. Then sent Tryphon a host of footmen and horsemen into Galilee, and into ^l the great plain, to destroy ^m all

⁵⁰ Jonathan's company. But when they knew that Jonathan and they that were with him were taken and ⁿ slain, they encouraged one another, and went close

⁵¹ together, prepared to fight. They therefore that followed upon them, perceiving that they were ready to fight for their

⁵² lives, turned back again. Whereupon they all came into the land of Judea peaceably, and there they bewailed Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid; wherefore all

⁵³ Israel made great lamentation. Then all the heathen that were round about them sought to destroy them: for said they, They have no captain, nor any to help them: now therefore let us make war upon them, and ^o take away their memorial from amongst men.

phon had gathered together a great host to invade the land of Judea, and destroy it, and saw that the people was ^c in great trembling and fear, he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together, and gave them exhortation, saying, Ye yourselves know what great things I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have done for the laws and the sanctuary, the battles also and troubles which we have seen, by reason whereof ^d all my brethren are slain for Israel's sake, and I am left alone. Now therefore be it far from me, that ^e I should spare mine own life in any time of trouble: ^f for I am no better than my brethren. Doubtless I will avenge my nation, and the sanctuary, and our wives, and our children: for all the heathen are gathered to destroy us of very malice. Now as soon as the people heard these words, their spirit revived. And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou shalt be our leader instead of ^g Judas and ^h Jonathan thy brother. Fight thou our battles, and whatsoever thou commandest us, that will we do. So then he gathered together all the men of war, and made haste ⁱ to finish the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it round about. Also he sent Jonathan the son of ^k Absalom, and with him a great power, to ^l Joppe: who ^m casting out them that were therein remained there in it.

So Tryphon removed from ⁿ Ptolemais with a great power to invade the land of Judea, and ^o Jonathan was with him in ward. But Simon pitched his tents at ^p Adida, over against ^q the plain. Now when Tryphon knew that Simon ^r was risen up instead of his brother Jonathan, and meant to join battle with him, he sent messengers unto him, saying, Whereas we have Jonathan thy brother in hold, it is for money that he is owing unto the king's treasure, ^s concerning the business that was committed unto him. Wherefore now send an hundred talents of silver, and two of his sons for ^t hostages, that when he is at liberty he may not revolt from us, and we will let him go. Hercupon Simon, albeit he perceived that they spake deceitfully unto him; yet sent he the money and the children, lest peradventure he should procure to himself great hatred of the people: who might have said, Because I sent him not the money and the children, therefore is ^u Jonathan dead. So he sent them the children and the hundred talents: howbeit Tryphon dissembled, neither would he let Jonathan go. And after this came Tryphon to invade the land, and destroy it, going round about by the way that leadeth unto ^v Adora: but Simon and his host marched against him in every place, wheresoever he went. Now they that were in ^w the tower sent messengers unto Tryphon, to the end that he should hasten his coming unto them by the wilderness, and ^x send them victuals. Wherefore Tryphon made ready all his horsemen to come that night: but there fell a very great snow, by reason whereof he came not. So he departed, and came into the country of ^y Galaad. And when he came near to ^z Bascama, he slew Jonathan, who was buried there. Afterward Tryphon returned and went into his own land.

Then sent Simon, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried them in ^a Modin, the city of his fathers. And ^b all Israel made great lamentation for him, and bewailed him many days. Simon also built a monument upon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and raised it aloft to the sight, with hewn stone behind and before. Moreover he set up seven pyramids, one against another, for his father, and his mother, and his four brethren. And in these he made cunning devices, about the which he set great pillars, and upon the pillars he made ^c all their armour for a perpetual memory, and by the armour ships carved, that they might be seen of all ^d that sail on the sea. This is the sepulchre which he made at ^e Modin, and it standeth yet ^f unto this day.

Now ^g Tryphon dealt deceitfully with the young king Antiochus, and slew him. And he reigned in his stead, and crowned himself king of ^h Asia, and brought a great calamity upon the land. Then Simon ⁱ built up the strong holds in Judea, and fenced them about with high towers, and ^j great walls, and gates, and bars, and laid up victuals ^k therein. Moreover Simon chose men, and sent to ^l king Demetrius, to the end he should give the land an immunity, because ^m all that Tryphon did was to spoil. Unto whom king Demetrius answered, saying, I will not give thee immunity, because thou hast slain thy king, and crowned thyself king of Asia. And thou hast brought a great calamity upon the land. Therefore I will not give thee immunity. And he answered, saying, I have slain no king, but I have slain a wicked man, and I have crowned myself king of Israel. And he answered, saying, I will not give thee immunity, because thou hast slain thy king, and crowned thyself king of Asia. And thou hast brought a great calamity upon the land. Therefore I will not give thee immunity.

metrius answered and wrote after this manner: King Demetrius unto ³⁶ Simon ^{jk} the high priest, and ^k friend of kings, as also unto the elders and nation of the Jews, sendeth greeting: ¹ The golden crown, and ^m the scarlet ³⁷ robe, which ye sent unto us, we have received: and we are ready to make a stedfast peace with you, yea, and to write unto our ⁿ officers, to confirm the ^o immunities which we have granted. And whatsoever covenants we have made ³⁸ with you shall stand; and ^s the strong holds, which ye have builded, shall be your own. As for any oversight or fault committed unto this day, we forgive ³⁹ it, and the ^p crown tax also, which ye owe us: and ^{pp} if there were any other tribute paid in Jerusalem, it shall no more be paid. And look who are meet ⁴⁰ among you to be in our court, ^q let them be enrolled, and let there be peace betwixt us. Thus the yoke of the ⁴¹ heathen was taken away from Israel in ^{*} the hundred and seventieth year. Then the people of Israel ^r began ⁴² to write in their instruments and contracts, In the first year of Simon the high priest, the governor and leader of the Jews.

In those days Simon camped against ⁴³ ^s Gaza, and besieged it round about; he made also an engine of war, and set it by the city, and battered a certain tower, and took it. And they that ⁴⁴ were in the engine leapt into the city; whereupon there was a great uproar in the city: insomuch as the people of the ⁴⁵ city ^t rent their clothes, and climbed upon the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, beseeching Simon ¹ to grant them peace. And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickedness, but according to thy mercy. So Simon was ⁴⁷ appeased towards them, and fought no more against them, but put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were, and so entered into it ^u with songs and thanksgiving. Yea, he put all uncleanness out of it, ⁴⁸ and placed such men there as would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein ^v a dwelling place for himself.

They also of ^{*} the tower in Jerusalem were kept so strait, that they could neither ^y come forth, nor go into the country, ^z nor buy, nor sell: wherefore

^a they were in great distress for want of victuals, and a great number of them ⁵⁰ perished through famine. Then cried they to Simon, beseeching him ¹ to be at one with them: which thing he granted them; and when he had put them out from thence, ^{aa} he cleansed ^{*} the tower ⁵¹ from pollutions: and entered into it the three and twentieth day of the second month, in ^{*} the hundred seventy and one year, with ^b thanksgiving, and ^c branches of palm trees, and with ^d harps, and ^e cymbals, and with ^f viols, and ^h hymns, and songs: because there was destroyed ^g a great enemy out of Israel. ⁵² He ordained also that that day should be kept every year with gladness. Moreover ^h the hill of the temple that was by ^{*} the tower he made stronger than it was, and there he dwelt himself with ⁵³ his company. And when Simon saw that ⁱ John his son was a valiant man, he made him captain of all the hosts; and ^j dwelt in ^k Gazara.

Now in ^{*} the hundred threescore and twelfth year king Demetrius gathered his forces together, and went into ^a Media, ^b to get him help to fight against ² Tryphon. But when ^c Arsaces, the king of ^{cc} Persia and ^a Media, heard that Demetrius was entered within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him ³ alive: who went and smote the host of Demetrius, and took him, and brought him to Arsaces, by whom he was put in ward.

⁴ As for the land of Judea, ^d that was quiet all the days of Simon; for he sought the good of his nation in such wise, as that evermore his authority and ⁵ honour pleased them well. And as he was honourable in all his acts, so in this, that he took ^e Joppe for a haven, and made an entrance to the ^f isles of the sea, and enlarged the bounds of his ⁶ nation, and recovered the country, and gathered together a great number of captives, and had the dominion of ^g Gazara, and ^h Bethsura, and ⁱ the tower, ^k out of the which he took all uncleanness, neither was there any that ⁸ resisted him. Then did they till their ground in peace, and ¹ the earth gave her increase, and the trees of the field ⁹ their fruit. The ancient men sat all in the streets, communing together of ¹ good things, and the young men ^m put on ¹⁰ glorious and warlike apparel. He provided victuals for the cities, and set in them all manner of munition, so that his honourable name was renowned unto the end of the world. He made ¹¹ peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced ¹² with great joy: for ¹³ every man sat under his vine and his fig tree, and there was none to ¹⁴ oppress them: neither was there any left in the land to fight against them: yea, the kings themselves were overthrown in those days. Moreover he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out; and every contemner of the law and wicked person he took away. He beautified the sanctuary, and multiplied the vessels of the temple.

Now when it was heard at ¹⁵ Rome, and as far as ¹⁶ Sparta, that Jonathan was dead, ¹⁷ they were very sorry. But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the cities therein: they wrote unto him ¹⁸ in tables of brass, to renew the friendship and league which they had made with ¹⁹ Judas and ²⁰ Jonathan his brethren: which writings were read before the congregation at Jerusalem. And this is the copy of the letters that the ²¹ Lacedemonians sent; The rulers of the ²² Lacedemonians, with the city, unto Simon ²³ the high priest, and the elders, and priests, and residue of the people of the Jews, our brethren, ²⁴ we send greeting: ²⁵ the ambassadors that were sent unto our people certified us of your glory and honour: wherefore we were glad of their coming, and did register the things that they spake in the ²⁶ council of the people in this manner; ²⁷ Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassadors, came unto us to renew the friendship they had with us. And it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably, and to put the copy of their ²⁸ ambassage in publick records, to the end the people of the ²⁹ Lacedemonians might have a memorial thereof: furthermore we have written a copy thereof unto Simon the high priest.

After this Simon sent ³⁰ Numenius to ³¹ Rome with a great shield of gold of a thousand ³² pound weight, to confirm the league with them. Whereof when the people heard, they said, What thanks shall we give to Simon and ³³ his sons? For ³⁴ he and his brethren and the house of his father have established Israel, and chased away in fight their enemies from them, and confirmed their liberty. So then they wrote it ³⁵ in tables of brass, which they set upon pillars in mount Sion: and this is the copy of the writing:

The eighteenth day of the month ³⁶ Elul, in ³⁷ the hundred threescore and twelfth year, being ³⁸ the third year of Simon the high priest, at ³⁹ Saramel in the great congregation of the priests, and people, and rulers of the nation, and elders of the country, were these things notified unto us. Forsomuch as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, wherein for the maintenance of their sanctuary, and the law, ⁴⁰ Simon the son of Mattathias, of the posterity of ⁴¹ Jarib, together with his brethren, ⁴² put themselves in jeopardy, and resisting the enemies of their nation did their nation great honour: (for after that Jonathan, having gathered his nation together, and ⁴³ been their high priest, ⁴⁴ was added to his people, ⁴⁵ their enemies purposed to invade their country, that they might destroy it, and lay hands on the sanctuary: at which time Simon rose up, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed ⁴⁶ the valiant men of his nation, and gave them ⁴⁷ wages, and ⁴⁸ fortified the cities of Judea, together with ⁴⁹ Bethsura, that lieth upon the borders of Judea, where the ⁵⁰ armour of the enemies had been before; but he set a garrison of Jews there: moreover he fortified ⁵¹ Joppe, which lieth upon the sea, and ⁵² Gazara, that bordereth upon ⁵³ Azotus, where the enemies had dwelt before: but he placed Jews there, and furnished them with all things convenient for the reparation thereof.) The people therefore, seeing the acts of Simon, and unto what glory he thought to bring his nation, made him their governor and ⁵⁴ chief priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and faith which he kept to his nation, and for that he sought by all means to exalt his people. For in his time ⁵⁵ things prospered in his hands, so that ⁵⁶ the heathen were taken out of their country, and ⁵⁷ they also that were in the city of David in Jerusalem, who had made themselves ⁵⁸ a tower, out of which they issued, and polluted all about the sanctuary, and did much hurt ⁵⁹ in the holy place: but he

For he had heard ^{say}, that ⁴⁰ ^xthe Romans had called the Jews their friends and confederates and brethren; and that ^ythey had entertained the ambassadors of Simon honourably; also ⁴¹ that the Jews and priests were well pleased that Simon should be their governor and ^ohigh priest ^zfor ever, ^auntil there should arise ^ba faithful prophet; moreover that ^{he} should be their ⁴² captain, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the armour, and over the fortresses, that, I say, he should take charge of the sanctuary; besides this, that he should be ⁴³ obeyed of every man, and that ^call the writings in the country should be made in his name, and that ^dhe should be clothed in purple, and wear gold: also ⁴⁴ that it should be lawful for none of the people or priests to ^ebreak any of these things, or to gainsay his words, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear ^fa buckle of gold: and whosoever ⁴⁵ should do otherwise, or ^ebreak any of these things, ^ghe should be punished.

Thus it liked all the people to deal ⁴⁶ with Simon, and to do as hath been said. Then Simon accepted hereof, and was ⁴⁷ well pleased ^hto be high priest, and captain and ⁱgovernor of the Jews and priests, and to defend them all. So they ⁴⁸ commanded that this writing should be put ^kin tables of brass, and that they should be set up within the compass of the sanctuary in a conspicuous place; also that the copies thereof should be ⁴⁹ laid up in ^lthe treasury, to the end that Simon and ^mhis sons might have them.

Moreover Antiochus son of ^aDemetrius the king sent letters from ^bthe isles of the sea unto Simon the priest and ^cprince of the Jews, and to all the people; ^dthe contents whereof were ² these: King Antiochus to Simon the high priest and ^cprince of his nation, and to the people of the Jews, greeting: Forasmuch as ^ecertain pestilent men ³ have usurped the kingdom of our fathers, and my purpose is to challenge it again, that I may restore it to the old estate, and to that end have gathered a multitude of foreign soldiers together, and ⁴ prepared ships of war; my meaning also being to go through the country, that I may be avenged of ^gthem that have destroyed it, and made many cities in the ⁵ kingdom desolate: now therefore ^hI confirm unto thee all the oblations which the kings before me granted thee, and ⁶ whatsoever gifts besides they granted. I give thee leave also to coin money for ⁷ thy country with thine own stamp. And as concerning Jerusalem and the sanctuary, ⁱlet them ⁱbe free; and all the armour that thou hast made, and ^kfortresses that thou hast built, and keepest in thy ⁸ hands, let them remain unto thee. And if any thing be, or shall be, owing to the king, ^llet it be forgiven thee from ⁹ this time forth for evermore. Furthermore, when we have obtained our kingdom, we will honour thee, and thy nation, and thy temple, with great honour, so that your honour shall be known throughout the world.

²² things wrote he likewise unto ^uDemetrius the king, and Attalus, to ^lAriarathes, and ^wArsaces, and to all the ²³ countries, and to ^lSampsames, and the ^xLacedemonians, and to Delus, and Myndus, and Sicyon, and Caria, and ^ySamos, and ^zPamphylia, and ^aLycia, and Halicarnassus, and ^bRhodus, and ^lPhaselis, and ^bCos, and Side, and Aradus, and Gortyna, and ^cCnidus, and ^dCyprus, and ^eCyrene. And the copy hereof ²⁴ they wrote to Simon the high priest.

^fSo Antiochus the king camped against ²⁵ Dora the second day, ^tassaulting it continually, and making engines, by which means he shut up Tryphon, that he could neither ^fgo out nor in. At that time ²⁶ Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to aid him; silver also, and gold, and much armour. Nevertheless he would not receive them, but ^gbrake ^hall the covenants which he had made with him afore, and became strange unto him.

Furthermore he sent unto him ²⁸ Athenobius, one of his friends, to commune with him, and say, You withhold ⁱJoppe and ^kGazara, with ^lthe tower that is in Jerusalem, which are cities of my realm. The borders thereof ye have wasted, ²⁹ and done great hurt in the land, and got the dominion of ^mmany places within my kingdom. Now therefore deliver ³⁰ the cities which ye have taken, and ⁿthe tributes of the places, whereof ye have gotten dominion ^owithout the borders of Judea: or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver; and for the harm that you have done, and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: if not, we will come and ^ofight against you. So Athenobius ²the king's ³² friend came to Jerusalem: and when he saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and silver plate, and ^{his} great ^oattendance, he was astonished, and told him the king's message. Then

³³ answered Simon, and said unto him, We have neither taken other men's land, nor holden that which appertaineth to others, but the inheritance of our fathers, which our enemies had wrongfully in

³⁴ possession a certain time. Wherefore we, having opportunity, hold the inheritance of our fathers. And whereas thou demandest ⁱJoppe and ^kGazara, albeit they did great harm unto the people in our country, yet will we give Pan hundred talents for them. Hereunto Athenobius ³⁶ answered him not a word; but returned in a rage to the king, and made report unto him of these speeches, and of the glory of Simon, and of all that he had seen: whereupon the king was exceeding ³⁷ wroth. In the mean time fled ^qTryphon ^qby ship unto Orthosias.

³⁸ Then the king made ^rCendebeus captain of the sea coast, and gave him a ³⁹ host of footmen and horsemen, and commanded him to remove his host toward Judea: also he commanded him to build ^{up} ^lCedron, and to fortify the gates, and to war against the people; but as for the ⁴⁰ king himself, he pursued ^qTryphon. So ^rCendebeus came to ^sJamnia, and began to provoke the people, and to invade Judea, and to take the people prisoners. ⁴¹ and slay them. And when he had built ^{up} Cedron, he set horsemen there, and a host of footmen, to the end that issuing out they might make outroads upon the ways of Judea, as the king had commanded him.

Then came up ^aJohn from ^a^bGazara, and told Simon his father ^cwhat Cendebeus had done. Wherefore Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and ^aJohn, and said unto them, ^dI, and my brethren, and my father's house, have ever from our youth unto this day fought against the enemies of Israel; and ^ethings have prospered so well in our hands, that we have delivered Israel oftentimes.

³ But now I am old, and ye, by God's mercy, are of a sufficient age: be ye instead of me and ^lmy brother, and go and fight for our nation, and the help ⁴from heaven be with you. So he chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war with horsemen, who went out against Cendebeus, and ^grested that

⁵ night at ^hModin. And when as they rose in the morning, and went into the plain, behold, a mighty great host both of footmen and horsemen came against them: howbeit there was a water brook ⁶betwixt them. So he and his people pitched over against them; and when he saw that the people were afraid to go over the water brook, he went first over himself, and then the men seeing him passed through after him. That done, 7

he divided his men, and set the horsemen
in the midst of the footmen: for the enemies' horsemen were very many. 8
Then ⁱsounded they with the holy trumpets: whereupon Cendebeus and his host were put to flight, so that ^kmany
of them were slain, and the remnant gat them to ^lthe strong hold. At that time 9 was ^mJudas John's brother wounded;
but John still followed after them, until he came to ^lCedron, which Cendebeus
had built. [¶]So they fled even unto the 10
towers in the fields of ⁿAzotus: wherefore he burnt it with fire: so that there were slain of them about two thousand men. Afterward he returned into the land of Judea in peace.

Moreover in ^othe plain of Jericho was 11
Ptolemeus the son of Abubus made
captain, and he had abundance of silver and gold: for he was the high priest's 12
son in law. Wherefore his heart being 13
lifted up, he thought to get the country
to himself, and thereupon consulted de-ceitfully against Simon and his sons to destroy them. Now Simon was visiting 14
the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; at which time he came down
himself to ^pJericho with his sons, Matta-thias and Judas, in ^qthe hundred three-score and seventeenth year, in the 15
eleventh month, called ^qSabat: where the son of Abubus receiving them deceit-
fully into a little hold, called Docus,

which he had built, made them a great banquet: howbeit he had hid men there.

16 So when Simon and his sons ^rhad drunk largely, Ptolemee and his men rose up, 17
and took their weapons, and came upon Simon into the banqueting place, and slew him, and his two sons, and certain

17 of his servants. In which doing he committed a great treachery, and recompensed evil for good.

18 Then Ptolemee wrote these things,
and sent to ^sthe king, that he should send him a host to aid him, and he would deliver him the country and cities.

19 He sent others also to ^bGazara, to kill John: and unto the ^ttribunes he sent letters to come unto him, that he might give them ^tsilver, and gold, and rewards.

20 And others he sent to take Jerusalem,
21 and the mountain of the temple. Now one had run afore to ^bGazara, and told John that his father and brethren were slain, and ^uquothe he, Ptolemee hath sent 22 to slay thee also. Hereof when he heard,
he was sore astonished: so he laid hands
on them that were come to destroy him,
and slew them; for he knew that they sought to make him away.

23 ^xAs concerning the rest of the acts of John, and his wars, and worthy deeds
which he did, and the building of the walls which he made, and his doings, 24 behold, these are written in the chronicles of his priesthood, from the time
he was made high priest after his fa-

THE SECOND BOOK

OF THE

MACCABEES.

I. THE brethren, the Jews that be at Jerusalem and in the land of Judea, wish unto the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, health and peace: God be gracious unto you, and ^aremember his covenant that he made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, his faithful servants; and give you all a heart to serve him, and to do his will, with a good courage and a willing mind; and ^bopen your hearts in his law and commandments, and send you peace, and hear your prayers, and ^cbe at one with you, and never forsake you in time of trouble. And now we be here praying for you. What time as ^dDemetrius reigned, in ^ethe hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews wrote unto you in the extremity of trouble that came upon us in those years, from the time that ^eJason and his company revolted from the ^fholy land and kingdom, and burnt ^gthe porch, and shed innocent blood: then we prayed unto the Lord, and were heard; ^hwe offered also sacrifices and fine flour, and lighted the lamps, and ⁱset forth the loaves. And now see that ye ^ukeep ^jthe feast ⁹of tabernacles in the month ^kCasleu.

the army with him that seemed invincible, they were slain in the temple of Nanea by the deceit of Nanea's priests.

14 For ^sAntiochus, as though he would marry her, came into the place, and his friends that were with him, to receive money in name of a dowry. Which

15 when the priests of Nanea had ⁱset forth, and he was entered with a small company into the compass of the temple, they shut the temple as soon as

16 Antiochus was come in: and opening a privy door of the roof, they threw ^tstones like thunderbolts, and stroke down the captain, hewed them in pieces, smote off their heads, and cast them to

17 those that were without. Blessed be our God in all things, who hath delivered up the ungodly.

18 Therefore whereas we are now proposed to ^ukeep ^vthe purification of the temple upon the five and twentieth day of the month ^kCasleu, we thought it necessary to ^wcertify you thereof, that ye also might ^ukeep it, as the feast ^xof the tabernacles, and of the fire, which was given us when ^yNeemias offered sacrifice, after that he had builded the

19 temple and the altar. For when our fathers were led into ^rPersia, ^{yy}the priests that were then devout took the fire of the altar privily, and hid it in a hollow place of a pit without water, where they kept it sure, so that the place was unknown to all men. Now after many years, when it pleased God, Neemias,

20 ^zbeing sent from the king of ^rPersia, did send of the posterity of those priests that had hid it to the fire: but when they ^wtold us they found no fire, but thick water; then commanded he them to draw it up, and to bring it; and when the sacrifices were laid on, Nee-

mias commanded the priests ^a to sprinkle the wood and the things laid there upon with the water. When this was ²² done, and the time came that the sun shone, which afore was hid in the cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that every man marvelled. And the ²³ priests made a prayer whilst the sacrifice was consuming, I say, both the priests, and all the rest, ^b Jonathan beginning, and the rest answering thereunto, as Neemias did. And the prayer ²⁴ was after this manner;

O Lord, Lord God, ^{bb} Creator of all things, who art fearful and strong, and righteous, and merciful, and the only and gracious King, the only giver of all ²⁵ things, the only just, ^c Almighty, and everlasting, thou that deliverest Israel from all trouble, and didst choose the fathers, and sanctify them: receive the sacrifice for thy whole people Israel, and preserve ^d thine own portion, and sanctify it. Gather ^e those together that ²⁷ are scattered from us, ^f deliver them that serve among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and ^g let the heathen know that thou art our God. Punish them that oppress ²⁸ us, and with pride do us wrong. Plant ²⁹ thy people again in thy ^h holy place ⁱ as Moses hath spoken.

And the priests sung psalms of thanksgiving. Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Neemias commanded the water that was left to be poured on the great stones. When this was done, ³² there was kindled a flame: but it was consumed by the light that shined from the altar. So when this matter was ³³ known, it was told the king of ^k Persia, that in the place, where the priests that were led away had hid the fire, there appeared water, and that ^l Neemias had purified the sacrifices therewith. Then ³⁴ the king, inclosing the place, made it holy, after he had tried the matter. And the king took many ³⁵ gifts, and bestowed thereof on those whom he would gratify. And Neemias called this thing ³⁶ Naphthar, which is as much as to say, a cleansing: but many men call it Nephthar.

It is also found in the ^a records, that Jeremie the prophet commanded them that were carried away to take of the fire, ^b as it hath been signified: and ² how that the prophet, having given them the law, charged them not to forget the commandments of the Lord, and that they should not err in their minds, ^c when they see images of silver and ³ gold, with their ornaments. And with other such speeches exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from their hearts. It was also contained in ^d the same writing, that the prophet, being warned of God, commanded the tabernacle and the ark to go with him, as he went forth into ^e the mountain, where Moses climbed up, and saw the heritage ⁵ of God. And when ^f Jeremie came thither, he found a hollow cave, wherein he laid the tabernacle, and ^g the ark, and the altar of incense, and so stopped ⁶ the door. And some of those that followed him came to mark the way, but ⁷ they could not find it. Which when Jeremie perceived, he blamed them, saying, As for that place, it shall be unknown until the time that God gather his people again together, and receive ⁸ them unto mercy. Then shall the Lord shew them these things, and the glory of the Lord shall appear, and the cloud ^{also}, ^h as it was shewed under Moses, and ⁱ as when Solomon desired that the place might be honourably sanctified. ⁹ It was also ^k declared, that he being wise ¹ offered the sacrifice of dedication, ¹⁰ and of the finishing of the temple. And ^m as when Moses prayed unto the Lord, the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the sacrifices: even so ⁿ prayed Solomon also, and the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the burnt ¹¹ offerings. And ^o Moses said, Because the sin offering was not to be eaten, it ¹² was consumed. So Solomon kept those ^p eight days.

^a Now as concerning Judas Macca-¹⁹ beus, and his brethren, and ^b the purification of the great temple, and the dedication of the altar, and the wars ²⁰ against ^c Antiochus Epiphanes, and ^d Eupator his son, and ^e the manifest signs ²¹ that came from heaven unto those that behaved themselves manfully to their honour for Judaism: so that, being but a few, they overcame the whole country, and chased barbarous multitudes, and ²² recovered again the temple renowned ²³ all the world over, and freed the city, and upheld the laws which were going down, the Lord being gracious unto them with all ^b favour: all these things, ²³ I say, being declared by Jason of ⁱ Cyrene in five books, we will assay ²⁴ to abridge in one volume. For considering the infinite number, and the difficulty which they find that desire to look into the ²⁵ narrations of the story, for the variety of the matter, we have been careful, that they that will read may have delight, and that they that are desirous to commit to memory might have ease, and that all into whose hands it comes might have profit. Therefore to us, that have taken upon us this ^j painful labour of abridging, it was not easy, but a matter of sweat and watching; even as it is no ease unto him that prepareth a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others: yet ²⁶ for the pleasuring of many we will undertake gladly this ^j great pains; leaving ²⁶ to ^k the author the exact handling of every particular, and labouring to follow the ²⁷ rules of an abridgment. For as the master builder of a new house must care for the whole building; ²⁸ but he that undertaketh to set it out, and paint it, must seek out fit things for the adorning thereof: even so I think it is with us. To stand upon every point, ³⁰ and go over things at large, and to be curious in particulars, belongeth to ^k the first author of the story: but to use ³¹ ^m brevity, and avoid much labouring of the work, is to be granted to him that

Now when ^a the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws were kept very well, because of the godliness of ^b Onias the high priest, and ^{his} hatred of wickedness, it came to pass that even the kings themselves did honour the place, and magnify the temple with their best ^c gifts; inso-³ much that ^d Seleucus king of ^e Asia of his own revenues bare all the costs belonging to the service of the sacrifices. But one ^{ee} Simon of the tribe of Benjamin, who was made governor of the temple, ^f fell out with the high ⁵ priest about disorder in the city. And when he could not overcome Onias, he gat him to ^g Apollonius the son of Thraseas, who then was governor of ⁶ ^h Coelosyria and Phenice, and told him that ⁱ the treasury in Jerusalem was full of infinite sums of money, so that the multitude of their ^j riches, ^k which did not pertain to the account of the sacrifices, was innumerable, and that it was possible to bring all into the king's ⁷ hand. Now when Apollonius came to the king, and had shewed him of the money whereof he was told, the king chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and ¹ sent him with a commandment to bring ⁸ him the foresaid money. So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, ^m under a colour of visiting the cities of ^h Coelosyria and Phenice, but indeed to fulfil ⁹ the king's ⁿ purpose. And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been ^o courteously received of the high priest of the city, he ^p told him what intelligence was given of the money, and ^q declared wherefore he came, and asked if ¹⁰ these things were so indeed. Then the high priest told him that there was such ^r money laid up for the relief of ^s widows and fatherless children: and that some ^{of it} belonged to Hircanus son of Tobias, a man of great dignity, and not as ^{that} wicked Simon had misinformed: the sum whereof in all was four hundred ^t talents of silver, and two hundred of gold: and that it was altogether impossible that such wrong should be done unto them, ^u that had committed it to the holiness of the place, and to the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, honoured over all the world. But Heliodorus, ^v because of the king's ¹³ commandment given him, said, That in any wise it must be brought into the king's treasury.

So at the day which he appointed he ¹⁴ entered in to order this matter: wherefore there was no small ^w agony throughout the whole city. But the priests, ¹⁵ prostrating themselves before the altar ^x in their priests' vestments, called unto heaven upon him that ^y made a law concerning [†] things given to be kept, that they should safely be preserved for ^u such as had committed them to be kept. Then whoso had looked the high ¹⁶ priest in the face, it would have wounded his heart: for his countenance and the changing of his colour declared the inward ^w agony of his mind. For the ¹⁷ man was so compassed with fear and horror of the body, that it was manifest to them that looked upon him, what sorrow he had now in his heart. Others ¹⁸ ran flocking out of their houses [‡] to the general supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt. And the women, ^a girt with sackcloth ¹⁹ under their breasts, abounded in the streets, and the virgins that were kept in ran, some to the ^b gates, and some to the walls, and others looked out of the ^c windows. And all, holding their ²⁰ hands towards heaven, made supplication. Then it would have pitied a man ²¹ to see the falling down of the multitude of all sorts, and the [†] fear of the high priest, being in such an ^w agony. They ²² then called upon the Almighty Lord to keep the things committed of trust safe and sure for ^u those that had committed them. Nevertheless Heliodorus ²³ executed that which was decreed.

Now as he was there present him- ²⁴ self with his guard about ^d the treasury, the [†] Lord of spirits, and the ^e Prince of all power, caused a great ^{ee} apparition, so that all that presumed to come in with him were astonished at the power of God, and fainted, and were sore afraid. For there appeared unto them ²⁵ a horse with a terrible rider upon him, and adorned with a very fair covering, and he ran fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that he that sat upon the horse had complete ^f harness of gold. Moreover ²⁶

two other young men appeared before him, notable in strength, excellent in beauty, and comely in apparel, who stood by him on either side, and ^{ff} scourged him ^g continually, and gave ²⁷ him many sore stripes. And Heliodorus fell suddenly unto the ground, and was compassed with great darkness: but they that were with him took him up, ²⁸ and put him into ^{gg} a litter. Thus him, that lately came with a great train and with all his guard into the said ^d treasury, they carried out, being unable to help himself with his weapons: and manifestly they acknowledged the power ²⁹ of God: for he by the hand of God was cast down, and lay speechless without ³⁰ all hope of life. But they praised the Lord, that had miraculously honoured his own place: for the temple, which a little afore was full of fear and trouble, when the ^h Almighty Lord appeared, was filled with joy and gladness.

³¹ Then straightways certain of Heliodorus' friends prayed Onias, ⁱ that he would call upon the most High to grant him his life, who lay ready to ³² give up the ghost. So the high priest, ^j suspecting lest the king should misconceive that some treachery had been done to Heliodorus by the Jews, offered a sacrifice for the health of the man. ³³ Now as the high priest was making an atonement, ^k the same young men in the same clothing appeared and stood beside Heliodorus, saying, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, insomuch as ⁱ for his sake the Lord hath granted ³⁴ thee life: and seeing that thou hast been scourged from heaven, declare unto all men the mighty power of God. And when they had spoken these words, ³⁵ they appeared no more. So Heliodorus, after he had offered sacrifice unto the Lord, and made great vows unto him that had saved his life, and ^l saluted Onias, returned with his host to the king. Then testified he to all men the works of the great God, which he ³⁷ had seen with his eyes. And when the king asked Heliodorus, who might be a fit man to be sent yet once again ³⁸ to Jerusalem, he said, If thou hast any enemy or ^m traitor, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him well scourged, if he escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is ³⁹ an especial power of God. that dwelleth in heaven hath his eye on that place, and defendeth it; and he beateth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it. And the things ⁴⁰ concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of ^dthe treasury, fell out on this sort.

This Simon now, ^aof whom we spake afore, having been a ^bbewrayer of the money, and of his country, slandered Onias, ^cas if he had terrified Heliodorus, and been the worker of these evils. Thus was he bold to call him ²a ^dtraitor, ^ethat had deserved well of the city, and tendred his own nation, and was so ^fzealous of the laws. But ³when their hatred went so far, that by one of Simon's faction murders were committed, Onias seeing the danger of ⁴this contention, and that ^gApollonius, as being the governor of ^hCoelosyria and Phenice, did rage, and increase Simon's malice, he went to the king, ⁱnot to be an accuser of his countrymen, but seeking the good of all, both publick and private: for he saw that it was impossible that the state should continue quiet, and Simon leave his folly, unless the king ^jdid look thereunto.

But after the death of ^kSeleucus, ⁷when ^lAntiochus, called Epiphanes, took the kingdom, ^mJason the brother of Onias ^{mm}laboured underhand to be high priest, promising unto the king ⁸by ⁿintercession three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and of another revenue eighty talents: besides ⁹this, he promised to assign an hundred and fifty more, if he might have licence to set him up ^oa place for exercise, and for the training up of youth in the fashions of the heathen, and to write them of Jerusalem by the name of ^pAntiochians. Which when the king ¹⁰had granted, and he had gotten into his hand the rule, he forthwith ^qbrought his own nation to the ^rGreekish fashion. And the royal privileges granted of ¹¹special favour to the Jews by the means of John the father of ^{qq}Eupolemus, who went ambassador to ^rRome for amity and aid, he took away; and putting down the governments which were according to the law, he brought up new customs against the law: for he built ¹²gladly ^oa place of exercise under ^sthe tower itself, and brought the chief young men under his subjection, and made them wear a hat.

¹³Now such was the height of ^tGreek fashions, and increase of ^uheathenish manners, through the exceeding profaneness of Jason, that ungodly wretch, ¹⁴and ^vnot high priest; that the priests had no courage to serve any more at the altar, but despising the temple, and neglecting the sacrifices, hastened to be partakers of the unlawful allowance in the place of exercise, after ¹⁵the game of Discus called them forth; not setting by the honours of their fathers, but liking the glory of the Grecians best ¹⁶of all. By reason whereof sore calamity came upon them: for they had them to be ^wtheir enemies and avengers, whose ^xcustom they followed so earnestly, and unto whom they desired to be ¹⁷like in all things. For it is not a light thing to do wickedly against the laws of God: but the time following shall declare these things.

²¹Now when ^bApollonius the son of Menestheus was sent into Egypt for the ¹coronation of king ^cPtolemeus Philometor, Antiochus, understanding him not to be well affected to his affairs, provided for his own safety: whereupon he came to ^dJoppe, and from thence to Jerusalem: where he was honourably received of Jason, and of the city, and was brought in with torchlight, and with great shoutings: and so afterward went with his host unto ^ePhenice.

²³Three year afterward Jason sent ^fMenelaus, ^gthe foresaid Simon's brother, to bear ^hthe money unto the king, and to put him in mind of certain necessary ²⁴matters. But he being brought to the presence of the king, when he had magnified him for the glorious appearance of his power, got the priesthood to himself, offering ^h more than Jason ^{by} three hundred talents of silver. So ²⁵ he came with the king's mandate, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood, but having the fury of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a savage beast. Then ²⁶ Jason, who had ⁱ undermined his own brother, being ⁱ undermined by another, was compelled to flee into the country of the ^k Ammonites. So Menelaus got ²⁷ the principality: but as for the money that he had promised unto the king, he took no good order for it, albeit Sostratus the ruler of ^l the castle required it: for unto him appertained the ²⁸ gathering of the ^m customs. Wherefore they were both called before the king. Now Menelaus left his brother Lysimachus in his stead in the priesthood; and Sostratus left Crates, who was governor of the ⁿ Cyprians. While those ³⁰ things were in doing, they of ^o Tarsus and Mallos made insurrection, because they were given to the king's concubine, called Antiochis. Then came the king ³¹ in all haste to ^p appease matters, leaving ^q Andronicus, a man in authority, for his deputy.

Now Menelaus, supposing that he had ³² gotten a convenient time, ^r stole certain vessels of gold out of the temple, and gave some of them to Andronicus, and some he sold into ^s Tyrus and the cities round about. Which when Onias knew of a surety, he reprov'd him, and withdrew himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lieth by ^t Antiochia. Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to get Onias into his hands; who being persuaded thereunto, and coming to Onias in deceit, gave him his right hand with oaths; and though he were suspected by him, yet persuaded he him to come forth of the sanctuary: whom forthwith he shut up without regard of justice. For the which cause not only ³⁵ the Jews, but many also of other nations, took great indignation, and were much grieved for the unjust murder of the man. And when the king was ³⁶ come again from ^u the places about ^v Cilicia, the Jews that were in the city, and certain of the Greeks ^w that abhorred the fact also, ^x complained because Onias was slain without cause. There- ³⁷ fore Antiochus was ^y heartily sorry, and moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and modest behaviour of him

⁴⁴ Now when the king came to ^g Tyrus, three men that were sent from the ^h senate pleaded the cause before him: but Menelaus, being now convicted, promised ⁱ Ptolemee the son of Dorymenes to give him much money, if he would ^j pacify the king towards him. ⁴⁵ Whereupon Ptolemee taking the king aside into a certain gallery, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of ⁴⁷ another mind: insomuch that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations, who notwithstanding was cause of all the mischief: and ^k those poor men, who, if they had told their cause, yea, before the ^l Scythians, should have been judged innocent, them he ^m condemned to death. ⁴⁸ Thus they that followed the matter for the city, and for the people, and for the holy vessels, did soon suffer unjust ⁴⁹ punishment. Wherefore even they of ^g Tyrus, ⁿ moved with hatred of that wicked deed, caused them to be honourably ^o buried. And so ^p through the covetousness of them that were in power

About the same time ^a Antiochus prepared his second ^b voyage into Egypt: and then it happened, that through all ^c the city, for the space almost of forty days, ^d there were seen horsemen running ^e in the air, in cloth of gold, and armed with lances, like a band of soldiers, and troops of horsemen in array, ^f encountering and running one against another, with shaking of shields, and multitude of ^g pikes, and drawing of swords, and casting of darts, and glittering of golden ornaments, and ^h harness of all sorts. Wherefore every man ⁱ prayed that that ^j apparition might turn to good.

Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had been dead, ^k Jason took at the least a thousand men, and suddenly made an ^l assault upon the city; and they that were upon the walls being put back, and the city at length taken, ^m Menelaus fled into ⁿ the castle: but Jason slew his ^o own citizens without mercy, not considering that to get the day of them of his own nation would be a most unhappy day for him; but thinking they had been his enemies, and not his countrymen, whom he conquered. Howbeit, ^p for all this he obtained not the principality, but at the last received shame for the reward of his treason, and ^q fled again into the country of the Ammonites. In the end therefore he had an unhappy ^r return, being accused before ^s Aretas the king of the ^t Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated as ^u a forsaker of the laws, and being had in abomination as an ^v open enemy of his country and countrymen, he was ^w cast out into Egypt. Thus he that ^x had driven many out of their country perished in a strange land, retiring to the ^y Lacedemonians, and thinking there to find succour ^z by reason of his kindred: and he that had cast out many ^a unburied had none to mourn for him, nor any ^b solemn funerals at all, nor sepulchre with his fathers.

Now when ^c this that was done came ^d to the king's ear, he thought that Judea had revolted: whereupon ^e removing out of Egypt in a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms, and ^f commanded ^g his men of war not to spare such as they met, and to slay such as went up upon ^h the houses. ⁱ Thus there was killing of young and old, ^j making away of men, women, and children, slaying of virgins ^k and infants. And there were destroyed within the space of three whole days fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in the conflict; and no ^l fewer sold than slain. Yet was he not content with this, but ^m presumed to go into the most holy temple of all the world; ⁿ Menelaus, that traitor to the laws, and to his own country, being his ^o guide: and ^p taking the holy vessels with polluted hands, and with profane hands pulling down ^q the things that were dedicated by other kings to the augmentation and glory and honour of ^r the place, he gave them away. And ^s so haughty was Antiochus in mind, that he considered not that ^t the Lord was angry for a while for the sins of them that dwelt in the city, and therefore ^u his eye was not upon the place. For had they not been formerly wrapped in many sins, this man, as soon as he had come, had forthwith been scourged, and put back from his presumption, ^v as Heliodorus was, whom ^w Seleucus the king sent to view ^x the treasury. Nevertheless God did not choose the people for ^y the place's sake, ^z but the place for ^a the people's sake. And therefore ^b the place itself, that was partaker with them of the adversities that happened to the nation, did afterward communicate in the benefits ^c sent from the Lord: and as it was forsaken in the wrath of the ^d Almighty, ^e so again, the great ^f Lord being reconciled, it was set up with all glory.

So when Antiochus ^g had carried out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste into ^h Antiochia, weening ⁱ in his pride to make the land navigable, and the sea passable by foot: such was ^j the haughtiness of his mind. And ^k he left governors to vex the nation: at Jerusalem, ^l Philip, for his country a ^m Phrygian, and for manners more barbarous than he that ⁿ set him ^o there; and at ^p Garizim, Andronicus; and besides, Menelaus, who worse than all the rest bare a heavy hand over the citizens, having a malicious mind against his countrymen the ^q Jews. ^r He sent also that detestable ^s pringleader ^t Apollonius with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those that were in their best age, and to sell the women and the younger sort: who coming to Jerusalem, and ^rpretending peace, did forbear till the holy day of the sabbath, when taking the Jews keeping holy day, he commanded his men to arm themselves. And so he slew all them that were gone to the ^scelebrating of the sabbath, and running through the city with weapons ^tslew great multitudes. But ^uJudas Maccabeus ^vwith nine others, or thereabout, ^wwithdrew himself into the wilderness, and ^xlived in the mountains after the manner of beasts, with his company, who fed on herbs continually, lest they should be partakers of the pollution.

VI. Not long after this the king sent an old man of ¹Athens to compel the Jews ^ato depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to ^blive after the laws of God: and ^cto pollute also the temple in Jerusalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius; and that in ^dGarizim, of Jupiter the Defender of strangers, ^eas they did desire that dwelt in the place. The coming in of this mischief was sore and grievous to the people: for the temple was filled with ^friot and ^grevelling by the Gentiles, who dallied with harlots, and had to do with women within the circuit of the holy places, and besides that, brought in things that were not ^hlawful. ⁱThe altar also was filled with profane things, which the law ^jforbiddeth. Neither was it ^klawful for a man ^lto keep sabbath days or ancient feasts, or to profess himself at all to be a Jew. And in the day of the king's birth every month they were brought by bitter constraint to ^meat of the sacrifices; and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, the Jews were compelled to go in procession to ⁿⁿBacchus, carrying ivy. Moreover ^othere went out a decree to the neighbour cities of the ^pheathen, by the suggestion of ^qPtolemee, against the Jews, that they should observe the same ^rfashions, and ^sbe partakers of their sacrifices: and ^twhoso would not conform themselves to the manners of the Gentiles should be put to death. Then might a man have seen the present misery. For ^uthere were two women brought, ^vwho had circumcised their children; whom when they had openly led round about the city, the babes hanging at their breasts, they cast them ^adown headlong ^bfrom the wall. And others, that had run together into ^ccaves near by, to keep the sabbath day secretly, being discovered to ^dPhilip, were ^eall burnt together, because ^fthey made a conscience to help themselves for the honour of the most sacred day. Now I beseech those that read this book, that they be not ^gdiscouraged for these calamities, ^hbut that they judge those punishments not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation. For it is a token of his great goodness, when wicked doers are not suffered ⁱany long time, but forthwith punished. For not as with other nations, ^jwhom the Lord patiently forbeareth to punish, ^ktill they be come to the fulness of their sins, so dealeth he with us, lest that, being come to the height of sin, afterwards he should take vengeance of us. And therefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us: and ^lthough he punish with adversity, ^myet doth he never forsake his people. But let this that we have spoken be for a ⁿwarning unto us. And ^onow will we come to the ^pdeclaring of the matter in few words. Eleazar, one of the principal ^qscribes, ^{rr}an aged man, and of a well favoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, and ^sto eat swine's flesh. But he, ^tchoosing rather to die gloriously, than to live ^ustained with such an abomination, spit it forth, and came of his own accord to ^vthe torment, as it behoved them to come, that are resolute to stand out ^wagainst such things, as are not lawful for love of life to be tasted. But they that had the charge of ^xthat wicked ^yfeast, for the old acquaintance they had with the man, taking him aside, besought him to bring flesh of his own provision, such as ^zwas ^{aa}lawful for him to use, and ^{bb}make as if he did eat of the flesh taken from the sacrifice commanded by the king; that in so doing he might be delivered from death, and for the old friendship with them find favour. But he began to consider ^cdiscreetly, and as became his age, and the excellency of his ancient years, and the honour of his gray head, whereunto he was come, and his most honest ^deducation from a child, or rather the holy law made and given by God: therefore he answered accordingly, and willed them straightways to send him to the grave. For it becometh not our age, ¹said he, in any wise to ^hdissemble, whereby many young persons might think that Eleazar, being ^mfour-score years old and ten, were ^{now} gone to ⁿa strange religion; and so they through mine ^hhypocrisy, and desire to live a little time and a moment longer, should be deceived by me, and I get a stain to mine old age, and make it abominable. For though for the present time I should be delivered from the punishment of men: yet should I not escape the hand of the ^{an}Almighty, neither alive, nor dead. Wherefore now, manfully changing this life, I will shew myself such a one as mine age requireth, and leave a ^onotable example to such as be young to die willingly and courageously for the honourable and holy laws. And when he had said these words, immediately he went to ^ethe torment: they that led him changing ^pthe good will they bare him a little before into hatred, because the foresaid speeches proceeded, as they thought, from ^la desperate mind. But when he was ready to die with stripes, he ^rgroaned, and said, It is manifest unto the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, that whereas I might have been delivered from death, I ^{now} endure sore pains in body by being beaten: but in soul am well content to suffer these things, because I fear him. And thus this man died, leaving his death for an ^oexample of a noble courage, and a memorial of virtue, not only unto young men, but unto all his nation.

It came to pass also, that seven brethren with their mother were taken, and compelled by the king ^aagainst the law ^bto taste swine's flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whips. But one of them that spake first said thus, What wouldest thou ask or learn of us? we are ready to die, rather than to transgress the laws of our fathers. ^{bb}Then the king, being in a rage, commanded ^cpans and caldrons to be made hot: which forthwith being heated, he commanded ^kto cut out the tongue of him that spake first, and ^kto cut off the utmost parts of his body, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on. Now when he was thus maimed in all his members, he commanded him being yet alive to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in the pan: and as the vapour of the pan was for a good space dispersed, they exhorted one another with the mother to die manfully, saying thus, The Lord God looketh upon us, and in truth hath comfort in us, as ^dMoses in his song, which witnessed to their faces, ^edeclared, saying, ^dAnd he shall be comforted in his servants. So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the second to make him ^fa mocking stock: and when they had pulled off the skin of his head with the hair, they asked him, Wilt thou eat, before thou be punished throughout every member of thy body? But he answered ^pin his own language, and said, No. Wherefore he also received ^gthe next torment in order, as the former did. And when he was at the last gasp, he said, Thou like a fury ^htakest us out of this present life, but ⁱthe King of the world shall raise us up, who have died for his laws, unto everlasting life. After him was the third ^fmade a mocking stock: and when he was required, ^khe put out his tongue, and that right soon, ^kholding forth his hands manfully, and said courageously, These I had from ^lheaven; and for ^lhis laws I ^sdespise them; and ^jfrom him I hope to receive them again. Insomuch that the king, and they that were with him, marvelled at the young man's courage, for that he nothing regarded the pains. Now when this man was dead also, they tormented and mangled the fourth in like manner. So when he was ready to die he said thus, It is good, being put to death by men, to look for hope from God ^jto be raised up again by him: as for thee, ^jthou shalt have no resurrection to life. Afterward they brought the fifth also, and mangled him. Then looked he unto the king, and said, Thou hast power over men, thou art corruptible, thou doest what thou wilt; yet think not that our nation is forsaken of God; but abide a while, and behold ^mhis great power, how he will torment thee and thy seed. After him also they brought the sixth, who being ready to die said, Be not deceived without cause: ⁿfor we suffer these things for ourselves, having sinned against our God: therefore marvellous things are done unto us. But think not thou, that takest in hand ^oto strive against God, that thou shalt escape unpunished.

But the mother was marvellous above ²⁰ all, and worthy of honourable memory : for when she saw her seven sons slain within the space of one day, she bare it with a good courage, because of the hope that she had in the Lord. Yea, ²¹ she exhorted every one of them ^p in her own language, filled with courageous spirits ; and stirring up her womanish thoughts with a manly stomach, she said unto them, ^q I cannot tell how you came into my womb ; for I neither gave you breath nor life, neither was it I that formed the members of every one of you ; but doubtless ^r the Creator of ²³ the world, who formed the generation of man, and found out the beginning of all things, will also of his own mercy ^j give you breath and life again, as you now ^s regard not your own selves for his laws' sake.

Now Antiochus, thinking himself de- ²⁴ spised, and ^p suspecting it to be a reproachful speech, whiles the youngest was yet alive, did not only exhort him by words, but also assured him with oaths, that he would make him both a rich and a happy man, if he would turn from the laws of his fathers ; and that also he would take him for his friend, and trust him with ^t affairs. But when ²⁵ the young man would in no case hearken unto him, the king called his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the young man to save his life. And ²⁶ when he had exhorted her with many words, she promised him that she would counsel her son. But she bowing herself towards him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, spake ^p in her country language on this manner ; O my son, have pity upon me that bare thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished thee, and brought thee up unto this age, and ^u endured the troubles of education. I beseech thee, my son, look upon ²⁸ the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that ^x God made them of things that were not ; and ^y so was mankind made likewise. Fear not ²⁹ this ^z tormentor, but, being worthy of thy brethren, take thy death, that ^j I may receive thee again in mercy with thy brethren. Whiles she was yet speaking these words, the young man said,

Whom wait ye for ? I will not obey the king's ^a commandment : but I will obey the commandment of the law that was given unto our fathers by Moses.

³¹ And thou, that hast been the author of all mischief against the Hebrews, ^b shalt ^b So ver. 35. ³² not escape the hands of God. ^c For we ^c See ver. 18. ³³ suffer because of our sins. And though ^d the living Lord be angry with us a little while for our chastening and correction, yet shall he ^e be at one again ³⁴ with his servants. But thou, O godless man, and of all other most wicked, ^f be not lifted up without a cause, nor puffed up with uncertain hopes, lifting up thy ³⁵ hand against the servants ^g of God : for ^h thou hast not yet escaped the judgment of ⁱ Almighty God, who seeth ³⁶ all things. For our brethren, who now have suffered a short pain, are dead under ^j God's covenant of everlasting life : but thou, through the judgment of God, shalt receive just punishment for thy ³⁷ pride. But I, as my brethren, offer up my body and life for the laws of our fathers, beseeching God that he would speedily be merciful unto our nation ; and ^k that thou by ^l torments and plagues mayest confess, that ^m he alone is God ; ³⁸ and that in me and my brethren the wrath of the ⁱ Almighty, ^c which is justly brought upon all our nation, may cease. ³⁹ ⁿ Then the king, being in a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, and took it grievously that he was ⁴⁰ mocked. So this man died undefiled, and put his whole trust in the Lord. ⁴¹ ^o Last of all after the sons the mother ⁴² died. Let this be enough now to have spoken concerning ^p the idolatrous feasts, and the extreme ^q tortures.

^a Then ^b Judas Maccabeus, and they that were with him, went privily into the towns, and called their kinsfolks together, and took unto them all such as continued in the Jews' religion, and ² assembled about six thousand men. And they called upon the Lord, that he would look upon the people that was trodden down of all ; and also pity ^c the temple profaned of ungodly men ; ³ and that he would have compassion upon ^e the city, sore defaced, and ready to be made even with the ground ; ^d and hear ^e the blood that cried unto him, ⁴ and remember the wicked slaughter ^f of harmless infants, and the blasphemies committed against his name ; and that he would shew his hatred against the ⁵ wicked. Now when Maccabeus had his company about him, he could not be withstood by the heathen: for ^gthe wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy. Therefore he came at unawares, ⁶and burnt up towns and cities, and got into his hands ^{gg}the most commodious places, and overcame and put to flight ⁷no small number of his enemies. But specially took he advantage of the night for such privy attempts, insomuch that the ^hbruit of his manliness was spread every where.

So when ^{hh}Philip saw that this man ⁸increased by little and little, and that things prospered with him still ⁱmore and more, he wrote unto ^jPtoleumus, the governor of ^kCoelosyria and Phenice, to yield more aid to the king's affairs. Then forthwith choosing ^mNicanor the son of Patroclus, one of ⁹*his* special friends, he sent him with no fewer than twenty thousand of all nations under him, to root out the whole generation of the Jews; and with him he joined also ⁿGorgias a captain, who in matters of war had great experience.

So Nicanor undertook ⁿto make ^{so} ¹⁰much money of the captive Jews, as should ^odefray the tribute of two thousand talents, which the king was to pay to ^pthe Romans. Wherefore immediately he sent to the cities upon the sea coast, ⁿproclaiming a sale of the ^qcaptive Jews, and promising that they should have fourscore and ten ^qbodies for one talent, not expecting the vengeance that was to ^rfollow upon him from the ^sAlmighty God. ^tNow when ¹²word was brought unto Judas of Nicanor's coming, and he had imparted unto those that were with him that the army was at hand, ^uthey that were ¹³fearful, and distrusted the justice of God, fled, and conveyed themselves away. Others sold all that they had left, and ¹⁴withal besought the Lord to deliver them, being ^wsold by the wicked Nicanor before they met together: and ¹⁵if not for their own sakes, yet for the covenants he had made with their fathers, and ^xfor his holy and glorious name's sake, ^yby which they were called.

So Maccabeus called his men together ¹⁶unto the number of six thousand, and ^zexhorted them not to be stricken with terror of the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen, who came wrongfully against them; but to

¹⁷ fight manfully, and to set before their eyes ^athe injury that they had unjustly done to ^bthe holy place, and ^athe ^ccruel handling of the city, whereof they made a mockery, and also the taking away of the government of their ¹⁸forefathers: for they, said he, trust in their weapons and boldness; but ^dour confidence is in the ^eAlmighty God, who at a beck can cast down both them that come against us, and also all the ¹⁹world. Moreover he recounted unto them what ^fhelps their forefathers had found, and ^ghow they were delivered, when under Sennacherib an hundred fourscore and five thousand perished.

²⁰ And he told them of the ^hbattle that they had in Babylon with the ⁱGalatians, how they came but eight thousand in all to ⁱⁱthe business, with four thousand Macedonians, and that the Macedonians being perplexed, the eight thousand destroyed an hundred and twenty thousand because of the help that they had from heaven, and so ²¹received a great booty. Thus when he had made them bold with these words, and ready to die for the laws and the country, he divided his army into four ²²parts; and joined with himself his own brethren, ^jleaders of each band, to wit, ^kSimon, and ^kJoseph, and Jonathan, giving each ^lone fifteen hundred men.

²³ Also he appointed ^mEleazar to read the holy book: and ^{mm}when he had given them this watchword, The help of God; himself leading the first ⁿband, ^ohe ²⁴joined battle with Nicanor. And by the help of the ^eAlmighty they slew above nine thousand of their enemies, and wounded and ^pmained the most part of Nicanor's host, and so put all ²⁵to flight; and took ^qtheir money that came to buy them, and pursued them far: but lacking time they ^rreturned: ²⁶for it was the day before the sabbath, and therefore they would no longer ²⁷pursue them. So when they had gathered ⁱtheir armour together, and ^sspoiled their enemies, they occupied themselves about the sabbath, ^syielding exceeding praise and thanks to the Lord, who had preserved them unto that day, which was the beginning of mercy ^tdis- ²⁸tilling upon them. And after the sabbath, when they had given part of the spoils to the ^umaimed, and ^vthe widows, and orphans, the residue they divided among themselves and their servants.

Therefore commanded he his ^hchariot man to drive ⁱwithout ceasing, and to dispatch the journey, the judgment of ^jGod now following him. For he had spoken proudly in this sort, That he would come to Jerusalem, and make it ^ka common burying place of the Jews. ⁵ But the Lord ^lAlmighty, the God of Israel, smote him with an incurable and invisible plague: for as soon as he had spoken these words, ^ma pain of the bowels that was remediless came upon him, and sore torments of the inner ⁶*parts*; ^{mm}and that most justly: for he had tormented other men's bowels with ⁷many and strange torments. Howbeit he nothing at all ceased from his bragging, but still was filled with pride, ⁿbreathing out fire in his rage against the Jews, and commanding to haste the journey: but it came to pass that he fell down from his chariot, carried violently; so that having a sore fall, all the members of his body were much pained. ⁸ And thus he that a little afore thought ^ohe might command the waves of the sea, (so proud was he beyond the condition of man) and ^pweigh the high mountains in a balance, was now cast on the ground, and carried in ^qa horse litter, shewing forth unto all the manifest power of God. out with their children to be devoured of the fowls and wild beasts, he would make them all equals to the citizens of ¹Athens: and the holy temple, ^cwhich ¹⁶before he had spoiled, he would garnish with goodly ^dgifts, and restore all the holy vessels with many more, and ^eout of his own revenue defray the charges belonging to the sacrifices: yea, and ¹⁷that also he would become a Jew himself, and go through all the world that was inhabited, and declare the power of God. But for all this his pains would ¹⁸not cease: ²for the just judgment of God was come upon him: therefore ^fdespairing of his health, he wrote unto the Jews the letter underwritten, containing the form of a supplication, ^gafter this manner:

Antiochus, king and governor, to the ¹⁹good Jews his citizens wisheth ^hmuch joy, health, and prosperity: If ye and ²⁰your children fare well, and your affairs be to your contentment, I give very great thanks to God, having my hope in heaven. As for me, I was weak, or ²¹*else* I would have remembered kindly your honour and good will. ⁱReturning out of Persia, and being taken with a grievous disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common safety of all: ^fnot distrusting mine health, but having ²²great hope to escape this sickness. But ²³considering that even my father, at what time he led an army into ^jthe high countries, ^kappointed a successor, to ²⁴the end that, if any thing fell out contrary to expectation, or if any tidings were brought that were grievous, they of the land, knowing to whom ^lthe state was left, might not be troubled: again, ²⁵considering how that the princes that are borderers and neighbours unto my kingdom wait for opportunities, and expect what shall be the event, I have ^kappointed my son Antiochus king, ¹whom I often committed and commended unto many of you, when I went up into ^jthe high provinces; to whom I have written as followeth: therefore I pray and ²⁶request you to remember ^mthe benefits that I have done unto you generally, and in special, and that every man will be still faithful to me and my son. For I ²⁷am persuaded that he ¹understanding my mind will favourably and ⁿgraciously yield to your desires.

Thus the murderer and blasphemer ²⁸having suffered most grievously, as he entreated other men, ^oso died he a miserable death in a strange country in the ²⁹mountains. And ^pPhilip, ^qthat was brought up with him, carried away his body, who also fearing the son of Antiochus went into Egypt to ^rPtolemeus Philometor.

Now Maccabeus and his company, the Lord guiding them, ^arecovered the ²temple and the city: but the altars which the heathen had built in the open street, and also ^bthe chapels, they pulled ³down. And having cleansed the temple ^cthey made another altar, and ^dstriking stones they took fire out of them, and offered a sacrifice after ^etwo years, and ^fset forth incense, and lights, and shewbread. When that was done, ^{ff}they fell flat down, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such troubles; but if they sinned any more against him, that ^ghe himself would chasten them with mercy, and that they might not be delivered unto the blasphemous and barbarous nations. Now ^hupon the same day that the strangers profaned the temple, on the very same day it was cleansed again, even the five and twentieth day of the same month, ⁶which is ⁱCasleu. And they kept ^jeight days with gladness, as in ^kthe feast of the tabernacles, remembering that not long afore they had held the feast of the tabernacles, when as they wandered in the mountains and dens like beasts. ⁷Therefore they bare ^lbranches, and ^mfair boughs, and ⁿpalms also, and sang ^opsalms unto him that had given them good success in cleansing his place. ⁸They ordained also by a common statute and decree, That every year those days should be kept of the whole nation of the Jews. And this was the end of Antiochus, called ^pEpiphanes.

¹⁰Now will we declare the acts of ^qAntiochus Eupator, who was the son of this wicked man, ^rgathering briefly the calamities of the wars. So when he was come to the crown, he ^sset one ^tLysias over the affairs of his realm, and ^uappointed him ^vchief governor of ^wCoelosyria and Phenice. For ^xPtolemeus, that was called ^yMacron, choosing rather to do justice unto the Jews for the wrong that had been done unto them, endeavoured to continue peace with them. ¹³Whereupon being accused of the king's friends before ^zEupator, and called traitor ^aat every word, because he had left ^bCyprus, that ^cPhilometor had committed unto him, and departed to ¹Antiochus Epiphanes, ²and seeing that he was in no honourable place, he was so discouraged, that he poisoned himself and died.

But when ³Gorgias was governor of the ⁴holds, he hired soldiers, and ⁵nourished war continually with the Jews: and there-⁶withal ⁷the Idumeans, having gotten into their hands ⁸the most commodious holds, kept the Jews occupied, and receiving ⁹those that were banished from Jerusalem, they went about to ¹⁰nourish war. Then ¹¹they that were with Maccabeus made supplication, and besought God that he would be their helper; and so they ran with violence upon the strong holds of ¹²the Idumeans, and assaulting them strongly, they won the holds, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and slew all that fell into their hands, and killed no fewer than twenty thousand. And because certain, who were no less than nine thousand, were fled together into two very strong castles, having all manner of things convenient to sustain the siege, Maccabeus left ¹³Simon and ¹⁴Joseph, and Zaccheus also, and them that were with him, who were enough to besiege them, and departed himself unto those places which more needed his help. Now ¹⁵they that were with Simon, being led with covetousness, were ¹⁶persuaded for money, (through certain of those that were in the castle,) and took seventy thousand ¹⁷drachms, and let some of them escape. But when it was told ¹⁸Maccabeus what was done, he called the governors of the people together, and accused those men, that they had sold their brethren for money, and set their enemies free to fight against them. So he slew those that were found traitors, and immediately took ¹⁹the two castles. And having good success with his weapons in all things he took in hand, ²⁰he slew in the two holds more than twenty thousand.

Now ²¹Timotheus, ²²whom the Jews had overcome before, ²³when he had gathered a great multitude of foreign forces, and horses out of ²⁴Asia not a few, came as though he would take Jewry by force of arms. But when he drew near, ²⁵they that were with Maccabeus turned themselves to pray unto God, and ²⁶sprinkled earth upon their heads, and ²⁷girded their loins with sackcloth, and fell down at the foot of the altar, and besought him to be merciful to them, and ²⁸to be an enemy to their enemies, and an adversary to their adversaries, ²⁹as the law ³⁰declareth.

³¹ So after the prayer they took their weapons, and went on ³²further from the city: and when they drew near to their enemies, they kept by themselves. Now the sun being newly risen, they joined both together; the one part having together with their virtue their refuge also unto the Lord for a ³³pledge of their success and victory: the other side making their rage leader of their battle.

Not long after this, ⁵²Lysias the king's protector and ⁵³cousin, ⁵⁴who also managed the affairs, took sore displeasure for the things that were done. And when he had gathered about ^d fourscore thousand with all the horsemen, he came against the Jews, thinking ^e to make the city a habitation of the ^f Gentiles, and to make a gain of the temple, ^g as of the other ^f chapels of the heathen, and ^h to set the high priesthood to sale every year: not at all considering the power of God, but puffed up with ⁱ his ten thousands of footmen, and ^j his thousands of horsemen, and ^k his four-score ^l elephants. So he came to Judea, and drew near to ^m Bethsura, which was a strong town, but distant from Jerusalem about five furlongs, and he laid sore siege unto it. Now when ⁿ they that were with Maccabeus heard that he besieged the holds, they and ^o all the people with lamentation and tears besought the Lord that ^p he would send ^q a good angel to deliver Israel. Then Maccabeus himself first ^r of ^s all took weapons, ^t exhorting the other that they would jeopard themselves together with him to help their brethren: so they went forth together with a willing mind. And as ^u they were at Jerusalem, ^v there ^w appeared before them on horseback one ^x in white clothing, shaking ^y his armour of gold. Then they praised ^z the merciful God all together, and took heart, insomuch that they were ready not only ^a to fight with men, but with most cruel beasts, and to pierce through walls of iron. ^b Thus they marched forward in ^c their armour, having a helper from heaven: for the Lord was merciful unto them. And giving a charge upon ^d their enemies like lions, they slew eleven thousand ^e footmen, and sixteen hundred horsemen, and put all ^f the other to flight. Many of them also ^g being ^h wounded escaped naked; and Lysias himself fled ⁱ away shamefully, and ^j so escaped. Who, as he was a man of understanding, ^k casting with himself what loss he had had, and considering that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God helped them, he sent unto ^l them, and persuaded ^m them to agree to all reasonable ⁿ conditions, and ^o promised ^p that ^q he would persuade the king that ^r he must needs be a friend unto them. Then Maccabeus consented to all that Lysias desired, being careful of the ^s common good; and whatsoever Maccabeus wrote unto Lysias concerning the Jews, the king granted ^t it.

16 For there were letters written unto the Jews from Lysias ^s to this effect: Lysias unto the people of the Jews ^t sendeth greeting: John and ^u Absalon, who were sent from you, delivered ^v me the petition subscribed, and made request for the performance of the contents thereof. Therefore what ^w things soever were meet ^x to be reported to the king, I have ^y declared ^z them, and he hath granted ^a as much as might be. If then you will keep yourselves loyal to the state, hereafter also will I endeavour to be a means of your good. But of the particulars I have given order both to these, and the ^b other that ^c came from me, to commune with you. Fare ye well. * The hundred and eight and forty year, the four and twenty ^d day of the month ^e Dioscorinthius.

22 Now the king's letter ^f contained these words: King Antiochus unto ^g his ^h brother Lysias ⁱ sendeth greeting: Since our father is translated unto the gods, our will is, that they that are in ^j our realm live quietly, that ^k every one may attend upon his own ^l affairs. We understand ^m also that the Jews would not consent to ⁿ our father, for to be brought unto the custom of the Gentiles, but had rather keep their own ^o manner of living: for the which cause they require ^p of ^q us, that ^r we should suffer them to live after their own laws. Wherefore our mind is, that this nation shall be in rest, and we have determined ^s to restore them their temple, that ^t they may ^u live according to the customs of their forefathers. Thou shalt do well therefore to send unto them, and ^v grant ^w them peace, that when they are certified of our mind, they may be of good comfort, and ever go cheerfully ^x about their own ^y affairs.

27 And the letter of the king unto the nation ^z of the Jews was after this manner: King Antiochus ^a sendeth greeting unto ^b the council, and the rest of the Jews: if ^c ye fare well, we have our desire: we are also in good health. ^d Menelaus declared unto us, that your desire was to return home, and ^e to follow your own ^f business: wherefore ^g they that will depart shall have safe conduct till the thirtieth ^h day of Xanthicus with security. And the Jews shall use their own ⁱ kind of meats and laws, as before; and none of them any ^j manner of ways

When these covenants were made, ^a Lysias went unto the king, and ^b the Jews were about their husbandry. But ² of the governors of several places, ^c Timotheus, and Apollonius the son of Genneus, also Hieronymus, and Demophon, and besides them ^d Nicanor the governor of ^e Cyprus, ^f would not suffer them ^{ff} to be quiet, and live in peace. The men of ^g Joppe also did such ³ an ungodly deed: they prayed the Jews that dwelt among them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had prepared, as though they had meant them no hurt. Who accepted of ⁴ it according to the common decree of the city, as being desirous to live in peace, and suspecting nothing: but when they were gone forth into the deep, they drowned no less than two hundred of them. When Judas heard ⁵ of this cruelty done unto his countrymen, he commanded those that were with him to make them ready. And ⁶ calling upon God ^h the righteous Judge, he came against those murderers of his brethren, and burnt the haven by night, and set the boats on fire, and those that fled thither he slew. And when ⁷ the town was shut up, he went backward, [¶] as if he would return to root out all them of the city of ^g Joppe. But when he heard that the ⁱ Jamnites ⁸ were minded to do in like manner unto the Jews that dwelt among them, he ⁹ came upon the ⁱ Jamnites also by night, and set fire on the haven and the ^j navy, so that the light of the fire was seen at Jerusalem two hundred and ¹⁷ forty furlongs off. Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs in their journey toward ^c Timotheus, no fewer than five thousand men on foot and five hundred horsemen of the ^k Arabians set ¹¹ upon him. Whereupon there was a very sore battle; but ¹ Judas' side [¶] by the help of God got the victory; so that the Nomades of Arabia, being overcome, besought Judas ^m for peace, promising both to give him cattle, and ¹² to pleasure him otherwise. Then Judas, thinking indeed that they would be profitable in many things, granted them peace: whereupon they shook hands, and so they ⁿ departed to their tents.

¹³ He went also about to make a bridge to a certain strong city, which was fenced about with walls, and inhabited by people of divers countries; and the ¹⁴ name of it was ⁿ Caspis. But they that were within it put such trust in the strength of the walls and provision of victuals, that they behaved themselves rudely towards ¹ them that were with Judas, railing and blaspheming, and uttering such words as were not to be ¹⁵ spoken. Wherefore ¹ Judas with his company, calling upon the great ^o Lord of the world, who without any rams or engines of war ^p did cast down ^q Jericho in the time of Joshua, gave a fierce ¹⁶ assault against the walls, and took the city by the will of God, and made unspeakable slaughters, insomuch that a lake two furlongs broad near adjoining therunto, being filled full, was seen ¹⁷ running with blood. Then departed they from thence seven hundred and fifty furlongs, and came to ^r Characa unto ^s the Jews that are called ^t Tubbieni. But as for ^c Timotheus, they found him not in ^u the places: for before he had dispatched any thing, he departed from thence, ^v having left a very strong garrison in a certain ^w hold.
²⁰ And Maccabeus ranged his army by bands, and set [¶] them over the ^x bands, and ^y went against Timotheus, who had about him an hundred and twenty thousand men of foot, and two thousand ²¹ and five hundred horsemen. Now when Timotheus had knowledge of Judas' coming, he sent the women and children and the other baggage unto a fortress called Carnion: for the town was hard to besiege, and uneasy to come unto, by reason of the straitness of all the places. But when Judas his first band came in sight, the enemies, being smitten with fear and terror through the appearing of him that seeth all things, fled amain, one running this way, another that way, so as that they were often hurt of their own men, and wounded with the points of their own swords. Judas also was very earnest in pursuing them, killing those wicked wretches, of whom he slew about thirty thousand men. Moreover Timotheus himself fell into the hands of Dositheus and Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him go with his life, because he had many of the Jews' parents, and the brethren of some of them, who, if they put him to death, should not be regarded. So when he had assured them with many words that he would restore them without hurt, according to the agreement, they let him go for the saving of their brethren.

Then Maccabeus marched forth to Carnion, and to the temple of Atargatis, and there he slew five and twenty thousand persons. And after he had put to flight and destroyed them, Judas removed the host towards Ephron, a strong city, wherein Lysias abode, and a great multitude of divers nations, and the strong young men kept the walls, and defended them mightily: wherein also was great provision of engines and darts. But when Judas and his company had called upon Almighty God, who with his power breaketh the strength of his enemies, they wan the city, and slew twenty and five thousand of them that were within. From thence they departed to Scythopolis, which lieth six hundred furlongs from Jerusalem. But when the Jews that dwelt there had testified that the Scythopolitans dealt lovingly with them, and entreated them kindly in the time of their adversity; they gave them thanks, desiring them to be friendly still unto them: and so they came to Jerusalem, the feast of the weeks approaching. And after the feast called Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the governor of Idumea, who came out with three thousand men of foot and four hundred horsemen. And it happened that in their fighting together a few of the Jews were slain. At which time Dositheus, one of Bacenor's company, who was on horseback, and a strong man, was still upon Gorgias, and taking hold of his coat drew him by force; and when he would have taken that cursed man alive, a horseman of Thracia coming upon him smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled unto Marisa. Now when they that were with Gorgias had fought long, and were weary, Judas called upon the Lord, that he would shew himself to be their helper and leader of the battle. And with that he began in his own language, and sung psalms with a loud voice, and rushing unawares upon Gorgias' men, he put them to flight. So Judas gathered his host, and came into the city of Odollam. And when the seventh day came, they purified themselves, as the custom was, and kept the sabbath in the same place.

And upon the day following, as the use had been, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that were slain, and to bury them with their kinsmen in their fathers' graves. Now under the coats of every one that was slain they found things consecrated to the idols of the Jaminites, which is forbidden the Jews by the law. Then every man saw that this was the cause wherefore they were slain. All men therefore praising the Lord, the righteous Judge, who had opened the things that were hid, betook themselves unto prayer, and besought him that the sin committed might wholly be put out of remembrance. Besides, that noble Judas exhorted the people to keep themselves from sin, forasmuch as they saw before their eyes the things that came to pass for the sin of those that were slain. And when he had made a gathering throughout the company to the sum of two thousand drachms of silver, he sent it to Jerusalem to offer a sin offering, doing therein very well and honestly, in that he was mindful of the resurrection: for if he had not hoped that they that were slain should have risen again, it had been superfluous and vain to pray for the dead: and also in that he perceived that there was great favour laid up for those that ^ddied godly. It was a holy and good thought: whereupon he made a reconciliation for the dead, that they might be delivered from sin.

XIII. In ^{*}the hundred forty and ninth year it was told ^aJudas, that ^bAntiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Judea, and with him ^cLysias ²his protector, and ruler of his affairs, having ^deither of them a Grecian power, of footmen an hundred and ten thousand, and horsemen five thousand and three hundred, and ^eelephants two and twenty, and three hundred chariots armed with hooks. ^fMenelaus also joined ³himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the safeguard of the country, but because he thought to have been made governor. But the ^gKing of kings moved Antiochus' mind against this ⁴wicked wretch, and Lysias informed the king that this man was the cause of all mischief, so that the king commanded to bring him unto Berea, and to put him to death, as the manner is in that place. Now there was in that ⁵place a tower of fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had a round instrument, which on every side hanged down into the ashes. And whosoever was condemned of ⁱsacrilege, or had committed any other grievous crime, there did all ⁶men thrust him unto death. Such a ⁷death it happened that wicked man to die, not having so much as burial in the earth; ^jand that most justly: for ⁸inasmuch as he had committed many sins about the altar, whose fire and ashes were holy, he received his death in ashes.

Now the king came with a barbarous ⁹and haughty mind to do far worse to the Jews, than had been done in his father's time. Which things when Judas perceived, he commanded the multitude to call upon the Lord night and day, that if ever at any other time, he would now also help them, being at the point to be put from their law, from their country, and from the holy temple: and that he would not suffer the people, that ^khad even now been but a little ^krefreshed, to be in subjection to the blasphemous nations. So when ¹²they had all done this together, and besought ^lthe merciful Lord with weeping and fasting, and ^mlying flat upon ^mSo ch. 10. the ground three days ⁿlong, Judas, ⁴Sec 1 Thess. having exhorted them, commanded they ¹ 3. ¹³should be in a readiness. And Judas, being apart with the elders, determined, before the king's host should enter into Judea, and get the city, to go forth and try the matter in fight ^oby the ^och. 8. 35. help of the Lord. So when he had ¹⁴& 15. 35. committed all to the ¹P Creator of the world, and exhorted his soldiers to fight manfully, even unto death, for the laws, the temple, the city, the country, and the commonwealth, he camped by ^qModin: and ^rhaving given the watchword to them that were about him, Victory is of God; with the most valiant and choice young men he went in into the king's tent by night, and slew in the camp about four thousand men, and the chiefest of the ^eelephants, with all ¹⁶that were upon him. And at last they filled the camp with fear and tumult, ¹⁷and departed with good success. This was done in the break of the day, because ^othe protection of the Lord did help him.

¹⁸Now when the king had taken a taste of the manliness of the Jews, he went about to take the ^sholds by ^sSee ch. 10. policy, and marched towards ^tBethsura, ¹⁴which was a strong hold of the Jews: ^tver. 22. but ^uhe was put to flight, failed, and ¹⁹lost of his men: for Judas had conveyed unto them that were in it such ²¹things as were necessary. But Rhodocus, who was in the Jews' host, disclosed the secrets to the enemies; therefore he was sought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison. ²²The king treated with them in ^tBethsura the second time, ^vgave his hand, took theirs, departed, fought with ^aJudas, was overcome; ^wheard that Philip, who was left over the affairs in ^xAntioch, ^ywas desperately bent, ^y[was] confounded, ^zintreated the Jews, submitted himself, and ^zswore to all equal conditions, agreed with them, and offered sacrifice, honoured the temple, and dealt kindly with the place, and ^aaccepted well of Maccabeus, made him principal governor from ^bPtolemais unto the ^cGerrhenians; came to ^bPtolemais: the people there were grieved for the covenants; for they stormed, because they would ^dmake their covenants ²⁶void: ^eLysias went up to ^fthe judgment seat, said ^gas much as could be

^a After three years was ^b Judas informed, that ^c Demetrius the son of ^d Seleucus, having entered by the haven of ^e Tripolis with a great power and ^f navy, ^g had taken the country, and killed ^h Antiochus, and ⁱ Lysias his ^j protector. Now one ^k Alcimus, ^l who had been high priest, and had defiled himself wilfully ^{kk} in the times of their mingling with the Gentiles, seeing that by no means he could save himself, nor have any more access to the holy altar, ^{kl} came to king Demetrius in ^{*} the hundred and one and fiftieth year, presenting unto him ^m a crown of gold, and ⁿ a palm, and also of the boughs which were ^{ln} used solemnly in the temple: and so that day he held his peace. Howbeit, having gotten opportunity to further his foolish enterprise, and being called into counsel by Demetrius, and asked how the Jews stood affected, and what they intended, he answered thereunto: Those of the Jews ^o that be called ^p Asideans, whose captain is Judas Maccabeus, ^q nourish war, and are seditious, and will not let the realm be in peace. Therefore I, being deprived of ^r mine ancestors' honour, I mean the high priesthood, am now come hither: first verily, for the unfeigned care I have of things pertaining to the king; and secondly, even for that I intend the good of mine own countrymen: for all our nation is in no small misery through the unadvised dealing of them aforesaid. Wherefore, O king, seeing thou knowest all these things, be careful for the country, and our nation, which is pressed on every side, according to the clemency that thou readily shewest unto all. For as long as Judas liveth, it is not possible that the state should be quiet.

This was no sooner spoken of him, ^t but others ^u of the king's friends, being maliciously set against Judas, did more incense Demetrius. And forthwith calling Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and ^v making him governor over Judea, ^w he sent him forth, commanding him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make ^x Alcimus high priest ^{uu} of the great temple. Then the heathen, ¹⁴

that had fled out of Judea from Judas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harm and calamities of the Jews to be their welfare. Now when the Jews heard of Nicanor's coming, and that the heathen ¹ were up against them, ^v they cast earth upon their heads, and made supplication to him that had established his people for ever, and who always helpeth ^w his portion with ^x manifestation of his presence. So at the commandment of the captain they removed straightways from thence, and came near unto them at the town of Dessau.

²³ Now Nicanor abode in Jerusalem, and ^b did no hurt, but sent away the people that came flocking unto him. ²⁴ And he would not willingly have Judas out of his sight: for he loved the man ^c from his heart. He prayed him also to take a wife, and to beget children: so he married, ^{cc} was quiet, and ²⁶ took part of this life. But ^e Alcimus, perceiving the love that was betwixt them, and considering ^f the covenants that were made, came to ^g Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor was not well affected towards the state; for that he had ^h ordained Judas, ^{ia} a traitor to his realm, to be the king's successor. ²⁷ Then the king ^k being in a rage, and provoked with the accusations of the most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was much displeased

with ^fthe covenants, and commanding him that he should send Maccabeus prisoner in all haste unto ¹Antioch. When this came to Nicanor's hearing, ²⁸ he was much ^mconfounded in himself, and took it grievously that he should ⁿmake void the articles which were agreed upon, the man being in no fault. But because there was no dealing against the king, he watched his time to accomplish this thing by policy. Notwithstanding, when Maccabeus saw ³⁰that Nicanor began to be ^ochurlish unto him, and that he entreated him more roughly than he was wont, perceiving that such ^osour behaviour came not of good, he gathered together not a few of his men, and withdrew himself from Nicanor. But the other, knowing ³¹that he was notably prevented by Judas' policy, ^pcame into ^qthe great and holy temple, and commanded the priests, that were offering their usual sacrifices, to deliver him the man. And when ³²they swore that they could not tell where the man was whom he sought, ^rhe stretched out his right hand toward the temple, and made an oath in this manner: If you will not deliver me Judas as ^ta prisoner, I will lay this temple of God even with the ground, and I will break down the altar, and erect a notable temple unto ^sBacchus. After these words he departed. Then ³⁴the priests lift up their hands towards heaven, and besought him that was ever a defender of their nation, saying in this manner; Thou, O Lord of ³⁵all things, ^twho hast need of nothing, wast pleased that the temple of thine habitation should be among us: therefore now, O holy Lord of all holiness, keep this house ever undefiled, ^uwhich lately was cleansed, and ^vstop every unrighteous mouth.

Now was there accused unto Nicanor one Razis, one of the elders of Jerusalem, a lover of his countrymen, and a man of very good report, who for his kindness was called a father of the Jews. For in the former times, ^wwhen they mingled not themselves with the Gentiles, he had been accused of Judaism, and ^xdid boldly ^yjeopard his body and life with all ^zvehemency for the religion of the Jews. So Nicanor, willing to declare the hate that he bare unto the Jews, sent above five hundred men of war to take him: for he thought by taking him to do the Jews much hurt.

⁴¹ Now when the multitude would have taken the tower, and violently broken into the utter door, and bade that fire should be brought to burn it, he being ready to be taken on every side ⁴²fell upon his sword; choosing rather to die manfully, than to come into the hands of ^athe wicked, to be abused otherwise than besemed his noble birth: but missing his stroke through haste, the multitude also rushing within the doors, he ran boldly up to the wall, and cast himself down manfully among the thickest ⁴⁴of them. But they quickly giving back, and a space being made, he fell down ⁴⁵into the midst of the void place. Nevertheless, while there was yet breath within him, being inflamed with anger, he rose up: and though his blood gushed out like spouts of water, and his wounds were grievous, yet he ran through the midst of the throng; and standing upon ⁴⁶a steep rock, when as his blood was now quite gone, he pluckt out his bowels, and taking them in both his hands, he cast them upon the throng, and calling upon ^bthe Lord of life and spirit ^cto restore him those again, he thus died.

^aBut Nicanor, hearing that ^bJudas and his company were in the ^cstrong places about ^dSamaria, resolved ^ewithout any danger to set upon them on the ²sabbath day. Nevertheless the Jews that were compelled to go with him said, O destroy not so cruelly and barbarously, but give honour to that day, which he, that seeth all things, hath honoured with holiness above other days. Then ^fthe most ungracious wretch demanded, if there were a ^gMighty One in heaven, that had commanded the sabbath day to be kept. And when they said, There is in heaven ^ha living Lord, and ^gmighty, who commanded the seventh day to be kept: then said the other, And I also am mighty upon earth, and I command to take arms, and to do the king's ⁱbusiness. Yet he obtained not to have his ⁶wicked will done. So Nicanor in exceeding pride and haughtiness determined to set up a publick monument of his victory over ^aJudas and them that were with him.

⁷ But Maccabeus had ^kever sure confidence that the Lord would ^lhelp him: ^mwherefore ⁿhe exhorted his people not to fear the coming of the heathen against them, but to remember the help which in former times they had received from heaven, and now to expect the victory and aid, which should come unto them from the ^aAlmighty. And so com-9 fortifying them out of ^othe law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the battles that they won afore, he made them more cheerful. And when 10 he had stirred up their minds, he gave them their charge, shewing them therewithal the falsehood of the heathen, and the breach of oaths. Thus he armed 11 every one of them, not so much with defence of shields and spears, as with com-12 fortible and good words: and besides that, he told them a dream worthy to be believed, as if it had been so indeed, which did not a little rejoice them. And 12 ^pthis was his vision: That ^qOnias, who had been high priest, a virtuous and a good man, reverend in conversation, gentle in condition, well spoken also,

 and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, holding up his hands prayed for the whole body of the Jews. This 13 done, in like manner there appeared a man with gray hairs, and ^rexceeding glorious, who was of a wonderful and excellent majesty. Then ^qOnias ^san-14 swered, saying, This is a lover of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for ^tthe holy city, to wit, ^uJeremias the prophet of God. Whereupon 15 Jeremias holding forth his right hand gave to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it spake thus, Take this holy 16 sword, a gift from God, with the which thou shalt wound the adversaries.

Thus being well comforted by the 17 words of Judas, which were very good, and able to stir them up to valour, and to encourage the hearts of the young 18 men, they determined not to pitch camp, but courageously to set upon them, and manfully to try the matter by conflict, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in danger. For the care 19 that they took for their wives, and their children, their brethren, and kinsfolks, was in least account with them: but the greatest and principal fear was for the holy temple. Also they that were 20 in the city took not the least care, being troubled for the conflict abroad. And now, ^wwhen as all looked what should be the trial, and the enemies were already come near, and the army was set in array, and ^xthe beasts conveniently placed, and the horsemen set in wings,

21 Maccabeus seeing the coming of the multitude, and the divers preparations of armour, and the fierceness of ^xthe beasts, stretched out his hands towards heaven, and called upon the Lord ^ythat worketh wonders, knowing that victory cometh not by arms, but even as it seemeth good to him, he giveth it to such as are 22 worthy: ^ytherefore in his prayer he said after this manner; O ^zLord, ^athou didst send thine angel in the time of Ezekias king of Judea, and didst slay in the host of Sennacherib an hundred fourscore and 23 five thousand: wherefore now also, O ^bLord of heaven, send ^ca good angel before us for a fear and dread unto them; 24 and through the might of thine arm let those be stricken with terror, that come against ^dthy holy people to blaspheme. And he ended thus.

25 Then ^eNicanor and they that were with him came forward with trumpets 26 and songs. But ^eJudas and his company encountered the enemies with in-27 vocation and prayer. So that ^ffighting with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men: for through 28 the appearance of God they were greatly cheered. Now when the ^hbattle was done, returning again with joy, they knew that ⁱNicanor lay dead in his ^khar-29 ness. Then they made a great shout and a noise, praising the ^lAlmighty ^min their 30 own language. And Judas, who was ever the chief defender of the citizens both in body and mind, and who continued his love towards his countrymen
 all his life, commanded to strike off
 31 ⁿNicanor's head, and his hand with his shoulder, and ⁿbring them to Jerusalem.
 So when he was there, and had called them of his nation together, and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them 32 that were of ^othe tower, and shewed them vile Nicanor's head, and the hand of that blasphemer, ^pwhich with proud brags he had stretched out against the 33 holy temple of the ^qAlmighty. And when he had cut out the tongue of that ungodly Nicanor, he commanded that they should give it by pieces ^runto the fowls, and hang up the reward of his madness before the temple. So every 34 man ^spraised towards the heaven the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he that 35 hath kept his own place undefiled. ^tHe hanged also Nicanor's head upon ^othe tower, an evident and manifest sign unto

Now when ^aJesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came ^bwise men ²from the east to Jerusalem, saying, ^dWhere is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen ^ehis star in the east, and are come to worship him. ³When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. And when he had gathered all the chief priests and ^fscribes of the people together, ^ghe demanded of them where Christ should be born. ⁵And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the

Then Herod, when he had privily called 7 the wise men, inquired of them diligently what time the star appeared. And 8 he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also. When they 9 had heard the king, they departed; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. When 10 they saw the star, they ⁱ rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And when they 11 were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, ^j they ^l presented unto him gifts; ^k gold, and ^k frankincense, and ^l myrrh. And 12 being warned of God ^m in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

And when they were departed, be- 13 hold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph ^m in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him. When he arose, he took the young child 14 and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt: and was there until the 15 death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, ⁿ Out of Egypt have I called my son. Then He- 16 rod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently inquired of the wise men. Then was fulfilled that which was spok- 17 en by ^o Jeremie the prophet, saying, In 18 ^p Rama was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

20 dream to Joseph in Egypt, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young 21 child's life. And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came 22 into the land of Israel. But when he heard that Archelaus did reign in Judea in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither: notwithstanding, being warned of God ^m in a dream, he turned aside ^q into the parts of Galilee: 23 and he came and dwelt in a city called ^r Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken ^s by the prophets, He shall be called a Nazarene.

In those days came ^a John the Baptist, preaching ^b in the wilderness of Judea, and saying, Repent ye: for ^c the kingdom of heaven is at hand. For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Esaias, saying, ^d The voice of one crying in the wilderness, ^e Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make 4 his paths straight. And the same John had his raiment of ^f camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his meat was ^g locusts and ^h wild honey. Then went out to him ⁱ Jerusalem, and all Judea, and all the region 6 round about Jordan, ^k and were baptized of him ^l in Jordan, confessing their sins. 7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and ^m Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, ⁿ O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from ^o the 8 wrath to come? Bring forth therefore 9 fruits ^p meet for repentance: and ^q think not to say within yourselves, ^r We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to 10 raise up children unto Abraham. And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: ^s therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn 11 down, and cast into the fire. I indeed baptize you with water ^t unto repentance: ^u but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall ^v baptize you with ^w the Holy Ghost, and ^x with ^y fire: 12 whose fan ^z is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge ^{aa} his floor, and ^{ab} gather his wheat into the garner; but will ^{ac} burn up the chaff with ^{ad} unquenchable fire.

For whether is easier, to say, Thy ^esins 5
be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk? But that ye may know that the 6 Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house. And he arose, and departed to his house. But when the 7 multitudes saw it, they marvelled, and ^fglorified God, which had given such 8

Peter, and ^d Andrew his brother; ^e James, the son of Zebedee, and John his brother; Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, ³ and ^f Matthew the publican; James the son of Alphaeus, and Lebbeus, whose surname was Thaddeus; Simon ^g the Canaanite, and Judas ^h Iscariot, who also betrayed him. These twelve Jesus ⁵ sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into ⁱ the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of ^k the Samaritans enter ye not: ⁶ ^l but go rather to the ^m lost sheep of the house of Israel. ⁿ And as ye go, preach, saying, ^o The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse ⁸ the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: ^p freely ye have received, freely give. ⁹ ^q Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor ^r brass in your purses; nor ^s scrip for your ¹⁰ journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet ^t staves: ¹¹ for the workman is worthy of his meat. And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, inquire who in it is ^u worthy; and there abide till ye go thence. And when ye come into ¹² a house ^v salute it. And if the house be ¹³ worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not ^w worthy, let your peace ^x return to you. And whosoever shall ¹⁴ not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, ^y shake off the dust of your feet. ¹⁵ ^z Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city. ¹⁶ ¹ Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore ¹⁷ ² wise as serpents, and ³ harmless as doves. But beware of men: for ⁴ they will deliver you up to the ⁵ ⁶ councils, and ⁷ they will scourge you in their ⁸ ⁹ synagogues; and ye shall be brought before ¹⁰ ¹¹ governors and kings for my sake, ¹² ¹³ for a testimony against them and the Gentiles. ¹⁴ But when they deliver you up, ¹⁵ ¹⁶ take no thought how or what ye shall speak: ¹⁷ for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak. ¹⁸ ¹⁹ For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you. ²⁰ ²¹ And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death. ²² ²³ And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake:

²⁴ ²⁵ but he that endureth to the end shall be saved. But when they ²⁶ ²⁷ persecute you in this city, ²⁸ ²⁹ flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not ³⁰ ³¹ have gone over the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come. ³² ³³ The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord. ³⁴ ³⁵ It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord. ³⁶ ³⁷ If they have called the master of the house ³⁸ ³⁹ Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household? Fear them not therefore: ⁴⁰ ⁴¹ for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known. What I tell you in darkness, ⁴² ⁴³ that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, ⁴⁴ ⁴⁵ that preach ye upon the housetops. And ⁴⁶ ⁴⁷ fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather ⁴⁸ ⁴⁹ fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in ⁵⁰ ⁵¹ hell. Are not two sparrows sold for a ⁵² ⁵³ farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. ⁵⁴ ⁵⁵ But ⁵⁶ ⁵⁷ the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear ye not therefore, ⁵⁸ ⁵⁹ for ye are of more value than many sparrows. ⁶⁰ ⁶¹ Whosoever therefore shall ⁶² ⁶³ confess me before men, ⁶⁴ ⁶⁵ him will I confess also before ⁶⁶ ⁶⁷ my Father which is in heaven. ⁶⁸ ⁶⁹ But whosoever shall ⁷⁰ ⁷¹ deny me before men, him will I also deny before ⁷² ⁷³ my Father which is in heaven. ⁷⁴ ⁷⁵ Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send ⁷⁶ ⁷⁷ peace, but a sword. For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law. ⁷⁸ ⁷⁹ And ⁸⁰ ⁸¹ a man's foes shall be they of his own household. ⁸² ⁸³ He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me: and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of ⁸⁴ ⁸⁵ me. ⁸⁶ ⁸⁷ And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me. ⁸⁸ ⁸⁹ He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it. ⁹⁰ ⁹¹ He that receiveth you receiveth me, and ⁹² ⁹³ he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. eat, neither for them which were with him, ⁵but only for the priests? Or have ye not read ^hin the law, how that on the sabbath days the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless? But I say unto you, That in this place is one ⁱgreater than the temple. But if ye had known ^kwhat this meaneth, ^lI will have mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless. For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath day.

And when he was departed thence, ^mhe went into their synagogue: and behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, ⁿIs it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him. And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? ^oHow much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days. Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth ^pthine hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other.

Then the Pharisees went out, ^qand ^rheld a council against him, how they might destroy him. But when Jesus knew it, ^she withdrew himself from thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all, and ^tcharged them that they should not make him known: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, ^uBehold my servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, ^vin whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my spirit upon him, and he shall shew judgment to the Gentiles. He shall not strive, ^wnor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets. A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment ^xunto victory. ^yAnd in his name shall the Gentiles trust.

^zThen was brought unto him one ^apossessed with a devil, blind, and dumb: and he healed him, inasmuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw. And all the people ^{aa}were amazed, and said, Is this ^bthe son of David? But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, ^cThis fellow doth not cast out devils, but by ^dBeelzebub the prince of the devils. And Jesus ^eknew their thoughts, ^fand said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand: and if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand? And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do ^gyour children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges. But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God ^his come unto you. Or else ⁱhow can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and ^jthen he will spoil his house. ^kHe that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad. ^lWherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the ^mHoly Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. And whosoever speaketh a word ⁿagainst the Son of man, ^oit shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, ^pneither in the world to come. ^qEither make the tree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: ^rfor the tree is known by ^shis fruit. ^tO generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? ^ufor out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth ^vevil things. But I say unto you, That every ^widle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the ^xday of judgment. For ^yby thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, ^xMaster, we would see a sign from thee. But he answered and said to them, ^yAn evil and ^zadulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas: ^afor ^bas Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three ^cnights in the heart of the earth. ^dThe men of ^eNineveh shall rise ^fin judgment

¹⁰ And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in ¹¹ parables? He answered and said unto them, Because ^jit is given unto you ^kto know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. ¹² For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have ^lmore abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even ^mthat he ¹³ hath. Therefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do ¹⁴ they understand. And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Esaias, which saith, ⁿBy hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not ¹⁵ perceive: for this people's heart is waxed gross, and ^otheir ears ^pare dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with ^qtheir eyes, and hear with ^rtheir ears, and should understand with ^stheir heart, and should ^tbe converted, and I ¹⁶ should heal them. ^uBut ^vblessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ¹⁷ ears, for they hear. ^c So Mark 4. 26—29. Comp. ver. 37—42. Another ^cparable put he forth unto ²⁴ them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field: but while men slept, ²⁵ his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. But when ²⁶ the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. So the servants of the householder came ²⁷ and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares? He said unto them, ²⁸ An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? But he said, ²⁹ Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the har- ³⁰ vest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but ^dgather the wheat into my barn.

Another parable put he forth unto ³¹ them, saying, ^eThe kingdom of heaven is like unto ^fa grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field: which indeed is the least of all ³² seeds: but when it is grown, ^git is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that ^hthe birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

Another parable spake he unto them; ³³ ⁱThe kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in ^jthree ^kmeasures of meal, till the whole was leavened. ^lAll these things spake ³⁴ Jesus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them: that it might be fulfilled which ³⁵ was spoken by the prophet, saying, ^mI will open my mouth in parables; ⁿI will utter things which have been kept secret ^ofrom the foundation of the world.

Then Jesus sent the multitude away, ³⁶ and went into ^pthe house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us ^qthe parable of the tares of the field. He answered and said unto them, ³⁷ He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; the field is ^rthe world; the good seed are ^sthe children of the kingdom; but the tares are ^tthe children of ^uthe wicked one; the enemy that sowed ³⁸ them is the devil; ^vthe harvest is ^wthe end of the world; and the reapers are ^xthe angels. As therefore the tares are ³⁹ gathered and burnt in the fire; so shall it be in ^ythe end of this world. ^{xx}The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all ^zthings that offend, and them which ⁴² do iniquity; and shall ^ycast them into ^{yy}a furnace of fire: ^zthere shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. Then shall ^athe righteous shine forth as the sun in ^bthe kingdom of their Father. ^cWho hath ears to hear, let him hear.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto ^dtreasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and ^eselleth all that he hath, and ^fbuyeth that field.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly ⁴⁵ pearls: who, when he had found one ^gpearl of great price, went and ^esold all that he had, and ^fbought it.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is ^hlike unto a net, that was cast into the sea, ⁴⁸ and gathered ⁱof every kind: which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into ⁴⁹ vessels, but cast the bad away. So shall it be at ^kthe end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and ^lsever the wicked from among the just, ^mand shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

Jesus saith unto them, ^{mm}Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea, Lord. Then said he unto them, Therefore every ⁿscribe which is ^oinstructed unto the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure ^p*things* ^qnew and old.

And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed ⁴³ thence. ^qAnd when he was come into ^rhis own country, ^she taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that they ^twere astonished, and said, Whence hath ^uthis man this wisdom, and ^vthese ^wmighty works? ^xIs not this the ^ycarpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and ^zhis brethren, ^{yy}James, and Joses, and ⁴⁶ Simon, and Judas? And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath ⁴⁷ this man all these things? And they ^zwere offended in him. not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus ^ghave ye made the commandment of God ^gof none effect by your tradition. Ye hypocrites, well did ^hIsaiah prophesy of you, saying, ^hThis people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for ⁱdoctrines the commandments of men.

And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand: ^knot that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man. Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended, after they heard this saying?

But he answered and said, ^lEvery plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up. Let them alone: ^mthey be blind leaders of the blind. And ⁿif the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch. Then answered ^oPeter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable. And Jesus said, Are ye also yet without understanding? ^pDo not ye yet understand, that ^qwhatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught? But ^rthose things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile ^sthe man. For ^tout of the heart proceed ^uevil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies: these are the things which defile a man: but to eat ^xwith unwashen hands defileth not a man.

Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of ^yTyre and Sidon. And behold, a woman of ^zCanaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, ^athou Son of David; my daughter is grievously ^bvexed with a devil. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, ^cSend her away; for she crieth after us. But he answered and said, ^dI am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. Then came she and ^eworshipped him, saying, Lord, help me. But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast ^fit to ^gdogs. And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters'

table. Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, ^ggreat is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that ^hvery hour. ^hAnd Jesus departed from thence, and came nigh unto ⁱthe sea of Galilee; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there. And great multitudes came unto him, having with them ^jthose that were lame, blind, dumb, ^kmaimed, and many others, and cast them ^ldown at Jesus' feet; and he healed them: insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the ^mmaimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and ⁿthey glorified ⁿthe God of Israel.

^oThen Jesus called his disciples unto ^ohim, and said, ^pI have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not send them away fasting, lest they ^qfaint in the way. And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude? And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few ^rlittle fishes. And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground. And he took the seven loaves and ^sthe fishes, and ^sgave thanks, and brake ^tthem, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude. And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken ^umeat that was left seven ^vbaskets full. And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and children.

^uAnd he sent away the multitude, and took ship, and came into the coasts of ^xMagdala. The ^yPharisees also with the ^zSadducees came, and tempting desired him that ^zhe would shew them a sign from heaven. He answered and said unto them, ^aWhen it is evening, ye say, ^bIt will be ^cfair weather: for the sky is red. And in the morning, ^dIt will be foul weather to day: for the sky is red and lowring. ^eO ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky; but can ye not ^fdiscern the signs of the times? ^gA wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas. And he left them, and departed.

And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread. Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed and ^fbeware of the ^gleaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees. And they ^hreasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have taken no bread. Which when Jesus perceived, he said unto them, ^hO ye of little faith, why ^hreason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread?

 Do ye not yet understand, neither remember ⁱthe five loaves of the five thousand, and how many ^kbaskets ye took up? Neither ⁱthe seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many ^mbaskets ye took up? How is it that ye do not understand that I spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees? Then understood they how that he bade them not ^fbeware of the leaven of bread, but of the ^gdoctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

"When Jesus came into the coasts of Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I
 the Son of man am? And they said,
 Some say that thou art ^oJohn the Baptist: some, ^pElias; and others, ^qJere-mias, or one of the prophets. He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am?
 And Simon Peter answered and said,
 Thou art the Christ, ^rthe Son of ^sthe living God. And Jesus answered and said unto him, ^tBlessed art thou, ^uSimon Bar-jona: for ^xflesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but ^zmy Father which is in heaven. And I say also unto thee, That thou art ^aPeter, and ^bupon
 this rock I will build my church; and ^cthe gates of hell shall not prevail against
 it. And I will give unto thee ^dthe keys of the kingdom of heaven: and ^ewhatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. ^fThen charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was Jesus the Christ.

From that time forth began Jesus ^gto
 shew unto his disciples, how that ^hhe must go unto Jerusalem, and ^hsuffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and ⁱbe raised again the third day. Then Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, ^jBe it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee. But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, ^kSatan:

thou art an ^loffence unto me: for thou

 Jesus unto his disciples, If any man

 self, and ⁿtake up his cross, and follow
 me. For ^owhosoever will save his life his ^plife for my sake shall find it. For

And ^aafter six days Jesus taketh ^bPeter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart, and was ^ctransfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun,
 and his raiment was white as the light.
 And behold, there appeared unto them
 Moses and Elias talking with him. Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: ^eif
 thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles: one for thee, and one for Moses,
 and one for Elias. While he yet spake, behold, ^fa bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold a voice out of the cloud, which said, ^gThis is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; ^hhear ye him. And when the disciples ⁱheard
 it, they ^kfell on their face, and were sore afraid. And Jesus came and ^ltouch-ed them, and said, Arise, and ^mbe not afraid.
 And when they had ^mlift up their eyes,
 they saw no man, save Jesus only.

"And as they came down from the mountain, ^oJesus charged them, saying,
 Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.
 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that ^pElias must first come? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Elias truly shall first come, and ^qrestore all things. But I say unto you, That ^pElias is come already, and they knew him not, but ^rhave done unto him whatsoever they ^slisted. Likewise shall also ^tthe Son of man suffer of them.

 spake unto them of John the Baptist.

XVIII. At ^athe same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven? And ^bJesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them. And said, ^c

Verily I say unto you, Except ye ^bbe converted, and ^cbecome as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of ^dheaven. And ^ewhoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth ^fme. ^gBut whoso shall ^hoffend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and ⁱthat he were drowned in the depth of the sea. Woe unto the world because of ^joffences: ^kfor it must needs be that offences come; ^lbut woe to that man by whom the ^moffence cometh. ⁿWherefore if ^othy hand or thy foot ^poffend thee, cut them off, and cast ^qthem from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or ^rmaimed, rather than having two hands or two ^sfeet to be cast into everlasting fire. And if ^tthine eye ^uoffend thee, pluck it out, and cast ^vit from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into ^whell fire.

^xTake heed that ye despise not one of ^ythese little ones; for I say unto you. That in heaven ^ztheir angels do always ^{aa}behold the face of ^{ab}my Father which is in heaven. ^{ac}For the Son of man is come to save ^{ad}that which was lost. ^{ae}How think ye? ^{af}If a man have an hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and ^{ag}seeketh that which is gone astray? ^{am}Moreover ^{an}if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast ^{ao}gained thy ^{ap}brother. ever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. Again I say unto you. That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching ^hany thing that they shall ask, ⁱit shall be done for them of ^smy Father which is in heaven. For ²⁰where two or three are gathered together ^jin my name, there am I in the midst of them.

Then came Peter to him, and said, ²¹Lord, ^khow oft shall my brothersin against me, and I forgive him? ^ltill seven times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto ²²thee, Until seven times: but, ^mUntil seventy times seven. Therefore is the ²³kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would ⁿtake account of his servants. And when he had begun ²⁴to ⁿreckon, one was brought unto him, which ought him ten thousand ^otalents. But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his ²⁵lord commanded him to be ^osold, and his wife, and ^pchildren, and all that he had, and payment to be made. The ²⁶servant therefore fell down, and ^lworshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. Then ²⁷the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt. But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellowservants, which ought him an hundred ^lpence: and he laid hands on him, and took ^{him} by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest. And his fellow-²⁹servant fell down at his feet, and ^qbesought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt. So ³¹when his fellowservants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and ^rtold unto their lord all that was done. Then his lord, after that he had ³²called him, said unto him, O ^{thou} wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou ^qdesiredst me: ³³shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellowservant, even as I had pity on thee? And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him. ³⁴So likewise shall my heavenly Father do ^{also} unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

And it came to pass, ^athat when Jesus had finished these sayings, he departed from ^bGalilee, and came ^cinto the coasts of Judea beyond Jordan; ^dand great ^dmultitudes followed him; and he healed ¹⁵them there. The Pharisees also came unto him, tempting him, and saying unto him, Is it lawful for a man ^eto put away ^ehis wife for every cause? And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, that ^fhe which made ^{them} at the beginning made them male and female, ⁵and said, ^gFor this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and ^hthey twain shall be one flesh? ⁶Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. ⁷They say unto him, ⁱWhy did Moses then command to give a writing of ⁸divorcement, and to put her away? He saith unto them, Moses because of the ^khardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so. ¹And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except ^{it be} for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her ^{which is} put away doth commit adultery. His disciples say unto him, If the case of the man be so with ^{his} wife, ^mit is not good to marry. But he said unto them, ⁿAll men cannot ^oreceive this saying, ^psave ¹²they to whom ^qit is given. For there are ^{some} eunuchs, which were so born from ^{their} mother's womb: and there are ^{some} eunuchs, ^rwhich were made eunuchs of men: and ^sthere be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to ^oreceive ^{it}, let him receive ^{it}.

¹³Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put ^{his} hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them. But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for ^uof such is the kingdom of heaven. And he laid ^{his} hands on them, and departed thence. ¹⁶And behold, ^xone came and said unto him, Good ^yMaster, what good ^{thing} shall I do, that I may have eternal life? ¹⁷And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? ^{there is} none good but one, ^{that is}, God: but ^zif thou wilt enter into ¹⁸life, keep the commandments. He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said, ^aThou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, ^bHonour thy father and thy mother: and, ^cThou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up: what lack I yet? Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be ^dperfect, ^ego and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and ^fthou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me. But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

Then said Jesus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, That ^ga rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven. And ^hagain I say unto you, It is easier for a ⁱcamel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved? But Jesus ^kbeheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but ^lwith God all things are possible.

Then answered Peter and said unto him, Behold, we have ^mforsaken all, and followed thee; what shall we have therefore? And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the ⁿregeneration, when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ^oye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, ^pjudging the twelve tribes of Israel. And every one that hath ^qforsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life. But many that are ^rfirst shall be last; and the ^slast shall be first.

XX. ^aFor the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into ^{aa}his vineyard. And when he had agreed with the labourers for ^ba penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard. And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace, and said unto them; Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way. Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise. And about the ^celeventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, ^dBecause no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive. So ^ewhen even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his ^fsteward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny. But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny. And when they had received it, they murmured against ^gthe goodman of the house, saying, These last ^hhave ⁱwrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and ^jheat of the day. But he answered one of them, and said, ^kFriend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny? Take ^l*that* thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee. ^kIs it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye ^levil, because I am ^mgood? So ⁿthe last shall be first, and the first last: ^ofor many be called, but few chosen.

^pAnd Jesus ^{pp}going up to Jerusalem took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them, Behold, ^qwe go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be ^rbetrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, and shall ^sdeliver him to the Gentiles to ^tmock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and ^uthe third day he shall rise again.

^wThen came to him the mother of ^xZebedee's children with her sons, ^yworshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him. And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons ^zmay sit, the one ^{zz}on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom. But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of ^athe cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with ^bthe baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able. And he saith unto them, ^cYe shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to

And ^awhen they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to ^bBethphage, unto ^cthe mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples, saying unto them. Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me. And if any man say ^dought unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them. ^eAll this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, ^fTell ye the daughter of Sion, ^gBehold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass. And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them, and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him ^hthereon. And a very great multitude ⁱspread their garments in the way; others ^jcut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way. And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, ^kHosanna to the Son of David: ^lBlessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; ^mHosanna ⁿin the highest. ^oAnd when he was come into Jerusalem, ^pall the city was moved, saying, Who is this? ^qAnd the multitude said, This is Jesus ^rthe prophet of ^sNazareth of Galilee. ^tAnd Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the ^utables of the ^vmoneychangers, and the ^wseats of them that sold ^xdoves, and said unto them, It is written, ^yMy house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it ^za den of ^{aa}thieves. ^{ab}And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them. ^{ac}And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful ^{ad}things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, ^{ae}Hosanna to the Son of David; they were sore displeased, and said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, ^{af}Out of the mouth of ^{ag}babes and sucklings thou hast ^{ah}perfected praise? And he left them, and went out of the city into ^{ai}Bethany; and he lodged there. ^{aj}Now in the morning as he returned into the city, he hungered. And when he saw ^{ak}a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig tree withered away. ^{al}And when the disciples saw ^{am}it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig tree withered away! Jesus answered and said unto them, ^{an}Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and ^{ao}doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, but also if ye shall say unto ^{ap}this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be ^{aq}done. And ^{ar}all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive. ^{as}And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, ^{at}By what authority doest thou these ^{au}things? and who gave ^{av}thee this authority? And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority ^{aw}I do these ^{ax}things. The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they ^{mm}reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him? But if we shall say, Of ²⁶men; ⁿwe fear the people; for all hold John as ^aa prophet. And they answered ²⁷Jesus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things. ^pBut ²⁸what think you? A certain man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work to day ^qin my vineyard. He answered and said, I will not: but ²⁹afterward he repented, and went. And ³⁰he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir: and went not. Whether of them ³¹twain did the will of his father? They say unto him, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That the ^spublicans and the ^tharlots go into the kingdom of God before you. For ³²John came unto you ^uin the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not: but the ^xpublicans and the harlots ^xbelieved him: and ye, when ye had seen it, ^qrepented not afterward, that ye might believe him.

Hear another parable: ^yThere was a ³³certain householder, which planted ^aa vineyard, and ^ahedged it round about, and ^adigged a winepress in it, and ^abuilt a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and ^bwent into a far country: and when ³⁴the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, ^cthat they might receive the fruits of it. And the husbandmen took his servants, and ^dbeat one, and ^ekilled another, and ^fstoned another. Again, he sent ^gother servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise. But last ^{of all} ³⁷he sent unto them his son, saying, They will ^hreverence my son. But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is ⁱthe heir; come, ^jlet us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance. ^kAnd they caught ³⁹him, and cast him ^lout of the vineyard, and slew him. When the lord therefore ⁴⁰of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen? They say ⁴¹unto him, ^mHe will miserably destroy those wicked men, ⁿand will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons. Jesus saith unto them, Did ye ⁴²never read in the scriptures, ^oThe

^u Then went the Pharisees, and took ¹⁵ counsel how they might entangle him in his talk. And they sent out unto him ¹⁶ their disciples with the ^x Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for ^y thou regardest not the person of men. Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? ¹⁷ Is it lawful to give ^z tribute unto ^a Cesar, or not? But Jesus ^b perceived their ¹⁸ wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye ^c hypocrites? Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a ¹⁹ penny. And he saith unto them, ²⁰ Whose is this image and [†] superscription? They say unto him, Cesar's. Then ²¹ saith he unto them, ^d Render therefore unto Cesar the things which are Cesar's; and unto God the things that are God's. When they had heard ²² these words, they marvelled, ^e and left him, and went their way.

The same day came to him ^f the ²³ Sadducees, ^g which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him, saying, Master, Moses said, ^h If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. Now there were with ²⁵ us seven brethren: and the first, when he had married ^a wife, deceased, and, having no issue, left his wife unto his brother: likewise the second also, and ²⁶ the third, unto the [†] seventh. And last ²⁷ of all the woman died also. Therefore ²⁸ in the resurrection whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her. Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye ²⁹ do err, ⁱ not knowing the scriptures, nor ^j the power of God. For in the resurrection ^k they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are [†] as ³⁰ the angels of God in heaven. But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying, ³¹ I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living. And ³² when the multitude heard ³³ this, [†] they were astonished at his doctrine.

But when the Pharisees had heard ³⁴ that he had [†] put [†] the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together. Then one of them, ³⁵ which was [†] a lawyer, asked ³⁶ him ³⁷ a question, [†] tempting him, and saying, Master, which is the great commandment in the law? Jesus said unto him, [†] Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

³⁸ This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, ³⁹ Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments hang ⁴⁰ all the law and the prophets.

⁴³ He saith unto them, How then doth David ^y in spirit call him Lord, saying, ⁴⁴ The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make ⁴⁵ thine enemies thy footstool? If David then call him Lord, how is he his ⁴⁶ son? [†] And no man was able to answer him a word, [†] neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

Then [†] spake Jesus to the multitude, ² and to his disciples, saying, ^b The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat: ³ all therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, [†] that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for ^c they say, ⁴ and do not. ^{cc} For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay [†] them on men's shoulders; but they [†] themselves will not move them with ^{one} of their fingers. But all their works they do ^d for to be seen of men: they make broad ^e their phylacteries, and enlarge ⁶ the borders of their garments, and love ^g the uppermost rooms at feasts, and ^h the chief seats in the synagogues, and ^{gh} greetings in the markets, and to be called of ⁸ men, [†] Rabbi, Rabbi. [†] But he not ye called Rabbi: for one is your [†] Master, [†] even Christ; and all ye are brethren. ⁹ And call [†] no man your father upon the earth: [†] for one is your Father, which is ¹⁰ in heaven. Neither be ye called [†] masters: for one is your [†] Master, [†] even Christ. ¹¹ But [†] he that is greatest among you shall ¹² be your [†] servant. And [†] whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted.

¹⁴ Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! [†] for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long

prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.

Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, ¹⁵ hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one ^xproselyle, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of ^yhell than yourselves.

Woe unto you, ^zye blind guides, which ¹⁶ say, ^aWhosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor. ¹⁷ Ye ^bfools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or ^cthe temple that sanctifieth the gold? And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever sweareth by ^dthe gift that is upon it, he is ¹⁸guilty. Ye ¹⁹

^efools and blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or ^fthe altar that sanctifieth the gift? Whoso therefore shall swear by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all ²⁰things thereon. And whoso shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and by ²¹him that dwelleth therein. And he that shall swear by heaven, sweareth by ²²the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

¹Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, ²³ hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and ¹anise and cummin, and ^khave omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. ¹Ye blind guides, which strain ²⁴ out a gnat, and swallow ^ma camel.

Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, ²⁵ hypocrites! ⁿfor ye make clean the outside of the ^ocup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and ^pexcess. Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse ²⁶ first that which is within the ^ocup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also.

¹Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, ²⁷ hypocrites! for ye are like unto ^rwhited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of ^sall uncleanness. Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity. ¹Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, ²⁸ hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and ^ugarnish the sepulchres of the righteous, and say, If ³⁰ we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ^xye are the children of them ³² which killed the prophets. ^yFill ye ³³ up then the ^zmeasure of your fathers. Ye serpents, ye ^ageneration of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of ^bhell?

^cWherefore behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and ^dscribes: and ^esome of them ye shall kill and crucify; and ^fsome of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and ³⁵ persecute them from city to city: that ^hupon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous ⁱAbel unto the blood of ^kZacharias son of ¹Barachias, whom ye slew between the ^mtemple and the ³⁶altar. Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.

And ^aJesus went out, and ^bdeparted from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple. And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, ^cThere shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not ³ be thrown down. And as he sat upon ^dthe mount of Olives, ^ethe disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of ⁴the end of the world? And Jesus answered and said unto them, ⁵Take heed that no man deceive you. For ^hmany shall come in my name, saying, I am ⁶Christ; ⁱand shall deceive many. And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ^kye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but ⁷the end is not yet. For ^lnation shall rise against nation, and ^mkingdom against kingdom: and there shall be ⁿfamines, and pestilences, and earth-⁸quakes in divers places. All these are the beginning of ^osorrows.

Then shall they deliver you up ^qto be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake. And then shall many ^rbe offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another. And many ^sfalse prophets shall rise, and ^tshall deceive many. And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold. ^uBut he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved. And this ^xgospel of the kingdom ^yshall be preached in all ^zthe world ^{zz}for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.

When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by ^aDaniel the prophet, stand in ^bthe holy place, (^cwhoso readeth, let him understand;) then let them which be in Judea flee into the mountains: ^dlet him which is on the ^ehousetop not come down to take any ^{thing} out of his house: neither let him which is in the field return back to take his clothes. And ^fwoe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days. But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day: for then shall be great ^gtribulation, ^hsuch as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be. And except ⁱthose days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for ^kthe elect's sake those days shall be shortened. Then ^lif any ^{man} shall say unto you, Lo, here ^{is} Christ, or there; believe ^{it} not. For there shall arise ^mfalse Christs, and ⁿfalse prophets, and ^{shall} shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if ^{it were} possible, ^{they shall} deceive the very ^kelect. Behold, ^oI have told you before. Wherefore if ^{they} shall say unto you, Behold, he is in ^pthe desert; go not forth: behold, ^{he is} in the ^qsecret chambers; believe ^{it} not. ^rFor as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth ^{even} unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. ^sFor wheresoever the ^{ss}carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

Immediately after the ^ttribulation of those days ^ushall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and ^wthe stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: and then ^xshall appear ^ythe sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall ^zall the tribes of ^{za}the earth mourn, and they shall see ^bthe Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with ^{bb}power and great glory. ³¹ And ^che shall send his angels ^{with} a great sound of a ^dtrumpet, and they shall gather together his ^eelect from the four winds, ^ffrom one end of heaven to the other. Now learn a parable of the fig tree; When his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that ^{summer is} nigh: so likewise ye, when ye shall see all these ^{things}, know that ^{it} is near, ^{even} ^gat the doors. Verily I say unto you, ^hThis generation shall not pass, till all these ^{things} be fulfilled.

³⁶ But of ^lthat day and hour ^mknoweth no ^{man}, no, not the angels of heaven, ³⁷ ⁿbut my Father only. But ^oas the days of Noe ^{were}, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. For ^{pas} in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, ^qmarrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and knew not until the flood came, and took ^{them} all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of ⁴⁰ man be. ^rThen shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left. ⁴¹ ^{Two women shall be} grinding ^{at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left.} ^uWatch therefore: ^wfor ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.

^sFor the kingdom of heaven is ^tas a ¹⁴man ^ttravelling into a far country, who called his ^vown servants, and delivered unto them his goods. And unto one he ¹⁵gave five ¹talents, to another two, and to another one; ^xto every man according to his ^yseveral ability; and straightway ^utook his journey. But he that had received one went and ¹⁸digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money. After a long time the lord of ¹⁹those servants cometh, and ^areckoneth with them. And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: behold, I have gained besides them five talents moe. thee drink? When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee? Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee? And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.

Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels: for I was a hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not. Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee a hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee? Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me. And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal.

And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples, Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified. Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas, and consulted that they might take Jesus by subtilty, and kill him. But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uproar among the people.

Now when Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, there came unto him a woman having an alabaster box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head, as he sat at meat. But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste? For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor. When Jesus understood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me. For ye have the poor always with you; but me ye have not always. For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my burial. Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.

Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests, and said unto them, What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver. And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him. Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover? And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples. And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them; and they made ready the passover.

Now when the even was come, he sat down with the twelve. And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me. And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I? And he answered and said, He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me. The Son of man goeth as it is written of him: but woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed: it had been good for that man if he had not been born. Then Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.

And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; for this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins. But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

All ye shall be ^yoffended because of me
this night: for it is written, I will ^zsmite

flock ^ashall be scattered abroad.
But after I am risen ^{again}, ^bI will go ³²
before you into Galilee. Peter answered ³³
and said unto him, Though all ^{men}

will I never be offended. Jesus said ³⁴ unto him, ^dVerily I say unto thee, That this night, ^ebefore ^{the} cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. Peter said unto ³⁵ him, ^fThough I should die with thee, ^{yet} will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

^gThen cometh Jesus with them unto ³⁶
a place called ^hGethsemane, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder. And he took with ³⁷
^{him} Peter and ⁱthe two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and ^jvery heavy. Then saith he unto them, ³⁸ ^kMy soul is exceeding sorrowful, ^{even} with me. And he went a little further, ³⁹

and fell on his face, and ^mprayed, saying, ⁿO my Father, if it be possible, let this ^ocup pass from me: nevertheless ^pnot as I will, ^qbut as thou ^{wilt}. And ⁴⁰ ^rhe cometh unto the disciples, and find-

^sWhat, could ye not ^lwatch with me
one hour? ^tWatch and pray, that ye

indeed ^{is} willing, but the flesh ^{is} weak.
He went away again the second time, ⁴²
and prayed, saying, O my Father, ^pif
this ^ocup may not pass away from me,
except I drink it, ^qthy will be done.
And he came and found them asleep ⁴³
again: for their eyes were ^xheavy. And ⁴⁴
he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words. Then cometh he to his disci- ⁴⁵

^ynow, and take your rest: behold, ^zthe hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.
Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at ⁴⁶
hand that doth betray me.

^aAnd while he yet spake, lo, ^bJudas, ⁴⁷
one of the twelve, came, and with him a

from the chief priests and elders of the people. Now he that betrayed him ⁴⁸

up again thy sword into his place: for ^kall they that take the sword shall perish ⁵³with the sword. Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me ^lmore than twelve

XXVII. ^a When the morning was come, all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: and when they had bound him, ^b they led him away, and ^c delivered him to ^d Pontius Pilate the governor.
^e Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, ^f repented himself, and brought again ^g the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the ^h innocent blood. And they said, What ⁱ is that to us? see thou ^j to that. And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and ^k hanged himself. And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the ^l treasury, because it is the price of blood. And they ^m took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. Wherefore that field was called, ⁿ The field of blood, ^o unto this day. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by ^p Jeremie the prophet, saying, ^q And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, ^r whom they of the children of Israel did value; and gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord ^s appointed me.

^t And Jesus stood before the governor: ^u and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And ^v Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest. And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, ^w he answered nothing. Then said Pilate unto him, ^x Hearest thou not how many ^y things they witness against thee? And he answered him ^z to never a word; insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly.

^a Now at ^b that feast the governor was wont to release unto the people ^c a prisoner, whom they would. And they had then a ^d notable prisoner, called Barabbas. Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye ^e that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ? For he knew that for envy they had delivered him. When he was set down on ^f the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, ^g Have thou nothing to do with that just ^h man: for I have suffered many ⁱ things this day ^j in a dream because of him. But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude ^k that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye ^l that I release unto you? They said, Barabbas. Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? ^m They all say unto him, Let him be crucified. And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified. When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but ⁿ that rather ^o a tumult was made, he ^p took water, and washed ^q his hands before the multitude, saying, I am ^r innocent of the blood of this just ^s person: see ye ^t to it. Then answered all the people, and said, ^u His blood be on us, and on our children. Then released he Barabbas unto them: and when he had ^v scourged Jesus, he delivered ^w him to be crucified.

^k To ver. 29, ^kgathered unto him the whole band of soldiers. And they stripped him, and ²⁸ put on him ^{1a} a scarlet robe. And when ²⁹ they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they ^{1b} bowed the knee before him, and ^m mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews! And they ³⁰ spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head. And after that they ³¹ had ^m mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and ^o led him away to crucify him. And as they ^p came out, they found ³² a man of ^q Cyrene, ^r Simon by name: him they ^s compelled to bear his cross.

^t And when they were come unto a ³³ place called Golgotha, ^u that is to say, a place of a skull, they gave him ^v vinegar to drink mingled with ^y gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink. And they crucified him, and ³⁵ ^z parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, ^a They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots. And ³⁶ sitting down they ^b watched him there; ³⁷ and set up over his head his ^c accusation written, ^d THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS. Then were ³⁸ there two ^e thieves ^f crucified with him, one on the right hand, and another on the left.

And ^g they that passed by, ^h reviled him, ³⁹ ^{gi} wagging their heads, and saying, ⁴⁰ ^k Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself. ⁴¹ If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross. Likewise also the chief ⁴² priests ^m mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, He saved others; himself he cannot save. If he be ⁿ the King of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him. ⁴³ ^o He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him: ⁴⁴ for he said, I am the Son of God. The ^e thieves also, ^p which were crucified with him, ^q cast the same in his teeth.

Now ^r from the sixth hour there was ⁴⁵ darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour. And about ^s the ninth hour Jesus ⁴⁶ ^t cried with a loud voice, saying, ELI, ELI, LAMA SABACHTHANI? that is to say, ^u My God, my God, why hast

⁴⁷ thou forsaken me? Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, ⁴⁸ said, This man calleth for Elias. And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with ^v vinegar, and put it on ^y a reed, and gave him to drink. ⁴⁹ ^z The rest said, Let be, let us see whether Elias will come to save him.

⁵⁰ Jesus, when he had ^t cried again with a loud voice, ^a yielded up the ghost.

And behold, ^b the vail of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and ^c the earth did quake, and the rocks rent; and the graves were opened; and many bodies of saints ^d which slept ⁵³ arose, and came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into ^e the holy city, and appeared unto many. Now when the centurion, and they that were with him, ^f watching Jesus, saw ^c the earthquake, and ^g those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, ^h Truly this was the Son of God. And ⁱ many women were there beholding ^j afar off, ^k which followed Jesus from Galilee, ⁵⁶ ^l ministering unto him: among which was Mary ^m Magdalene, and ⁿ Mary the mother of ^o James and Josès, and ^p the mother of Zebedee's children.

⁵⁷ ^q When the even was come, there came a rich man of ^r Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' ^s disciple: he went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. Then ^t Pilate commanded the body to be delivered. And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped ⁶⁰ it in a clean linen cloth, and laid it ^u in his own new tomb, which ^v he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled ^a a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, and ⁶¹ departed. And there was ^y Mary Magdalene, and ^z the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

⁶² Now the next day, that followed the day of the ^z preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate, ⁶³ saying, Sir, we remember that that ^a deceiver said, while he was yet alive, ^b After three days I will rise again. Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: so the last error shall be worse ⁶⁵ than the first. Pilate said unto them, Ye have ^c a watch: go your way, make ⁶⁶ it as sure as you can. So they went, and

[†] See Acts 12.
12.

I. THE beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, ^athe Son of God; ^bas it is written in the prophets, ^cBehold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. ^dThe voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance ^efor the remission of sins. And there went out unto him all the land of Judea, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sins. And John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins; and he did eat locusts and wild honey; and preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, the ^flatchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose. I indeed have baptized you with water; but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost.

^gAnd it came to pass in those days, ^hthat Jesus came from ⁱNazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan. And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens ^jopened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him: and there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

And immediately ^kthe Spirit ^ldriveth him into the wilderness. And he was there in the wilderness forty days, tempted of Satan; and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.

^mNow after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching ⁿthe gospel of the kingdom of God, and saying, ⁿThe time is fulfilled, and

¹⁶ Now ^pas he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they ¹⁷were fishers. And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you ¹⁸to become fishers of men. And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him. And when he had gone a little further thence, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets. ²⁰And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.

²¹ And ^qthey went into Capernaum; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered ^rinto the synagogue, and taught. ²²And ^sthey were astonished at his doctrine: ^sfor he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes. ²³And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out, saying, Let us alone; ^twhat have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? ^uI know thee who thou art, ^vthe Holy One of God. And Jesus ^wrebuked him, ^xsaying, ^yHold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the unclean spirit had ^ztorn him, and cried with a loud voice, ²⁷he came out of him. And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him. ²⁸And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region round about Galilee.

the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. But Simon's wife's³⁰ mother lay sick of a fever, and anon they tell him of her. And he came and³¹ took her by the hand, and lift her up; and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them. And at even,³² when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils. And all the city was gathered together³³ at the door. And he healed many³⁴ that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils; and suffered not the devils to speak, because they knew him.

³⁵ And in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed. And Simon and they³⁶ that were with him followed after him. And when they had found him, they³⁷ said unto him, All men seek for thee. And he said unto them, Let us go into³⁸ the next towns, that I may preach there also: for³⁹ therefore came I forth. And he preached⁴⁰ in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils.

⁴¹ And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus,⁴² moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean. And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed. And he⁴³ straightly charged him, and forthwith sent him away; and saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing⁴⁴ those things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them. But he⁴⁵ went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus⁴⁶ could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

And again he entered into Capernaum¹ after some days; and it was noised that he was² in the house. And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no, not so much as about the door: and he preached the word unto them. And they come unto him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four.

And when they could not come nigh unto him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay. When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee. But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts, Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? who can forgive sins but God only? And immediately, when Jesus perceived in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts? Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house. And immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

And he went forth again by the sea side; and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them. And as he passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him. And it came to pass, that as Jesus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat also together with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him. And when the scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners? When Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

And the disciples of John and of the Pharisees used to fast: and they come and say unto him, Why do the disciples of John and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not? And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bridechamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

agogue; and there was a man there which had a withered hand. And they ^bwatched him, whether he would heal him
on the sabbath day; ^{bb}that they might accuse him. And he saith unto the man which had the withered hand, ^cStand forth. And he saith unto them,
Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath
days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? But they held their peace. And when he had looked round about on them ^cwith anger, being grieved for the ^dhardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other. And the Pharisees went forth, and straightway took counsel with ^dthe Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.

^e But Jesus withdrew himself with his disciples to the sea: ^fand a great multitude from Galilee followed him, and from ^gJudea, and from Jerusalem, and from ^hIdumea, and from beyond Jordan; and they about ⁱTyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard

what great things he did, came unto
him. And he spake to his disciples, that ^{ka}a small ship should wait on him
because of the multitude, lest they should throng him. For he had healed many;
insomuch that they ^lpressed upon him
for ^lto touch him, as many as had ^mplagues. And ⁿunclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art ^othe Son of God.
And ^phe straitly charged them that they should not make him known. ^qAnd he goeth up into a mountain, and calleth unto him whom he would: and they came unto him. And he ordained twelve,
that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach,
and to have power to heal sicknesses,
and to cast out devils: ^rand Simon he surnamed Peter; and James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James;
(and he surnamed them ^sBoanerges, which is, The sons of thunder:) and Andrew,
and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and ^tThaddeus, and Simon
the Canaanite, and Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him.

And they went ^uinto a house. And the multitude cometh together again, ^xso
that they could not so much as eat bread. And when his ^yfriends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him:
^yfor they said, ^zHe is beside himself.
And the scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, ^aHe hath ^bBeelzebub,
and by the prince of the devils casteth
he out devils. And he called them unto him, ^cand said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan?
And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand. And if Satan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end. No man can enter into a strong man's house,
and spoil his goods, except he will first bind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house. ^dVerily I say unto you,
All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme: but he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is ^ein danger of eternal damnation. Because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

And ^ahe began again to teach by the sea side: and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into ^ba ship, and sat in the sea;
and the whole multitude was by the sea
on the land. And he taught them many²
things by parables, ^cand said unto them
in his doctrine, Harken; Behold, there³
went out a sower to sow: and it came⁴
to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the fowls of the air came and devoured it up. And some fell on⁵ stony ground, where it had not much
earth; and immediately it sprang up,
because it had no depth of earth: but⁶
when the sun was up, it was scorched;
and because it had no root, it withered
away. And some fell among thorns,⁷
and the thorns grew up, and choked it,
and it yielded no fruit. And other fell⁸
on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased; and brought forth, some thirty, and some sixty, and some an hundred. And he said unto⁹ them, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

And when he was alone, they that¹⁰
were about him with the twelve asked of him the parable. And he said unto¹¹ them, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto ^dthem that are without, all these things are done in parables: ^ethat see-¹²
ing they may see, and not perceive;
and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them. ^fAnd he said unto¹³ them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will you know all parables?
The sower soweth the word. And these¹⁴ are they by the way side, where the word is sown; but when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts. And these are they like-¹⁵
wise which are sown on stony ground;
who, when they have heard the word,

immediately receive it with gladness;
¹⁷and have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time; afterward, when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are of-¹⁸fended. And these are they which are sown among thorns; such as hear the ¹⁹word, and the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts
of other things entering in, choke the ²⁰word, and it becometh unfruitful. And these are they which are sown on good ground; such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some an hundred.

And he said unto them, ^gIs a candle²¹
brought to be put under a ^hbushel, or under a bed? and not to be set on a ²²candlestick? ^hFor there is nothing hid,
which shall not be manifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it ²³should come abroad. ⁱIf any man have ²⁴ears to hear, let him hear. And he said unto them, ^jTake heed what you hear: ^kwith what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you: and unto you²⁵
that hear shall more be given. ^lFor he that hath, to him shall be given: and he
that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.

And he said, ^mSo is the kingdom of²⁶
God, as if a man should cast seed into ²⁷the ground, and should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not ²⁸how. For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, ²⁹after that the full corn in the ear. But when the fruit is ⁿbrought forth, immediately he putteth in ^othe sickle, because ^pthe harvest is come.

And he said, ^qWhereunto shall we³⁰
liken the kingdom of God? or with what ³¹comparison shall we compare it? It is like a grain of mustard seed, which,
when it is sown in the earth, is less than ³²all the seeds that be in the earth: but when it is sown, it groweth up, and be-cometh ^rgreater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the ³³shadow of it. And ^swith many such parables spake he the word unto them, ³⁴as they were able to hear it. But ^twithout a parable spake he not unto them:
and ^uwhen they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side. ^yAnd ¹⁷when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even ²³as he was in the ship. And there were also with him other little ships. And there arose ³⁷a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full. And he was in the hinder part of the ³⁸ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish? And he arose, ³⁹and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, ^abe still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm. And he said unto them, Why are ye so ⁴⁰fearful? how is it that you have no faith? And they ^bfeared exceedingly, and said ⁴¹one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

^aGadarenes. And when he was come ²out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs ^ba man with an unclean spirit, who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains: because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him. And always, night and day, ⁵he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones. But when he saw Jesus afar off, ⁶he ran and ^cworshipped him, and cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of ^dthe most high God? I ^eadjure thee by God, that thou torment me not. For ⁸he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit. And he asked him, ⁹What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is ^fLegion: for we are many. And he besought him much that ¹⁰he would not send them away out of the country. Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding. And all the devils besought him, ¹²saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them. And forthwith ¹³Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand,) and were choked in the sea. And they that fed ¹⁴

the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And ^{ff}they went out ^{ff}Comp. Matt. 8. 34. ¹⁵to see what it was that was done. And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the ¹legion, sitting, and ^gclothed, and ^hin his right mind: and they were afraid. ¹⁶And they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine. ¹⁷And they began to pray him to depart ¹⁸out of their coasts. And when he was come into the ship, ⁱhe that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him. Howbeit Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion ²⁰on thee. And he departed, and began to publish in ^kDecapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

²¹And when Jesus was passed over again by ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him: and he was ²²nigh unto the sea. ^mAnd behold, there cometh one of ⁿthe rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and when he ²³saw him, he fell at his feet, and besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and ^{un}lay thy hands on her, that she ²⁴may be healed; and she shall live. And Jesus went with him; and much people ²⁵followed him, and thronged him. And a certain woman, which had an issue of ²⁶blood twelve years, and had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing ²⁷bettered, but rather grew worse, when she had heard of Jesus, came in the press behind, and touched his garment. ²⁸For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole. And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was ³⁰healed of that ^oplague. And Jesus immediately knowing in himself that ^pvirtue had gone out of him, turned him about in the press, and said, Who touched my clothes? And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me? And he looked round about to see her that had done this ³³*thing*. But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth. And he said unto ³⁴ her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague. While he yet spake, there ³⁵ came from ⁿthe ruler of the synagogue's ^qhouse certain which said, Thy daughter is dead: why ^rtroublest thou the Master any further? As soon as Jesus heard ³⁶ the word that was spoken, he saith unto ⁿthe ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, ^{rr}only believe. And he suffered no ³⁷ man to follow him, save ^sPeter, and James, and ^tJohn the brother of James. And ³⁸ he cometh to the house of ⁿthe ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly. And when he was come in, he saith ³⁹ unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to ⁴⁰ scorn. But when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and ⁿthem that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying. And he took the damsel by ⁴¹ the hand, and said unto her, ^{*}TALITHA CUMI; which is, being interpreted, Damsel (^vI say unto thee) arise. And straight- ⁴² way the damsel arose, and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were ^{yy}astonished with a great astonishment. And ^zhe charged them straitly ⁴³ that no ^{man} should know it; and commanded that something should be given her to eat.

VI. And ^ahe went out from thence, and came into his own country; and his disciples follow him. And when the sabbath day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many hearing him were astonished, saying, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands? Is not this ^bthe ³ carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James, and Joses, and of Juda, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended at him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house. And ^che could ⁵ there do no mighty work, save that he ^elaid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them. And he ^dmarvelled because of their unbelief. ^eAnd he went round about the villages, teaching.

and began to send them forth ^{ff}by two and two; and gave them power ^fover unclean spirits; and commanded them that ^gthey should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no scrip, no ⁹bread, no ^hmoney in their purse: but be ^hshod with sandals; ⁱand not put on two ¹⁰coats. And he said unto them, In what place soever ye enter into a house, there ¹¹abide till ye depart from that place. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust under your feet ^kfor a testimony against them. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sodom ^land Gomorrha in the day of judgment, ¹²than for that city. And they went out, and ^lpreached that men should repent. ¹³And they cast out many devils, and ^manointed with oil many that were sick, and ⁿhealed them.

¹⁴ And ^oking Herod heard of him; (for his name was spread abroad:) and he said, That John the Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him. ¹⁵ ^pOthers said, That it is Elias. And others said, That it is a prophet, or as one of the ¹⁶prophets. But when Herod heard thereof, he said, It is John, whom I beheaded: ¹⁷he is risen from the dead. For Herod himself ^{*}had sent forth and ^qlaid hold upon John, and bound him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife: ¹⁸for he had married her. For John had said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee ¹⁹to have thy brother's wife. Therefore

Herodias had ^la quarrel against him, and would have killed him; but she could ²⁰not: for Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man and a holy, and ^{rr}observed him; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him ²¹gladly. ^{*}And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birthday ^tmade a supper to his lords, ^uhigh captains, and ^xchief estates of ^vGalilee; and when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod and them that sat with him, ^othe king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee. ²³ And he sware unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, ^zunto the half of my kingdom. And she went forth, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of ²⁵John the Baptist. And she came in straightway ^awith haste unto the king,

And he saw them toiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and ⁴⁹ would have passed by them. But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and ⁵⁰ cried out: for they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer: it is I; be not afraid. ⁵¹ And he went up unto them into the ship; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves ^ube- ⁵² yond measure, and wondered. For they ^xconsidered not the miracle of the loaves: for their heart was ^yhardened.

⁵³ And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Genesaret, ⁵⁴ and drew to the shore. And when they were come out of the ship, straightway ⁵⁵ they knew him, and ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, ⁵⁶ where they heard he was. And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched ¹him were made whole.

scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread ^bwith unwashen hands? He answered and said unto ⁶ them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, ^c"This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me. Howbeit in vain do they worship ⁷ me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. For laying aside ⁸ the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as ^fthe washing of pots and cups: ^gand many other such like things ye do. And he said unto ⁹ them, Full well ye ^hreject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition. For Moses said, ^h"Honour thy ¹⁰ father and thy mother; and, ⁱ"Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death. But ye say, If a man ¹¹ shall say to his father or mother, It is ⁱⁱCorban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; he shall be free. And ye suffer him no ¹² more to do ought for his father or his mother: making the word of God of ¹³ none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: ^gand many such like things do ye.

And when he had called all the people ¹⁴ unto him, he said unto them, Harken unto me every one of you, and understand: There is nothing from without ¹⁵ a man, that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man. ^jIf any man have ears to hear, let him ¹⁶ hear. And when he was entered ^kinto ¹⁷ the house from the people, ^lhis disciples asked him concerning the parable. And ¹⁸ he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him; because it entereth not into ¹⁹ his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats? And he said, That which cometh out of ²⁰ the man, that defileth the man. For ²¹ from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, ^m"covetousness, ²² wickedness, deceit, ⁿlasciviousness, ^oan evil eye, blasphemy, ^ppride, ^qfoolishness: all these evil things come from within, ²³ and defile the man.

and entered into a house, and would have no man know it: but he could not ²⁵ be hid. For a certain woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at ²⁶ his feet: the woman was a ^sGreek, a ^tSyrophœnician by nation; and she besought him that he would cast forth ²⁷ the devil out of her daughter. But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto ²⁸ the dogs. And she answered and said unto him, Yes, Lord: yet the dogs under the table eat of the children's ²⁹ crumbs. And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way; the devil is gone ³⁰ out of thy daughter. And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter ^ulaid upon the bed.

³¹ And again, departing from the coasts of ^v*Tyre and Sidon, he came unto ^wthe sea of Galilee, through the midst of the ³² coasts of ^xDecapolis. And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and ^ahad an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him ^{aa}to put his hand upon him. ³³ And he ^btook him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and he ^cspit, and ^dtouched his tongue; ³⁴ and ^elooking up to heaven, ^fhe sighed, and saith unto him, ^gEPHPHATHA, that is, Be opened. ^hAnd straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain. ³⁶ And he ⁱcharged them that they should tell no man: ^kbut the more he ^lcharged them, ^mso much the more a great deal they published it; and were ³⁷beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

In those days ^athe multitude being very great, and having nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples unto him, and ²saith unto them, ^bI have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have ³nothing to eat: and if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them ⁴came from far. And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfy these men with bread here in the ⁵wilderness? And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, ⁶Seven. to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before them; and they did set them before the people. And they had a few small fishes: and he blessed, and commanded to set them also before them. So they did eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets. And they that had eaten were about four thousand: and he sent them away.

And straightway he entered into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha. And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, tempting him. And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek after a sign? verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation. And he left them, and entering into the ship again departed to the other side.

Now the disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more than one loaf. And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod. And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have no bread. And when Jesus knew it, he saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither understand? have ye your heart yet hardened? Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember? When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve. And when the seven among four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? And they said, Seven. And he said unto them, How is it that ye do not understand?

And he cometh to Bethsaida; and they bring a blind man unto him, and besought him to touch him. And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the town; and when he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw ought. And he looked up, and said, I see men as trees, walking. After that he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up: and he was restored, and saw every man clearly. And he sent him away to his house, saying, Neither go into the town, nor tell it to any in the town.

And Jesus went out, and his disciples, into the towns of Cesarea Philippi: and by the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Whom do men say that I am? And they answered, John the Baptist: but some say, Elias; and others, One of the prophets.

And he saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Peter answereth and saith unto him, Thou art the Christ.

And he charged them that they should tell no man of him. And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again. And he spake that saying openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him.

But when he had turned about and looked on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men. And when he had called the people unto him with his disciples also, he said unto them, Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it. For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation; of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels. And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the kingdom of God come with power.

And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them. And his raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow; so as no fuller on earth can white them. And there appeared unto them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus. And Peter answered and said to Jesus, ^{cc}Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias. ^dFor he wist not what to say; for they were sore afraid. And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him. And suddenly, when they had looked round about, they saw no man any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

^eAnd as they came down from the mountain, he ^fcharged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, till the Son of man were risen from the dead. And they kept that saying with themselves, questioning one with another what the rising from the dead should mean. And they asked him, saying, Why say the scribes that Elias must first come? And he answered and told them, Elias verily cometh first, and restoreth all things; and ^ghow it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and ^hbe set at nought. But I say unto you, That Elias is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatsoever they listed, as it is written of him.

ⁱAnd when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the ^jscribes questioning with them. And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were ^kgreatly amazed, and running to him saluted him. And he asked the scribes, What question ye ^lwith ^mthem? And one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit: and wheresoever he taketh him, he ⁿteareth him: and he ^ofoameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out; and they could not. He answereth him, and saith, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him unto me. And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit ^ptare him; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed ^qfoaming. And he asked his father, How long is it ago since this came unto him? And he said, Of a child. And oftentimes it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help ^rus. Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth. And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; ^shelp thou mine unbelief. When Jesus saw that the people came ^trunning together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him. And the spirit cried, and ^urent him sore, and came out of him: and he was as one dead; insomuch that many said, He is dead. But Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up; and he arose. And when he was come ^vinto the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out? And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.

And they departed thence, ^wand passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should know it. For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day. ^xBut they understood not that saying, and were afraid to ask him.

And he came to Capernaum: and being in the house he asked them, What was it that ye ^ydisputed ^zamong yourselves by the way? But they held their peace: for by the way ^athey had disputed among themselves, who should be the greatest. And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith unto them, ^bIf any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and ^cservant of all. And ^dhe took a child, and set him in the midst of them: and when ^ehe had taken him in his arms, he said unto them, Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me: and ^fwhosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and he followeth not us: and ^gwe forbid him, because he followeth not us. But Jesus said, Forbid him not: ^hfor there is no man which shall do a miracle in my name, that ⁱcan lightly speak evil of me. For ^jhe that is not against us is on our part.

X. And ^ahe rose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Judea by the farther side of Jordan: and the people resort unto him again; and, ^bas he was wont, he taught them again. And the Pharisees came to ^{him}, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away ^{his} wife? ^{bb}tempting him. And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses command you? And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put ^{her} away. And Jesus answered and said unto them, For the hardness of your heart he wrote you this precept. But from the beginning of the creation God made them male and female. ^cFor this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife; and they twain shall be one ⁸ flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God ⁹ hath joined together, let not man put asunder. And in the house his disci- ¹⁰ ples asked him again of the same mat-ter. And he saith unto them, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against ¹² her. And ^dif a woman shall put away ^d ¹ ^{Cor. 7. 13.} her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

¹⁷ ^hAnd when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and ⁱkneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do that I may ¹⁸ inherit eternal life? ²³ And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into ²⁴ the kingdom of God! And the disciples ^owere astonished at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that ^ptrust in riches to enter into the ²⁵ kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the ²⁶ kingdom of God. And they were ^qast-

Then Peter began to say unto him, 28
Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee. And Jesus answered and said, 29
Verily I say unto you, There is no
man that hath left house, or brethren,
or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife,
or children, or lands, for my sake, and
the gospel's, but he shall receive an 30
hundredfold ^rnow in this time, houses,
and brethren, and sisters, and mothers,
and children, and lands, ^swith persecutions; and in the world to come eternal life. But many that are first shall 31
be last; and the last first.

^tAnd they were in the way going up 32
to Jerusalem; and ^uJesus went before them: and they ^wwere amazed; and as they followed, they were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things should happen
unto him, saying, Behold, we go up to 33 Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles: and they shall 34
mock him, and shall scourge him, and
shall ^yspit upon him, and shall kill him:
and the third day he shall rise again.

^zAnd James and John, ^athe sons of 35
Zebedee, come unto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldest do for us ^bwhatsoever we shall desire. And 36
he said unto them, What would ye that I should do for you? They said 37 unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.
But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not 38
what ye ask: can ye drink of the cup that I drink of? and be baptized with
the baptism that I am baptized with?
And they said unto him, We can. And 39
Jesus said unto them, Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of; and with the baptism that I am baptized
withal shall ye be baptized: but to sit 40
on my right hand and on my left hand
is not mine to give; but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared. And 41
when the ten heard it, they began to be much displeased with James and John.
But Jesus called them to him, ^cand 42
saith unto them, Ye know that they which ^dare accounted to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them;
and their great ones exercise authority
upon them. But so shall it not be 43
among you: but whosoever will be great

among you, shall be your minister: and whosoever of you will be the ^dchiefest, shall be servant of all. For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life
a ransom for many.

^eAnd they came to Jericho: and as he ^fwent out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, ^gblind ^hBartimeus, the son of Timeus, sat by the highway side begging. And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say,
Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy 44
on me. And many ⁱcharged him that he should hold his peace: but he cried
the more a great deal, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me. And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, ^jrise; he calleth thee. And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to 45
Jesus. And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, ^kLord, that I might receive my ^lsight. And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; ^mthy faith hath ⁿmade thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

And ^awhen they came nigh to Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and ^bBethany,
at the mount of Olives, he sendeth forth
two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go your way into the village
over against you: and as soon as ye be entered into it, ye shall find ^ca colt
tied, ^dwhereon never man sat; loose
him, and bring him. And if any man
say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye that the Lord hath need of him; and straightway he will send him hither.
And they went their way, and found the colt tied by the door without in a place where two ways met; and they loose him. And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye, loosing the colt? And they said unto them even as Jesus had commanded: and they let them go. ^eAnd
they brought the colt to Jesus, and cast their garments on him; and he sat upon him. And many spread their garments
in the way: and others cut down
branches off the trees, and strawed ^fthem in the way. And they that went before, and they that followed, cried,

saying, Hosanna; ^f Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord: Blessed be the kingdom of our father ¹⁰ David, that cometh in the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest. ^g And ¹¹ Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the temple: and when he had looked round about upon all things, and now the eventide was come, he went out unto ^h Bethany with the twelve.

^h And on the morrow, when they ¹² were come from ^h Bethany, he was hungry: and seeing a ⁱ fig tree afar off ¹³ having leaves, he came, if haply he might find any thing thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for the time of figs was not yet. And Jesus answered and said ¹⁴ unto it, No man eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever. ^j And his disciples heard it.

^k And they come to Jerusalem: and ¹⁵ Jesus went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves; and would ¹⁶ not suffer that any man should carry any ^l vessel through the temple. And he taught, saying unto them, Is it not written, ^m My house shall be called ¹⁷ of all nations the house of prayer? but ye have made it ⁿ a den of thieves. ^o And the scribes and chief priests heard ¹⁸ it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because ^p all the people was astonished at his doctrine. And when even was come, he ¹⁹ went out of the city.

^q And in the morning, as they passed ²⁰ by, they saw ^r the fig tree dried up from the roots. And Peter calling to remem- ²¹ brance saith unto him, Master, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away. And Jesus answering saith ²² unto them, ^s Have faith in God. For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith. Therefore I say ²⁴ unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them. And ²⁵ when ye ^t stand praying, ^u forgive, if ye have ought against any: that your Father also which is in heaven may for-

²⁷ And they come again to Jerusalem: ^y and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, ²⁸ and the scribes, and the elders, and say unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee ²⁹ this authority to do these things? And Jesus answered and said unto them, I will also ask of you one ^z question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what ³⁰ authority I do these things. The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or ³¹ of men? answer me. And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, ³² Why then did ye not believe him? But if we shall say, Of men; they feared the people: for all men counted John, that ³³ he was a prophet indeed. And they answered and said unto Jesus, We cannot tell. And Jesus answering saith unto them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

And ^a he began to speak unto them by parables. A certain man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a place for the winefat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, ² and went into a far country. And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the ³ vineyard. And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty. ⁴ And again he sent unto them another servant; and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent ⁵ him away shamefully handled. And again he sent another; and him they killed, and many others; beating some, ⁶ and killing some. Having yet therefore one son, ^b his wellbeloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will ⁷ reverence my son. But those husbandmen said amongst themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours. And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out ⁹ of the vineyard. ^c What shall therefore the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and ¹⁰ will give the vineyard unto others. And have ye not read this scripture; ^d The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner:

Now ²⁰ there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed. And the second took her, and died, ²¹ neither left he any seed: and the third likewise. And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them ^{mm} well, asked him, Which is the ²⁹ first commandment of all? And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, ⁿ Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment. XIII. And ^{aas} he went out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, Master, see what manner of stones and what buildings are here. And Jesus answering said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. And as he sat upon the mount of Olives over against the temple, ^b Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him privately, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be fulfilled? And Jesus answering them began to say, ^c Take heed lest any man deceive you: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am ^d Christ; and shall deceive many. And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled: for ^e such things must needs be; but the end shall not be yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrows.

But ^e take heed to yourselves: ^f for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them. ^g And the gospel must first be published among all nations. But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, ^h take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost. Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth understand,) then let them that be in Judea flee to the mountains: and let him that is on the housetop not go down into the house, neither enter therein, to take any ^l thing out of his house: and let him that is in the field not turn back again for to take up his garment. But woe to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days. And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter. For in those days shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be. And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days. And then if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ; or lo, he is there; believe him not: for false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew ⁱ signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect. But ^e take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.

But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and glory. And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven. Now learn a parable of the fig tree; When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near: so ye in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to pass, know that ^j it is nigh, even at the doors. Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done. Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

But of that day and that hour knoweth ^{jj} no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, ^k neither the Son, but the Father. ^c Take ye heed, ^l watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is. For the Son of man is ^m as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to ⁿ watch. ⁿ Watch ye therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, ^o at even, or at midnight, or at the ^p cockcrowing, or ^o in the morning: lest coming suddenly he ³⁶ find you sleeping. And what I say ³⁷ unto you I say unto all, ^a Watch.

After ^a two days was the feast of the pass-over, and of unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death. But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uproar of the people.

^b And being in Bethany in the house ³ of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having an alabaster box of ointment of ^{||} spikenard very precious; and she brake the box, and poured it on his head. And there were some ⁴ that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made? For it might have been sold for more than three hundred ¹ pence, and have been given to the poor. And they murmured against her. And Jesus ⁶ said, Let her alone; why trouble you her? she hath wrought a good work on me. For ye have the poor with you always, ⁷ and whensoever ye will ye may do them good: but me ye have not always. She ⁸ hath done what she could: she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the ^c burying. Verily I say unto you, Where- ⁹ soever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.

^d And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, ¹⁰ went unto the chief priests, to betray him unto them. And when they heard ¹¹ it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might ^e conveniently betray him.

^f And the first day of unleavened bread, ¹² when they ^{||} killed the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare that thou mayest ¹³ eat the passover? And he sendeth forth ¹⁴ ^g two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him. And wheresoever he shall ¹⁵ go in, say ye to the goodman of the house, The Master saith, Where is the ^h guestchamber, where I shall eat the pass-over with my disciples? And he will ¹⁶ shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us. And his disciples went forth, and came ¹⁷ into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

¹⁷ And ⁱ in the evening he cometh with ¹⁸ the twelve. And as they sat and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you which eateth with me shall ¹⁹ betray me. And they ^j began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, ²⁰ Is it I? and another said, Is it I? And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve, that dippeth with me ²¹ in the dish. The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed: good were it for that man if he had never been born.

²² ^k And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat: this is my ²³ body. And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them: ²⁴ and they all drank of it. And he said unto them, This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many. ²⁵ Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

²⁶ ^{||} And when they had sung a ^{||} hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

²⁷ And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will ^m smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be ²⁸ scattered. But after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee. But ²⁹ Peter said unto him, Although ^{mm} all shall be offended, yet will not I. And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this day, even in this night, before ³⁰ the cock crow ⁿ twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. But he spake the more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. Likewise also said they all.

³² ^o And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall ³³ pray. And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began ^p to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy; and saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and ³⁵ watch. And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, ^q the hour might pass from him. And he said, ^r Abba, Father, ^s all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me: ^t nevertheless not that I will, but what thou wilt. ³⁷ And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldst not thou watch one hour? Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak. And again he went away, and prayed, and spake ¹the same words. And when he returned, he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy,) ²neither wist they what to answer him. And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, ³the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

⁴And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; take him, and lead him awaysafely. And as soon as he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith, Master, master; and kissed him. And they laid their hands on him, and took him. And one of them that stood by drew a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear. And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and with staves to take me? I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but the scriptures must be fulfilled. And they all forsook him, and fled. And there followed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth cast about his naked body; and the ²young men laid hold on him: and he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.

³And they led Jesus away to the high priest: and with him were assembled all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes. And Peter followed him afar off, even into the palace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants, and ⁴warmed himself at the fire. And the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found none. For many bare false witness against him, but their witness ⁵agreed not together. And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying, We heard him say, ⁶I will destroy this temple ⁷that is made with hands, and within three days

I will build another ⁸made without hands. But neither so did their witness ⁹agree together. And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed? And Jesus said, I am: ¹⁰and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven. Then the high priest rent his clothes, and saith, What need we any further witnesses? Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death. And some began to spit on him, and ¹¹to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, ¹²Prophecy: and the servants did ¹³strike him with the palms of their hands.

¹⁴And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there cometh ¹⁵one of the maids of the high priest: and when she saw ¹⁶Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth. But he denied, saying, I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch; ¹⁷and the cock crew.

¹⁸And ¹⁹a maid saw him again, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them. And he denied it again. And a little after, they that stood by said again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art ²⁰a Galilean, and ²¹thy speech agreeth thereto. But he began to curse and to swear, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speak.

²²And the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word that Jesus said unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. And ²³when he thought thereon, he wept.

And ²⁴a straightway in the morning the chief priests held a consultation with the elders and scribes and the whole council, and bound Jesus, and ²⁵carried him away, and delivered him to Pilate. ²⁶And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering said unto him, Thou sayest it. And the chief priests accused him of many things: but he answered nothing. And Pilate asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they witness against thee. But Jesus yet answered nothing; ⁵ so that Pilate marvelled.

^e To ver. 15, ^e Now at that feast he released unto ⁶ them one prisoner, whomsoever they desired. And there was one named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that had made insurrection with him, who had committed murder in the insurrection. And the multitude crying aloud ⁸ began to desire him to do as he had ever done unto them. But Pilate answered ⁹ them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews? For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him for envy. But the chief priests ¹¹ ^f moved the people, that he should rather release Barabbas unto them. And ¹² Pilate answered and said again unto them, What will ye then that I shall do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews? And they cried out ¹³ ^g again, Crucify him. Then Pilate said unto them, ¹⁴ Why, what evil hath he done? And they cried out the more exceedingly, Crucify him. And so Pilate, willing to content the people, released Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified.

^h To ver. 21, ^h And the soldiers led him away into ¹⁶ ⁱ the hall, called ^j Pretorium; and they call together the whole band. And they ¹⁷ clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head, and began to salute him, Hail, ¹⁸ King of the Jews. And they smote ¹⁹ him on the head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees ²⁰ ^k worshipped him. And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucify him. And they compel one Simon a Cyre- ²¹ nian, who passed by, coming out of the country, the father of ¹ Alexander and ² Rufus, to bear his cross.

¹³ ^l And they bring him ^o unto the place ²² Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull. And they gave ²³ him to drink wine mingled with ^{oo} myrrh: but he received it not. And when they ²⁴ had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take. And it was ²⁵ ^p the third hour, and they crucified him. And the ^q superscription of his accusation was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS. And with him they crucify two thieves; the one on his right hand, and the other on his left. And ²⁸

²⁹ And they that passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ah, thou that destroyest the temple, and ³⁰ buildest it in three days, save thyself, ³¹ and come down from the cross. Likewise also the chief priests mocking said among themselves with the scribes, He saved others; himself he cannot save. ³² Let Christ the King of Israel descend now from the cross, that we may see and believe. And they that were crucified with him reviled him.

³³ And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole land ³⁴ until the ninth hour. And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, ELOI, ELOI, LAMA SABACHTHANI? which is, being interpreted, ^s My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken ³⁵ me? And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he ³⁶ calleth Elias. And one ran and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let alone; let us see whether Elias will come to take him down.

³⁷ And Jesus cried with a loud voice, ³⁸ and ^t gave up the ghost. And the vail of the temple was rent in twain from ³⁹ the top to the bottom. And when the centurion, which stood over against him, ^u saw that he so cried out, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was ⁴⁰ the Son of God. There were also women looking on afar off: among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the less and of Josse, ⁴¹ and ^v Salome; (who also, when he was in Galilee, followed him, and ministered unto him;) and many other women which came up with him unto Jerusalem.

⁴² ^x And now when the even was come, because it was ^y the preparation, that is, ⁴³ ^z the day before the sabbath, Joseph of Arimathea, an ^a honourable ^b counsellor, which also ^c waited for the kingdom of God, came, and went in boldly unto Pilate, and craved the body of Jesus. And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him ^d the centurion, he asked him whether he had been any ⁴⁵ while dead. And when he knew it of the centurion, he gave the body to Joseph. And he bought fine linen, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linen, and laid him in a sepulchre which was hewn out of a rock, and rolled a stone unto the door of the sepulchre. And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of James beheld where he was laid.

And ^awhen the sabbath was past, ^bMary Magdalene, and ^cMary the mother of James, and ^cSalome, had bought sweet ^dspices, that they might come and anoint him. And ^every early in the morning the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre ^fat the rising of the sun. And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre? And when they looked, they saw that ^gthe stone was rolled away: for it was very great. And ^hentering into the sepulchre, they saw ⁱa young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a ^klong ^lwhite garment; and ^mthey were affrighted. And he saith unto them, ⁿBe not affrighted: Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold the place where they laid him. But go your way, tell his disciples and ⁿPeter that he goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, ⁿⁿas he said unto you. And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre; for they trembled and were amazed: ^oneither said they any thing to any man; for they were afraid.

Now when Jesus was risen early ^pthe first day of the week, ^qhe appeared first to ^rMary Magdalene, ^sout of whom he had cast seven devils. And ^tshe went and told them that had been with him, as they ^umourned and wept. And they, when they had heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, ^vbelieved not.

After that he appeared in ^wanother form ^xunto two of them, as they walked, and went into the country. And they went and told it unto the residue: ^yneither believed they them.

Afterward ^zhe appeared unto the eleven as they sat ^{aa}at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and ^bhardness of heart, because ^cthey believed not them which had seen him after he was risen. And he said unto them, ^dGo ye into all the world, and ^epreach the gospel to every creature. ^fHe that believeth and ^gis baptized shall be saved; but ^hhe that believeth not shall be damned. And these signs shall ⁱfollow them that believe: ^kIn my name shall they cast out devils; ^lthey shall speak with new tongues; ^mthey shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; ⁿthey shall lay hands ^oon the sick, and they shall recover.

So then ^pafter the Lord had spoken unto them, ^qhe was received up into heaven, and ^rsat on the right hand of God. And they went forth, and preached every where, ^sthe Lord working with ^tthem, and ^uconfirming ^vthe word with ^wsigns following. Amen.

FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to set forth in order ^aa declaration of those things which are ^bmost surely believed among us, even as ^cthey delivered them unto us, which ^dfrom the beginning were ^eeyewitnesses, and ^fministers of ^gthe word; ^hit seemed good to me also, ⁱhaving had perfect understanding of all things ^kfrom the very first, to write unto thee ^lin order, ^mmost excellent ⁿTheophilus, ^othat thou mightest know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast ^pbeen instructed.

^qThere was ^rin the days of Herod, the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, ^sof the course of Abia: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. And they were both ^trighteous before God, ^uwalking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord ^vblameless. And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was ^xbarren, and ^ythey both were now ^zwell stricken in years. And it came to pass, that while he executed the priest's office before God ^ain the order of his course, according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was ^bto burn incense when he went into ^cthe temple of the Lord. And ^dthe whole multitude of the people were ^epraying ^fwithout at the time of incense. And there appeared unto him ^gan angel of the Lord standing on the right side of ^hthe altar of incense. And when Zacharias saw him, ⁱhe was troubled, and fear fell upon him. But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son,

^c Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named ^d Nazareth, to a virgin ^e espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, ^f of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, ^g thou that art ^h highly favoured, ⁱ the Lord ^j is with thee: ^k blessed ^l art thou among women. And when she saw ^m him, ⁿ she was troubled at his saying, and ^o cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be. And the angel ^p said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast ^q found favour with God. And ^r behold, ^s thou shalt conceive in ^t thy womb, and bring forth a son, and ^u shalt call his name JESUS. He: shall be ^v great, and shall be called the Son of ^w the Highest: and the Lord God shall ^x give unto him ^y the throne of his father David: and he shall reign over the house of Jacob ^z for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. Then ^{aa} said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? And the angel answered and said unto ^{ab} her, ^{ac} The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of ^{ad} the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also ^{ae} that ^{af} holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called ^{ag} the Son of God. And behold, thy ^{ah} cousin Elisabeth, she ^{ai} hath also conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her, who was called ^{aj} barren. For ^{ak} with ^{al} God nothing shall be impossible. And ^{am} Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord; ^{an} be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

And Mary arose in those days, and ^{ap} went into ^{aq} the hill country ^{ar} with haste, into ^{as} a city of Juda: and entered into ^{at} the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth. And it came to pass ^{au} that, when ^{av} Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth ^{aw} was filled with the Holy Ghost: and she spake out with a loud voice, ^{ax} and said, ^{ay} Blessed ^{az} art thou ^{ba} among women, and blessed ^{bb} is the fruit of thy womb. And ^{bc} whence ^{bd} is this to me, ^{be} that the mother of ^{bf} my Lord should come to me? For lo, as soon as the ^{bg} voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. And ^{bh} blessed ^{bi} is she ^{bj} that be- ^{bk} lieved: ^{bl} for there shall be a performance of those ^{bm} things which were told her from the Lord.

^{bn} And Mary said, ^{bo} My soul doth ^{bp} magnify the Lord, ^{bq} And ^{br} my spirit hath rejoiced in ^{bs} God my Saviour.

^{by} For he ^{bz} that is mighty ^{ca} hath done to me ^{cb} great things; ^{cc} And ^{cd} holy ^{ce} is his name.

^{cf} And ^{cg} his mercy ^{ch} is on them that fear him ^{ci} From generation to generation.

^{cj} He hath shewed strength with his arm;

^{ck} He hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

^{cl} He hath put down ^{cm} the mighty from ^{cn} their seats,

And exalted them of low degree.

^{co} He hath filled the hungry with good ^{cp} things;

And the rich he hath ^{cq} sent empty away.

^{cr} He hath ^{cs} holpen his servant Israel, ^{ct} In remembrance of ^{cu} his mercy, ^{cv} (As he spake to our fathers), ^{cw} To Abraham, and to his seed for ever.

^{cy} Now Elisabeth's full time came that she should be delivered; and she brought ^{cz} forth a son. And ^{da} her neighbours and ^{db} her cousins heard how the Lord had ^{dc} shewed great mercy upon her; and ^{dd} they rejoiced with her. And it came to pass, ^{de} that ^{df} on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child; and ^{dg} they called him Zacharias, after the name of ^{dh} his father. And his mother answered and said, Not ^{di} so; but ^{dj} he shall be ^{dk} called John. And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is ^{dl} called by this name. And they ^{dm} made signs to his father, how he would have ^{dn} him called. And he asked for a writing table, and wrote, saying, ^{do} His name ^{dp} is John. And they marvelled all. ^{dq} And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue ^{dr} loosed; and he spake, and ^{ds} praised God. And ^{dt} fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these ^{du} sayings were noised abroad throughout all ^{dv} the hill country of Jureturned, ^lglorifying and ^epraising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

^mAnd when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called ⁿJESUS, which was ^{so} named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

And when ^othe days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, ^pthey brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord; (as it is written in the law of the Lord, ^qEvery male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord;) and to offer a sacrifice according to that ^rwhich is said in the law of the Lord, ^tA pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.

And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and ^sdevout, ^uwaiting for the ^uconsolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him. And it was ^xrevealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not ^ysee death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ. And he came ^zby the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, ^ato do for him after the custom of the law, then ^btook he him ^{up} in his arms, and ^bblessed God, and said,

^cLord, now ^dlettest thou thy servant depart

In peace, ^eaccording to thy word:

For mine eyes ^fhave seen thy salvation,

^gWhich thou hast prepared before the face of all people;

^hA light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory ⁱof thy people Israel.

And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him. And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this ^kchild ^kis set for the ^lfall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign ^mwhich shall be spoken against; (yea, ⁿa sword shall pierce through thy own soul also,) that ^othe thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

And there was ^{one} Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of ^pAsser: she ^qwas of a great age, and had lived with a husband seven years from her virginity; and she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but ^sserved God with ^rfastings and ^rprayers ^snight and day. And she coming in that instant gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that ^tlooked for ^uredemption in Jerusalem. And when they had performed ^{all things} according to the law of the Lord, they returned into ^vGalilee, to ^xtheir own city Nazareth. ^yAnd the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom: and the grace of God was upon him.

Now his parents went to Jerusalem ^zevery year ^aat the feast of the passover. And when he was twelve years old, ^bthey went up to Jerusalem after the custom of the feast. And when they had fulfilled ^cthe days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem: and Joseph and his mother knew not ^dof it. But they, supposing him to have been in the company, went a day's journey; and they sought him ^eamong ^ftheir kinsfolk and ^gacquaintance. And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him. And it came to pass, ^hthat after three days they found him in the temple, ⁱsitting in the midst of the ^jdoctors, both hearing them, and asking them ^kquestions.

And ^lall that heard him ^mwere astonished at his ⁿunderstanding and answers. And when they saw him, they were ^oamazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, ^pthy father and I have sought thee sorrowing. And he said unto them, How ^qis it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about ^rmy Father's ^sbusiness? And ^tthey understood not the saying which he spake unto them. And he went down with them, and came to ^uNazareth, and was subject unto them: but his mother ^vkept all these sayings in her heart. And Jesus ^wincreased in wisdom and ^xstature, and ^yin favour with God and man.

Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of ^aTiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate ^bbeing governor of Judea, and ^cHerod being ^dtetrarch of Galilee, and his brother ^ePhilip tetrarch of Iturea and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the ^ftetrarch of Abilene, ^gAnnas and ^hCaiphas being the high priests, the word of God came unto ⁱJohn ^jthe son of Zacharias ^kin the wilderness. into all the country about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance ^kfor the remission of sins; as it is written in the book of the words of Esaias the prophet, saying, ^lThe voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth; ^mand all flesh shall see ⁿⁿthe salvation of God. Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come? Bring forth therefore fruits ^oworthy of repentance, and ⁿbegin not to say within yourselves, We have ⁿⁿAbraham to our father: for I say unto you, That God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

And the people asked him, saying, ^oWhat shall we do then? He answereth and saith unto them, ^pHe that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise. Then came also ^qpublicans to be baptized, and said unto him, Master, ^rwhat shall we do? And he said unto them, ^sExact no more than that which is appointed you. And ^tthe soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, ^uAnd what shall we do? And he said unto them, ^vDo violence to no man, neither ^waccuse any falsely; and be content with your ^xwages.

And as the people were ^yin expectation, and all ^zmen ^{aa}mused in their hearts of John, ^{ab}whether he were the Christ, or not; John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but one mightier than I cometh, the ^{ac}latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire: whose fan ^{ad}is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his ^{ae}garner; but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable. And many other ^{af}things in his exhortation preached he unto the people. ^{ag}But ^{ah}Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother ^{ai}Philip's wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done,

20 added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.

21 Now when all the people were baptized, ^{bit}came to pass, that Jesus also being baptized, and ^cpraying, the heaven was opened, and the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon him, and a voice came from heaven, which said, Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

IV. And ^a Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost ^b returned from Jordan, and was led ^c by the Spirit into the wilderness, ^d being forty days tempted of the devil. ² And in those days he did eat nothing: and when they were ended, he afterward hungered. And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That ^{dd} man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God. ^e And the devil, taking him up into a high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of ^f the world in a moment of time. And the devil said unto him, All this ^g power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for ^h that is delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will I give it. If thou therefore wilt ⁱ worship me, all shall be thine. And ^j Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, ^k Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

^l And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence: for it is written, ^m He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee: and in ⁿ their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone. And Jesus answering said unto him, It is said, ^o Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. And when the devil ^p had ended all the temptation, he departed from him ^q for a season.

^r And Jesus returned ^s in the power of the Spirit into ^t Galilee: ^u and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about. And ^v he taught in their synagogues, being ^w glorified of all. ^x And he came to ^y Nazareth, ^z where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, ^{aa} he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and ^{ab} stood up for to read. ^{ac} And there was delivered unto ^{ad} him the book of the prophet Esaias.

And when he had ^{ae} opened the book, he found the place where it was written, ^{af} The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, ^{ag} and recovering of sight to the blind, ^{ah} to set at liberty ^{ai} them that are bruised, ^{aj} to preach the acceptable year of the Lord. And he ^{ak} closed the book, and he gave it again to the ^{al} minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all ^{am} them that were in the synagogue were ^{an} fastened on him.

And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears. And all bare him witness, and wondered at the ^{ao} gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they ^{ap} said, Is not this Joseph's son? And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, ^{aq} Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in ^{ar} Capernaum, do also here in ^{as} thy country. And he said, Verily I say unto you, ^{at} No prophet is ^{au} accepted in ^{av} his own country. But I tell you of a truth, ^{aw} many widows were ^{ax} in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up ^{ay} three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the ^{az} land; but unto none of them was Elias sent, save unto ^{ba} Sarepta, a city of ^{bb} Sidon, unto a woman ^{bc} that was a widow. ^{bd} And many lepers were ^{be} in Israel in the time of Eliseus the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, saying Naa-

And ^{bn} they were astonished at his doctrine: for his word was ^{bo} with power.

Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not. And they were all amazed, ³⁶ and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this! for ²with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out. And the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about.

^aAnd he arose ^bout of the synagogue, ³⁸ and entered into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; and they besought him for her. And he stood over her, and ^cre-³⁹ buked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she arose and ministered unto them. ^dNow when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he ^dlaid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. ^eAnd devils ⁴¹ also came out of many, ^ecrying out, and saying, Thou art Christ ^fthe Son of God. And he ^grebuking them ^esuffered them not ^hto speak: for they knew that he was Christ.

^hAnd when it was day, he departed ⁴² and went into a desert place: and ⁱthe people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them. And he said unto ⁴³ them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent. And he preached ^kin the synagogues of Galilee.

V. And ^ait came to pass that, as the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he stood by ^bthe lake of Gennesaret, ^cand saw two ships ² standing by the lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets. And he entered ³ into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land. And he ^dsat down, and taught the people ^eout of the ship. Now when he had ⁴ left speaking, he said unto Simon, ^fLaunch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught. And ⁵ Simon answering said unto him, ^gMaster, ^gwe have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net. And ⁶ when they had this done, ^fthey inclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net brake. And they beckoned unto ⁷ their ^hpartners, which were in ⁱthe other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to ⁸ sink. When Simon Peter saw it, ⁱⁱhe fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, ^jDepart from me; for I am a sinful man, ⁹ O Lord. For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken:

¹⁰ and so was also James, and John, the sons of Zebedee, which were ^hpartners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt catch men. And when they had brought their ships to land, ^kthey for-^k sook all, and followed him.

¹³ And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from ¹⁴ him. And he charged him to tell no man: ^mbut go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a ¹⁵ testimony unto them. ⁿBut so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him ¹⁶ of their infirmities. ^oAnd he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and ^oprayed.

¹⁷ And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and ^pdoctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judea, and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was ¹⁸ present to heal them. ^qAnd behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him. And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went upon ^rthe housetop, and let him down through the tiling with his couch into

²⁰ the midst before Jesus. And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, ²¹ thy sins are forgiven thee. And the scribes and the Pharisees began ^{rr}to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? ^sWho can forgive sins, ²² but God alone? But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What ^{rr}reason ye in your sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk? But that ye may know ²⁴ that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house. And immediately he ²⁵ rose up before them, and took up ¹ that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, ² glorifying God. And they ²⁶ were all amazed, and they ³ glorified God, and ⁴ were filled with fear, saying, We have seen ⁵ strange things to day.

⁶ And after these things he went forth, ⁷ and saw a publican, named Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me. And ⁸ he left all, ⁹ rose up, and followed him. And Levi ¹⁰ made him a great ¹¹ feast in his own house: and there was a great company of ¹² publicans and of others that sat down with them. But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners? And Jesus ¹³ answering said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick. ¹⁴ I came not to call ¹⁵ the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

¹⁶ And ¹⁷ they said unto him, Why do the disciples of John ¹⁸ fast often, and make ¹⁹ prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink? And he said unto them, ²⁰ Can ye make the children of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? ²¹ But the days will come, ²² when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days. And he spake also ²³ a parable unto them; No ²⁴ man putteth a piece of a new garment upon an old; if otherwise, ²⁵ then both the new maketh a rent, and the piece that was ²⁶ taken out of the new agreeth not with the old. And no ²⁷ man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish. But new ²⁸ wine must be put into new bottles; and both are preserved. No ²⁹ man also having drunk old ³⁰ wine straightway desireth new: for he saith, The old is better.

³⁹ And Jesus answering them said, Have ye not read so much as this, what David did, when himself was a hungry, and they which were with him; ⁴⁰ how he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the shewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; which it is not lawful to eat but ⁴¹ for the priests alone? And he said unto them, That the Son of man is Lord ⁴² also of the sabbath.

⁴³ And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was ⁴⁴ withered.

⁴⁵ And the scribes and Pharisees ⁴⁶ watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath day; that they might find an accusation against him. But he ⁴⁷ knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand ⁴⁸ forth in the midst. And he ⁴⁹ arose and stood ⁵⁰ forth. Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one ⁵¹ thing; Is it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to ⁵² destroy ⁵³ it? And ⁵⁴ looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole ⁵⁵ as the other. And they were filled with ⁵⁶ madness; and communed ⁵⁷ one with another what they might do to Jesus.

⁵⁸ And it came to pass in those days, ⁵⁹ that he went out ⁶⁰ into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in ⁶¹ prayer to God. And when it was day, ⁶² he called unto ⁶³ him his disciples: ⁶⁴ and of them he chose twelve, whom also he ⁶⁵ named apostles; Simon, (whom he also named Peter,) and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholo-

⁶⁶ mew, Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alpheus, and Simon called ⁶⁷ Ze-

⁶⁸ lotes, and ⁶⁹ Judas ⁷⁰ the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, which also was the traitor.

⁷⁸ rit. And he said unto them, ⁷⁹ Bless ye the children that hear the word of God, and keep it: for I say unto you, ⁸⁰ that whosoever shall do this, he shall be called a son of God.

⁸¹ And he said unto them, ⁸² If any man will be first, he shall be last: and so shall he be saved. But whosoever will be last of all, and servant of all, the same shall be first.

⁸³ And whosoever will serve me, let him follow me, and where I am, there shall also my Father be: the Father will honour him that serveth me.

⁸⁶ Whosoever therefore will be saved, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

⁸⁷ For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, he shall save it.

⁸⁸ For the Son of man shall be delivered up, and shall be crucified, and shall rise again, and shall sit on the right hand of God.

rits: and they were healed. And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went virtue out of him, and healed them all.

And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said,

Blessed be ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God.

Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled.

Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh.

Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake. Rejoice ye in that day, and leap for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.

But woe unto you that are rich: for ye have received your consolation.

Woe unto you that are full: for ye shall hunger.

Woe unto you that laugh now: for ye shall mourn and weep.

Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you: for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

But I say unto you which hear,

Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you, bless them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you. And unto him that smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other; and him that taketh away thy cloke forbid not to take thy coat also. Give to every man that asketh of thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them not again. And as ye would that men should do to you, so ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. For if ye love them which love you, what thank have ye? for sinners also love those that love them. And if ye do good to them which do good to you, what thank have ye? for sinners also do even the same. And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? for sinners also lend to sinners, to receive as much again. But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil. Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful. Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven: give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again.

And he spake a parable unto them, Can the blind lead the blind? shall they not both fall into the ditch? The disciple is not above his master: but every one that is perfect shall be as his master. And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye. For a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit; neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. For every tree is known by his own fruit. For of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes. A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is evil: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say? Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like: he is like a man which built a house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded upon a rock. But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built a house upon the earth; against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell; and the ruin of that house was great.

Now when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum. And a certain centurion's servant, who was

 b dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die. And when he heard of Jesus, 3
 he sent unto him c the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and d heal his servant. And when 4
 they came to Jesus, they besought him
 e instantly, saying, That he was worthy
 for whom he should do this: f for he 5
 loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue. Then Jesus went with 6 them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent
 e friends to him, saying unto him, Lord,
 g trouble not thyself: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter under my roof: wherefore neither thought I my- 7
 self worthy to come unto thee: but say in a word, and my servant shall be healed. For I also am a man set 8
 under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say unto h one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it. When Jesus heard 9
 these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and said unto the people that followed him, I say unto
 you, I have not found h so great faith,
 no, not in Israel. And they that were 10 sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole that had been sick.

And it came to pass the day after, 11
 that he went into a city called Nain;
 and many of his disciples went with him, and much people. Now when he 12
 came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, i the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. And when the 13
 Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. And 14
 he came and touched the i k bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee,
 l Arise. And he that was dead sat up, 15
 and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother. m And there came a 16
 fear on all: and n they glorified God,
 saying, That a great o prophet is risen
 up among us; and, p That God hath visited his people. And this rumour 17
 of him went forth throughout all Judea,
 and throughout all the region round about.

q And the disciples of John shewed 18
 him of all these things. And John call- 19
 ing unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?

 20 When the men were come unto him,
 they said, John Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that
 should come? or look we for another?
 21 And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and r plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were 22 blind he s gave sight. Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way,
 and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the 23 poor the gospel is preached. And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me. And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to speak unto the people concerning John,
 What went ye out into the wilderness for to see? A reed shaken with the 25 wind? But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment?
 Behold, they which are gorgeously ap-parcelled, and live delicately, are in 26 kings' courts. But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet.
 27 This is he, of whom it is written, t Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy 28 way before thee. For I say unto you,
 Among those that are born of women
 there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than 29 he. And all the people that heard him, and the publicans, u justified God, w being baptized with x the baptism of John.
 30 But the Pharisees and y lawyers l rejected z the counsel of God l against themselves, being not baptized of him.
 31 And the Lord said, Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation?
 32 and to what are they like? They are like unto children sitting in the marketplace, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned 33 to you, and ye have not wept. For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine; and ye say, 34 He hath a devil. The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a wine-
 bibber, a friend of publicans and sin-35 ners. But wisdom is u justified of all her children.

^aAnd one of the Pharisees desired ³⁶ him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. And behold, a wo- ³⁷ man in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought ^ban alabaster box of ointment, and stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did ^cwipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. Now when the Pha- ³⁸ risee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, ^dThis man, if he were ^ea prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner. And Jesus ^fanswering said un- ⁴⁰ to him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on. There was a certain creditor which ⁴¹ had two debtors: the one ought five hundred ¹pence, and the other fifty. And when they had nothing to pay, ⁴² he ^gfrankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will love him most? Simon answered and said, I ⁴³ suppose that he, to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged. And he turned to ⁴⁴ the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, ^hthou gavest me no water for my feet: but ⁱshe hath washed my feet with tears, and ^cwiped them with the hairs of her head. ^kThou gavest me no kiss: ⁴⁵ but this woman since the time I came in hath not ceased to kiss my feet. ^lMine head with oil thou didst not ⁴⁶ anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment. Wherefore I ⁴⁷ say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she ^mloved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. And he said ⁴⁸ unto her, ⁿThy sins are forgiven. And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves, ^oWho is this that forgiveth sins also? And he said ⁵⁰ to the woman, ^pThy ^mfaith hath ^qsaved thee; ^rgo in peace.

VIII.

And it came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and shewing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him, and ^acertain ²women, which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called ^bMagdalene, ^cout of whom went seven devils, ³and ^dJoanna the wife of Chuza ^eHerod's ^fsteward, and Susanna, and many others, which ^aministered unto him of their substance.

⁴ ^gAnd when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable: A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden down, and the ⁶fowls of the air devoured it. And some fell upon a rock; and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because ⁷it lacked moisture. And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprang up with ⁸it, and choked it. And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit an hundredfold. And when he said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

⁹ And his disciples asked him, saying, ¹⁰What might this parable be? And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables; ^hthat seeing they might not see, and hearing they might ¹¹not understand. ⁱNow the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. ¹²Those by the way side are they that hear; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest ¹³they should believe and be saved. They on the rock ^{are they}, which, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation ^kfall ¹⁴away. And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, ^{go forth}, and are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and ¹⁵bring no fruit to perfection. But that on the good ground are they, which in ¹an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep ^{it}, and bring forth fruit ^mwith patience.

And ³⁰ Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion: because many devils were entered into him. And ³¹ they besought him that he would not command them to go out into ^e the deep. done, they fled, and went and told it in ³⁵ the city and in the country. Then they went out to see what was done; and came to Jesus, and found the man, ^f out of whom the devils were departed, ^g sitting at the feet of Jesus, ^h clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid. ³⁶ They also which saw it told them by what means he that was possessed of ³⁷ the devils was healed. Then the whole multitude of the country of the ^a Gadarenes round about besought him to depart from them; for they were taken with great fear: and he went ^{up} into the ship, and returned back again. ³⁸ Now ⁱ the man ^f out of whom the devils were departed besought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him ³⁹ away, saying, Return to thine own house, and shew how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and published ^k throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done unto him.

⁴⁰ And it came to pass that, ^l when Jesus was returned, the people ^m gladly received him: for they were all waiting for him. ⁿ And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him that he ⁴² would come into his house: for he had ^o one only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. And Jesus said, Somebody hath touched me: for I perceive that virtue is gone out ⁴⁷ of me. And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and ^s falling down before him, she declared unto him before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately. ⁴⁸ And he said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath ^t made thee whole; ^u go in peace. Thy daughter is dead; trouble not the Master. But when Jesus heard it, he answered him, saying, Fear not: believe only, and she shall be made whole. And when he came into the house, he suffered no man to go in, save Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden. And all wept, and ^wbewailed her: but he said, Weep not; she is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead. And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, saying, Maid, arise. And her spirit came again, and she arose straightway: and he commanded to give her meat. And her parents ^xwere astonished: but ^yhe charged them that they should tell no man what was done.

Then ^ahe called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases. And ^bhe sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick. ^cAnd he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money; neither have two coats apiece. And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart. And whosoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet ^dfor a testimony against them. ^eAnd they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the gospel, and healing every where.

^fNow ^gHerod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he ^hwas perplexed, because that it was said of some, that John was risen from the dead; and of some, that Elias had appeared; and ⁱof others, that one of the old prophets was risen again. And Herod said, John have I beheaded: but who is this, of whom I hear such things? ^jAnd he desired to see him.

^kAnd the apostles, when they were returned, told him all that they had done. And he took them, and went aside privately into a desert place belonging to the city called ^lBethsaida. And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and ^mspoke unto them of the kingdom of God, and ⁿhealed them that had need of healing. And when the day began to ^owear away, then came the twelve, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and ^plodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place.

But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more but five loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy meat for all this people. For they were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples, Make them sit down by fifties in a company. And they did so, and made them all sit down. Then he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude. And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up of fragments that remained to them twelve baskets.

And it came to pass, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him: and ^qhe asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am? They answering said, John the Baptist; but some say, Elias; and others say, that ^rone of the old prophets is risen again. He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answering said, The Christ of God. ^sAnd he ^tstraitly charged them, and commanded them to tell no man that thing; ^usaying, ^vThe Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day. And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and ^wtake up his cross ^xdaily, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it. For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or ^ybe cast away? ^zFor whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory, and in his Father's, and of the holy angels. But I tell you of a truth, there be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God.

And it came to pass about an eight days after these ^{aa}sayings, he took Peter and John and James, and went up into a mountain ^{ab}to pray. spake of his ^gdecease which he should accomplish at Jerusalem. But Peter and ³² they that were with him were ^hheavy with sleep: and when they were awake, they saw ^fhis glory, and the two men that stood with him. And it came to ³³ pass, as ⁱthey departed from him, Peter said unto Jesus, ^kMaster, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: ^lnot knowing what he said. While he thus spake, ³⁴ there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as ⁱthey entered into the cloud. And there came a voice ³⁵ out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him. And when the ³⁶ voice was past, Jesus was found alone. ^mAnd they kept ^{it} close, and told no ⁿman in those days any of those things which they had seen.

And it came to pass, that on the next ³⁷ day, ⁿwhen they were come down from the hill, much people met him. And ³⁸ behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, ^olook upon my son: for he is ^pmine only child. And lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly ^{pp}crieth out; and it ^qteareth him that he foameth again, and bruising him hardly departeth from him. And I be- ⁴⁰ sought thy disciples to cast him out; and they could not. And Jesus answering ⁴¹ said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither. And ⁴² as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

And they were all amazed at the ⁴³ mighty power of God. ^rBut while they wondered every one at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples, Let ⁴⁴ these sayings ^ssink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men. ^tBut they un- ⁴⁵ derstood not this saying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not: and they feared to ask him of that say- ing.

^uThen there arose ^wa reasoning among ⁴⁶ them, which of them should be greatest. And Jesus, ^xperceiving the thought of ⁴⁷ their heart, took a child, and set him by him, and said unto them, Whosoever shall ⁴⁸ receive this child in my name receiveth me: and ^ywhosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: ^zfor he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

⁴⁹ ^aAnd John answered and said, ^bMaster, we saw one casting out devils in thy name; and we forbad him, because he ⁵⁰ followeth not with us. And Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against us is for us.

⁵¹ And it came to pass, when the time ^cwas come ^dthat he should be received up, he ^estedfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem, and sent ^fmessengers before his face: and they went, and ^gentered into a village of the ^hSamaritans, to make ⁵³ ready for him. And ⁱthey did not ^jre- ceive him, because ^khis face was as ⁵⁴ though he would go to Jerusalem. And when his disciples ^lJames and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from hea- ven, and consume them, ^meven as Elias did? But he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of ⁵⁶ spirit ye are of. ⁿFor the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them. And they went to another village.

⁵⁷ And it came to pass that, ^oas they went in the way, ^{pa}a certain man said unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever ⁵⁸ thou goest. And Jesus said unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not ⁵⁹ where to lay his head. ^qAnd he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my ⁶⁰ father. Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and ⁶¹ preach the kingdom of God. And another also said, Lord, ^rI will follow thee; but let me first go ^sbid them farewell, ⁶² which are at home in my house. And Jesus said unto him, No man ^thaving put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is ^ufit for the kingdom of God.

After these things the Lord ^aappoint- ed ^bother ^cseventy also, and ^dsent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would ²come. Therefore said he unto them, ^eThe harvest truly is great, but the la- bourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send ³forth labourers into his harvest. ^gTo ver. 12, ^hpurse, nor scrip, nor shoes: and ⁱsalute no man by the way. And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, ^kPeace be to this house. And if ^lthe son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it: if not, it shall turn to you again. And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house. And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat ^msuch things as are set before you: ⁿand heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, ^oThe kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say, Even the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding be ye sure of this, that ^othe kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable ^qin that day for Sodom, than for that city.

^rWoe unto thee, Chorazin, woe unto thee, Bethsaida: for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, ^ssitting in sackcloth and ashes. But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon ^tat the judgment, than for you. And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted to heaven, shalt be thrust down to hell. ^uHe that heareth you heareth me; and ^vhe that despiseth you despiseth me; ^wand he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me.

And ^xthe seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, ^yeven the devils are subject unto us through thy name. And he said unto them, ^aI beheld Satan as lightning ^bfall from heaven. Behold, I ^cgive unto you power ^cto tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you. Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, ^dthat the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because ^eyour names are written in heaven.

^fIn that hour Jesus ^grejoiced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: even so, Father; for so ^hit seemed good in thy sight. ⁱAll things are delivered to me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal ^jhim. And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, ^kBlessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: for I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

And behold, a certain ^llawyer stood up, and ^ktempted him, saying, ^mMaster, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? And he answering said, ⁿThou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and ^othy neighbour as thyself. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and ^pthou shalt live. But he, willing to ^qjustify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour? And Jesus answering said, A certain man ^rwent down from Jerusalem to ^sJericho, and fell among ^tthieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded ^uhim, and departed, leaving ^vhim half dead. And by chance there ^wcame down a certain priest that way: and when he saw him, he ^xpassed by on the other side. And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked ^yon ^zhim, and ^{aa}passed by on the other side. But a certain ^{ab}Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion ^{ac}on ^{ad}him, and went to ^{ae}him, and ^{af}bound up his wounds, pouring in ^{ag}oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of ^{ah}him. And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two ^{ai}pence, and gave ^{aj}them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, ^{ak}I will repay thee. Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto ^{al}him that fell among the ^{am}thieves? And he said, He that ^{an}shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named ^{ao}Martha

^a received him into her house. And she ³⁹ had a sister called ^b Mary, which also ^c sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word. But ² Martha was cumbered about much ⁴⁰ serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me. And Jesus ⁴¹ answered and said unto her, ² Martha, Martha, ^d thou art careful and troubled about many things: but ^e one thing is ⁴² needful: and Mary hath chosen ^f that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

And it came to pass that, ^{as} as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples. And he said ² unto them, When ye pray, say,

^b Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth. Give us ^d day by day our daily bread. And forgive us our sins; ⁴ for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.

And he said unto them, Which of ⁵ you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him ^c at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves; for ⁶ a friend of mine ⁱ in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing ^d to set before him: and he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee? I say unto you, ^e Though he will not ⁸ rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth. And I say unto you, ^f Ask, ⁹ and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh ¹⁰ receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. If a son shall ask bread of ¹¹ any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent? Or if he ¹² shall ask an egg, will he ¹ offer him a scorpion? If ye then, being evil, know ¹³ how to give good gifts unto your children: ^b how much more shall your heavenly Father give ⁱ the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb ¹⁵ spake; and the people wondered. But some of them said, He casteth out devils through ¹ Beelzebub the chief of the ¹⁶ evils. And other, ^k tempting him, ¹ sought of him a sign from heaven. ^m But he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house ¹⁷ divided against a house falleth. If Satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Beelzebub. And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your ⁿ sons cast ¹⁸ them out? therefore shall they be your judges. But if I with ^o the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.

²¹ When a strong man armed keepeth his ²² palace, his goods are in peace: but when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh ²³ from him ^q all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils. ^r He that is not with me is against me: and he that ^s gathereth not with me ¹ scattereth. ^u When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest; and finding none, he saith, I will return unto my ²⁵ house whence I came out. And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and ²⁶ garnished. Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself; and they enter in, and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first.

²⁷ And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman of the company ^x lift up her voice, and said unto him, ^y Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast ²⁸ sucked. But he said, ^z Yea rather, ^a blessed are they ^b that hear the word of God, and ^c keep it.

²⁹ And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, ^d This is an evil generation: they seek a sign; and there shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet. For as Jonas was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this ³¹ generation. ^e The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and ^f condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom

And as he spake, a certain Pharisee besought him to ⁿdine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat. And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first ^owashed before ⁿdinner. ^p And the Lord said unto him, ^q Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter; but your inward part is full of ^rravens and wickedness. Ye fools, did not he that made that which is within also? But rather ^sgive alms ¹of such things as you have; and behold, ^tall things are clean unto you. ^u But woe unto you, Pharisees! ^vfor ye ^wtithe the mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and pass over judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

Woe unto you, Pharisees! for ye ^xlove ^xthe uppermost seats in the synagogues, and ^ygreetings in the markets.

^z Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are as graves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.

Then answered one of the ^alawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying thou reproachest us also. And he said,

Woe unto you also, ye ^alawyers! ^bfor ye ^clade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

^d Woe unto you! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. ^d Truly ye bear witness that ye ^eallow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres. Therefore also said ^fthe wisdom of God, ^gI will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and ^hpersecute: that the blood of all the prophets, which was shed ⁱfrom the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation; from the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the ^ktemple: verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation.

Woe unto you, ^alawyers! ¹for ye have taken away the key of ^mknowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye ¹hindered.

And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to ⁿurge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things: ^olaying wait for him, and ^pseeking to catch something out of his mouth, ^qthat they might accuse him.

In the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, ^bBe ware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, ^cwhich is ^chypocrisy. ^dFor there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known. Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in ^eclosets shall be proclaimed upon the ^fhousetops. And I say unto you ^gmy friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. Are not ⁱfive sparrows sold for two ¹farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God? But even the ^jvery hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows. it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven. ^mAnd when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto ⁿmagistrates, and ^ppowers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say: ^rfor the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.

And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me. And he said unto him, ^sMan, ^twho made me a judge or a divider over you? And he said unto them, ^uTake heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully: and he ^xthought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to ^ybestow my fruits? And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my ^zbarns, and build greater; and there will I ^ybestow all my fruits and my goods. And I will say to my soul, ^aSoul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years: take thine ease, eat, drink, and ^bbe merry. But God said unto him, Thou fool, ^cthis night ^dthy soul shall be required of thee: then ^ewhose shall those things be, which thou hast provided? So ^fis he that ^flayeth up treasure for himself, and ^gis not rich towards God.

And he said unto his disciples, ^hTherefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on. The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment. Consider ⁱthe ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have ^kstorehouse nor ^zbarn; and ⁱGod feedeth them: how much more are ye better than the fowls? And which of you with taking thought can add to his ^lstature ^mone cubit? If ye then be not able to do ⁿthat thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest? Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. If then God so clothe the grass, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you,

O ye of little faith? And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, ^oneither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you. ^pFear not, ^qlittle flock; for ^pit is your Father's good pleasure to give you ^qthe kingdom. ^rSell that ye have, and ^sgive alms; ^rprovide yourselves ^ubags which wax not old, ^xa treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither ^xmoth corrupteth. ^yFor where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

^zLet your loins be girded about, and ^ayour lights burning; and ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will ^breturn from ^cthe wedding; that when ^{he}cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately. ^dBlessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find ^ewatching: verily I say unto you, that he shall ^fgird himself, and ^gmake them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them. And if he shall come in the ^hsecond watch, or come in the ^hthird watch, and ^dfind them so, blessed are those servants. ⁱAnd this know, that if the Goodman of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have ^ewatched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through. Be ye therefore ^jready also: ^kfor the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.

Then Peter said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable ^lunto us, or even ^mto all? And the Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom ⁿhis lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them ^otheir portion of meat in due season? Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. ^pOf a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath. But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken; the lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for ^{him}, and at an hour when he is not ware, and will ^qcut him in sunder,

But I have ^za baptism to be baptized ^{aa}with; and ^{ab}how am I ^{ac}strained ^{ad}till it be accomplished! ^{ae}Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? The father shall be divided against the son, and ^{ag}the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

And he said also to the people, ^{ah}When ye see ^{ai}a cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it is. And when ye ^{aj}see the south wind blow, ye say, There will be ^{ak}heat; and it cometh to pass. ^{al}Ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky and of the earth; but how ^{am}is it that ye do not discern this time? ^{an}Yea, and why even ^{ao}of yourselves judge ye not what ^{ap}is right? ^{aq}When thou goest ^{ar}with thine adversary to the magistrate, ^{as}as thou art in the way, give diligence that thou mayest be delivered from him; lest he hale thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison. XIII. There were present at that season some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood ^{av}Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. And Jesus answering ^{aw}said unto them, ^{ax}Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such ^{ay}things? I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish. Or those ^{az}eighteen, upon whom the tower in ^{ba}Si-loam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were ^{bb}sinners above all men that ^{bc}dwelt in Jerusalem? I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise ^{bd}perish. He spake also this parable; A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and ^{be}he came and sought ^{bf}fruit thereon, and found none. Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Be- hold, ^{bg}these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: ^{bh}cut it down; why cumbereth it the ground? ^{bi}And he answering said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig ^{bj}about it, and dung ^{bk}it: and if it bear fruit, ^{bl}well: and if not, ^{bm}then after that thou shalt ^{bn}cut it down.

And he was teaching in one of the ^{bo}synagogues on the sabbath. And behold, there was a woman which had a ^{bp}spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise ^{bq}lift up ^{br}herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called ^{bs}her to ^{bt}him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy in- ^{bu}firmity. And he ^{bv}laid ^{bw}his hands on her: and immediately she was ^{bx}made straight, ^{by}and ^{bz}glorified God. And ^{ca}the ruler of the synagogue answered with indigna- ^{cb}tion, ^{cc}because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath day, and said unto the peo- ^{cd}ple, ^{ce}There are six days in which ^{cf}men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and ^{cg}not on the sabbath ^{ch}day. The Lord then answered him, and said, ^{ci}Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose ^{cj}this ox or ^{ck}his ass from the ^{cl}stall, and lead ^{cm}him away to watering? And ought not ^{cn}this ^{co}woman, ^{cp}being a daughter of Abra- ham, whom ^{cq}Satan hath bound, lo ^{cr}these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond ^{cs}on the sabbath day? And when he had said these ^{ct}things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and ^{cw}all the people rejoiced for all the glorious ^{cx}things that were done by him.

^{cy}Then said he, ^{cz}Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto ^{da}shall I resemble it? It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden; and it grew, and waxed a great tree; and the fowls of the ^{db}air lodged in the branches of it. And again he said, ^{dc}Whereunto shall I liken ^{dd}the kingdom of God? It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three ^{de}measures of meal, till the whole was ^{df}leavened.

And ^g they could not answer him again to these things.

⁷ And he ^h put forth a parable to those which were bidden, when he ⁱ marked how they chose out the ^j chief rooms; saying unto them, When thou art bidden of any man to a ^k wedding, sit not down in the ^j highest room; lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him; ⁹ and he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; and thou ^l begin with shame to take the ¹⁰ lowest room. ^m But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room; that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, ⁿ Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee. ^o For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither ^bthe poor, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind. And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room. And the lord said unto the servant, ^cGo out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled. For I say unto you, ^dThat none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

And there went great multitudes with him: and he turned, and said unto them, ^eIf any man come to me, and ^fhate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and ^ghis own life also, he cannot be my disciple. ^hAnd whosoever doth not ⁱbear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. XV. Then drew near unto him ^aall ^bthe publicans and sinners for to hear him. And the Pharisees and scribes ^cmurmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them. And he spake this parable unto them, saying, ^dWhat man of you, having an hundred sheep, ^eif he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine ^fin the wilderness, and ^ggo after that which is lost, until he find it? And he was angry, and ²⁸ would not go in: therefore came his father out and intreated him. And he ²⁹ answering said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment: and yet thou never gavest me ^{1a} a kid, that I might ^gmake merry with my friends: but as soon as this thy son was ³⁰ come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast ^ekilled for him the ¹fatted calf. And he said unto him, ³¹ Son, ^mthou art ever with me, and ⁿall that I have is thine. It was meet that ³² we should ^gmake merry, and be glad: ^ofor this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

And he said also unto his disciples. There was a certain rich man, which had ^aa steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods. And he called him, and said ² unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward. Then the ^asteward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed. I am ⁴ resolved what to do. that, when I am put out of the stewardship, ^bthey may receive me into their houses. So he ⁵ called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord? And ⁶ he said, An hundred ^{1c}measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty. Then said he to another, And how much ⁷ owest thou? And he said, An hundred ^{1c}measures of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write fourscore. And the lord commended ^dthe unjust ⁸ steward, because he had done wisely: for ^ethe children of this world are in their generation wiser than ^fthe children of light. And I say unto you, ^gMake ⁹ to yourselves friends of ^dthe ¹mammon

^d of unrighteousness; that, when ye fail, ^hthey may receive you into everlasting ¹⁰ habitations. ⁱHe that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much; and he that is unjust in the least is ¹¹ unjust also in much. If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous ¹mammon, who will commit to your ¹² trust the true riches? And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another man's, who shall give you that ¹³ which is your own? ^kNo servant can serve two masters: for either he will ¹hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

¹⁴ And the Pharisees also, ^mwho were covetous, heard all these things: and ¹⁵ they ⁿderided him. And he said unto them, Ye are they which ^ojustify yourselves before men; but ^pGod knoweth your hearts: for ^qthat which is highly esteemed amongst men is abomination ¹⁶ in the sight of God. ^rThe law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, ¹⁷ and ^severy man presseth into it. ^tAnd it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, ¹⁸ than one tittle of the law to fail. ^uWho-soever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband committeth adultery.

¹⁹ There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in ^wpurple and ^xfine linen, and ^yfared sumptuously every day: and there was a certain beggar named ^zLazarus, which was ^alaid at his ^bgate, full of ²⁰ sores, and ^cdesiring to be fed with ^dthe crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores. And it came to pass that ²¹ the beggar died, and was carried by ^ethe angels into Abraham's ^fbosom: the ²² rich man also died, and was buried; and in ^ghell ^hhe lift up his eyes, being in ⁱtorments, and seeth Abraham afar off, ²³ and Lazarus in ^fhis bosom. And he cried and said, ^kFather Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool ¹my tongue; for I ^mam tormented in this ¹flame. But Abraham said, Son, ⁿremember that thou in thy lifetime ^oreceivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is ^ocomforted, and thou art tormented. ²⁶ And besides all this, between us and you

there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence. Then he said, ²⁷ I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house: for I have five brethren; that he may ²⁸ Ptestify unto them, lest they also come into this place of ^t torment. Abraham ²⁹ saith unto him, They have ^q Moses and the prophets; let them hear them. And ³⁰ he said, Nay, ^k father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent. And he said unto him, ^r If ³¹ they hear not ^q Moses and the prophets, ^s neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

Then said he unto the disciples, ^a It is ^b impossible but that offences will come: but woe unto him, through whom they come. ^c It ^d were better for him ² that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should ^a offend one of these little ones. ^e Take heed to yourselves: ^f If ³ thy brother trespass against thee, ^g rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him. And if he trespass against thee ^h seven ⁴ times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

And ⁱ the apostles said unto the Lord, ⁵ k Increase our faith. And the Lord said, ⁶ l If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this ^m sycamine tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea; and it should obey you. But which of you, ⁷ having a servant plowing or feeding cattle, will say unto him ⁿ by and by, when he is come from the field, ^o Go and sit down to meat? And will not rather say ⁸ unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and ^o gird thyself, and ^o serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink? Doth ⁹ he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not. So likewise ye, when ye ¹⁰ shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are ^p unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do.

And it came to pass, ^q as he went to ¹¹ Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of ^r Samaria and ^s Galilee. And ¹² as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, ^t which stood afar off: and they lifted up ¹³ their voices, and said, Jesus, ^u Master, ^u See ch. 5. ⁵ have mercy on us. And when he saw ¹⁴ them, he said unto them, ^x Go shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass that, as they went, they ¹⁵ were cleansed. And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice ^y glorified God, ¹⁶ and ^z fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was a ^a Samaritan. And Jesus answering said, ¹⁷ Were there not ten cleansed? but where ¹⁸ are the nine? There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this ¹⁹ stranger. And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way: ^c thy faith ^d hath made thee whole.

And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, ^e when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not ²¹ with observation: neither ^g shall they ^h say, Lo here: or, lo there: for behold, the kingdom of God is ⁱ within you. ²² And he said unto the disciples, ^b The days will come, when ye shall desire ⁱ to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it. ^k And ^g they shall say to you, See here; or, see there: ²⁴ go not after them, nor follow them. ^l For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall also the Son of man be in ^m his day.

But first ⁿ must he suffer many things, ²⁵ and be rejected of this generation. And ²⁶ ^o as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.

²⁷ They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them ²⁸ all. Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they ²⁹ builded; but ^p the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed ³⁰ them all. Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man ^q is revealed. ³¹ In that day, ^r he which shall be upon the housetop, and his ^s stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away: and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back. ^t Remember Lot's ³² wife. ^u Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall ³³ lose his life shall ^x preserve it. I tell you, in that night there shall be two men in one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. 7 Two 200-35 men shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other left. 12 Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left. And they answered and said unto him, Where, Lord? And he said unto them, 13 Where-soever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together.

And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought 14 always to pray, and not 15 to faint; saying, There was 16 in a city a judge, which feared not God, neither 17 regarded man: and there was a widow in that city; and she came unto him, saying, 18 Avenge me of mine adversary. And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, 19 Though I fear not God, nor 20 regard man; 21 yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she 22 weary me. And the Lord said, 23 Hear what 24 the unjust judge saith. And 25 shall not God 26 have vengeance his own 27 elect, which cry day and night unto him, though 28 he bear long with them? I tell you that he will 29 have vengeance them 30 speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?

And he spake this parable unto certain 31 which trusted 32 in themselves 33 that they were righteous, and despised other: Two men 34 went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a 35 publican. The Pharisee 36 stood and 37 prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, 38 extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. I 39 fast twice in the week, I 40 give tithes of all that I 41 possess. And the publican, 42 standing afar off, 43 would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but 44 smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. I tell you, this man 45 went down to his house 46 justified rather than the other: for 47 every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

And they brought unto him also 48 infants, that he would touch them: but when 49 his disciples saw it, they rebuked them. But Jesus called them unto him, 50 and said, Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of 17 such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall 18 in no wise enter therein.

And a certain 19 ruler asked him, saying, Good 20 Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none 21 is good, save one, that is, God. Thou knowest the commandments, 22 Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother. And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up. Now when Jesus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet 23 lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow 24 me. And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich. And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the 25 kingdom of God! For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the 26 kingdom of God. And they that heard 27 it said, Who then can be saved? And he said, The things which are impossible with men are possible with God.

Then Peter said, Lo, we have left 28 all, and followed thee. And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, 29 who shall not receive 30 manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.

Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written 31 by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished. For he shall be 32 delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and 33 spitefully entreated, and 34 spit on: and they shall scourge him, and put him to death: and the third day he shall rise 35 again. And they understood none of these things: 36 And this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.

And it came to pass, that 37 as he was to come nigh unto Jericho, a 38 certain

he asked him, saying, What wilt thou ⁴¹
that I shall do unto thee? And he said,
Lord, that I may receive my sight.
And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy ⁴² sight: thy faith hath ^xsaved thee. And ⁴³ immediately he received his sight, and followed him, ^yglorifying God: and ^zall
the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

And Jesus ^aentered and passed through Jericho. And behold, there was a man ² named ^bZaccheus, which was the chief
among the publicans, and he was rich.
And he sought ^cto see Jesus who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of ^dstature. And he ⁴ ran before, and climbed up into a ^esy-comore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way. And when Jesus came ⁵ to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zaccheus, make haste, and come down; for to day I must ^fabide at thy house. And ⁶
he made haste, and came down, and ^greceived him joyfully. And when they ⁷
saw it, they all ^hmurmured, saying, ^hThat he was gone ⁱto be guest with a man that is a sinner. And Zaccheus ⁸ stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have ^ktaken any thing
from any man ^kby false accusation, I restore him ^lfourfold. And Jesus said ⁹ unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, ^mforso much as ⁿhe also is ^oa son of Abraham. ^pFor the Son of man ¹⁰
is come to ^qseek and to save that which was lost.

And as they heard these things, he ¹¹ ^radded and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because ^sthey thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear. He said therefore, ¹² ^tA certain ^unobleman ^wwent into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. And he called his ¹³ ^xten servants, and delivered them ten

^ypounds, and said unto them, Occupy ¹⁴
till I come. But ^ythis citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us. And it came to pass, ¹⁵
that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him,
to whom he had given the ¹money, that he might know how much every man ¹¹ had gained by trading. Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath ¹⁶ gained ten pounds. And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been ^zfaithful in ^aa very little,
have thou authority over ten cities. ¹⁷
And the second came, saying, Lord,
thy pound hath gained five pounds. ¹⁸
And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities. And another came,
saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound,
which I have kept laid up in a ^bnapkin: ¹⁹ ^cfor I feared thee, because thou art an ^daustere man: thou takest up that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow. And he saith unto him, ²⁰ ^eOut of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. ^fThou knew-est that I was an ^daustere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping
that I did not sow: wherefore then ²¹
gavest not thou my money into ^gthe bank, that at my coming I might have ^hrequired ⁱmine own with usury? And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him
that hath ten pounds. (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.) ²²
For I say unto you, ^kThat unto every one which hath shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him. But those mine enemies, ^lwhich would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and ^mslay them before me.

And when he had thus spoken, ⁿhe
went before, ^oascending up to Jerusalem. And it came to pass, ^pwhen he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount called the mount
of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, saying, Go ye into the village over against you; in the which at your entering ye shall find a colt tied, whereon
yet never man sat: loose him, and bring ³¹him hither. And if any man ask you,
Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath ³²need of him. And they that were sent

went their way, and found even as he had said unto them. And as they were loosing the colt, ^athe owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt? And they said, The Lord hath need of him. And they brought him to Jesus: ^band they cast their garments upon the colt, and they set Jesus thereon. And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way. And when he was come nigh, ^ceven now at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and ^dpraise God with a loud voice for all the ^emighty works that they had seen; saying, ^fBlessed be ^gthe King that cometh in the name of the Lord: ^hpeace in heaven, and glory in the highest. ⁱAnd ^jsome of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples. And he answered and said unto them, I tell you that, if these should hold their peace, ^kthe stones would immediately cry out.

And when ^lhe was come near, he ^mbeheld the city, and ⁿwept over it, saying, ^oIf thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the ^pthings which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes. For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall ^qcast a trench about thee, and ^rcompass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, and ^sshall lay thee even with the ground, and ^tthy children within thee: and ^uthey shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not ^vthe time of thy ^wvisitation.

^xAnd he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and ^ythem that bought; saying unto them, It is written, ^zMy house is the house of prayer: but ye have made it ^aa den of thieves. And he ^btaught daily in the temple. But ^cthe chief priests and the scribes and ^dthe chief of the people sought to destroy him, and could not find what they might do: for all the people ^ewere very attentive to hear him.

XX. ^aAnd it came to pass, ^bthat on one of those days, ^cas he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon ^dhim with the elders, and spake unto him, saying, Tell us, by what authority doest thou these ^ethings? or who is he that gave thee this authority?

³ And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing; and ⁴answer me: The baptism of John, was ⁵it from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, ⁶Why then believed ye him not? ^eBut ^{and} if we say, Of men; all the people will stone us: ^dfor they be persuaded ⁷that John was a prophet. And they answered, that ^fthey could not tell whence ⁸it was. And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these ^gthings.

⁹ Then began he to speak to the people this parable; ^aA certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country ^bfor a long time. And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, ¹¹and sent ^chim away empty. And ^dagain he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and entreated ^ehim shamefully, ¹²and sent ^fhim away empty. And ^gagain he sent a third: and they wounded him ¹³also, and cast ^hhim out. Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence ⁱhim when they see ¹⁴him. But when the husbandmen saw him, they ^jreasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ¹⁵ours. So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed ^khim. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do ¹⁶unto them? He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others. And when they ¹⁷heard ^lit, they said, ^mGod forbid. And he ⁿbeheld them, and said, What is this then that is written, ¹The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the ¹⁸corner? Whosoever shall fall upon that stone shall be broken; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind ¹⁹him to powder. And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour ²⁰sought to lay hands on him; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

And they ²¹ asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of any, but teachest the way of God ¹truly: is it lawful for us to give ²² tribute unto Cesar, or no? But he perceived their ²³ craftiness, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me? Shew me a ²⁴ penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Cesar's. And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Cesar the things which be Cesar's, and unto God the things which be God's. And they could ²⁶ not take hold of his words before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

Then came to him certain of the ²⁷ Sadducees, which deny that there is any resurrection; and they asked him, saying, Master, Moses wrote unto us, ²⁸ If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died without children. And the second ³⁰ took her to wife, and he died childless. And the third took her; and in like ³¹ manner the seven also: and they left no children, and died. Last of all the ³² woman died also. Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them is she? for seven had her to wife. And Jesus ³⁴ answering said unto them, The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage: but they which shall be ³⁵ accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage: neither can they die any more: ³⁶ for they are equal unto the angels; and are ^bthe children of God, being the children of the resurrection. Now that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed ^cat the bush, when he calleth the Lord ^dthe God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. For he is not a God of the dead, but ³⁸ of the living: for ^eall live unto him.

Then certain of the scribes answering ³⁹ said, Master, ^fthou hast well said. And ⁴⁰ after that ^gthey durst not ask him any question at all. ^hAnd he said unto them, How say they that Christ is David's son? And David himself saith ⁴² in the book of Psalms, ⁱThe LORD said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool. David therefore calleth him Lord, how is he then his son?

⁴⁵ Then in the audience of all the people ^khe said unto his disciples, Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the markets, and the ⁴⁶ highest seats in the synagogues, and the ⁴⁷ chief rooms at feasts; which devour widows' houses, and for a shew make long prayers: the same shall receive greater damnation.

And he looked up, ^aand saw the rich men casting their ^bgifts into the treasury. ² And he saw also a certain poor widow casting in thither two ³mites. And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast in more than ⁴they all: for all these have of their abundance cast in unto the ^bofferings of God: but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had.

⁵ And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and ⁶gifts, he said, As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in the which ^ethere shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be ⁷thrown down. And they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be? and what sign will there be when these things shall come to pass?

⁸ And he said, Take heed that ye be not deceived: ^ffor many shall come in my name, saying, I am ^gChrist; ⁹and the time draweth near: ^ggo ye not therefore after them. But when ye shall hear of wars and ^hcommotions, be not ⁱterrified: for these things must first come to pass; but the end is not ^kby and by.

¹⁰ Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against ¹¹kingdom: and great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences; and fearful sights and great ¹²signs shall there be from heaven. But before all these, ¹they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and ^minto prisons, being brought before kings and ¹³rulers for my name's sake. able to gainsay nor resist. And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends; and some of you shall they cause to be put to death. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake. But ye shall not a hair of your head perish. In your patience possess ye your souls.

And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh. Then let them which are in Judea flee to the mountains; and let them which are in the midst of it depart out; and let not them that are in the countries enter thereinto. For these be the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled. But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck, in those days, for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people. And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled. And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh.

And he spake to them a parable; Behold the fig tree, and all the trees; when they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand. So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand. Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled. Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares. For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth. Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.

And in the day time he was teaching in the temple; and at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Olives. And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, for to hear him.

See Matt. 21. 1. Comp. John 12. 36.

Now the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the Passover. And the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.

Then entered Satan into Judas surnamed Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve. And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them. And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money. And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them in the absence of the multitude.

Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover must be killed. And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat. And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare? And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he entereth in. And ye shall say unto the goodman of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guestchamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? And he shall shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready. And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him. And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: for I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves: for I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.

And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: ¹this do in remembrance of me. Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup ^{is} the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

But behold, ^mthe hand of him that ²¹ betrayeth me ^{is} with me on the table. ⁿAnd truly the Son of man goeth, ^oas it was determined: but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed. And ^pthey ²³ began to inquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

^qAnd there was also a strife among ²⁴ them, which of them ^rshould be accounted the greatest. ^sAnd he said ²⁵ unto them, The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called ^tbenefactors. But ye shall not ²⁶ be so: ^ubut he that is greatest among you, let him be as ^xthe younger; and he that is ^ychief, as ^zhe that doth serve. For whether ^{is} greater, he that sitteth ²⁷ at meat, or he that serveth? ^{is} not he that sitteth at meat? but ^zI am among you as he that serveth. Ye are they ²⁸ which have continued with me in ^amy temptations. And I ^bappoint unto you ²⁹ ^aa kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me; that ^dye may eat and ³⁰ drink at my table in my kingdom, and ^esit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, ³¹ behold, ^fSatan hath desired to have you, that ^{he} may ^gsift you as wheat: but ^bI ³² have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art ⁱconverted, ^kstrengthen thy brethren. And he said ³³ unto him, ^lLord, I am ready to go with thee, both into prison, and ^mto death. ⁿAnd he said, I tell thee, Peter, ^{the} ³⁴ cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me. And he said unto them, ³⁵ ^oWhen I sent you without ^ppurse, and scrip, and ^{pp}shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing. Then said he ³⁶ unto them, But now, he that hath a ^ppurse, let him take it, and likewise ^{his} scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one. For I say unto you, that this that is ³⁷ written must yet be accomplished in me, ^qAnd he was reckoned among the transgressors: for the things concerning me ^rhave an end. And they ³⁸ said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.

³⁹ ^sAnd he came out, and went, ^tas he was wont, to ^uthe mount of Olives; and ⁴⁰ his disciples also followed him. And ^wwhen he was at the place, he said unto them, ^xPray that ye enter not into ⁴¹ temptation. And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and ⁴² ^ykneeled down, and prayed, saying, Father, if thou be ^twilling, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done. And there appeared ^zan angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him. And being in ^aan agony ^bhe prayed more earnestly: and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground. ⁴⁵ And when he rose up from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found ⁴⁶ them sleeping for sorrow, and said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and ^cpray, lest ye enter into temptation.

⁴⁷ ^dAnd while he yet spake, behold a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Jesus to kiss him. But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss? When they which were about him saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite ^ewith the ⁵⁰ sword? And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off ⁵¹ his right ear. And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he ^ftouch-
⁵² ed his ear, and healed him. Then Jesus said unto the chief priests, and ^gcaptains of the temple, and the elders, which were come to him, Be ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and staves? When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me: but this is ^hyour hour, and ⁱthe power of darkness.

⁵⁴ ^kThen took they him, and led him, and brought him into the high priest's house. ^lAnd Peter followed afar off. ⁵⁵ ^mAnd when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the ^{mm}hall, and were set down together, Peter sat down among ⁵⁶ them. But a certain maid beheld him as he sat by the fire, and ⁿearnestly looked upon him, and said, This man was also with him. And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not. ⁵⁸ And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou art also of them. ⁵⁹ And Peter said, Man, I am not. And they had blindfolded him, they stroke

him on the face, and asked him, saying,

And many other things °blasphemously 65
spake they against him. ¶ And as soon 66
as it was day, °the elders of the people
and the chief priests and the scribes

¶ And Pilate asked him, saying, °Art 3 thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou sayest it.
Then said Pilate to the chief priests 4
and to the people, ¶I find no fault in this man. And they were the more 5 fierce, saying, He °stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, °beginning from °Galilee to this place.
When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked 6
whether the man were a Galilean. And 7
as soon as he knew that he belonged unto °Herod's jurisdiction, he °sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem at that time. And when He- 8 rod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad:
for °he was desirous to see him of a long season, because °he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.
9 Then he questioned with him in many words; but he answered him nothing.

once, saying, °Away with this man, and 19 release unto us Barabbas: (who for a certain sedition made in the city, and 20 for °murder, was cast into prison.) Pilate therefore, willing to release Jesus, spake 21 again to them. But they cried, saying,
22 Crucify him, crucify him. And he said unto them °the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him: °I will therefore were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified. And the voices of them and of the chief priests

he released unto them °him that for sedi-

we indeed justly; for we receive the due

all out of the temple, and the sheep and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables; and said unto them that sold doves, ¹⁶ Take these things hence; make not ¹⁷ my Father's house a house of merchandise. And his disciples remembered that it ¹⁷ was written, ^u The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.

Then answered ^v the Jews and said ¹⁸ unto him, ^w What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things? Jesus answered and said unto them, ¹⁹ ^x Destroy ^y this temple, and in three days ^z I will raise it up. Then said ^a the Jews, ²⁰ Forty and six years ^a was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days? But he spake of ^b the temple of his body. When therefore he was ²² risen from the dead, ^c his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed ^d the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said. Now when he was in Jerusalem at the ²³ passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw ^e the miracles which he did. But Jesus did ²⁴ not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men, and needed not that ²⁵ any should testify of man: for ^f he knew what was in man.

There was a man of the Pharisees, named ^a Nicodemus, ^b a ruler of the Jews: ^a the same came to Jesus ^c by night, and said unto him, ^d Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do ^e these miracles that thou doest, except ^f God be with him. Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man ^g be born ^h again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus saith ⁴ unto him, ^h How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born? Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of ⁱ water and of ^j the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. ^k That ⁶ which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. ⁷ ^{kk} Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye

⁸ must be born ^l again. ^l The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is ⁹ every one that is born of the Spirit. Nicodemus answered and said unto him, ¹⁰ ^m How can these things be? Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou ^a master of Israel, and knowest not these ¹¹ things? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and ^o testify that we have seen; ^o and ye receive not ¹² our witness. ^p If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things? ¹³ And ^q no man hath ascended up to heaven, but ^r he that came down from heaven, ^{even} the Son of man ^s which is in heaven. And ^t as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, ^{even} so ^u must the Son of man ^w be lifted up: that ^x whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but ^y have eternal life. For ^z God so loved the world, that he ^a gave his ^b only begotten Son, that ^x whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but ¹⁷ have everlasting life. For ^{bb} God sent not his Son into the world ^c to condemn the world; ^d but that the world through him ¹⁸ might be saved. ^e He that believeth on him is not condemned: ^f but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name ¹⁹ of the ^b only begotten Son of God. And this is the condemnation, that ^g light is come into the world, and men loved ^h darkness ⁱ rather than light, ⁱⁱ because ²⁰ their deeds were evil. For ^j every one that ^k doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should ²¹ be ^l reproved. But he that ^k doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

²² After these things came Jesus and ^m his disciples into ⁿ the land of Judea; and there he tarried with them, and ²³ ^o baptized. And John also was baptizing in ^p Aenon near to ^p Salim, because there was much water there: ^q and they ²⁴ came, and were baptized. For ^r John ²⁵ was not yet cast into prison. Then there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews about ²⁶ ^s purifying. And they came unto John,

IV. When therefore the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and ^abaptized more disciples than John, (though ^bJesus himself baptized not, but his disciples,) he left ^cJudea, and departed ^dagain into Galilee. And he ^emust needs go through ^fSamaria. Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which is called ^gSychar, near to the parcel of ground ^hthat Jacob gave to his son Joseph. Now Jacob's well was there. ⁱJesus therefore, being wearied ^jwith ^khis journey, sat ^kthus on the well: and it was about ^lthe sixth hour. There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink. (For his disciples were gone away unto ^mthe city to buy meat.) Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? For ⁿthe Jews have no dealings with 10 the Samaritans. Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee ^oliving water. The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou ^pthat living water? ^qArt thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle? Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again: but ^rwhosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into ^speverlasting life. The woman saith unto him, ^tSir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw. Jesus saith unto her, Go, ^ucall thy husband, and come hither. The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband: for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: ^vin that saidst thou truly. The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art ^wa prophet. ^xOur fathers worshipped in ^ythis mountain; and ye say, that in ^zJerusalem is the place where ^{men} ought to worship. ^aJesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, ^bthe hour cometh, ^cwhen ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship ^dthe Father. Ye worship ^eye know not what: we know what we worship: ^fa for salvation is of the Jews. But ^gthe hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in ^hspirit and ⁱin ^jtruth: for the Father ^kseeketh such to worship him. ^lGod is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship ^mhim in ⁿspirit and ^oin ^ptruth. The woman saith unto him, I know that ^qMessias cometh, which is called Christ: when he is come, ^rhe will ^stell us all ^tthings. Jesus saith unto her, ^uI that speak unto thee am ^vhe. ^wAnd upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with ^xthe woman: yet no ^yman said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her? ^zThe woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city, and saith to the men, Come, see a man, ^awhich told me all things that ever I did: ¹is not this the Christ? Then they went out of ³⁰ the city, and came unto him.

In the mean while his disciples prayed ³¹ him, saying, ^mMaster, ⁿeat. But he said ³² unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of. Therefore said the dis- ³³ ciples one to another, ^oHath any man brought him ought to eat? Jesus saith ³⁴ unto them, ^pMy meat is ^qto do the will of him that sent me, and ^rto finish his work. Say not ye, There are yet four ³⁵ months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, ^sLift up your eyes, and look on ^tthe fields; ^ufor they are white already to harvest. And he ³⁶ that reapeth receiveth ^vwages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both ^vhe that soweth and ^zhe that reapeth may rejoice together. And herein is ³⁷ that saying true, ^aOne soweth, and another reapeth. I sent ^zyou to reap ³⁸ that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ^cye are entered into their labours. And many of ³⁹ the Samaritans of ^dthat city believed on him for the saying of the woman, which testified. ^eHe told me all that ever I did. So when the Samaritans were come ⁴⁰ unto him, they besought him that he would ^ftarry with them: and he ^fabode there two days. And many moe be- ⁴¹ lieved because of his own word; and said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, ^gthe Saviour of the world.

Now after ^htwo days he departed ⁴³ thence, and ⁱwent into Galilee. For ⁴⁴ Jesus himself testified, ^jthat a prophet hath no honour in his own country. Then when he was come into Galilee, ⁴⁵ the Galileans ^kreceived him, ^lhaving seen all the things that he did at Jerusalem at the feast: ^mfor they also went unto the feast. So Jesus came ⁴⁶ again into ⁿCana of Galilee, ^owhere he made the water wine. And there was a certain ^pnobleman, whose son was sick at ^pCapernaum. When he heard that ⁴⁷ Jesus was come ^qout of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would ^rcome down, and heal his son: for he was at the point of death. Then said Jesus unto him, ⁴⁸ Except ye see ^tsigns and ^twonders, ye will not believe. The nobleman saith ⁴⁹

unto him, Sir, ^rcome down ^uere my ⁵⁰ child die. Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken ⁵¹ unto him, and he went his way. And as he was now ^rgoing down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth. Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at ^xthe ⁵² seventh hour the fever left him. So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, ⁵³ and his whole house. ^yThis is again the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come ^qout of Judea into Galilee.

After this there was ^aa feast of the Jews; and Jesus ^bwent up to Jerusalem. ² Now there is at Jerusalem by the sheep ¹market a pool, which is called ^{bb}in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five ³ porches. In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, ^cwithered, waiting for the moving of ⁴ the water. For ^{cc}an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had. And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty ⁵ and eight years. When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, ⁷ Wilt thou be made whole? The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. Jesus saith unto him, ^dRise, ⁸ take up thy bed, and walk. And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day ^ewas the sabbath. ¹⁰ ^fThe Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath day: ^git is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed. ¹¹ He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk. Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto ¹³ thee, Take up thy bed, and walk? And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, ¹⁴ ^ha multitude being in that place. Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: ^hsin no more, ⁱlest a worse thing come unto thee. The man departed, and told ^fthe Jews that it was Jesus, which had made him whole.

And therefore did ^fthe Jews persecute Jesus, and ⁿsought to slay him, because ^jhe had done these things on the sabbath day. But Jesus ^kanswered them, My Father worketh ^hhitherto, ^mand I work. Therefore ^fthe Jews ⁿsought the more to kill him, because he not only ^jhad broken the sabbath, but ^osaid also that God was ^phis Father, ^qmaking himself equal with God. Then ^kanswered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing ^rof himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise. For ^sthe Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and ^the will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel. For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and ^uquickeneth them; even so ^vthe Son quickeneth whom he will. For the Father judgeth no man, but ^whath committed all ^xjudgment unto the Son: that all men should honour the Son, even as they ^yhonour the Father. ^zHe that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him. Verily, verily, I say unto you, ^aHe that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but ^bhis passed from death unto life. Verily, verily, I say unto you, ^cThe hour is coming, and now is, when ^dthe dead shall hear ^{dd}the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live. For as the Father hath life in himself; ^eso hath he given to the Son to have life in himself; and ^fhath given him ^gauthority to execute ^hjudgment also, ⁱbecause he is the Son of man. ^jMarvel not at this: for ^dthe hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, ^kand shall come forth; ^lthey that have ^mdone good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have ^{mn}done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation. ^oI can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because ^pI seek not mine own will, but ^qthe will of the Father which hath sent me. ^rIf I bear witness of myself, my 32 witness is not true. There is ^sanother that beareth witness of me; and ^tI know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true. ^uYe sent unto John, and ^vhe bare witness unto the truth. But ^wI receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved. He ^xwas a burning and ^ya shining ^zlight: and ye were willing ^afor a season to rejoice in his light. But I have ^bgreater witness than that of John: for ^{bb}the works which ^cthe Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that ^{cc}the Father hath sent me. And the Father himself, ^{cc}which hath sent me, ^dhath borne witness of me. Ye have neither ^eheard his voice at any time, nor ^fseen his shape. And ^gye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, ^hhim ye believe not. ⁱSearch the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and ⁱthey are they which testify of me. And ^kye will not come to me, that ye might have life. I receive not ^lhonour from men. But ^mI know you, that ye have not ⁿthe love of God in you. ⁿⁿI am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if ^oanother shall come in his own name, him ye will receive. How can ye believe, which receive ^phonour one of another, and seek not ^qthe honour that cometh from God ^{qq}only? Do not think ^rthat I will accuse you to the Father: ^sthere is one that accuseth you, even Moses, ^tin whom ye trust. For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for ^uhe wrote of me. But if ye believe not his ^xwritings, ^yhow shall ye believe my words?

And this he said ^kto prove him: for he 6
 himself knew what he would do. ¹Philip 7
 answered him, Two hundred pennyworth
 of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.
 One of his disciples, ^mAndrew, Simon 8
 Peter's brother, saith unto him, There is 9
 a lad here, which hath five barley loaves,
 and two ⁿsmall fishes: but what are they among so many? And Jesus said, 10
 Make the men sit down. Now ^othere was much grass in the place. So ^pthe men sat down, in number about five thousand. And Jesus took the loaves; ¹¹
 and when he had ^qgiven thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples
 to them that were set down; and likewise of ⁿthe fishes as much as they would. When they were filled, he said 12 unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.
 Therefore they gathered them together, 13
 and filled twelve ^rbaskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten. Then those men, when 14
 they had seen the miracle that Jesus
 did, said, This is of a truth ^sthat prophet ^tthat should come into the world.

^uWhen Jesus therefore perceived that 15
 they would come and take him by force,
 to make him ^wa king, he departed again ^xinto a mountain himself alone. And 16
 when even was now come, his disciples
 went down unto the sea, and entered 17
 into ^ya ship, and went over the sea towards ^zCapernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them.
 And the sea arose by reason of a great 18
 wind that blew. So when they had row- 19
 ed about ^afive and twenty or thirty ^bfur-longs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship:
 and they were afraid. But he saith unto 20 them, It is I; be not afraid. Then they 21 willingly received him into the ship: and immediately ^cthe ship was at the land whither they went.

The day following, when the people 22
 which stood ^don the other side of the sea saw that there was none other ^eboat
 there, save that one whereinto his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went
 not with his disciples into ^ethe boat,
 but that his disciples were gone away
 alone; (howbeit there came other ^eboats 23
 from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that ^fthe Lord
 had given thanks:) when the people 24

therefore saw that Jesus was not there,
 neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to ^gCapernaum, seeking 25 for Jesus. And when they had found him ^hon the other side of the sea, they said unto him, ⁱRabbi, when camest 26 thou hither? Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles,
 but because ye did eat of the loaves, 27 and were filled. ^kLabour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat ^lwhich endureth unto everlasting life, ^lwhich the Son of man shall give unto you: ^mfor him hath God the Father 28 ⁿsealed. Then said they unto him,
 What shall we do, that we might work
 29 ^othe works of God? Jesus answered and said unto them, This is ^othe work
 of God, ^pthat ye believe on him whom 30 he hath sent. They said therefore unto him, ^qWhat sign shewest thou
 then, that we may see, and believe thee?
 31 what dost thou work? ^rOur fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written,
^sHe gave them bread from heaven
 32 to eat. Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven;
 but my Father giveth you the true bread 33 from heaven. For the bread of God is ^the which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world. Then said they unto him, ^uLord, evermore 35 give us this bread. And Jesus said unto them, ^xI am ^ythe bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and ^zhe that believeth on me shall never 36 thirst. But I said unto you, ^aThat ye also have seen me, and believe not.
 37 ^bAll that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and ^chim that cometh to 38 me I will in no wise cast out. For ^dI came down from heaven, not to do ^emine own will, but ^ethe will of him that 39 sent me. And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of ^ball which he hath given me ^fI should lose nothing,
 but ^gshould raise it up again at the last 40 day. And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which ^hseeth
 the Son, and ⁱbelieveth on him, may have ^keverlasting life: and I will raise
 him up ^lat the last day.

41 ^lThe Jews then murmured at him, because he said, ^mI am the bread which came 42 down from heaven. And they said, Is not this Jesus, ⁿthe son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it

then that he saith, ^dI came down from heaven? Jesus therefore answered and ⁴³said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves. No man can come to me, except ⁴⁴the Father which hath sent me ^odraw him: and ^sI will raise him up at the last day. It is written ^pin the prophets, ⁴⁵^qAnd they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and ^rhath learned of the Father, cometh unto me. ^sNot that any man ⁴⁶hath seen the Father, ^tsave he which is ^uof God, he hath seen the Father. Verily, ⁴⁷verily, I say unto you, ^xHe that believeth on me hath everlasting life. ^yI ⁴⁸am that bread of life. ^zYour fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead. This is the bread ^awhich cometh ⁵⁰down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and ^bnot die. I am ^cthe living ⁵¹bread ^dwhich came down from heaven: ^eif any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and ^fthe bread that I will give is my flesh, which ^gI will give for the life of the world. ^hThe Jews there- ⁵²fore ⁱstrove amongst themselves, saying, ^kHow can this man give us his flesh to eat? Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, ⁵³verily, I say unto you, Except ^lye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and ^mdrink his blood, ye have no life in you. Who- ⁵⁴so eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, ⁿhath eternal life; and ^oI will raise him up at the last day. For my ⁵⁵flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. He that eateth my flesh, ⁵⁶and drinketh my blood, ^pdwelleth in me, and I in him. As the living Father ⁵⁷hath sent me, and ^qI live by the Father: so he that eateth me, ^reven he shall live by me. This is ^sthat bread ^twhich came ⁵⁸down from heaven: ^unot as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: ^vhe that eateth of this bread shall live for ever. These things said he in the synagogue, ⁵⁹as he taught in ^xCapernaum. ^yMany therefore of his disciples, when ⁶⁰they had heard this, said, This is a ^zhard saying; ^awho can hear it? When Jesus ⁶¹^bknew in himself that his disciples mur- mured at it, he said unto them, ^cDoth this offend you? ^dWhat and if ye shall ⁶²see the Son of man ^eascend up ^fwhere he was before? ^gIt is the spirit that ⁶³quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: ^hthe words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are ^hlife. But ⁱthere ⁶⁴are some of you that believe not. For Jesus ^bknew from the beginning ⁱwho

they were that believed not, and ^kwho ⁶⁵should betray him. And he said, There- fore said I unto you, ^lthat no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father. ⁶⁶From that time ^mmany of his disciples went back, and walked no more with ⁶⁷him. Then said Jesus unto ⁿthe twelve, ⁶⁸Will ye also go away? Then ^oSimon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast ^pthe words of eternal ⁶⁹life. ^oAnd we believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, ^qthe Son of ⁷⁰the living God. Jesus answered them, Have not ^sI chosen you ^ttwelve, and ⁷¹one of you is ^ua devil? He spake of Judas Iscariot ^vthe son of Simon: for he ^{it was that} should betray him, being one of ⁿthe twelve. After these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for ^ahe would not walk in Jewry, ^bbecause ^cthe Jews sought to ²kill him. Now the Jews' ^dfeast of ta- ³bernaacles was at hand. ^eHis brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judea, that ^fthy disciples also may see the works that thou doest. ⁴For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, ⁵^gshew thyself to the world. For ^hnei- ther did ^ehis brethren believe in him. ⁶Then Jesus said unto them, ⁱMy time is not yet come: but your time is alway ⁷ready. ^jThe world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that ^kthe works thereof are evil. ⁸Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast; for ^{im}my time ⁹is not yet full come. When he had said these words unto them, he abode ^{still} in Galilee. ¹⁰But when ^ehis brethren were ^lgone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in ¹¹secret. ⁿThen ^cthe Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he? ¹²And ^othere was much murmuring a- mong the people concerning him: ^{for} some said, ^pHe is a good man: others said, Nay; but he ^{pp}deceiveth the peo- ¹³ple. Howbeit no man spake openly of him ^qfor fear of ^cthe Jews. ¹⁴Now about the midst of the feast Jesus ^lwent up ^rinto the temple, and ¹⁵taught. And ^cthe Jews ^smarvelled, say- ing, How knoweth this man ^uletters, ¹⁶having never learned? Jesus answered them, and said, ^tMy doctrine is not

The people answered ^{bv} and said, ^{bv} Thou hast a devil: ^{bw} who goeth about to kill thee? Jesus ^{bx} answered and said unto them, I have done ^{by} one work, and ye all marvel. ^{bz} Moses therefore gave unto you ^{ca} circumcision, not because it is of Moses, but ^{cb} of the fathers; and ^{cc} fye on the sabbath day ^{cd} circumcise a man. Then said ^{ck} some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he, ^{cl} whom they seek to kill? But lo, ^{cm} he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. Do ^{cn} the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ? ^{co} Howbeit ^{cp} we know this ^{cq} man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no ^{cr} man knoweth ^{cs} whence he is. The Phari- ^{do} sees heard that the people murmured such ^{dp} things concerning him; and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent ^{dq} officers to take him. Then said Jesus ^{dr} unto them, ^{ds} Yet a little while am I with you, and ^{dt} then ^{du} I go unto him that sent me. ^{dv} Ye shall seek me, and shall not ^{dw} find ^{dx} me: and where ^{dy} I am, ^{dz} thither ^{ea} ye

What ^{ei} manner of saying is this that he said, ^{ej} Ye shall seek me, and shall not find ^{ek} me: and where I am, ^{el} thither ye cannot come? ^{em} In the last day, ^{en} that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and ^{eo} cried, say- ^{ep} ing, ^{eq} If any ^{er} man thirst, let him come ^{es} unto me, and drink. ^{et} He that believ- ^{eu} eth on me, as the scripture hath said, ^{ev} out of his belly shall flow rivers of ^{ew} living water. down, and taught them. And the scribes 3 and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst, they say 4 unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.
Now ^dMoses in the law commanded 5
us, that such ^cshould be stoned: but what sayest thou? This they said, 6 ^ftempting him, ^gthat they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with ^hhis finger ^hwrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.
So when they continued asking him, he 7
ⁱlift up himself, and said unto them, ^kHe that is without sin among you, ^llet him first cast a stone at her. And again 8
he stooped down, and ^hwrote on the ground. And they which heard it, 9 ^mbeing convicted ⁿby their own conscience, went out ^oone by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last:
and Jesus was left alone, and the woman
standing in the midst. When Jesus had 10
ⁱlift up hims-elf, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee? She said, No man, 11
Lord. And Jesus said unto her, ^pNeither
do I condemn thee: go, and ^qsin no more.

Then spake Jesus again unto them, 12 saying, ^rI am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have ^rthe light of life. The Pharisees therefore said unto 13
him, Thou bearest record of thyself;
thy record is not true. Jesus answered 14
and said unto them, ^sThough I bear
record of myself, ^tyet ^umy record is true:
for I know ^uwhence I came, and ^vwhi-ther I go; but ^vye cannot tell whence
I come, and whither I go. Ye judge 15
^zafter the flesh; ^aI judge no man. And 16
^zyet if I judge, ^bmy judgment is true:
for ^cI am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. It is also written 17 ^din your law, that the testimony of two men is true. I am one that bear 18 witness of myself, and ^ethe Father that sent me beareth witness of me. Then 19
said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, ^fYe neither know me, nor my Father: ^gif ye had known me, ye should have known my Father
also. These words spake Jesus in ^hthe 20
treasury, ⁱas he taught in the temple;
and ^kno man laid hands on him; for ^lhis hour was not yet come.

21 Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ^mye shall seek me, and ⁿshall die in your sins: ^mwhither I go, 22 ye cannot come. Then said ^othe Jews,
^pWill he kill himself? because he saith, 23 Whither I go, ye cannot come. And he said unto them, ^qYe are from beneath; ^rI am from above: ye are ^{rs}of this world; ^tI am not of this world.
24 I said therefore unto you, that ^uye shall die in your sins: ^vfor if ye believe not
that ^vI am he, ye shall die in your sins.
25 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them, Even the same ^zthat I said unto you from 26 the beginning. I have many things to say and to judge of you: but he that sent me is ^atrue; and I speak to the world those things which I have ^bheard 27 of him. ^cThey understood not that he spake to them of the Father. Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have ^dlift up the Son of man, then shall ye know that ^vI am he, and that ^eI do nothing of myself; but ^fas my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.
29 And he that sent me is ^gwith me: ^hthe
Father hath not left me alone; ⁱfor I do always those things that please him.
30 As he spake these words, ^kmany believed on him.

31 Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, ^lIf ye continue in my word, then ^lare ye my disciples indeed; 32 and ye shall know ^mthe truth, and the truth ⁿshall make you free. They answered him, ^oWe be Abraham's seed,
and were never in bondage to any man:
how sayest thou, ^pYe shall be made 34 free? Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, ^qWhosoever com-mitteth sin is the servant of sin. And 35 ^rthe servant abideth not in the house
for ever: ^sbut ^sthe son abideth ever.
36 If ^tthe Son therefore ⁿshall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. I know that ^uye are Abraham's ^useed; but ^vye seek to kill me, because my word hath 38 no place in you. I speak that which I have ^xseen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with ^yyour 39 father. They answered and said unto him, ^oAbraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, ^zIf ye were Abraham's ^uchildren, ye would do the works of 40 Abraham. But now ^aye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have ^bheard of God:

this did not Abraham. Ye do the 41 deeds of your father. Then said they
to him, ^cWe be not born of fornication;
we have ^done Father, even God. Jesus 42 said unto them, If God were your Father, ^eye would love me: for ^fI proceeded forth and came from God; ^gnei-ther came I of myself, but ^hhe sent me.
ⁱWhy do ye not understand my speech? 43
even because ye cannot ^jhear my word.
^kYe are of ^lyour father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was ^ma murderer from the beginning,
and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When ⁿhe speaketh a lie, he speaketh of ^ohis own:
for he is a liar, and the father of it.
And because I tell ^pyou the truth, ye 45
believe me not. ^qWhich of you ^rcon-vinceth me of ^ssin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me? ^tHe 47
that is of God ^uheareth God's words:
ye therefore ^vhear them not, because ^wye
are not of God. Then answered ^xthe 48 Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a ^y*Samaritan, and ^zhast a devil? Jesus answered, I have 49
not a devil; but I honour my Father, and ^{aa}ye do dishonour me. And I seek 50 not ^{ab}mine own glory: there is ^{ac}one that seeketh and judgeth. Verily, verily, I 51 say unto you, ^{ad}If a man keep my saying, ^{ae}he shall never see death. Then 52
said ^{af}the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. ^{ag}Abraham is dead, and the prophets; and thou say-est, ^{ah}If a man keep my saying, he shall never ^{ai}taste of death. Art thou greater 53
than our father Abraham, which is dead?
and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself? Jesus answered, ^{aj}If I 54 honour myself, my honour is nothing:
^{ak}it is my Father that honoureth me; of whom ye say, that he is your God:
yet ^{al}ye have not known him; ^{am}but I 55
know him: and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be ^{an}a liar like unto you:
but I know him, and ^{ao}keep his saying.
Your father Abraham ^{ap}rejoiced to see 56 ^{aq}my day: and he saw it, and was glad.
Then said ^{ar}the Jews unto him, Thou 57
art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham? Jesus said unto 58
them, Verily, verily, I say unto you,
Before Abraham was, ^{as}I am. Then 59
^{at}took they up stones to cast at him:

but Jesus ^{ph}hid himself, and ^{pw}went out of the temple, ^{px}going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

^p Luke 4. 30 (Gk.).

And as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.
And his disciples asked him, saying,
^aMaster, ^bwho did sin, this man, or ^chis
parents, that he was born blind? Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but ^dthat the works of God should be made manifest in him.
I must work ^ethe works of him that sent me, ^fwhile it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work. As long as I am in the world, ^gI am the light of the world. When he had thus spoken, ^hhe spat on the ground, and made clay
of the spittle, and he ⁱanointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay, and said
unto him, Go, wash in ^jthe pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) ^kHe went his way therefore, and washed,
and came seeing.

The neighbours therefore, and they which before had ^kseen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he ^lthat sat and begged? Some said, This is he: others ^msaid, He is like him: but he said, I am
ⁿhe. Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened? He answered and said, ^oA man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam,
and wash: and I went and washed, and ^pI received sight. Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.
They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind. And ^qit was the sabbath day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. Then ^ragain the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and ^sI washed, and do see. Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not ^tof God, ^ubecause he keepeth not the sabbath day. ^vOthers said, ^wHow can
a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And ^xthere was a division among the Jews. They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, ^yHe is ^za prophet. But ^{aa}the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had

say was born blind? how then doth he now see? His parents answered ²⁰ them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind: but by what means he now seeth, we ²¹ know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself. These ²² words spake his parents, because ²³ they feared ²⁴ the Jews: for ²⁵ the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, ²⁶ he should be put out of the synagogue. There- ²⁷ fore said his parents, He is of age; ask him. Then again called they the ²⁸ man that was blind, and said unto him, ²⁹ Give God the praise: we know that this man is ³⁰ a sinner. He answered ³¹ and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see. Then said they to him again, What ³² did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes? He answered them, I have told ³³ you already, and ye did not ³⁴ hear: wherefore would you hear it again? will ye also be his disciples? Then they ³⁵ reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are Moses' disciples. ³⁶ We know that God spake unto Moses; as for this fellow, ³⁷ we know not from whence he is. The man answered and ³⁸ said unto them, ³⁹ Why herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and ⁴⁰ yet he hath opened mine eyes. Now we know that ⁴¹ God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, ⁴² him he heareth. ⁴³ Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind. ⁴⁴ If this man were not ⁴⁵ of God, he could do nothing. They answered and said unto him, Thou wast ⁴⁶ altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they ⁴⁷ cast him out. Jesus heard that they had ⁴⁸ cast him out; and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou ⁴⁹ believe on the Son of God? He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him? And Jesus said unto him, ⁵⁰ Thou hast both seen him, and ⁵¹ it is he that talketh with thee. And he said, Lord, I believe. And he ⁵² worshipped him.

And Jesus said, ⁵³ For judgment I am come into this world, that they which see not might see; and that ⁵⁴ they which see might be made blind. And some of the Pharisees which were with him heard these words, and said unto him, ⁵⁵ Are we blind also? Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ⁵⁶ ye should have no sin: ⁵⁷ but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief ⁵⁸ and a ⁵⁹ robber. But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. ⁶⁰ To him ⁶¹ the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them ⁶² out. And when he ⁶³ putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his ⁶⁴ voice. And ⁶⁵ a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they ⁶⁶ know not the voice of strangers. This ⁶⁷ parable spake Jesus unto them: ⁶⁸ but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the ⁶⁹ door of the sheep. All that ever came before me are thieves and ⁷⁰ robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. I am ⁷¹ the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and ⁷² shall go in and out, and ⁷³ find pasture. The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have ⁷⁴ it more abundantly. I am ⁷⁵ the good shepherd: the good shepherd ⁷⁶ giveth his life for the sheep. But he that is a ⁷⁷ hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth ⁷⁸ the wolf coming, and ⁷⁹ leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: and the wolf catcheth them, and ⁸⁰ scattereth the sheep. The hireling fleeth, because he is a hireling, and ⁸¹ careth not for the sheep. I am the good shepherd, and ⁸² know my sheep, and am known of mine. ⁸³ As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and ⁸⁴ I lay down my life for the sheep. And ⁸⁵ other sheep I have, which are not of this ⁸⁶ fold: ⁸⁷ ye them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; ⁸⁸ and there shall be one ⁸⁹ fold, and ⁹⁰ one shepherd. ⁹¹ Therefore doth my Father love me, ⁹² because ⁹³ I lay down my life, that I might take it again. No man taketh it from me, but ⁹⁴ I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and ⁹⁵ I have power to take it again. This

Then took ^gMary ^ha pound of ointment of spikenard, very costly, and ⁱanointed the feet of Jesus, and ^kwiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment. Then saith one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, ^lSimon's son, which should betray him, Why was not this ointment sold ^mfor three hundred pence, and given to the poor? This he said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and ⁿhad the bag, and ^obare what was put therein. Then said Jesus, Let her alone: against the day of my ^pburying hath she kept this. For the poor always ye have with you; but me ye have not always.

Much people of ^qthe Jews therefore knew that he was there: and they came not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, ^rwhom he had raised from the dead. But ^sthe chief priests ^tconsulted that they might put Lazarus also to death; because ^uthat by reason of him ^xmany of ^ythe Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

On the next day ^ymuch people that were come to ^bthe feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, took ^zbranches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna: ^aBlessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord. And Jesus, when he had found a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, Fear not, ^ddaughter of Sion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt. ^cThese things understood not his disciples at the first: but when ^dJesus was glorified, then ^eremembered they that these things were written of him, and ^fthat they had done these things unto him. ^fThe people therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of ^hhis grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record. ^gFor this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle. The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, ^hPerceive ye how ye prevail nothing? behold, the world is gone after him.

And there were certain ⁱGreeks among them ^kthat came up to worship ^lat the feast: the same came therefore to ^mPhilip, which was of ⁿBethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. Philip cometh and telleth ^mAn drew: and again Andrew and Philip tell that beareth not fruit he taketh away:

and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. Now ^dye are clean through ^e3
the word which I have spoken unto you.
^fAbide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except
it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vine, ^g5 ^hye are the branches: ⁱHe that abideth
in me, and I in him, the same ^jbringeth forth much fruit: for ^kwithout me ye can do nothing. If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and ^l6

^sHerein is my Father glorified, that ye ^t8

so have I loved you: continue ye in ^wmy
love. ^xIf ye keep my commandments, ^y10
ye shall abide in my love; even as I

These things have I spoken unto you, ¹¹

that ^amy joy might remain in you, and ^b12 that your joy might be full. This is my commandment, ^cThat ye love one an-^d13 other, as I have loved you. ^eGreater
love hath no man than this, ^fthat a man ^g14 lay down his life for his friends. Ye are ^hmy friends, ⁱif ye do whatsoever I com^j15 mand you. Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that ^k2I have heard of my Father ^la I have made known ^m16 unto you. Ye have not chosen me, but ⁿI have chosen you, and ^oordained you,
that you should go and ^pbring forth fruit,
and ^qthat your fruit should remain: that ^rwhatsoever ye shall ask of the Father ^s17 in my name, he may give it you. These ^tthings I command you, ^uthat ye love ^v18 one another. If ^wthe world hate you, ye know that it hated me ^xbefore it hated ^y19 you. ^zIf ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but ^aI have chosen
you out of the world, therefore the world ^b20 hateth you. Remember the word that I said unto you, ^cThe servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, ^dthey will also persecute you; ^eif they have kept my saying, they ^f21 will keep yours also. But ^gall these ^hthings will they do unto you ⁱfor my name's sake, ^jbecause they know not ^k22 him that sent me. If I had not come and spoken unto them, ^lthey had not had sin: ^mbut now they have no ⁿcloke ^o23 for their sin. He that hateth me hateth ^p24 my Father also. If I had not done among them ^qthe works which none other ^r*man* did, ^sthey had not had sin: but now have they both ^tseen and ^u25 hated both me and my Father. But ^vthis cometh

that is written in ^xtheir law, ^yThey ^z26 hated me without a cause. But shall ^cput you out of the synagogues: yea, ^dthe time cometh, ^ethat whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God ^fservice. And these things will they do unto you, ^gbecause they have not known the Father, nor me. But ^hthese things have I told you, that when ^dthe time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And ⁱthese things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you. But now ^kI go my way to him that sent me; and ^lnone of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? But because I have said these things unto you, ^msorrow hath filled your heart. Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, ⁿthe Comforter ^owill not come unto you; but ^pif I depart, ^qI will send him unto you. And when he is come, he will ^rreprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment: ^sof sin, ^tbecause they believe not on me; ^uof righteousness, ^vbecause I go to my Father, and ye see me no more; ^xof judgment, because ^ythe prince of this world ^zis judged.

^aI have yet many things to say unto you, ^bbut ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit when he, ^cthe Spirit of truth, is come, ^dhe will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, ^ethat shall he speak: and ^fhe will ^gshew you things to come. He shall ^hglorify me: for ⁱhe shall receive of mine, and shall ^jshew it unto you. ^kAll things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that ^lhe shall take of mine, and shall ^mshew it unto you. ⁿA little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ^oye shall see me, ^pbecause I go to the Father.

Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, ⁿA little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father? They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith. Now Jesus ^oknew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves of that I said, ⁿA little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me? Verily, I say unto you, That ye shall pweep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but ^qyour sorrow shall be turned into joy. ^rA woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world. And ye now therefore have ^ssorrow: but I will see you again, and ^tyour heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you. And ^uin that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, ^vWhatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, ^xthat your joy may be full. These things have I spoken unto you in ^yproverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in ^zproverbs, but I shall shew you ^aplainly of the Father. ^bAt that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you: for ^cthe Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have ^dbelieved ^ethat I came out from God. ^fI came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and ^ggo to the Father.

His disciples said unto him, Lo, ^hnow speakest thou plainly, and speakest no ⁱproverb. Now are we sure that ^jthou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this ^kwe believe that ^lthou camest forth from God. Jesus answered them, ^mDo ye now believe? Behold, ⁿthe hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ^oye shall be scattered, ^pevery man to ^qhis own, and shall leave me alone: and ^ryet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. These things I have spoken unto you, that ^sin me ye might have peace. In the world ^tye shall have tribulation: but ^ube of good cheer; ^vI have overcome the world.

thou gavest me have I lost none. Then ¹⁰ Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus. Then said Jesus ¹¹ unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: ¹² the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

Then ¹³ the band and ¹⁴ the captain and ¹⁵ officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him, and ¹⁶ led him away to ¹⁷ Annas first; for he was father in law to ¹⁸ Caiaphas, which was the high priest ¹⁹ that same year. ²⁰ Now Caiaphas was he, ²¹ which gave counsel to the Jews, ²² that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

And Simon Peter followed Jesus, ²³ and so did another disciple: that disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into ²⁴ the palace of the high priest. ²⁵ But Peter stood at the door without. Then went out ²⁶ that other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto ²⁷ her that kept the door, and brought in Peter. Then ²⁸ saith ²⁹ the damsel that kept the door unto Peter, Art not thou also ³⁰ one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not. And the servants and ³¹ officers stood ³² there, who had made ³³ a fire of coals; for it was cold: and they warmed themselves: and Peter stood with them, and warmed himself.

The high priest then asked Jesus ³⁴ of his disciples, and of his doctrine. Jesus ³⁵ answered him, I spake ³⁶ openly to the world; I ever taught ³⁷ in the synagogue, and ³⁸ in the temple, whither the Jews always resort; and ³⁹ in secret have I said nothing. ⁴⁰ Why askest thou me? ask ⁴¹ them which heard ⁴² me, what I have said unto them: behold, ⁴³ they know what I said. And when he had thus spoken, ⁴⁴ one of the ⁴⁵ officers which stood by ⁴⁶ stroke Jesus ⁴⁷ with the palm of his hand, saying, ⁴⁸ Answerest thou the high priest so? Jesus answered him, If I have ⁴⁹ spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me? Now ⁵⁰ Annas ⁵¹ had sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.

And Simon Peter stood and warmed ⁵² himself. ⁵³ They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also ⁵⁴ one of his disciples? He denied ⁵⁵ it, and said, I am not. One ⁵⁶ of the servants of the high priest, being ⁵⁷ his kinsman ⁵⁸ whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him? Peter then denied again: and immediately ⁵⁹ the cock crew.

Then led they Jesus from ⁶⁰ Caiaphas unto ⁶¹ the hall of judgment: and it was early; and they themselves went not into the judgment hall, ⁶² lest they should be defiled; but ⁶³ that they might eat the ⁶⁴ passover. ⁶⁵ Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring ⁶⁶ you against this man? They answered and said unto him, If he were not a ⁶⁷ malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee. Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and ⁶⁸ judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful ⁶⁹ for us to put any ⁷⁰ man to death: that the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, ⁷¹ signifying what death he ⁷² should die. Then Pilate entered into the judgment hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, ⁷³ Art thou the King of the Jews? Jesus answered him, Sayest thou this ⁷⁴ thing of thyself, or did ⁷⁵ others tell ⁷⁶ it thee of me? Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests have delivered thee ⁷⁷ unto me: what hast thou done? Jesus answered, ⁷⁸ My kingdom is not ⁷⁹ of this world: if my kingdom were ⁸⁰ of this world, then would ⁸¹ my servants ⁸² fight, that I should not ⁸³ be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from ⁸⁴ hence. Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, ⁸⁵ Thou sayest that I am a king. ⁸⁶ To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should ⁸⁷ bear witness unto ⁸⁸ the truth. ⁸⁹ Every one that is of the truth heareth my ⁹⁰ voice. Pilate saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he ⁹¹ went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, ⁹² I find in him no fault ⁹³ at all. ⁹⁴ But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore ⁹⁵ that I release unto you the King of the Jews?

Then cried they all ⁹⁶ again, saying, ⁹⁷ Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was ⁹⁸ a robber. Then Pilate there- ⁹⁹ fore took Jesus, and ¹⁰⁰ scourged him. And ¹⁰¹ the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put ¹⁰² it on his head, and they put on ¹⁰³ him ¹⁰⁴ a purple robe, and said, Hail, King of the Jews: and they ¹⁰⁵ smote him ¹⁰⁶ with their hands. Pilate therefore ¹⁰⁷ went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that ^{ef}I find no fault in him. Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man. When the chief priests therefore and ^gofficers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for ^fI find no fault in him. The Jews answered him, ^bWe have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because ⁱhe made himself the Son of God.

When Pilate therefore heard that saying, ^khe was the more afraid; and went ^lagain into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, ^mWhence art thou? But ⁿJesus gave him no answer. Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee? Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no ^opower at all against me, except it were ^pgiven thee ^qfrom above: therefore ^rhe that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin. And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Cesar's friend: ^swhosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Cesar. When Pilate therefore heard that saying, ^the brought Jesus forth, and sat down in ^uthe judgment seat in a place that is called the Pavement, but ^vin the Hebrew, Gabbatha. And it was ^xthe preparation of the passover, and about ^ythe sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, ^zBehold your King. But they cried out, ^{aa}Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, ^aWe have no king but Cesar. Then ^bdelivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified.

And ^cthey took Jesus, and led him away. And he ^dbearing his cross ^ewent forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew Golgotha: where they crucified him, and ^ftwo other with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst. And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, ^gJESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS. This title then read many of the Jews: for the place where Jesus was crucified was ^enigh to the city: and it was written ^hin Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin. Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews. Pilate answered, ⁱWhat I have written I have written. Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, ^lto every soldier a part; and also ^mhis coat: now the coat was ⁿwithout seam, ^owoven from the top throughout. They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rent it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, ^pThey parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.

Now there stood by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, ^pMary the wife of ^qCleophas, and Mary Magdalene. When Jesus therefore saw ^rhis mother, and the disciple standing by, ^swhom he loved, he saith unto his mother, ^tWoman, behold thy son. Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother. And from that hour that disciple took her unto ^uhis own home.

After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that ^vthe scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst. Now there was set ^xa vessel full of vinegar: and ^ythey filled a sponge with vinegar, and put ^zit upon ^{aa}hyssop, and put ^{ab}it to his mouth. When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, ^{ac}It is finished: and he bowed ^{ad}his head, and ^{ae}gave up the ghost.

The Jews therefore, ^{af}because it was the preparation, ^{ag}that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath day, (for that sabbath day was ^{ah}a high day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away. Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him. But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs: but one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out ^{ai}blood and water. And he that saw ^{aj}it bare record, and his record is true: and ^{ak}he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe. For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled, ^{al}a bone of him shall not be broken. And again another scripture saith, 'They shall look on him whom they pierced. ^j And after this Joseph of Arimathea, ^k being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly ^k for fear of the Jews, besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took the body of Jesus. And there came also ^l Nicodemus, which at the first came to Jesus by night, and ^m brought a mixture of ⁿ myrrh and ^o aloes, about an hundred ^p pound weight. Then took they the body of Jesus, and ^q wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to ^r bury. Now in the place ^s where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid. There ^t laid they Jesus therefore because of the Jews' ^u preparation day; for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

XX.

The ^a first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth ^b the stone taken away from the sepulchre. Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon ^c Peter, and to the other disciple, ^c whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him. ^d Peter therefore went forth, and ^e that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre. So they ran both together: and the other disciple did out-run Peter, and came first to the sepulchre. And he ^f stooping down, and looking in, saw ^f the linen clothes lying; yet went he not in. Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth ^f the linen clothes lie, and ^g the napkin, that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place ^h by itself. Then went in also ^e that other disciple, which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed. For as yet they ⁱ knew not the ^k scripture, that he must rise again from the dead. Then the disciples went away ^l unto their own home.

But ^m Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she ⁿ stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre, and seeth ^o two angels in white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him. And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and ^o saw Jesus standing, and ^p knew not that it was Jesus. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? ^q whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have ^r borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him. and I will take him away. Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him, ^s Rabboni; which is to say, Master. Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ^t ascended to my Father: but go to ^u my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend ^x unto my Father, and your Father; and ^y to ^y my God, and your God. ^z Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and ^e that he had spoken these things unto her.

^a Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, ^b when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled ^c for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and ^d stood in the midst, and saith unto them, ^e Peace ^e be unto you. And when he had so said, ^f he shewed unto them ^h his hands and his side. ^g Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord. Then said Jesus to them again, ^e Peace ^e be unto you: ^h as ⁱ my Father hath sent me, even ^j so send I you. And when he had said this, ^k he breathed on ^l them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost: ^m whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; ⁿ and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

But Thomas, one of the twelve, ^m called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see ⁿ in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe. And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: ^o then ^o came Jesus, ^p the doors being shut, and stood in the midst. and said, ^e Peace ^e be unto you. After these things Jesus ¹ shewed himself again to the disciples ² at the sea of Tiberias; and on this wise shewed he himself. There were together Simon 2
 Peter, and Thomas ³ called Didymus,
 and ⁴ Nathanael of ⁵ Cana in Galilee, and ⁶ the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples. Simon Peter 3 saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee.
 They went forth, and ⁷ entered into a ship immediately; and ⁸ that night they caught nothing. But when the morn- 4
 ing was now come, ⁹ Jesus stood on the shore: but the disciples ¹⁰ knew not that it was Jesus. Then Jesus saith 5 unto them, ¹¹ Children, have ye any meat? ¹² They answered him, No. And 6 ¹³ he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes. Therefore that dis- 7 ciple ¹⁴ whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he ¹⁵ girt his fisher's coat unto him, (for he was ¹⁶ naked,) and did cast himself into the sea. And the other 8 disciples came in ¹⁷ a little ship; (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the net with fishes. As soon then as they 9 were come to land, they saw ¹⁸ a fire of coals there, and ¹⁹ fish laid thereon, and bread. Jesus saith unto them, Bring 10
 of the ²⁰ fish which ye have now caught.
 Simon Peter ²¹ went up, and drew the 11
 net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty and three: and for all
 there were so many, yet was not the net broken. Jesus saith unto them, 12

²² Come and ²³ dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou?
 13 knowing that it was the Lord. ²⁴ Jesus
 then cometh, and ²⁵ taketh bread, and 14 giveth them, and fish likewise. This is now ²⁶ the third time that Jesus shewed himself ²⁷ to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

15 So when they had ²⁸ dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, ²⁹ Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me ³⁰ more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou know-est that I love thee. He saith unto 16 him, Feed my lambs. He saith to him again the second time, ³¹ Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, ³² Feed 17 my sheep. He saith unto him the third time, ³³ Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him ³⁴ the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, ³⁵ thou knowest all things; thou knowest
 that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, 18 Feed my sheep. ³⁶ Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou ³⁷ girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands,
 and another shall gird thee, and carry 19 thee whither thou wouldest not. ³⁸ This spake he, signifying ³⁹ by what death he should ⁴⁰ glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, ⁴¹ Follow 20 me. Then Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple ⁴² whom Jesus loved following; ⁴³ which also leaned on his breast
 at supper, and said, Lord, which is he 21 that betrayeth thee? Peter seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall 22 this man do? Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he ⁴⁴ tarry ⁴⁵ till I come, what is 23 that to thee? ⁴⁶ Follow thou me. Then went this saying abroad among ⁴⁷ the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?
 24 This is the disciple which testifieth
 of these things, and wrote these things:
 and ⁴⁸ we know ⁴⁹ that his testimony is 25 true. ⁵⁰ And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that ⁵¹ even the world itself could not ⁵² contain the books that should be written. Amen.

And when ^athe day of Pentecost ^bwas fully come, they were all ^cwith one accord in one place. And ⁴ they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began ^hto speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance. And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, ⁱdevout men, out of every nation under heaven. Now ^lwhen this was noised ⁶ abroad, the multitude came together, and were ^kconfounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language. brethren, ¹let me freely speak unto you of ²the patriarch David, that ³he is both dead and buried, and ⁴his sepulchre is with us unto this day. Therefore being ⁵a prophet, and knowing that ⁶God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, ⁷according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne; he seeing ⁸this before, ⁹spake of the resurrection of Christ, ¹⁰that his soul was not left in ¹¹hell, neither his flesh did see corruption. This Jesus ¹²hath God raised up, where- ¹³of we all are ¹⁴witnesses. Therefore ¹⁵being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received ¹⁶of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath ¹⁷shed forth this, which ye now see and hear. For David is not ¹⁸ascended ¹⁹unto the heavens: but he saith himself, ²⁰*The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, until I make thy foes thy foot- ²¹stool. Therefore let all the house of Israel know ²²assuredly, that ²³God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both ²⁴a Lord and Christ.

Now when they heard this, they were ²⁵pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, ²⁶what shall we do? Then Peter said unto them, ²⁷Repent, ²⁸and ²⁹be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ ³⁰for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive ³¹the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and ³²to your children, and to all that are ³³afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call. And with many other words did he ³⁴testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this ³⁵untoward generation.

Then they that gladly ³⁶received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added ³⁷unto them ³⁸about three thousand ³⁹souls. And they ⁴⁰continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in ⁴¹breaking of bread, and in prayers. And ⁴²fear ⁴³came upon every soul: and ⁴⁴many wonders and signs were done by the apostles. And all that believed were ⁴⁵to- ⁴⁶gether, and ⁴⁷had all things common; and ⁴⁸sold their possessions and goods, ⁴⁹and and parted them to all men, ⁵⁰as every ⁵¹*man* had need. And they, ⁵²continuing daily ⁵³with one accord ⁵⁴*in the temple, and ⁵⁵breaking bread ⁵⁶from house to house, did eat their meat with ⁵⁷gladness and singleness of heart, ⁵⁸praising God, and having ⁵⁹favoured with all the people. And the Lord ⁶⁰added to the church daily ⁶¹such as should be saved.

ch. 5. 15. & 14. 23. & 15. 21. & 20. 23. & 22. 19. & 26. 11. ⁶²See John 16. 22. ⁶³Luke 24. 53. ⁶⁴Luke 2. 52. ch. 4. 33 (Gk.). ⁶⁵ver. 41. ch. 5. 14. & 11. 24. ⁶⁶See Luke 13. 23.

Now Peter and ⁶⁷John ⁶⁸went up together ⁶⁹into the temple at ⁷⁰the hour ⁷¹of prayer, being ⁷²the ninth hour. And a certain man ⁷³lame from his mother's womb was carried, ⁷⁴whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, ⁷⁵to ask alms of them ⁷⁶that entered into the temple; who seeing Peter and John about to go into ⁷⁷the temple, asked an alms. And Peter, ⁷⁸fastening his eyes upon him with John, ⁷⁹said, Look on us. And he ⁸⁰gave heed unto them, expecting to receive some- ⁸¹thing of them. Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none: but such as I have give I thee: ⁸²In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and ⁸³walk. And he took him by the right hand, and lift ⁸⁴him up: and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength, and he ⁸⁵leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and ⁸⁶leaping, and praising God. And ⁸⁷all the people saw him walking and praising God: and they ⁸⁸knew that it was he which ⁸⁹sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

And as the lame man which was healed ⁹⁰held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in ⁹¹the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly ⁹²wondering. And when Peter saw it, he ⁹³answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why ⁹⁴look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or ⁹⁵holiness we had made this man to walk? The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, ⁹⁶the God of our fathers, hath ⁹⁷glorified his Son Jesus; whom ye ⁹⁸delivered up, and ⁹⁹denied him in the presence of 3 the resurrection from the dead. And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now eventide. Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand. And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes, and Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem. And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, By what power, or by what name, have ye done this? Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel, if we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole; be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole. This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner. Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

 13 Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus. And beholding the man which was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it. But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves, saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath been done by them is manifest to all them that dwell in Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it. But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name. And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus. But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye. For ^gwe cannot but ²⁰ speak the things which ^hwe have seen and heard. So when they had further ²¹ threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, ⁱbecause of the people: for all ^kmen ^kglorified God for ^lthat which was done. For the man was above forty ²² years old, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

And being let go, they went to ^mtheir ²³ own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them. And when they heard that, they ²⁴ lift up their voice to God ⁿwith one accord, and said, ^oLord, ^pthou art God, ^qwhich hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is: who by the mouth of thy ²⁵ servant David hast said, ^rWhy did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things? The kings of ²⁶ the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his ^uChrist. For ^sof a truth against ^tthy holy child ²⁷ Jesus, ^uwhom thou hast anointed, both ^xHerod, and ^yPontius Pilate, with ^zthe Gentiles, and ^athe people of Israel, were gathered together, for to do what- ²⁸ soever thy hand and thy counsel ^bdetermined before to be done. And now, ²⁹ Lord, ^cbehold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all ^dboldness they may speak thy word, by stretching forth thine hand to heal; ³⁰ and that ^esigns and wonders may be done ^fby the name of ^gthy holy child Jesus. And when they had prayed, ³¹ the place ^hwas shaken where they were assembled together; and ⁱthey were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with ^dboldness.

And the multitude of them that believed were of ^jone heart and of ^kone soul: neither said any ^lof them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but ^lthey had all things common. And with great ^mpower gave ³³ the apostles ⁿwitness of ^othe resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great ^pgrace was upon them all. Neither was there ³⁴ any among them that lacked: ^qfor as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold, and ^rlaid ³⁵ them down at the apostles' feet: and

^s distribution was made unto every man ³⁶ ^taccording as he had need. And Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed ^uBarnabas, (which is, being interpreted, The son of consolation.) a Levite, ^{and} of the country of ^xCyprus, having land, ³⁷ sold it, and brought the money, and ^rlaid it at the apostles' feet.

But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession, and ^akept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and ^blaid it at the apostles' feet. But Peter said, Ananias, why hath ^cSatan ^dfilled thine heart ^lto lie to ^fthe Holy Ghost, and to ^akeep back part of the price of the ⁴ land? Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou ^econceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but ^funto ⁵ God. And Ananias hearing these words ^gfell down, and gave up the ghost: ^hand great fear came on all them that heard ⁶ these things. ⁱAnd the young men arose, ^jwound him up, and carried ^{him} out, and buried him. And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came ⁸ in. And Peter ^kanswered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much. ⁹ Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to ^{kk}tempt ^fthe Spirit of the Lord? behold, ^lthe feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry ¹⁰ thee out. Then ^gfell she down straightway at his feet, and ^gyielded up the ghost: and ⁱthe young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying ^{her} forth, buried her by her husband. ^hAnd great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.

¹² And ^mby the hands of the apostles were many ⁿsigns and wonders wrought among the people; (and they were all ^owith one accord in ^pSolomon's porch. ¹³ And of the rest ^qdurst no man join himself to them: but ^rthe people magnified them. And believers were the more ^sadded to the Lord, multitudes ¹⁵ both of men and women.) Insomuch that they brought forth the sick ^linto

the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least ^tthe shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them. There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing ^usick folks, and them which were ^vvexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

Then ^xthe high priest rose up, and ^yall they that were with him, (which is the sect of the ^ySadducees,) and were filled with ^lindignation, and ^zlaid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common ^aprison. But ^bthe angel of the Lord by night ^copened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said, Go, stand and speak ^din the temple to the people all ^ethe words of this life. And when they heard that, ^fthey entered ^ginto the temple ^gearly in the morning, and taught. ^hBut the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called ⁱthe council together, and all ^kthe senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought. But when the ^lofficers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told, saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within. Now when the ^mhigh priest and the ⁿcaptain of the temple and the chief priests heard these things, they ^odoubted of them whereunto this would grow. Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing ^fin the temple, and teaching the people. Then went the ^mcaptain with the ^lofficers, and brought them without violence: ^ofor they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned. And when they had brought them, they set them before ^lthe council: and the high priest asked them, saying, Did not we ^astraitly command you that you should not teach in this name? and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and ^rintend to bring this man's ^sblood upon us. Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men. ^uThe God of our fathers ^xraised up Jesus, ^ywhom ye slew and ^zhanged on a tree. Him hath God exalted ^awith his right hand to be ^ba Prince and ^ca Saviour, for to give ^dre-pentance to Israel, and ^eforgiveness of sins. And ^fwe are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, ^gwhom God hath given to them that obey him.

When they heard that, they were cut ^hto the heart, and ⁱtook counsel to slay them. Then stood there up one in ^jthe council, a Pharisee, named ^kGamaliel, ^la doctor of law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apostles forth a little space; and said unto them, Ye men of Israel, ^mtake heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these men.

For ⁿbefore these days rose up Theudas, ^oboasting himself to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as ^pobeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

After this man rose up Judas of Galilee in the days of ^othe taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished; and all, even as many as ^pobeyed him, were dispersed. And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: ^qfor if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought: but if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found ^reven ^qto fight against God. And to him they agreed: and when they had ^rcalled the apostles, and ^sbeaten them, they ^rcommanded that they should not speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go. And they departed from the presence of ^jthe council, ^trejoicing that they were ^ucounted worthy to suffer shame for his name. And daily ^xin the temple, and ^yin every house, ^zthey ceased not to teach and ^apreach Jesus Christ.

And in those days, ^awhen the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the ^bGrecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected ^cin the daily ministration. Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, ^dIt is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and ^eserve ^ctables. Wherefore, brethren, ^flook ye out among you seven men ^gof honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business. But we will ^hgive ourselves continually to prayer, and to ⁱthe ministry of the word. And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, ^ka man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and ^lPhilip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and ^mNicolas a ⁿproselyte of ^oAntioch: whom they set before the apostles: and when they had ^pprayed, they ^qlaid their hands on them. And ^rthe word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly; and ^sa great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

And Stephen, full of faith and power, ^tdid great ^uwonders and miracles among the people. Then there arose certain ^vof the synagogue, which is called the synagogue of the Libertines, and ^wCyrenians, and ^xAlexandrians, and of them of ^yCilicia and of ^zAsia, disputing with Stephen. And they were not able to ^aresist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake. Then ^bthey suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God. And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and ^ccame upon him, and ^dcaught him, and brought him to ^ethe council, and set up ^ffalse witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this ^gholy place, and the law: for we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall ^hdestroy this place, and shall change the ⁱcustoms which Moses delivered us. And all that sat in ^ethe council, ^klooking stedfastly on him, saw his face as it had been ^lthe face of an angel.

And ²² Moses was learned in all ^athe wisdom of the Egyptians, and was ^bmighty in words and in deeds. And when he was ²³ full forty years old, ^cit came into his heart ^dto visit his brethren the children of Israel. And seeing one ^eof them suffer wrong, he defended ^fhim, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote ²⁴ the Egyptian: ^gfor he supposed his brethren would have understood how that God by his hand would deliver them: but they understood not. ²⁵ And the ²⁶ next day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one ^{again}, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another? But he that did his neighbour wrong ²⁷ thrust him away, saying, ^fWho made thee a ruler and a judge over us? Wilt ²⁸ thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday? ²⁹ Then fled Moses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, ^hwhere he begat two sons. And when forty years were expired, ³⁰ there appeared to him in the wilderness ^kof mount Sina an angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush. When Moses saw ⁱit, he wondered at ³¹ the sight: and as he drew near to ^lbehold ^{it}, the voice of the Lord came unto him, ^{saying}, ^mI am the God of ³² thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then ⁿMoses trembled, and durst not ^lbehold. Then said the ³³ Lord to him, ^oPut off ^{thy} shoes from thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground. ^pI have seen, ³⁴ I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt. This Moses ³⁵ whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send ^{to be} a ruler and a deliverer ^qby the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush. ^rHe brought ³⁶ them out, after that he had shewed ^swonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and ^tin the Red sea, and ^uin the wilderness ^wforty years. This is ³⁷ that Moses, which said unto the children of Israel, ^xA prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, ^ylike unto me;

38 him shall ye hear. This is he, ^ythat was in the ^zchurch in the wilderness with ^athe angel which spake to him in the mount Sina, and ^{with} our fathers: ^bwho received ^{the} lively ^coracles to give unto us: to whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust ^{him} from ^{them}, and in their hearts ^dturned ^{back again} into Egypt, saying unto Aaron, ^eMake us gods to go before us: for ^{as for} this Moses, which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not ⁴¹ what is become of him. And ^fthey made a calf in those days, and ^goffered sacrifice unto the idol, and ^{rejoiced in} ⁴² the works of their own hands. Then God ^{turned}, and ^{gave} them up to worship ^{the} host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, ¹O ye house of Israel, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices ^{by} ^{the space of} forty years in the wilderness? Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of ^mMoloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will ⁴⁴ carry you away beyond Babylon. Our fathers had ^othe tabernacle of Witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, ^lspeaking unto Moses, ^pthat ^{he} should make it according to ⁴⁵ fashion that he had seen. Which also our fathers ^lthat came after ^qbrought in with ^rJesus into the possession of the Gentiles, ^swhom God drove out before the face of our fathers, ^tunto the days of David; who ^ufound favour before God, and ^wdesired to find a tabernacle for the God of Jacob. ^xBut Solomon ⁴⁸ built him a house. ^yHowbeit ^zthe most High ^adwelleth not in temples ^bmade with hands; as saith the prophet, ^cHeaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what ^{is} the place of my rest? Hath not my hand made all these ^{things}? ⁵¹ Ye ^{de}stiffnecked and ^{df}uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always ^gresist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers ^{did}, so ⁵² do ye. ^hWhich of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which shewed before of the coming of ⁱthe Just One; of whom ^kye have been now the betrayers and murderers: who have received the law ⁵³ ^lby the disposition of angels, and have not ^mkept ^{it}.

When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth. But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, and said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God. Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord, and cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul. And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit. And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep. And a Saul was consenting unto his death.

And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles. And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him. As for Saul, he made havock of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison. Therefore they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word. Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them. And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did. For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed. And there was a great joy in that city. But there was a certain man, called Simon, which beforetime in the same city used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one: to whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God. And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries. But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. Then Simon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.

Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John: who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost: (for as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.) Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost. And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. But Peter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money. Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God. Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee. For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity. Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me. And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.

And the angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert. And he arose and went: and behold, a man of Ethiopia, an eunuch of great authority under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to Jerusalem for to worship, was returning, and sitting in his chariot read

Esaias the prophet. Then the Spirit ²⁹ said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot. And Philip ran ³⁰ thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Esaias, and said, ^a Understandest thou what thou readest? And he said, How can I, except some man should ^b guide me? And ^c he desired Philip that he would come up and sit with him. The place of the scripture ³² which he read was this, ^d He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth: in his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth. And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man? Then Philip ^e opened his mouth, and ^f began at the same ^g scripture, and ^h preached unto him Jesus. And as they went on their way, they ³⁶ came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water; what doth ⁱ hinder me to be baptized? And Philip said, ^j If thou believest with all thine heart, ^k thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that ^l Jesus Christ is ^m the Son of God. And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him. And when they were come up out of the water, ⁿ the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way ^o rejoicing. But Philip was found at ^p Azotus: and passing through he ^q preached in all the cities, till he came to ^r Cesarea.

And ^a Saul, yet ^b breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto ^c the high priest, and desired of him letters to ^d Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any ^e of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem. ^f And as ^g he journeyed, he came near ^d Damascus: and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven: and he fell to the earth, ^h and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou ⁱ me? And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus ^j whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks. ⁶ And he trembling and astonished said, Lord, ^h what wilt thou have me to do? ^h See Luke 3. 10. ⁱ Comp. Ezek. 3. 22. And the Lord ^{said} unto him, ⁱ Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told ⁷ thee what thou must do. And ⁱⁱ the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, ^j hearing a voice, but seeing ⁸ no man. And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, ^k he saw no man: but ^l they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus. And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink. ¹⁰ ^m And there was a certain disciple at ^d Damascus, named Ananias; and to him said the Lord in ⁿ a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord. And the Lord ^{said} unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for ^{one} called Saul, of ^o Tarsus: ¹² for behold, he prayeth, and hath seen in ⁿ a vision a man named Ananias coming in, and ^p putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight. ¹³ Then Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, ^q how much evil he hath done to thy ^r saints at Jerusalem: and here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all ^s that call on thy name. But the Lord said unto him, Go ^{thy} way: for he is ^t a chosen vessel unto me, ^u to bear my name before ^x the Gentiles, and ^y kings, and the children of Israel: for ^z I will shew him how great things he must ¹⁷ suffer for my name's sake. ^a And Ananias went his way, and entered into ^b the house; and ^c putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and ^d be ¹⁸ filled with the Holy Ghost. And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been ^e scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and ^f was baptized, ¹⁹ and when he had received meat, he was strengthened. ^g Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at ²⁰ Damascus. And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is ²¹ ^h the Son of God. But all that heard him were amazed, and said; Is not this he that ⁱ destroyed them ^k which called on this name in Jerusalem, ^l and came hither for that ^m intent, ⁿ that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?

Then the disciples took him by night, and ^qlet him down by the wall in a ^rbasket. And ^swhen Saul was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple. But ^tBarnabas took him, and brought him ^uto the apostles, and declared unto them ^xhow he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and ^yhow he had ^zpreached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus. And ^ahe was with them ^acoming in and going out at Jerusalem. And he ^zspake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the ^bGrecians: but ^cthey went about to slay him. Which when ^dthe brethren knew, they brought him down to ^eCesarea, and sent him forth to ^fTarsus. Then had ^gthe churches rest throughout all Judea and Galilee and ^hSamaria, and were ⁱedified; and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the ^kcomfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied.

^{*}And it came to pass, as ^lPeter passed throughout all quarters, he came down also to ^mthe saints which dwelt at ⁿLydda. And there he found a certain man named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy. And Peter said unto him, Aeneas, ^oJesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately. And all that dwelt at ⁿLydda and ^pSaron saw him, and ^qturned to the Lord.

Now there was at ^rJoppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called ^sDorcas: this woman was full of ^tgood works and almsdeeds which she did. And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid ^uher in an ^vupper chamber. And forasmuch as ⁿLydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not ^udelay to ^vcome to them. Then Peter arose and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the ^vupper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she ⁴⁰was with them. But Peter ^xput them all forth, and ^ykneeled down, and prayed; and turning ^{him} to the body ^zsaid, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat ⁴¹up. And he gave her ^{his} hand, and lift her up, and when he had called ^athe saints and widows, presented her alive. ⁴²And it was known throughout all ^rJoppa; and ^bmany believed in the Lord. ⁴³And it came to pass, that he tarried many days in Joppa with one ^cSimon a tanner.

There was a certain man in ^aCesarea called Cornelius, a centurion of the ²*band* called the Italian band, a ^cdevout man, and ^done that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the ³people, and prayed to God alway. ^eHe saw in ^fa vision evidently, about the ninth hour of the day, ^{ff}an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, ⁴Cornelius. And when he ^glooked on him, ^hhe was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms ⁱare come up ^jfor ⁵a memorial before God. And now send men to ^kJoppa, and call for ^{one} Simon, whose surname is ^lPeter: he lodgeth with one ¹Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: ^mhe shall tell thee what ⁷thou oughtest to do. And when the angel which spake unto Cornelius was departed, he called two of his ⁿhousehold servants, and a ^cdevout soldier of them ⁸that ^owaited on him continually; and when he had declared all ^{these things} unto them, he sent them to Joppa.

⁹On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, ^pPeter went up upon ^qthe house to pray ¹⁰about ^rthe sixth hour: and he became very hungry, and would have eaten: but while they made ready, he fell into ^{5a}a trance, and ^ssaw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as ^{it had been} a great sheet knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth: ¹²wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air. ¹³And there came a voice to him, Rise,

Peter; kill, and eat. But Peter said, ¹⁴ Not so, Lord; for ^u I have never eaten any thing that is ^v common or ^w unclean. And the voice spake unto him again the ¹⁵ second time, What God hath cleansed, that ^x call not thou common. This was ¹⁶ done thrice: and the vessel was received up again into heaven.

Now while Peter ^y doubted in himself ¹⁷ what this ^z vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius had made inquiry for Simon's house, and ^z stood before ^a the gate, and called, and asked ¹⁸ whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there. While Peter ¹⁹ thought on the vision, the spirit said unto him, Behold, ^b three men seek thee: arise therefore, and get thee down, and ^c go with them, ^d doubting nothing: for I have sent them. Then Peter went ²⁰ down to the men which were sent unto him from Cornelius; and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come? And they said, ²¹ Cornelius the centurion, a just man, and ^e one that feareth God, and ^f of good report among all the nation of the Jews, was ^g warned from God by a ^h holy angel to send for thee into his house, and ⁱ to hear words of thee. Then called he ²² them in, and lodged them. And on the morrow Peter went away with them, and ^j certain ^k brethren from Joppa accompanied him. And the morrow after ²³ they entered into ^l Cesarea. And Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and near friends.

And as Peter was coming in, Corne- ²⁴ lius met him, and ^m fell down at his feet, and ⁿ worshipped him. But Peter took ²⁵ him up, saying, Stand up; ^o I myself also am a man. And as he talked with him, ²⁶ he went in, and found ^p many that were come together. And he said unto them, ²⁷ Ye know how that it is an ^q unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew ^r to keep company, or come unto one of another nation; but ^s God hath shewed me that ²⁸ I should not call any man common or unclean. Therefore came I unto you ²⁹ without gainsaying, as soon as I was sent for: I ask therefore for what intent ye have sent for me? And Cornelius ³⁰ said, ^t Four days ago I was ^u fasting until this hour; and at ^v the ninth hour I prayed in my house, and behold, ^x a man stood before me in ^y bright clothing, and said, Cornelius, ^z thy prayer is heard, ³¹ and thine alms are had in remembrance ^a in the sight of God. ^a Send therefore to Joppa, and call hither Simon, whose surname is Peter; he is lodged in the house of one Simon a tanner by the sea side: who, when he cometh, shall speak ³² unto thee. Immediately therefore I sent to thee; and ^b thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.

Then Peter ^c opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is ³³ ^d no respecter of persons: but ^e in every nation ^f he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him. ³⁴ The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching ^g peace by Jesus Christ: (^h he is ⁱ Lord of all:) that word, I say, you know, which was published throughout all Judea, and ^j began from Galilee, after the baptism which ³⁵ John preached; how God ^k anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for ^l God was with him. ³⁶ And we are ^m witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; ⁿ whom they slew and hanged on a tree: him ^o God raised up the third day, and shewed ³⁷ him openly; ^p not to all the people, but unto ^q witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, ^r who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. And ³⁸ ^s he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to ^t testify that ^u it is he which was ^x ordained of God to be the Judge ^y of quick and dead. To him give ³⁹ ^z all the prophets witness, that through his name ^a whosoever believeth in him shall receive ^b remission of sins.

While Peter yet spake these words, ⁴⁰ ^c the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word. And ^d they of the circumcision which believed were astonished, ^e as many as came with Peter, because that ^f on the Gentiles also was ^g poured out ^h the gift of the Holy Ghost. ⁴¹ For they heard them ⁱ speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then ^j answered Peter, Can any ^k man ^l forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost ⁴² ^m as well as we? And he ⁿ commanded them to

But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing answered me again from heaven, What times: and all were drawn up again into

were three men ^kalready come unto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea unto me. And the spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover ^lthese six ^abrethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house: and he shewed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood
and said unto him, Send men to Joppa,
and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter; who shall tell thee ^mwords, ^l whereby thou and ⁿall thy house shall be saved. And as I began to speak, ^othe Holy Ghost fell on them, ^pas on us at the beginning. Then ^qremembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, ^rJohn indeed baptized with water;
but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost. ^sForasmuch then as God gave them the like ^tgift as he did unto us,
who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ;
what was I, that I could ^uwithstand God? When they heard these things,
they held their peace, and ^xglorified God, saying, ^yThen hath God also to the Gentiles granted ^zrepentance unto life.

19 Now ^athey which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose
about Stephen travelled as far as ^bPheni-ce, and ^cCyprus, and ^dAntioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only. And some of them were men of ^eCyprus and ^eCyrene, which, when they were come to ^dAntioch, spake unto the ^fGrecians, ^gpreaching the Lord Jesus.
21 And ^hthe hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number ⁱbelieved, 22 and ⁱturned unto the Lord. Then ^jtidings of these things came unto the ears
of the church which was in Jerusalem:
and they sent forth ^kBarnabas, that he should go as far as ^dAntioch. Who,
when he came, and had seen ^lthe grace
of God, was glad, and ^mexhorted them
all, that with ⁿpurpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord. For he was ^oa good man, and ^pfull of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people 25 ^qwas added unto the Lord. ^{*}Then departed Barnabas to ^rTarsus, for to seek Saul: and when he had found him, he brought him unto ^sAntioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves ^twith the church,
and taught much people, and the ^udisci-
ples were called ^uChristians first in ^sAntioch.
27 And in these days came ^xprophets 28 from Jerusalem unto ^sAntioch. And there stood up one of them named ^yAgabus, and signified by the spirit that there should be great ^zdearth throughout all ^athe world: which came to pass in 29 the days of ^bClaudius Cesar. Then the ^tdisciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send ^rrelief unto
the ^dbrethren which dwelt in Judea:
30 ^uwhich also they did, and sent it to ^tthe elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

And when he had ⁴ apprehended him, he put him in ^hprison, and delivered him to four ⁱquaternions of soldiers to keep him; intending after ^jEaster to bring him forth to the people. Peter therefore was kept in prison: but ^kprayer was made without ceasing ^kof the church unto God for him. And ⁶ when ^aHerod would have brought him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with ^ltwo chains: and the keepers before the door kept the prison. And behold, ^mthe angel of the Lord ⁿcame upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and ^ohe smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands. And the ⁸ angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and ^pbind on thy sandals. And so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. And ⁹ he went out, and followed him; and wist not that it was true which was done by the angel; but thought ^qhe saw ^ra vision. When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city; ^swhich opened to them of his own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and forthwith the angel departed from him. And when Peter was ^tcome to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety, that the Lord hath sent ^uhis angel, and ^whath delivered me out of the hand of ^aHerod, and from all ^xthe expectation of the people of the Jews. And when he had ^yconsidered the thing, ¹² he came to the house of Mary the mother of ^zJohn, whose surname was ^aMark; where many were gathered together ^bpraying.

And as Peter knocked at the door of ¹³ ^cthe gate, ^da damsel came ^lto hearken, named Rhoda. And when she knew ¹⁴ Peter's voice, she opened not ^cthe gate ^efor gladness, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before ^cthe gate. And they ¹⁵ said unto her, Thou art mad. But she ^fconstantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, It is ^ghis angel. But ¹⁶ Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished. But he, ^hbeckon- ¹⁷ ing unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go shew these things unto ¹⁸ ^hch. 13. 16. & 19. 33. & 21. 40.

ⁱJames, and to ^kthe brethren. And he departed, and went into another place. ¹⁸ Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what ¹⁹ was become of Peter. And when ^lHerod had sought for him, and found him not, he ^mexamined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judea to ⁿCesarea, and there abode.

whose name was Bar-jesus: which was with the ²deputy of the country, Sergius Paulus, a prudent man; who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God. But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith. Then Saul, (who also is called Paul,) filled with the Holy Ghost, set his eyes on him, and said, O full of all subtilty and all mischief, thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to ³pervert the ⁴right ways of the Lord? And now behold, ⁵the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun ⁶for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking ⁷some to lead him by the hand. Then the deputy, when he saw what was done, believed, being ⁸astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

Now when Paul and his company loosed from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia: and John departing from them returned to Jerusalem. But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and sat down. And after the reading of the law and the prophets the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say on. Then Paul stood up, and beckoning with his hand said,

Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, give audience. The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, and with a high arm brought he them out of it. And about the time of forty years suffered he their manners in the wilderness. And when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, he divided their land to them by lot. And after that he gave unto them judges about the space of four hundred and fifty years, until Samuel the prophet. And afterward they desired a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of forty years. And when he had removed him, he raised up unto them David to be their king; to whom also he gave testimony, and said, I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfil all my will. Of this man's seed hath God according to his promise raised unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus: when John had first preached before his coming the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel. And as John fulfilled his course, he said, Whom think ye that I am? I am not he. But behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose. Men and brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent. For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath day, they have fulfilled them in condemning him. And though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate that he should be slain. And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre. But God raised him from the dead: and he was seen many days of them which came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his witnesses unto the people. And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that the promise which was made unto the fathers, God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, I will give you the sure mercies of David. Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption: but he, whom God raised again, ^asaw no corruption. Be it known unto you therefore, ³⁸ men and brethren, that ^fthrough this man is preached unto you the ^gforgiveness of sins: and ^hby him all that be-³⁹ lieve are ⁱjustified from all things, ^kfrom which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses. Beware therefore, lest ⁴⁰ that come upon you, which is spoken of in ^lthe prophets; ^mBehold ye de-⁴¹ spisers, and wonder, and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which you shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.

And when the Jews were gone out of ⁴² the synagogue, ⁿthe Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them ^othe next sabbath. Now when ⁴³ the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews and ^preligious ^qproselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who, speaking to them, ^rpersuaded them to continue in ^sthe grace of God. And the ⁴⁴ next sabbath day came almost the whole city together to hear the word of God. But when the Jews saw the multitudes, ⁴⁵ ^tthey were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and ^ublaspheming. Then Paul and Barnabas ^xwaxed ⁴⁶ bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should ^yfirst have been spoken to you: but ^zseeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves ^{aa}unworthy of everlasting life, lo, ^bwe turn to the Gentiles. For so hath the Lord ⁴⁷ commanded us, saying, ^cI have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldst be for salvation unto the ends of the earth. And when the Gentiles heard this, they ⁴⁸ were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and ^das many as were ordained to eternal life believed. And the word ⁴⁹ of the Lord was published throughout all the region. But ^ethe Jews stirred up ^fthe ^gdevout and ^hhonourable women, and ⁱthe chief men of the city, and ^jraised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts. But they ^kshook off the dust ⁵⁰ of their feet ^kagainst them, and came unto ^lIconium. And the disciples were filled with ^mjoy, and with ⁿthe Holy Ghost.

And it came to pass in ^aIconium, that they went both together ^binto the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jews ² and also of the Greeks believed. But ^cthe unbelieving Jews ^dstirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil ³ affected against ^ethe brethren. Long time therefore abode they ^fspeaking boldly in the Lord, ^gwhich gave testimony unto ^hthe word of his grace, and granted ⁱsigns and wonders to be done ⁴ by their hands. But the multitude of the city was divided: and ^jpart held with the Jews, and part with the ^kapostles. And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Jews with their rulers, ^lto use them ⁶ despitefully, and to stone them, they were ^mware of it, and ⁿfled unto ^oLys- tra and ^pDerbe, cities of ^qLycaonia, and ^runto the region that lieth round ⁷ about: and there they preached the gospel.

And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were ⁿreceived of the church, and ^of the apostles and ^helders, and they ^odeclared all things that God had done with them. But there ¹rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees which believed, saying, ^cThat it was needful to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses.

And the apostles and ^helders came together for to consider of this matter. And when there had been much ^edisputing, Peter rose up, and said unto them, Men and brethren, ye know how that ^aa good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe. And God, ^qwhich knoweth the hearts, ^rbare them witness, ^sgiving them the Holy Ghost, ^teven as ^uhe did unto us; and ^uput no difference between us and them, ^xpurifying their hearts ^yby faith. stain from ^ppollutions of idols, and from ^qfornication, and from ^rthings strangled, and from ^rblood. For Moses of old time hath in every city them that preach him, ^sbeing read in the synagogues every sabbath day.

Then pleased it the apostles and ^zelders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to ^uAntioch with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas surnamed ^xBarsabas, and ^ySilas, ^zchief men among ^athe brethren: and they wrote letters by them after this manner; The apostles and ^telders and ^abrethren ^bsend greeting unto the ^abrethren which are of the Gentiles in ^uAntioch and ^cSyria and ^{cd}Cilicia: Forasmuch ²⁴as we have heard, that ^ccertain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law: to whom we gave no such commandment: ²⁵fit seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, men ²⁶that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. We have sent ²⁷therefore ^hJudas and Silas, who shall also tell you the same things by ⁱmouth. For ²⁸fit seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things; that ²⁹*ye* abstain from ^kmeats offered to idols, and from ^bblood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. ³⁰*Fare ye well.*

So when they were dismissed, they ³⁰came to ^uAntioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle: which when they ³¹had read, they rejoiced for the ^lconsolation. And ^hJudas and Silas, being ^oprophets also themselves, ^pexhorted the brethren with many words, and ^qconfirmed them. And after they had tarried ³²there a space, they were let go ^rin peace from the brethren unto the apostles. Notwithstanding it pleased ^sSilas to ³⁴abide there still. ^tPaul also and Barnabas continued in ^uAntioch, teaching and ^upreaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

And some days after Paul said unto ³⁶Barnabas, Let us go again and visit our brethren ^xin every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see ³⁷how they do. And Barnabas determined to take with them ^yJohn, whose surname was Mark. But Paul thought not good to take him with them, ^zwho departed from them from ^aPamphylia, and went not with them to the work.

³⁹And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so ^bBarnabas took ⁴⁰^yMark, and sailed unto ^cCyprus; and Paul chose ^dSilas, and departed, being ^erecommended by the brethren unto ^fthe grace of God. And he went through ⁴¹^eSyria and Cilicia, ^bconfirming the churches.

Then came he to ^aDerbe and ^aLystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named ^bTimotheus, ^cthe son of a certain woman, which was a Jewess, and believed; but his father was a Greek: ²which ^dwas well reported of by the brethren that were at ^aLystra and ^eIconium. ³Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and ^ftook and circumcised him because of the Jews which were in those quarters: for they ^gknew all that his father was a Greek. And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the ^hdecrees for to keep, ⁱthat were ordained of the apostles and ^kelders which ⁵were at Jerusalem. And so were ^lthe churches established in the faith, and ⁶increased in number daily. Now when they had gone throughout ^mPhrygia and the region of ⁿGalatia, and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the ⁷word in ^oAsia, after they were come to Mysia, they assayed to go into ^pBithynia: but the Spirit suffered them not. ⁸And they passing by Mysia came down ⁹to ^qTroas. And ^ra vision appeared to Paul in the night; There stood a man of ^xMacedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help ¹⁰us. And after he had seen ^rthe vision, immediately ^swe endeavoured to go into ^xMacedonia, ^tassuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the ¹¹gospel unto them. Therefore loosing from ^qTroas, we ^ucame with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next ¹²day to Neapolis; and from thence to ^wPhilippi, which is ^lthe chief city of that part of ^xMacedonia, and ^{ya}a colony:

and we were in that city abiding certain days.

And on the ¹sabbath we went out of ¹³ the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made; and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither. And a certain woman ¹⁴ named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of ²Thyatira, ^awhich worshipped God, heard us: whose ^bheart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul. And ¹⁵ when she was baptized, ^cand her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and ^dabide there. And she ^econstrained us. And it came ¹⁶ to pass, as we went to ^fprayer, a certain damsel possessed with ^ga spirit ¹of ^hdivination met us, which brought her masters ⁱmuch gain by soothsaying: the same ¹⁷ followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, ^kThese men are the servants of ¹the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation. And this did she many ¹⁸ days. ^kBut Paul, ^mbeing grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ ⁿto come out of her. ^oAnd he came out the same hour. And ^pwhen her masters ¹⁹ saw that the hope of their ⁱgains was gone, they caught Paul and ^qSilas, and ^rdrew them into the ¹market-place unto the rulers, and brought them ²⁰ to ^sthe magistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, ^tdo exceedingly trouble our city, and ^uteach customs, which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, ^vbeing Romans. And the multitude rose up together against them: and the ^smagistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded ^wto beat them. And ²³ when they had laid many ^xstripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging ^ythe jailor to keep them safely: who, ²⁴ having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner ²prison, and made their feet fast ^ain the stocks.

And ^bat midnight Paul and ^cSilas prayed, and sang praises unto God: and the prisoners heard them. And suddenly ²⁶ ^dthere was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken: and immediately all ^ethe doors were opened, and every one's bands were loosed. And ^fthe keeper of the prison ²⁷ ^gawaking out of his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, he drew out his sword, and would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been ²⁸ fled. But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are ²⁹ all here. Then he called for a light, and ^hsprang in, and came trembling, and ³⁰ ⁱfell down before Paul and ^cSilas, and brought them out, and said, Sirs, ^kwhat must I do to be saved? And they said, ³¹ ¹Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and ^mthy house. ³² And they spake unto him the word of the Lord, and to ⁿall that were in his house. And he took them ⁿthe same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and ¹was baptized, he and ^mall his, straightway. And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with ^mall his house.

And when it was day, ^othe magistrates sent the sergeants, saying, Let ³⁶ those men go. And ^fthe keeper of the prison told this saying to Paul, ^oThe magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore depart, and ^pgo in peace. ³⁷ But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us openly ^quncondemned, being ^qRomans, and have cast us into prison; and now do they thrust us out privily? nay verily; but let them come themselves and fetch us out. And the sergeants told these words unto ^othe magistrates: and ^rthey feared, when they ³⁹ heard that they were Romans, ^aand they came and besought them, and brought them out, and ^sdesired them to depart out of the city. And they went out of the prison, and entered into ¹the house of Lydia: and when they had seen ^uthe brethren, they ^xcomforted them, and departed.

Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to ^aThessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews: and Paul, ^bas his manner was, went in unto them, and three sabbath days reasoned with them ³ ^cout of the scriptures, ^dopening and alleging, that ^eChrist must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead; and that this ^fJesus, ¹whom I preach ⁴ unto you, is Christ. ^gAnd some of them believed, and consorted with Paul and ^hSilas; and of the ⁱdevout ^kGreeks a great multitude, and of ¹the chief ⁵ women not a few. which believed not, ⁿ moved with envy, took unto them certain ^o lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an uproar, and assailed the house of ^p Jason, and sought to bring them out to the people. And when they found them not, they ^q drew Jason and certain ^q brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying, ^r These that have ^s turned ^t the world upside down are come hither also; whom Jason hath ^u received: and these all do contrary to the ^v decrees of Cesar, ^w saying that there is another king, one Jesus. And they troubled the people and ^x the rulers of the city, when they heard these things. And when they had taken ^y security of Jason, and ^z of the other, they let them go.

And ^a the brethren immediately ^x sent away Paul and ^b Silas by night unto Berea: who coming thither ^b went into the synagogue of the Jews. These were ^c more ^y noble than those in ^a Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and ^z searched the scriptures ^a daily, whether those things were so. Therefore many of ^d them believed; also of ^b honourable women which were Greeks, and of men, not a few. But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God had preached of Paul at ^e Berea, they came thither also, and stirred up the people. And then immediately the ^d brethren ^d sent away Paul to go as it were to the sea: but ^e Silas and ^f Timotheus abode there still. And they that ^g conducted Paul brought him unto ^h Athens: and ⁱ receiving a commandment unto ^e Silas and ^f Timotheus for to come to him with all speed, they departed.

^k Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city ^l wholly given to idolatry. Therefore ^l disputed he ^m in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the ⁿ devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him. Then certain philosophers of the Epicureans, and of the Stoicks, encountered him. And some said, What will this ^o babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because ^o he preached unto them Jesus, and ^p the resurrection. And they took ^q him, and brought him unto ^r Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is? For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean. (For all the Athenians and ^s strangers which were there spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell, or to hear some new thing.) Then Paul stood in the midst of ^t Mars' hill, and said, ^u Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in ^v all things ye are too ^v superstitious. For as I passed by, and beheld your ^w devotions, I found an altar with this ^x inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly ^y worship, ^z him declare I unto you. ^a God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is ^b Lord of heaven and earth, ^c dwelleth not in temples ^d made with hands; neither is worshipped with men's hands, ^e as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all ^f life, and breath, and all things; and hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath ^g determined the times before appointed, and ^h the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, ⁱ though he be not far from every one of us: for ^j in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of ^k your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, ^l we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device. And the times of this ignorance God ^m winked at; but ⁿ know commandeth all men every where to repent: ^o because he hath appointed a day, in the which ^p he will judge ^q the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ^r ordained; ^s whereof he ^t hath given assurance unto all men, in that ^u he hath raised him from the dead.

And when they heard of ^v the resurrection of the dead, some mocked: and others said, ^w We will hear thee again of this matter. So Paul departed from among them. Howbeit certain men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Dionysius the ^x Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

After these things Paul departed from Athens, and came to ^a Corinth; and ²⁴ And a certain Jew named ^b Apollos, born at ⁱ Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to ²⁵ Ephesus. And it came to pass that, while ^a Apollos was at ^b Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts came to ^c Ephesus: and finding certain disciples, he said unto them, Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that ^sthey should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus. When they heard ⁵*this*, ^hthey were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. And when Paul had ⁶laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they ^jspoke with tongues, and ^kprophesied. And ⁷all the men were about twelve. And ⁸he went ^linto the synagogue, and ^mspoke boldly for the space of three months, ⁿdisputing and ^opersuading the things concerning the kingdom of God. But ⁹when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of ^p*that* way before the multitude, he departed ^qfrom them, and separated the ^rdisciples, ⁿdisputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus. And this continued by the space of ^stwo ¹⁰years; so that all they which dwelt in ^tAsia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks. And ^uGod ¹¹wrought ^wspecial miracles by the hands of Paul: so that ^xfrom his body were ¹²brought unto the sick ^yhandkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and ^zthe evil spirits went out of them.

* Then certain of the vagabond Jews, ¹³^aexorcists, ^btook upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth. And ¹⁴there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and ^cchief of the priests, which did so. And the evil spirit answered ¹⁵and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye? And the man in whom ¹⁶the evil spirit was leapt on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that ^{they} fled out of that house ^dnaked and wounded. And this was ¹⁷known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at ^eEphesus; and ^ffear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. And many that be- ¹⁸lieved came, and ^gconfessed, and shewed their deeds. Many also of them ¹⁹which used curious arts brought their books together, and burned ^{them} before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found ^{it} fifty thousand ^hpieces of silver. I have been there, ^qI must also see ²²Rome. So he sent into ^rMacedonia two of ^tthem that ministered unto him, ^sTimotheus and ^tErastus; but he himself ²³stayed in ^uAsia for a season. And the same time there arose ^wno small stir ²⁴about ^x*that* way. For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines for Diana, brought ^yno small gain unto the craftsmen; ²⁵whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we have our wealth. Moreover ye see and hear, that not alone at ^eEphesus, but almost throughout all ^uAsia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that ^zthey be no gods, which are ²⁷made with hands: so ^{that} not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought; but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana ^ashould be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all ^hAsia and ^bthe ²⁸world worshippeth. And when they heard ^{these sayings}, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great ^{is} Diana of the Ephesians. And the whole city was filled with ⁱconfusion: and having ^ccaught ^dGaius and ^eAristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's ^fcompanions in travel, they rushed with one accord ³⁰into the theatre. And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the ³¹disciples suffered him not. And certain of the chief of ^hAsia, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring ^{him}that ^{he} would not adventure himself into ³²the theatre. Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was ⁱconfused; and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together. And they ^kdrew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And ^lAlexander ^mbeckoned with the hand, and would have ⁿmade ³⁴*his* defence unto the people. But when ^{they} knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great ^{is} Diana of the Ephesians. And when the townclerk had ³⁵appeased the people, he said, ^Ymen of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is ^aa worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which ³⁶tell down from Jupiter? nothing ^prashly. For ye have brought ³⁷ hither these men, which are neither ^qrobbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess. But if ye inquire any thing ³⁹ concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a ^vlawful assembly. For we ⁴⁰ are in danger to be ^wcalled in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse. And when he had ⁴¹ thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

And after the uproar was ceased, Paul called unto ^ahim ^bthe disciples, and ^cembraced ^dthem, and ^edeparted for to go into ^dMacedonia. ^{*}And when he had ² gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece, and there abode three months: ³ and ^ewhen the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into ^fSyria, he purposed to return through ^dMacedonia. And there accompanied him into ^gAsia Sopater of ^hBerea; and of the ⁱThessalonians, ^kAristarchus and Secundus; and ^kGaius of ^lDerbe, and ^mTimotheus; and of ^gAsia, ⁿTychicus and ^oTrophimus. And ⁷ upon ^tthe first day of the week, when ^athe disciples came together to ^ubreak bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued ⁸ his speech until midnight. And there ⁸ were many ^vlights in ^wthe upper chamber, where they were gathered together. And there sat in a ^xwindow a certain ⁹ young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep: and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third ^yloft, and was taken up dead. And Paul went ¹⁰ down, and ^zfell on him, and embracing ^{him} said, Trouble not yourselves; ^afor his life is in him. When he therefore ¹¹ was come up again, and had ^bbroken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed. And we went before to ship, and sailed unto Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, ¹⁴ minding himself to go afoot. And when he met with us at Assos, we took him ¹⁵ in, and came to Mitylene. And we sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chios: and the next day we arrived at Samos, and tarried at Trogylium; and ^ethe next day we came to ¹⁶ ^dMiletus. For Paul had determined to sail by ^eEphesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, ^fto be at Jerusalem ^gthe day of Pentecost. And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called ¹⁸ ^hthe elders of the church. And when they were come to him, he said unto them,

Ye know, ⁱfrom the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I ¹⁹ have been with you at all seasons, serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and with many tears, and temptations, which befell me ^kby the lying in wait of the Jews: and how ^lI kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, ¹but have shewed you, and have taught you publicly, and from house to house, ^mtestifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, ⁿrepentance toward God, and ^ofaith toward our Lord Jesus Christ. XXI. And it came to pass, that after we were gotten from them, and had launched, we ⁵⁶ came with a straight course unto ⁵⁷ Cos, and the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara: and finding a ship sailing over unto ⁵⁸ Phenicia, we went aboard, and set forth. Now when we had discovered ⁵⁹ Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into ⁶⁰ Syria, and landed at ⁶¹ Tyre: for ⁶² there the ship was to unlade her burden. And finding ⁶³ disciples, we tarried there seven days: who said to Paul ⁶⁴ through the Spirit, that he should not ⁶⁵ go up to Jerusalem. And when we had accomplished those days, we departed and went our way; and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and we ⁶⁶ kneeled down on the shore, and prayed. And when we had ⁶⁷ taken our leave one of another, we took ship; and they returned ⁶⁸ home again. And when we had finished our course from ⁶⁹ Tyre, we came to ⁷⁰ Ptolemais, and saluted ⁷¹ the brethren, and abode with them one day. And the next day we ⁷² that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto ⁷³ Cesarea: and we entered into the house of ⁷⁴ Philip ⁷⁵ the evangelist, which was ⁷⁶ one ⁷⁷ of the seven; and abode with him. And the same ⁷⁸ man had four daughters, virgins, ⁷⁹ which did prophesy. And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Judea a certain ⁸⁰ prophet, named ⁸¹ Agabus. ⁸² And when he was come unto us, he took Paul's ⁸³ girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith ⁸⁴ the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that oweth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the ⁸⁵ hands of the Gentiles. And when we heard these things, both we, and they of that place, besought him not to ⁸⁶ go up to Jerusalem. Then Paul answered, What mean ye to weep and to break mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, ⁸⁷ but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus. ⁸⁸ And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, ⁸⁹ The will of the Lord be done. And after those days we took up our ⁹⁰ carriages, and ⁹¹ went up to Jerusalem. There went with us also ⁹² certain of the ⁹³ disciples of ⁹⁴ Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of ⁹⁵ Cyprus, an old ⁹⁶ disciple, with whom we should lodge.

And when we were come to Jerusalem, ⁹⁷ the brethren ⁹⁸ received us gladly. ⁹⁹ And the day following Paul went in with us unto ¹⁰⁰ James; and all ¹⁰¹ the elders were present. And when he had saluted them, he ¹⁰² declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by ¹⁰³ his ministry. And when they heard it, they ¹⁰⁴ glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe; and they are all ¹⁰⁵ zealous of the law: and they ¹⁰⁶ are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the ¹⁰⁷ customs. What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come. Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have ¹⁰⁸ a vow on them; them take, and ¹⁰⁹ purify thyself with them, and be at charges with them, that they may ¹¹⁰ shave their heads: and all may know that those things, whereof ¹¹¹ they were informed concerning thee, are nothing; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and keepest the law. As touching the Gentiles which believe, ^awe have written and concluded that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication. Then Paul took himself with them ^yentered into the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that ^zan offering should be offered for every one of them. And when ^athe seven days were almost ended, ^bthe Jews which were of ^cAsia, ^bd when they saw him in the temple, ^estirred up all the people, and ^flaid hands on him, crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man, that teacheth all men every where against the people, and ^gthe law, and this place: and further brought Greeks also into the temple, and ^hhath polluted this holy place. (For they had seen before with him in the city ⁱTrophimus an ^kEphesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.) And all the city was moved, and the people ^lran together: and ^mthey took Paul, and drew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doors were shut. And as they went about to kill him, tidings came unto ⁿthe chief captain of the ^oband, that all Jerusalem ^ewas in an uproar. ^pWho immediately took soldiers and centurions, and ran down unto them: and when they saw ⁿthe chief captain and the soldiers, they left beating of Paul. Then ⁿthe chief captain came near, and took him, and commanded him ^qto be bound with ^rtwo chains; and demanded who he was, and what he had done. And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude: and when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into ^sthe castle. And when he came upon ^tthe stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the people. For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, ^uAway with him.

And as Paul was to be led into ^sthe castle, he said unto the ⁿchief captain, May I speak unto thee? Who said, Canst thou speak Greek? ^vArt not thou that Egyptian, which ^wbefore these days ^wmadest an uproar, and leddest out into ^xthe wilderness four thousand men that were murderers? But Paul said, I am a man which am a Jew of ^yTarsus, a city in ^zCilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and, I beseech thee, suffer me to speak unto the people. And when he had given him licence, Paul stood on ^tthe stairs, and ^abeckoned with the hand unto the people. And when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in ^bthe Hebrew tongue, saying,

^aMen, brethren, and fathers, hear ye my defence which I make now unto you. (And when they heard that he spake in ^bthe Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he saith,) I am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, yet brought up in this city ^dat the feet of ^eGamaliel, and taught according to ^fthe perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and ^gwas zealous towards God, ^has ye all are this day. And ⁱI persecuted ^kthis way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women. As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all ^lthe estate of the elders: ^mfrom whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there, bound unto Jerusalem, for to be punished. ⁿAnd it came to pass that, as I made my journey, and was come nigh unto Damascus about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me. And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest. And they that were with me saw indeed the light, and were afraid; but they ^oheard not the voice of him that spake to me. And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do. And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus. And ^pone Ananias, a ^qdevout man according to the law, ^rhaving a good report of all the Jews which dwelt there, ^scame unto me, and stood, and said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. hour I looked up upon him. And he ¹⁴ said, 'The God of our fathers hath ^uchosen thee, that thou shouldst ^wknow his will, and ^xsee that ^yJust One, and shouldst ^zhear the voice of his mouth. For thou shalt be his ^awitness ^bunto ¹⁵ all men of what ^cthou hast seen and heard. And now why tarriest thou? ¹⁶ arise, and ^dbe baptized, and ^ewash away thy sins, ^fcalling on the name of the Lord. And it came to pass that, ¹⁷ ^gwhen I was come again to Jerusalem, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in ^ha trance; and ⁱsaw him saying ¹⁸ unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: ^kfor they will not receive thy testimony concerning me. And I said, Lord, they know ¹⁹ that ^lI imprisoned and ^mbeat in every synagogue them that believed on thee: and when the blood of thy ⁿmartyr ²⁰ Stephen was shed, I also was standing by, and ^oconsenting unto his death, and ^pkept the raiment of them that slew him. And he said unto me, De- ²¹ part: ^qfor I will send thee ^rfar hence unto the Gentiles.

And they gave him audience unto ²² this word, and then ^slift up their voices, and said, 'Away with such a fellow from the earth: for ^tit is not fit that he should live. And as they cried ²³ out, and cast off ^utheir clothes, and threw dust into the air, the chief cap- ²⁴ tain commanded him to be brought into ^xthe castle, and bade that he should be ^yexamined by scourging; that he might know wherefore they cried so against him. And as they bound him ²⁵ with thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a ^zRoman, and ¹uncondemned? When the centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Roman. Then the chief captain came, ²⁷ and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea. And the ²⁸ chief captain answered, With a great sum ^aobtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free born. Then ²⁹ straightway they departed from him which should have ^bexamined him: and the chief captain also ^bwas afraid, after he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

On the morrow, because he would ³⁰ have known the certainty wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him ^cfrom ^chis bands, and commanded the chief priests and all their ^dcouncil to appear, and brought Paul ^edown, and set him before them. And Paul, ^aearnestly beholding ^bthe council, said, Men and brethren, I have ^elived ^din all good conscience before God until this day. ² And the high priest ^{dd}Ananias commanded them that stood by him to ³ smite him on the mouth. Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou ^fwhited wall: for sittest thou to judge me after the law, and commandest me to be smitten ^gcontrary to the law? And ^hthey that stood by said, ⁴ Revilest thou God's high priest? Then said Paul, ⁱI wist not, brethren, that he was the high priest: for it is written, ^jThou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people. But when Paul perceived that the one part were ^kSadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in ^bthe council, Men and brethren, ^lI am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: ^mof the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in ques- ⁷ tion. And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and the ^kSadducees: and the ⁸ multitude was divided. For the ^kSadducees ⁿsaid that there is no resurrection, neither angel nor spirit: but the ⁹ Pharisees confess both. And there arose a great cry: and the scribes that were of the Pharisees' part arose, and strove, saying, ^oWe find no evil in this man: but ^pif a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, ^qlet us not fight against God. ¹⁰ And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should have been pulled in pieces of them, commanded ^{qq}the soldiers to ^rgo down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into ^sthe castle.

And ^tthe night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for ^uas thou hast ^vtestified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear ¹² witness also ^wat Rome. And when it was day, ^xcertain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves ^yunder a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. ¹³ And they were more than forty which ¹⁴ had made this conspiracy. And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul. Now therefore ye with ^bthe council signify to the chief captain that he ²bring him down unto you to morrow, as though ye would inquire something more ^aperfectly concerning him: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to kill him. And when ¹⁶Paul's sister's son heard of their ^blying in wait, he went and entered into ^cthe castle, and told Paul. Then Paul called ¹⁷one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath a certain thing to tell him. So he took him, and ¹⁸brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee. Then the chief captain ¹⁹took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me? And ²⁰he said, ^dThe Jews have agreed to desire thee that thou wouldest bring down Paul to morrow into ^ethe council, ^das though they would inquire somewhat of him more ^aperfectly. But do ²¹not thou yield unto them: for there ^flie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves ^gwith an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee. So the chief ²²captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, ^hSee thou tell no man that thou hast shewed these things to me. And he called unto him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to ⁱCesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night; and provide them beasts, that they may ²⁴set Paul on, and bring him safe unto Felix ^jthe governor. And he wrote ^a25 letter ^kafter this manner:

Claudius Lysias unto the ^lmost excellent ^jgovernor Felix ^msendeth greeting. ⁿThis man was taken of the Jews, and should have been killed of them: then came I with ^oan army, and rescued him, ^phaving understood that he was a Roman. And when I would have known ²⁸the cause wherefore they ^qaccused him, I ^rbrought him forth into their ^ecouncil: whom I perceived to be ^qaccused ^oof 29

questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge ^tworthy of death ³⁰or of bonds. And ^uwhen it was told me how that the Jews ^vlaid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and ^wgave commandment to his accusers also to say before thee what they had against him. ^xFarewell.

³¹Then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him ³²by night to Antipatris. On the morrow they left ^ythe horsemen to go with him, ³³and returned to ^ethe castle: who, when they came to ⁱCesarea, and delivered the epistle to ^jthe governor, presented ³⁴Paul also before him. And when ^jthe governor had read the letter, he asked of what ^zprovince he was: ^aand when he understood that he was of ^aCilicia; ^bI will hear thee, said he, ^cwhen thine accusers are also come. And he commanded him to be kept in ^dHerod's ^ejudgment hall.

And after ^afive days ^bAnanias the high priest ^cdescended with the elders, and ^dwith a certain orator named Tertullus, who informed ^dthe governor against ²Paul. And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying,

Seeing that by thee we enjoy great ^equietness, and that very worthy deeds are done unto this nation by thy ^eprovidence, we ^faccept it always, and in all places, ^gmost noble Felix, with all thankfulness. Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy ^hcle-mency ⁱa few words. For we have found this man ^{ka}a pestilent fellow, and ^{la}a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout ^mthe world, and a ringleader ⁶of the ^zsect of the Nazarenes: who also hath gone about ⁿto profane the temple: whom we took, and would have ^ojudged ⁷according to our law. ^pBut the chief captain Lysias came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands, ⁸q commanding his accusers to come unto thee: by ^rexamining of whom thyself mayest take knowledge of all these things, ⁹whereof we accuse him. And the Jews also assented, saying that these things were so.

¹⁰Then Paul, after that ^dthe governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been ^{*}of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully ^aanswer for myself: because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but ^utwelve days since I ^uwent up to Jerusalem ^vfor to worship. ^wAnd they ¹²neither found me in the temple ^xdisputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city: neither can they prove ¹³*the things* whereof they now accuse me. But this I confess unto thee, that after ¹⁴^vthe way which they call ^zheresy, so ^aworship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in ^bthe law and the prophets: and have ¹⁵^chope towards God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a ^cresurrection of the dead, ^dboth of the just and unjust. And herein do I exer- ¹⁶cise myself, ^eto have always a conscience ^fvoid of offence toward God, and ^gtoward men. Now ^hafter ¹⁷many years I came ⁱto bring alms to my nation, and offerings. ^jWhereupon ^kcer- ¹⁸tain Jews from ^lAsia found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult. ^mWho ought to have ¹⁹been here before thee, and object, if they had ought against me. Or else let ²⁰these same here say, if they have found any evil doing in me, ⁿwhile I stood before the council, except it be for this ²¹one voice, that I cried standing among them, ^oTouching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question by you this day.

And when Felix heard these things, ²²having more ^pperfect knowledge of ^qthat way, he deferred them, and said, ^rWhen Lysias the chief captain shall come down, I will ^rknow the uttermost of your matter. And he commanded a centurion ²³to keep Paul, and ^sto let him have liberty, and that he should forbid none of his ^tacquaintance to minister or come unto him. And after certain days, when ²⁴Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ. And as he reasoned of righteousness, ²⁵^utemperance, and ^vjudgment to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; ^wwhen I have a convenient season, I will call for thee. He ²⁶hoped also that ^xmoney should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him ^ythe oftener, and communed with him. But after two years Porcius Festus came ²⁷into Felix' room: and Felix, ^zwilling to shew the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

Now when Festus was come into the ^{XXV.} ^aprovince, ^bafter three days he ^cascend- ^a ch. 23. 34. ^b ch. 28. 17. ^c ver. 9. ^(Gk.). See Luke 2. 4. ² ed from ^dCesarea to Jerusalem. Then ^ethe high priest and ^fthe chief of the Jews ^ginformed him against Paul, and ³besought him, and desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, ^hlaying wait in the way to kill ⁴him. But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at ^dCesarea, and that he ⁵himself would depart shortly thither. Let them therefore, said he, which among you are ⁱable, go down with me, and ⁶accuse this man, if there be any wicked- ⁶ness in him. And when he had tarried among them ⁱmore than ten days, he ^kwent down unto ^dCesarea; and the next day sitting in ^lthe judgment seat, ⁷commanded Paul to be brought. And when he was come, the Jews which ^kcame down from Jerusalem stood round about, and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, ^mwhich they could not ⁸ⁿprove. While he ^oanswered for himself, ^pNeither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, have I offended any thing at all. ⁹But Festus, ^qwilling to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, ^rWilt thou ^cgo up to Jerusalem, and there be ¹⁰judged of these things before me? Then said Paul, I stand at Cesar's ^ljudgment seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou ¹¹^svery well knowest. ^tFor if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may ^udeliver me unto them. ^vI appeal unto Cesar. ¹²Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou ^vappealed unto Cesar? unto Cesar shalt thou go.

laid against him. Therefore, when they ¹⁷ were come hither, without any delay, ^y on the morrow I sat on ¹the judgment seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth. Against whom when the accusers ¹⁸ stood up, they brought none ^aaccusation of such things as I supposed: ^bbut ¹⁹ had certain questions against him of their own ^csuperstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive. And because ¹I doubted of ²⁰ such manner of questions, I asked him ^dwhether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters. But ²¹ when Paul had ^eappealed to be reserved unto the ¹hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cesar. Then ^eAgrippa said unto ²² Festus, I would also hear the man myself. To morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

And on the morrow, when ^fAgrippa ²³ was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and were entered into the place of hearing, with the ^gchief captains, and principal men of the city, at Festus' commandment Paul was brought forth. And ²⁴ Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom ^hall the multitude of the Jews have ⁱdealt with me, both at Jerusalem, and also here, crying that ^khe ought not to live any longer. But ²⁵ when I found that ¹he had committed nothing worthy of death, ^mand that he himself hath ^eappealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him. Of whom ²⁶ I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I might have somewhat to write. For it seemeth to me unreasonable to send a prisoner, and not withal to signify the ^acrimes laid against him. Then Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and ^aanswered for himself:

I think myself happy, king Agrippa, ² because I shall ^aanswer for myself this day before thee touching all the things whereof I am ^baccused of the Jews: ³ specially because I know thee to be expert in all ^ccustoms and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently. My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Jerusalem, know all the Jews; which knew me ^dfrom the beginning, if they would testify, ^ethat after ^fthe most straitest sect of our ^greligion I lived ^ha Pharisee. And now I stand and am judged for ⁱthe hope of ^jthe promise made of God ⁷unto our fathers: unto which promise ^kour twelve tribes, ¹instantly serving ^mGod ¹day and night, hope ⁿto come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I ⁸am ^baccused of the Jews. Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead? ⁹I verily thought with myself, ^ethat I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth. ^pWhich thing I also did in Jerusalem: and many of the ^qsaints did I shut up in prison, having ^rreceived authority from the chief priests; and ^swhen they were put to death, I gave ¹my voice against them.

And ¹I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme; and ^ubeing exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even ¹²unto strange cities. ^vWhereupon ^xas I went to Damascus with authority and ¹³commission from the chief priests, at midday, O king, I saw in the way ^alight from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and ¹⁴them which journeyed with me. And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in ^ythe Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks. ¹⁵And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared unto thee for this ^{purpose}, to ^zmake thee ^aa minister and a ^bwitness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the ¹⁷which I will appear unto thee; delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, ^eunto whom now I send thee, ¹⁸to open their eyes, and to turn them ^efrom darkness to light, and from the ^fpower of Satan unto God, that they may receive ^gforgiveness of sins, and ^hinheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me. Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision: but shewed ⁱfirst unto them of Damascus, and ^kat Jerusalem, and ¹throughout all the coasts of Judea, and then ^mto the Gentiles, that they should repent and

^a See ch. 15. ⁿ turn to God, and do works ^o meet for repentance. For these causes ^p the Jews ²¹ caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me. Having therefore ob- ²² tained ^q help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to ^r small and great, saying none other things than those which ^s the prophets and ^t Moses did say should come: that Christ ²³ should suffer, and that he should be ^u the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew ^x light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.

And as he thus ^y spake for himself, ²⁴ Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, ^z thou art beside thyself; much ^a learning doth make thee mad. But he said, I ²⁵ am not ^{2c} mad, ^b most noble Festus; but speak forth the words of truth and ^c soberness. For the king knoweth of these ²⁶ things, before whom also I ^d speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for this thing was not done in a corner. King Agrip- ²⁷ pa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest. Then Agrippa said ²⁸ unto Paul, Almost thou persuadest me to be a ^e Christian. And Paul said, I ²⁹ would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except ^f these bonds. And when he had ³⁰ thus spoken, the king rose up, and ^g the governor, and ^h Bernice, and ⁱ they that sat with them: and when they were gone ³¹ aside, they talked between themselves, saying, ⁱ This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds. Then said Agrip- ³² pa unto Festus, ^j This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not ^k appealed unto Cesar.

XXVII. And when ^a it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' ^b band. And entering into a ship of ² Adramyttium, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of ^c Asia; one ^d Aristarchus, a Macedonian of ^e Thessalonica, being with us. And the next day we ³ touched at ^f Sidon. And Julius ^g courteously entreated Paul, and ^h gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself. And when we had launched ⁴ from thence, we ⁱ sailed under ^j Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. And ⁵ when we had sailed over the sea of ^k Cilicia and ^l Pamphylia, we came to Myra, ⁶ a city of ^m Lycia. And there the centurion found ⁿ a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy; and he put us therein. And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against ^m Cnidus, ^o the wind not suffering us, we ⁱ sailed under ^p Crete, over against Salmone; and hardly ^q passing it, came unto a place which is called The fair havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea. ⁹ Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, because ^r the fast was now already past, ¹⁰ Paul admonished them, and said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with ^r hurt and much ^s damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also ¹¹ of our lives. Nevertheless the centurion believed the ^s master and the owner of the ship, more than those things which ¹² were spoken by Paul. And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might attain to Phenice, and there to winter; which is a haven of ^p Crete, and lieth toward the south west and north west.

And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their ¹³ purpose, loosing thence, they ^q sailed close by ^p Crete. But not long after there ^r arose ^u against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon. And when the ship was caught, and could not bear ¹⁶ up into the wind, we let her drive. And running under a certain island which is called Claudia, we had much work to ¹⁷ come by the boat: which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and fearing lest they should ^v fall into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven. And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the ¹⁹ next day they ^w lightened the ship; and the third day we ^x cast out with our own ²⁰ hands the tackling of the ship. And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved ²¹ was then taken away. But after long abstinence Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ^x ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have loosed from ^p Crete, and to have gained this ²² ^r harm and ^r loss. And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, ²³ but of the ship. For ^y there ^z stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and ^awhom I serve, saying, Fear ²⁴ not, Paul; thou must be brought before Cesar: and lo, God hath ^bgiven thee all them that sail with thee. Wherefore, ²⁵ sirs, ^cbe of good cheer: ^dfor I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me. Howbeit ^ewe must be ^fcast upon ²⁶ a certain island.

But when the fourteenth night was ²⁷ come, as we were driven up and down in Adria, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country: and sounded, and found it twenty ²⁸ fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms. Then fearing lest we ²⁹ should have ^ffallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day. And as the shipmen were ³⁰ about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down ^gthe boat into the sea, ^hunder colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship, Paul said to the centurion and to the ³¹ soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved. Then the soldiers cut off the ⁱropes of the boat, and ^jlet her ^kfall off. And while the day was ³³ coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried and continued fasting, having taken nothing. Wherefore I pray you to take some ³⁴ meat: for this is for your health: for ^kthere shall not a hair fall from the head of any of you. And when he had thus ³⁵ spoken, he took bread, and ^lgave thanks to God in presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eat. Then were they all ^cof good cheer, and ³⁶ they also took some meat. And we were in all in the ship two hundred threescore ³⁷ and sixteen ^msouls. And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea. And when it was day, they knew ³⁹ not the land: but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship. And when they had ⁴⁰ ^ltaken up ^othe anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and ^ploosed the rudder bands, and hoised up the mainsail to the wind, and made toward shore. And falling into a place where two seas ⁴¹ met, ^qthey ran the ship aground; and the forepart stuck fast, and remained unmoveable, but the hinder part was brok-

⁴² en with the violence of the waves. And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, ⁴³ and escape. But the centurion, willing to save Paul, kept them from their purpose; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves first ⁴⁴ into the sea, and get to land: and the rest, some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship. And so it came to pass, ^rthat they escaped all safe to land.

And when they were escaped, ^athen they knew that ^bthe island was called ² Melita. And ^cthe barbarous people shewed us ^dno little ^ekindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and ³ because of the cold. And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his ⁴ hand. And when ^ethe barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, ^fNo doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, ^gyet Vengeance ⁵ suffereth not to live. And he shook off the beast into the fire, and ^hfelt no ⁶ harm. Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw ⁱno harm come to him, they changed their minds, ⁷ and ^ksaid that he was a god. In the same quarters were possessions of ^lthe chief man of the island, whose name was Publius; who received us, and lodged us ⁸ three days ^mcourteously. And it came to pass, that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever and of a bloody flux: to whom Paul entered in, and ⁿprayed, and ^olaid his hands on him, and healed ⁹ him. So when this was done, others also, which had diseases in the island, ¹⁰ came, and were healed: who also honoured us with many ^phonours; and when we departed, they laded us with such things as were necessary.

¹¹ And after three months we departed in ^qa ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the isle, whose sign was Castor ¹² and Pollux. And landing at Syracuse, ¹³ we tarried there three days. And from thence we fet a compass, and came to Rhegium: and after one day the south wind blew, and we came the next day ¹⁴ to Puteoli: where we found ^rbrethren, and were desired to tarry with them

And ⁷some believed the ⁸things which were spoken, and some be- ⁹lieved not. And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost by Esaias the ¹⁰prophet unto our fathers, saying, ¹¹Go unto this people, and say, Hear- ing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall ¹²see, and not perceive: for the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should ¹³heal them. Be it known therefore unto you, that ¹⁴the salvation of God is sent ¹⁵unto the Gentiles, and that they ¹⁶will hear it. And when he had said these ¹⁷words, the Jews departed, and had great ¹⁸reasoning among themselves. ¹⁹And Paul dwelt two whole years in his own hired house, and ²⁰received all ²¹that came in unto him, ²²preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those ²³things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, with all ²⁴confidence, no man for- bidding him.

^acalled to be an apostle, ^bseparated unto the gospel of God, (^cwhich ²he had promised afore ^dby his prophets in the holy scriptures,) concerning his ³Son Jesus Christ our Lord, ^ewhich was ^fmade of the seed of David according to the flesh; and ⁴declared to be ^gthe Son of God with power, according ^hto the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead: by whom ⁱwe have received grace and ^japostleship, ^kfor ⁵obedience to the faith ^lamong all nations, ^mfor his name: among whom are ⁶ye also ⁿthe ^ocalled of Jesus Christ: to ⁷all that be in Rome, beloved of God, ^pcalled to be saints: ^qGrace to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

First, ^oI thank my God through Jesus ⁸Christ for you all, that ^pyour faith is spoken of throughout the whole world. For ^qGod is my witness, ^rwhom I serve ⁹with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that ^swithout ceasing I make mention of you, always in my prayers, ^tmaking ¹⁰request, if by any means now at length I might ^uhave a prosperous journey ^vby the will of God to come unto you. For ¹¹I long to see you, that ^wI may impart unto you ^xsome spiritual gift, to the end you may be established; that is, that ¹²I may be comforted together ^ywith you by

¹³Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that ^zoftentimes I purposed to come unto you, (but ^awas let hitherto,) that I might have ^bsome ^cfruit ^damong you also, even as among other ¹⁴Gentiles. ^eI am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the ^fbarbarians; both ¹⁵to the wise, and to the unwise. So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also.

¹⁶For ^fI am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for ^git is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to ^hthe Jew ⁱfirst, and ^jalso to ^kthe ^lGreek.

¹⁷For therein ^kis the righteousness of God revealed from ^{kk}faith to faith: as it is written, ^lThe just shall live by faith.

sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, ^rdost thou commit sacrilege? ^sthou that makest thy boast of the law, through breaking the law dishonourest thou God? For ^tthe name of God is blasphemed ^uamong the Gentiles through you, as it is written. ^wFor circumcision verily profiteth, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision. Therefore ^xif the uncircumcision keep ^ythe righteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision? And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, ^zjudge thee, who by ^athe letter and circumcision dost transgress the law? For ^bhe is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh: but he is a Jew, ^cwhich is one inwardly; and ^dcircumcision is that of the heart, ^ein the spirit, and not ^fin the letter; ^gwhose praise is ^hnot of men, but of God.

What advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumcision? Much every way: chiefly, because that ^aunto them were committed ^bthe oracles of God. For ^cwhat if some did not believe? shall their unbelief make ^dthe faith of God without effect? ^eGod forbid: yea, let ^fGod be true, but ^gevery man a liar; as it is written, ^hThat thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged. But ⁱif our unrighteousness ^jcommend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? (^kI speak as a man) ^lGod forbid: for then ^mhow shall God judge the world? For if ⁿthe truth of God hath ^omore abounded through ^pmy lie unto his glory; why yet am I also judged as a sinner? And not rather, (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say,) ^qLet us do evil, that good may come? whose damnation is just.

What then? ^rare we better than ^sthey? No, in no wise: for we have before ^tproved both ^uJews and ^vGentiles, that ^wthey are all under sin; as ^xit is written, ^yThere is none righteous, no, not one: there is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God. They are all gone out of the way, they are together ¹become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one. ²Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; ³the poison of asps is under their lips: ⁴whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness: ⁵their feet are swift to shed blood: destruction and misery are in their ways: and the way of peace have they not known: ⁶there is no fear of God before their eyes. Now we know that what ⁷things soever ⁸the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that ⁹every mouth may be stopped, and ¹⁰all the world may become ¹¹guilty before God. ¹²Therefore ¹³by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for ¹⁴by the law is the knowledge of sin.

But now ¹⁵the righteousness of God ¹⁶without the law is manifested, being witnessed by ¹⁷the law and ¹⁸the prophets; even the righteousness of God ¹⁹which is ²⁰by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for ²¹there is no difference: for ²²all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God; being justified ²³freely ²⁴by his grace ²⁵through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: whom God hath ²⁶set forth ²⁷to be a propitiation through faith ²⁸in his blood, ²⁹to declare his righteousness for the ³⁰remission of ³¹sins that are past, through the ³²forbearance of God; ³³to declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus. ³⁴Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? ³⁵of works? Nay: but by the law of faith. Therefore we ³⁶conclude ³⁷that a man is justified by faith ³⁸without the deeds of the law. Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also: seeing ³⁹it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and ⁴⁰uncircumcision through faith. Do we then make void the law through faith?

^c Or, like unto him.

What shall we say then that Abraham ^aour father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found? For if Abraham were ^bjustified by works, he hath ^cwhereof to glory; ^dbut not before God. For ^ewhat saith the scripture? ^fAbraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness. Now ^gto him that worketh is the reward not ^greckoned of grace, but of debt. But ^hto him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, ⁱhis faith is ^gcounted for righteousness. Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God ^gimputeth righteousness ⁱwithout works, saying, ^jBlessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered. Blessed ^kis the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin. ^lCometh this blessedness then upon ^kthe circumcision ^lonly, or upon ^kthe uncircumcision also? for ^ewe say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness. How was it ^lthen reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision. And he received ^mthe sign of circumcision, ⁿa seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had ^{yet} being uncircumcised: that ^ohe might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also: and the father of circumcision to them ^lwho are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of ^{that} faith of our father Abraham, which he had being ^{yet} uncircumcised. For the ^qpromise, that he should be the ^pheir of the world, ^{was} not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith. For ^qif they ^lwhich are of the law ^{be} heirs, faith is ^rmade void, and ^qthe promise made of none effect: because ^sthe law worketh wrath: for ^twhere no law is, ^uthere is no transgression. Therefore ^{it} is of faith, that ^{it} might be ^xby grace; ^yto the end the promise might be sure ^zto all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; ^awho is the father of us all, (as it is written, ^bI have made thee a father of many nations,) ^cbefore ^{him} whom he believed, ^{even} God, ^cwho quickeneth the dead, and calleth ^dthose ^{things} which ^{be} not as though they were. Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations; according to that which was ^{spoken}, ^eSo shall thy seed be. And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now ^fdead, ^gwhen he was about an hundred year old, neither ^{yet} ^hthe deadness of Sara's womb: he ⁱstaggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God; ^{and} ^kbeing fully persuaded that, what he had promised, ^lhe was able also to perform. And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness. Now ^mit was not written for his sake alone, that it ^{was} imputed to him; but for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe ⁿon him that raised up Jesus ^{our} Lord from the dead; ^owho was delivered for our offences, and ^pwas raised ^{again} for our ^qjustification.

Therefore ^abeing justified by faith, we have ^bpeace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ: by whom also ^cwe have access by faith into this grace ^dwherein we stand, and ^erejoice in hope of the glory of God. ^fAnd not only ^{so}, but ^gwe ^gglory in tribulations also: ^hknowing that tribulation worketh patience; and patience, ⁱexperience; and ^jexperience, hope; and ^jhope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God ^kis shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us. For when we were yet without strength, ^lin due time ^lChrist died for the ungodly. ^{For} scarcely for a righteous ^{man} will one die: yet peradventure for a good ^{man} some would even dare to die. But God ^mcommendeth ⁿhis love toward us, in that, ^owhile we were yet sinners, ^lChrist died for us. Much more then, being now justified ^oby his blood, ^pwe shall be saved from wrath through him. ^{For} if, ^qwhen we were enemies, ^rwe were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we ^{shall} be saved by ^shis life. ^fAnd not only ^{so}, but we also ^ejoy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the ¹atonement.

Wherefore, as ¹by one man sin entered ¹²into the world, and ¹death by sin; and so death passed upon ²all men, ¹³for that all have sinned: for until the law ¹³was in the world: but ¹⁴sin is not imputed when there is no law. Nevertheless death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of ¹⁵Adam's transgression, ¹⁶who is the figure of him that was to come. But not as the offence, so ¹⁵also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one ¹⁶many be dead, much more ¹⁷the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto ¹⁸many. And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation, but the free gift is of many offences unto ¹⁹justification. For if ²⁰by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ. Therefore as ²¹by ²²the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so ²³by ²⁴the righteousness of one the free gift came upon ²⁵all men unto ²⁶justification of life. For as by one man's disobedience ²⁷many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall ²⁸many be made righteous. Moreover ²⁹the law ³⁰entered, that the offence might abound. But ³¹where sin abounded, ³²grace did much more abound: that as sin hath reigned unto death, ³³even so might ³⁴grace reign through righteousness unto ³⁵eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord.

VI. What shall we say then? ¹Shall we continue in sin, that ²grace may abound? ³God forbid. How shall we, that ⁴are dead to sin, live any longer therein? Know ye not, that ⁵so many of us as ⁶were baptized ⁷into Jesus Christ ⁸were baptized into his death? Therefore we ⁹are ¹⁰buried with him by baptism into death: that like as ¹¹Christ was raised up from the dead by ¹²the glory of the Father, ¹³even so ¹⁴we also should walk in newness of life. For ¹⁵if we have been ¹⁶planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection: knowing this, that ¹⁷our old man ¹⁸is crucified with him, that ¹⁹the body of sin might be destroyed, that ²⁰henceforth we should not serve sin. For ²¹he that is dead is ²²freed from sin. Now ²³if we be dead with Christ, we believe ²⁴that we shall also live with him: knowing that ²⁵Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no ²⁶more dominion over him. For in that ²⁷he died, ²⁸we died unto sin ²⁹once: but in that he liveth, he ³⁰liveth unto God. ³¹Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be ³²dead indeed unto sin, but alive ³³unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord. Let not ³⁴sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ³⁵ye should obey it in the lusts thereof. Neither ³⁶yield ye your members ³⁷as ³⁸instruments of unrighteousness unto sin: but ³⁹yield yourselves unto God, as ⁴⁰those that are alive from the dead, and your members ⁴¹as ⁴²instruments of righteousness unto God. For ⁴³sin shall not have dominion over you: for ⁴⁴ye are not under the law, but under grace.

15 What then? ¹⁶shall we sin, ¹⁷because we are not under the law, but under grace? ¹⁸God forbid. Know ye not, that ¹⁹to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, ²⁰his servants ye are to whom ye obey: whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness? But God be thanked, ²¹that ye were the servants of sin, but ye have obeyed from the heart ²²that form of doctrine ²³which was delivered you. Being then ²⁴made free from sin, ²⁵ye became the servants of righteousness. ²⁶I speak after the manner of men ²⁷because of ²⁸the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have ²⁹yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to ³⁰iniquity unto iniquity; ³¹even so now ³²yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness. For when ye were ³³the servants of sin, ye were free ³⁴from righteousness. ³⁵What fruit had ye then ³⁶in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for ³⁷the end of those ³⁸things is death. But now being ³⁹made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life. For the ⁴⁰wages of sin is ⁴¹death; but the gift of God is ⁴²eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Know ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man, as long as he liveth? For ^athe woman ^bwhich hath a husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of the husband. So then ^cif, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man. Wherefore, ^dmy brethren, ye also ^eare become dead to the law ^fby the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that ^gwe should bring forth fruit unto God. For when we were in the flesh, ^hthe ⁱmotions of sins, which were by the law, did work ^jin our members ^kto bring forth fruit ^lunto death. But now we are delivered from the law, ^mthat being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve ⁿin newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

What shall we say then? Is the law ^osin? ^pGod forbid. Nay, ^qI had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known ^rjust, except the law had said, ^s"Thou shalt not covet. But sin, ^tmaking ^uoccasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For ^vwithout the law sin was dead. For I was alive ^wwithout the law once; but when the commandment came, sin ^xrevived, and I died. And the commandment, ^ywhich was ordained to life, I found to be unto death. For sin, taking ^zoccasion by the commandment, ^adeceived me, and by it slew me. Wherefore ^bthe law is holy, and the commandment holy, and ^cjust, and ^dgood. Was then that which is good ^emade death unto me? ^fGod forbid. But sin, that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good; that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.

For we know that the law is ^gspiritual: but I am ^hcarnal, ⁱasold under sin. For that which I do I ^jallow not: for ^kwhat I would, that do I not; but what I hate, that do I. If then I do that ^lwhich I would not, I consent unto ^mthe law that it is good. ⁿNow then it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me. For I know that ^oin me (that ^pis, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: ^qfor to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not. For ^rthe good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, ^sthat I do. ^tNow if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin ^uthat dwelleth in me. I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me. For ^vI delight in the law of God after ^wthe inward man: but I see ^xanother law in ^ymy members, ^zwarring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin ^awhich is in my members. O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from ^bthe ^cbody of this death? ^dI thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin.

There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus who ^ewalk not after the flesh, but after ^fthe Spirit. For the law of ^gthe Spirit of life in Christ Jesus ^hhath made me free from ⁱthe law of sin and death. ^jFor ^kwhat the law could not do, in that ^lit was weak through the flesh, ^mGod sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and ⁿfor sin, condemned sin ^oin the flesh: that ^pthe righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, ^qwho walk not after the flesh, but after the ^rSpirit. For ^sthey that are after the flesh do ^tmind ^uthe things of the flesh; but they ^vthat are after the Spirit ^wthe things of the Spirit. For ^xto be carnally minded ^yis ^zdeath; but ^ato be spiritually minded ^bis life and peace. Because ^cthe carnal mind ^dis ^eenmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, ^fneither indeed can be. So then they that ^gare in the flesh cannot please God. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, ^hif so be that ⁱthe Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not ^jthe Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin; but ^kthe Spirit is life because of righteousness. But if the Spirit of ^lhim that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, ^mhe that raised up Christ from the dead ⁿshall also quicken your mortal bodies ^oby his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, ^pnot to the flesh, to live after the flesh. ^qFor ^rif ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do ^amortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live. For as many as ^bare led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. For ^cye have not received ^dthe spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit of ^eadoption, whereby we cry, ^fAbba, Father. ^gThe Spirit it-^hself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are ⁱthe children of God: and if ^jchildren, then ^kheirs; ^lheirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; ^mif so be that we suffer with ⁿhim, that we may be also glorified together. For I ^oreckon that ^pthe sufferings of ^qthis present time are not worthy to be compared with ^rthe glory which shall be revealed in us. For the ^searnest expectation of the creature ^twaiteth for ^uthe manifestation of the sons of God. For ^vthe creature was made subject to ^wvanity, not willingly, but ^xby reason of him who hath subjected ^ythe same, in hope, because the creature itself also shall be ^zdelivered from the bondage of ^{aa}corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God. For we know that ^{ab}the ^{ac}whole creation ^{ad}groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now. And ^{ae}not only ^{af}they, but ourselves also, ^{ag}which have ^{ah}the firstfruits of the Spirit, ^{ai}even we ourselves groan within ourselves, ^{aj}awaiting for ^{ak}the adoption, ^{al}to wit, the ^{am}redemption of our body. For we are saved by hope: but ^{an}hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for? But if we hope for that we see not, ^{ao}then do we with patience ^{ap}wait for ^{aq}it. Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for ^{ar}we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but ^{as}the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered. And ^{at}he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what ^{au}is ^{av}the mind of the Spirit, ^{aw}because ^{ax}he maketh intercession for the saints ^{ay}according to ^{az}the will of God. And we knew that ^{ba}all things work together ^{bb}for good to them that love God, to them ^{bc}who are ^{bd}called according to ^{be}his ^{bf}purpose. For whom he did ^{bg}foreknow, he also did ^{bh}predestinate ^{bi}to be ^{bj}conformed to ^{bk}the image of his Son, that he might be ^{bl}the firstborn amongst many ^{cm}brethren. Moreover whom he did ^{cn}predestinate, them he also ^{co}called: and whom he called, them he also ^{cp}justified: and whom he justified, them he also ^{cq}glorified. What shall we then say to these ^{cr}things? ^{cs}If God ^{ct}be for us, who ^{cu}can be against us? He that ^{cv}spared not his own Son, but ^{cw}delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also ^{cx}freely give us ^{cy}all things? Who shall ^{cz}lay any thing to the charge of ^{da}God's elect? ^{db}It is God that justifieth: ^{dc}who ^{dd}is he that condemneth? ^{de}It is Christ that ^{df}bidied, yea rather, that is risen ^{dg}again, ^{dh}who is even at the right hand of God, who also ^{di}maketh intercession for us. ^{dj}Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? ^{dk}shall ^{dl}tribulation, or ^{dm}distress, or ^{dn}persecution, or famine, or ^{do}nakedness, or peril, or sword? As it is written, ^{dp}For thy sake ^{dq}we are killed all the day long; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter. Nay, in all these ^{dr}things ^{ds}we are more than conquerors through ^{dt}him that loved us. For I am persuaded, that neither ^{du}death, nor life, nor ^{dv}angels, nor ^{dw}principalities, nor ^{dx}powers, nor ^{dy}things ^{dz}present, nor ^{ea}things ^{eb}to come, nor ^{ec}height, nor ^{ed}depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from ^{ee}the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

though the word of God hath taken none effect. For ^tthey are not all Israel, which are of Israel: ^uneither, because they are the seed of Abraham, ^vare they all children: but, ^wIn Isaac shall thy seed be called. That is, ^xThey ^ywhich are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but ^zthe children of the promise are counted for the seed. For this ^ais the word of promise, ^bAt this time will I come, and Sara shall have a son. ^cAnd not only ^dthis; but ^ewhen Rebecca also had conceived by one, ^feven by our father Isaac; (for ^gthe children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that ^hthe purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of ⁱhim that calleth;) it was said unto her, ^jThe ^kelder shall serve the ^lyounger. As ^mit is written, ⁿJacob have I loved, but Esau have I ^ohated.

What shall we say then? ^pIs there ^qunrighteousness with God? ^rGod forbid. For he saith to Moses, ^sI will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion. So then ^tit is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy. For ^uthe scripture saith unto Pharaoh, ^vEven for this same ^wpurpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth. Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will ^xhave mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth. Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he yet find fault? For ^ywho hath resisted his will? ^zNay but, ^aO man, who art thou that ^brepliest against God? ^cShall the thing formed say to him that formed ^dit, Why hast thou made me thus? ^eHath not the potter power ^fover the clay, of the same lump to make ^gone vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour? What if God, willing to shew ^hhis wrath, and to make his power known, ⁱendured with much ^jlong-suffering ^kthe vessels of wrath ^lthat were fitted to destruction: and ^mthat he might make ⁿknown ^othe riches of his glory on ^pthe vessels of mercy, which ^qhe had afore prepared unto glory, even us, whom ^rhe hath called, ^snot of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles? As he saith also in Osee, ^tI will call ^uthem my people, which were not my people; and her beloved, which was not beloved. ^vAnd it shall come to pass, ^wthat in the place where it was said unto them, ^xYe are not my people; there shall they be called the children of the living God. Esaias also crieth concerning Israel, ^yThough the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, ^zyet the remnant shall be saved: for he will finish ^athe work, and cut ^bit short in righteousness: ^cbecause a short work will the Lord make upon the earth. And as Esaias said before, ^dExcept the Lord of sabbath had left us a seed, ^ewe had been as Sodoma, and been made like unto Gomorrha. What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, ^fwhich ^gfollowed not ^hafter righteousness, have ⁱattained to righteousness, ^jeven the righteousness which is of faith. But Israel, ^kwhich followed ^lafter the law of righteousness, ^mhath not ⁿattained to the law of righteousness. Wherefore? Because ^othey sought it not by faith, but as ^pit were by the works of the law. For ^qthey stumbled at ^rthat ^sstumblingstone; as it is written, ^tBehold, I lay in Sion a ^ustumblingstone and rock of ^voffence: and ^wwhosoever believeth on him shall not be ^xashamed.

Brethren, ^amy heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that ^bthey might be saved. For I bear them record ^cthat they have a zeal of God, but ^dnot according to knowledge. For they being ignorant of ^eGod's righteousness, and going about to establish ^ftheir own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God. For ^gChrist is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth. For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That ^hthe man which doeth those ⁱthings shall live by them. But ^jthe righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, ^kSay not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, ^lto bring Christ down ^mfrom above:) or, Who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.) But what saith it? ⁿThe word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach; that if thou shalt ^kconfess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt ^lbelieve in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man ^mbelieveth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. For ⁿthe scripture saith, ^oWho-soever believeth on him shall not be ashamed. For ^pthere is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for ^qthe same Lord over all is ^rrich unto all that call upon him. For ^swhosoever shall ^tcall upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. How then ^ushall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear ^vwithout a preacher? And how shall they preach, ^wexcept ^xthey be sent? as it is written, ^yHow beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things! But ^zthey have not all obeyed the gospel. For Esaias saith, Lord, ^awho hath believed ^bour ^creport? So then faith cometh by ^dhearing, and ^ehearing by the word of God. But ^fI say, Have they not heard? ^gYes verily, ^htheir sound went into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world. But I say, ⁱDid not Israel know? First Moses saith, ^jI will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a ^kfoolish nation I will anger you. But Esaias is very bold, and ^lsaith, ^mI was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me. But to Israel he saith, ⁿAll day ^olong have I stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

XI.

I say then, ^aHath God cast away his people? ^bGod forbid. For ^ced I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, ^dof the tribe of Benjamin. ^eGod hath ^fnot cast away his people ^gwhich he foreknew. Wot ye not what the scripture saith ^hof Elias? how he ⁱmaketh intercession to God against Israel, saying, Lord, ^jthey have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars; and I am left alone, and they ^kseek my life. But what saith ^lthe answer of God unto him? ^mI have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the ⁿknee to the image of Baal. Even so then at this present time also there is ^oa remnant according to the election of ^pgrace. And ^qif by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is ^rno more work. What then? ^sIsrael hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were ^tblinded. (according as it is written, ^uGod hath given them the spirit of ^vslumber, ^weyes that ^xthey should not see, and ears that ^ythey should not hear;) unto this day. ^zAnd David saith, ^aLet their table be made a snare, and a trap, and ^ba stumblingblock, and a recompence unto them: let their eyes be darkened, that ^cthey may not see, and bow down their back ^dalways.

^eI say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? ^fGod forbid: but ^grather ^hthrough their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, ⁱfor to provoke them ^jto jealousy. Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the ^kdiminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fulness? For ^lI speak to you Gentiles, inasmuch as ^mI am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify ⁿmine office: if by any means I may ^oprovoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and ^pmight ^qsave some of them. ^rFor if the casting away of them be the ^sreconciling of the world, what ^tshall the receiving of them be, but life from the ^udead? For if ^vthe firstfruit be holy, ^wthe lump is also holy; and if ^xthe root be holy, so ^yare the branches. And if ^zsome of the branches be broken off, and thou, ^abeing a wild olive tree, wert grafted in ^bamongst them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of ^cthe olive tree; ^dboast not against the branches: but if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee. Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might ^ebe grafted in. Well; because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou ^fstandest by faith. ^gBe not high-minded, ^hbut ⁱfear: for if God spared not the na-

ceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God. For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith. For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office: so we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another. Having then gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith; or ministry, let us wait on our ministering; or he that teacheth, on teaching; or he that exhorteth, on exhortation: he that giveth, let him do it with simplicity; he that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth mercy, with cheerfulness.

Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another; not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord; rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer; distributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality. Bless them which persecute you: bless, and curse not. Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep. Be of the same mind one towards another. Mind not high things, but condescend to men of low estate. Be not wise in your own conceits. Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men. ^{bb} If it be possible, as much ¹⁸ as lieth in you, ^clive peaceably with all men. Dearly beloved, ^davenge not your- ¹⁹ selves, but rather give place unto ^ewrath: for it is written, ^fVengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord. There- ²⁰ fore ^gif thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head. Be not ²¹ overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

Let every ^asoul ^bbe subject unto the higher powers. For ^cthere is no power but of God: the powers that be are ^{1d}ordained of God. Whosoever therefore ^aresisteth ^bthe power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves ^{dd}damnation. For rulers are not a terror to ^egood works, ³ but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and ^fthou shalt have praise of the same: for he is ^gthe minister of God ⁴ to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is ^gthe minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil. Where- ⁵ fore ^hye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also ⁱfor conscience sake. For for this cause pay you ^ktribute also: ⁶ for they are ^gGod's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing. ¹Render therefore to all their dues; ^ktribute to whom tribute is due; ^mcustom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour. Owe no man ⁸ any thing, but to love one another: for ⁿhe that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. For this, ^oThou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, ^{op}Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, ^qThou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. Love worketh no ill to his neigh- ¹⁰ bour: therefore ^ulove is the fulfilling of the law.

And that, knowing ^sthe time, ^sthat ¹¹ now it is high time ^tto awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when ^uwe believed. The night is ¹² far spent, ^vthe day is at hand: let us therefore cast off ^wthe works of dark-

We then ^athat are strong ought to bear the ^binfirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves. ^cLet every one of us please ^dhis neighbour for ^ehis good ^fto edification. ^gFor even Christ pleased not himself; but, as it is written, ^hThe reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me. For ⁱwhatsoever ^jthings were written aforetime were written for our ^klearning, that we through patience and ^lcomfort of the scriptures might have hope. Now the God of patience and consolation grant you ^mto be likeminded one towards another ⁿaccording to Christ Jesus: that ye may ^owith one mind and ^pone mouth glorify ^qGod, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. Wherefore ^rreceive ye one another, as Christ also received us, ^sto the glory of God. Now I say that ^tJesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision ^ufor the truth of God, to ^a confirm the promises made unto the fathers: and ^bthat the Gentiles might ^cglorify God for ^dhis mercy; as it is written, ^eFor this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name. And again ^fhe saith, ^gRejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people. And again, ^hPraise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; and laud him, all ye people. And again ⁱEsaias saith, ^jThere shall be ^ka root of Jesse, and he that ^lshall rise to reign over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles trust. Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.

And ^aI myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of ^bgoodness, filled with all ^cknowledge, able also to admonish one another. Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you ^din some sort, ^eas putting you in mind, ^fbecause of the grace that is given to me of God, that ^gI should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the ^hoffering up of the Gentiles might be ⁱacceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost. I have therefore whereof ^jI may glory through Jesus Christ ^kin those things which pertain to God. For I will not dare to speak of any of ^lthose things ^mwhich Christ hath not wrought by me, ⁿto make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed, through ^omighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God; so that from Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ. Yea, so have I ^pstrived to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, ^qlest I should build upon another ^rman's foundation: but as it is written, ^sTo whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand. For which cause also I have been ^tmuch hindered from coming to you. But now having no more place in these ^uparts, and ^vhaving a great desire these many years to come unto you; whensoever I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, and ^wto be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be ^xsomewhat filled ^ywith your company. Likewise greet the church that is in their house. Salute my wellbeloved Epenetus, who is the firstfruits of Achaia unto Christ. Greet Mary, who bestowed much labour on us. Salute Andronicus and Junia, my kinsmen, and my fellowprisoners, who are of note among the apostles, who also were in Christ before me. Greet Amplias my beloved in the Lord. Salute Urban our helper in Christ, and Stachys my beloved. Salute Apelles my approved in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobulus' household. Salute Herodion my kinsman. Now to him that is of power to stablish you according to my gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery, which was kept secret since the world began, but now is made manifest, and by the scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the everlasting God, made known to all nations for the obedience of faith: to God only wise, be glory through Jesus Christ for ever. THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

CORINTHIANS.

I. PAUL, ^acalled to be an apostle of Jesus Christ ^bthrough the will of God, and ^cSosthenes our brother, unto ^dthe church of God which is at ^eCorinth, ^fto them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, ^gcalled to be ^hsaints, with all that in every place ⁱcall upon the name of Jesus Christ ^jour Lord, ^kboth theirs and ours: ^lgrace be unto you, and peace, ^mfrom God our Father, and ⁿfrom the Lord Jesus Christ.

^oI thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ; that in every ^pthing ye are enriched by him, ^qin all utterance, and ^rin all ^sknowledge; even as ^tthe testimony of Christ was confirmed in you: so that ye come behind in no gift; ^uwaiting for the ^vcoming of our Lord Jesus Christ: ^wwho shall also confirm you unto the end, ^xthat ye may ^ybe ^zblameless ^{aa}in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. ^{ab}God ^{ac}is faithful, ^{ad}by whom ^{ae}ye were called unto ^{af}the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

Now ^{ag}I beseech you, brethren, by ^{ah}the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, ^{ai}that ye all speak the same ^{aj}thing, and ^{ak}that there be no ^{al}divisions among you; but ^{am}that ye be ^{an}perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment. For it hath been declared ^{ao}unto me of you, my brethren, by them ^{ap}which are of the ^{aq}house of Chloe, that there are ^{ar}contentions among you. Now ^{as}this I say, that ^{at}every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of ^{au}Apollos; and I of ^{av}Cephas; and I of Christ. ^{aw}Is ^{ax}Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye ^{ay}baptized in the name of Paul? I thank God that ^{az}I baptized none of you, but ^{ba}Crispus and ^{bb}Gaius; ^{bc}lest any should say that I had ^{bd}baptized in mine own name. And I baptized also the household of ^{be}Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

^{bf}For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: ^{bg}not with wisdom of ^{bh}words, lest the cross of Christ should be ^{bi}made of none effect.

^{bj}For the preaching of the cross is to ^{bk}them that perish ^{bl}foolishness; but unto us ^{bm}which are saved it is ^{bn}the power of God. For it is written, ^{bo}I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will ^{bp}bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.

^{bq}Where ^{br}is the wise? ^{bs}where ^{bt}is ^{bu}the scribe? where ^{bv}is the disputer ^{bw}of this world? ^{bx}hath not God ^{by}made foolish the wisdom ^{bz}of this world? ^{ca}For after that ^{cb}in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, ^{cc}it pleased God by the ^{cd}foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.

^{ce}For ^{cf}the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom: but ^{cg}we preach Christ crucified, ^{ch}unto the Jews a ^{ci}stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks ^{cj}foolishness; but unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ ^{ck}the power of God, and ^{cl}the wisdom of God. Because the foolishness of

God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men. ^{cm}For ^{cn}ye see your ^{co}calling, brethren, how that not many wise ^{cp}men after the flesh, ^{cq}not many ^{cr}mighty, not many ^{cs}noble, ^{ct}are called: but ^{cw}God hath chosen the foolish ^{cu}things of the world to Let a man so account of us, as of ^a the ministers of Christ, and ^b stewards of ^c the mysteries of God. Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found ^d faithful. But with me it is a very small ^e thing that I should be ^f judged of you, or of man's ^g judgment: yea, I ^h judge not mine own self. For ⁱ I know nothing by myself; ^j yet am I not hereby justified: but he that ^k judgeth me is the Lord. Therefore ^l judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, ^m who both will bring to light the hidden ⁿ things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and ^o then shall every man have ^p praise of God.

And these ^q things, brethren, ^r I have ^s in a figure transferred to myself and to Apollos for your sakes; that ye might learn in us ^t not to think of ^u men above that which is written, ^v that no one of you ^a be puffed up for one against another. For who ^b maketh thee to differ from another? and ^c what hast thou that thou didst not ^d receive? now if thou didst receive ^e it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received ^f it? Now ye are full, ^g now ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us: and ^h I would to God ye did reign, that we also might reign with you. For ⁱ I think that God hath set forth ^j us the apostles last, ^k as it were appointed to death: for ^l we are made a ^m spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men. ⁿ We are fools for Christ's sake, but ^o ye are wise in Christ; ^p we are weak, but ye are strong; ye are honourable, but we are despised. Even unto this present hour we both ^q hunger, and ^r thirst, and ^s are naked, and ^t are buffeted, and have no certain dwelling place; and ^u labour, working with our own hands: ^v being reviled, we bless; ^w being persecuted, we suffer ^x it: being defamed, we intreat: we are made ^y as the filth of the world, and ^z are ^{aa} the offscouring of all things unto this day. I write not these ^{ab} things to ^{ac} shame you, but ^{ad} as my beloved sons I warn you. For though you have ten thousand ^{ae} instructors in Christ, yet ^{af} have ye not many fathers: for ^{ag} in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the gospel. Wherefore I beseech you, ^{ah} be ye followers of me. For this cause have I sent unto you ^{ai} Timotheus, ^{aj} who is my beloved son, and ^{ak} faithful in the Lord, who shall ^{al} bring you into remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, ^{am} as I teach every where in every church. Now ^{an} some are ^{ao} puffed up, as though I would not come to you. ^{ap} But I will come to you shortly, ^{aq} as if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are ^{ar} puffed up, but the power. For the kingdom of God ^{as} is not in word, but ^{at} in power. What will ye? ^{au} shall I come unto you ^{av} with a rod, or in love, and ^{aw} in the spirit of meekness?

Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: ^a It is good for a man not to ^b touch a woman. Nevertheless, ² to avoid ^c fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband. ^d Let the husband ³ render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband. The wife ^e hath not power of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband ^e hath not power of his own body, but the wife. ^f Defraud you not one the other, except ⁵ it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to ^g fasting and prayer, and come together again, that ^h Satan ⁱ tempt you not for your ^j incontinency. But I speak this by permission, and ^k not of commandment. For ⁷ I would that all men were ^m even as I myself. But ⁿ every man hath his proper gift of God, ^o one after this manner, and another after that.

I say therefore to the unmarried and ⁸ widows, ^a It is good for them if they abide ^m even as I. But ^p if they cannot ^q contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn. And unto ¹⁰ the married I command, yet ^r not I, but the Lord, ^s Let not the wife depart from her husband: ^t but and if she ¹¹ depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife. But ¹² ^k to the rest speak I, ^u not the Lord: If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she ^w be pleased to dwell with him, let him not ^x put her away. And ¹³ the woman which hath a husband that believeth not, and if he ^w be pleased to dwell with her, let her not ^x leave him. For the unbelieving husband is sancti- ¹⁴ fied by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else ^y were your children unclean; but now are they ^z holy. But if the unbelieving ¹⁵ depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such ^{cases}: but ^a God hath called us ^t to peace. For ^b what knowest thou, O ¹⁶ wife, whether thou shalt ^c save thy husband? or ^t how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt ^c save thy wife? But ^d as God hath distributed to every ¹⁷ man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk. And so ^{dd} ordain I ^c in all churches. Is any man called ¹⁸ being circumcised? ^f let him not become uncircumcised. Is any called in uncircumcision? ^g let him not be circumcised. ^h Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but ⁱ the keeping of the commandments of God. ²⁰ ^k Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called. Art thou called being a servant? care not for it: but if thou mayest be made free, ²² use it rather. For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is ¹ the Lord's freeman: likewise also he that is called, being free, is ^m Christ's servant. ⁿ Ye are bought with a price; ^o be not ye the servants of men. Brethren, ^k let every man, wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

²⁵ Now concerning virgins ^p I have no commandment of the Lord: yet I give ^p my judgment, as ^q one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be ^r faithful. ²⁶ I suppose therefore that this is good for the ^s present ^t distress, I say, ^u that it is good for a man so to be. Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? ²⁸ seek not a wife. ^v But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless such ^w shall have trouble in the flesh: but ^x I spare you. But this I say, brethren, ^y the time is short: ^z it remaineth, that both they that have wives be as though they had none; ^z and they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as ³¹ though they ^a possessed not; and they that use this world, as not ^b abusing it: for ^c the ^d fashion of this world passeth ³² away. But ^e I would have you without carefulness. ^f He that is unmarried careth for the things ^t that belong to the Lord, how he may ^g please the Lord: ³³ but he that is married careth for the things that are of the world, how he may ³⁴ please his wife. ^h There is difference also between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman ^c careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband. ³⁵ And this I speak for your own profit; not that I may ⁱ cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that you may attend upon the Lord without ³⁶ distraction. But if any man think that

Now as touching ^athings offered unto idols, we know that we all have ^bknowledge. ^{bc}Knowledge ^dpuffeth up, but charity ^eedifieth. And ^fif any man ²think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know. But if any man love God, ³the same is known of him. As concerning ⁴therefore the eating of ^athose things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that ^han idol is nothing in the world, and that ⁱthere is none other God but one. For ^kthough there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,) but ^lto us there is but one God, ⁶the Father, ^mof whom are all things, and we ⁿin him; and ^oone Lord Jesus Christ, ^pby whom are all things, and we by him. Howbeit there is not in every ⁷*man* that ^bknowledge: for some ^pwith conscience of the idol unto this hour, eat it as ^aa thing offered unto an idol; and their conscience being weak ^qis defiled. But ^rmeat commendeth us not ⁸to God: for neither, if we eat, ^lare we the better; neither, if we eat not, ^lare we the worse. But ^stake heed ^tlest by ⁹any means this ^uliberty of yours become a ^vstumblingblock ^vto them that are weak. For ^wif any man see thee which ¹⁰hast ^bknowledge sit at meat in ^xthe idol's temple, shall not ^ythe conscience of him which is weak be ^zemboldened to eat ^athose things which are offered to idols; ^wand through thy knowledge shall ¹¹the weak brother perish, ^yfor whom ¹²Christ died? But ^zwhen ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

¹³Wherefore, ^aif meat ^bmake my brother to offend, ^cI will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I ^bmake my brother to offend.

^aAm I not an apostle? am I not ^{aa}free? ^bhave I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord? ^care not you my work in the ²Lord? If I be not an apostle unto others, yet doubtless I am to you: for ^dthe seal of mine ^eapostleship are ye in the Lord. Mine ^{ee}answer to them that ⁴do ^fexamine me is this: Have we not ⁵power ^gto eat and to drink? ^hHave we not power to lead about ^{ia}a sister, a ⁱwife, as well as other apostles, and ^{as}the brethren of the Lord, and ^kCephas? ⁶Or I only and ^lBarnabas, have not we ⁷power ^gto forbear working? Who goeth ^malso? ⁿany time at his own ⁿcharges? who ^oplanteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who ^pfeedeth a ^qflock, and eateth not of the milk of ⁸the ^qflock? Say I these things ^ras a man? or saith not the law the same ⁹also? For it is written in the law of Moses, ^sThou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that ^ttreadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for ¹⁰oxen? Or saith he ^{it}altogether for our sakes? ^uFor our sakes, no doubt, this is written: that ^whe that ploweth should plow in hope; and that he that ^tthresheth in hope should be partaker of his ¹¹hope. ^xIf we have sown unto you spiritual things, ^yis it a great thing if we shall ¹²reap your carnal things? If others be partakers of this power ^yover you, ^{are}not we rather? Nevertheless ^zwe have not used this power; but ^asuffer all things, ^blest we should hinder the gospel ¹³of Christ. Do ye not know that ^cthey which minister about holy things ^llive of the things of the temple? ^{and} they which wait at the altar are partakers with the ¹⁴altar? Even so ^dhath the Lord ordained that they which preach the gospel ¹⁵should live of the gospel. preach the gospel, I have nothing ¹to glory of: for ²necessity is laid upon me; ³yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel! For if I do this thing willingly, I have ⁴a reward: but if against my will, ⁵a dispensation of the gospel is committed unto me. What is my reward then? Verily that, when I preach the gospel, ⁶I may make the gospel of Christ without charge, that ⁷I ⁸abuse not my power in the gospel. For though ⁹I be ¹⁰free from all men, yet have ¹¹I made myself servant unto all, that I might ¹²gain the more. And ¹³unto the ¹⁴Jews I became as a Jew, that I might ¹⁵gain the Jews; ¹⁶to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might ¹⁷gain them that are under the law; ¹⁸to ¹⁹them that are without law, as without law, (being not without law to God, but ²⁰under the law to Christ,) that I might ²¹gain them that are without law. ²²To the weak became I as weak, that I ²³might ²⁴gain the weak: ²⁵I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means ²⁶save some. ²⁷And this I do for the gospel's sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.

Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth ¹the prize? So ²run, that ye may ³obtain. And every man that ⁴striveth for the ⁵mastery ⁶is temperate in all things. Now they ⁷do it to obtain a corruptible ⁸crown; but we an ⁹incorruptible. I therefore ¹⁰so ¹¹run, not as uncertainly; so fight I, not as one that ¹²beateth the air: but ¹³I ¹⁴keep under my body, and ¹⁵bring it into subjection: lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, ¹⁶I myself should be ¹⁷cast away.

X. Moreover, brethren, ¹I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under ²the cloud, and all passed through ³the sea; and were all baptized ⁴unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea; and did all eat the same ⁵spiritual meat; and did all drink the same ⁶spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual Rock that ⁷followed them: and that Rock was Christ. But with many ⁸of them ⁹God was not well pleased: for ¹⁰they were overthrown in the wilderness. Now these things were ¹our ²examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as ³they also lusted. ⁴Neither be ye ⁵idolaters, as ⁶were some of them; as it is written, ⁷The people sat down to eat and drink, and ⁸rose up to play. Neither let us ⁹commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day ¹⁰three and ¹¹twenty thousand. Neither let us tempt Christ, as ¹²some of them also tempted, ¹³and ¹⁴were destroyed of serpents. Neither murmur ye, as ¹⁵some of them also murmured, and ¹⁶were destroyed of ¹⁷the destroyer. Now all these things happened unto them for ¹⁸examples; and ¹⁹they are written for our admonition, ²⁰upon whom the ends of the world are come. Wherefore ²¹let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall. ²²There hath no temptation taken you but ²³such as is ²⁴common to man: but ²⁵God ²⁶is faithful, ²⁷who will not suffer you to be tempted above that you are able; but will with the temptation also make a ²⁸way to escape, that ye may be ²⁹able to bear it. Wherefore, my dearly ³⁰beloved, ³¹flee from idolatry. I speak as to ³²wise men: judge ye what I say. ³³The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the ³⁴communion of the blood of Christ? ³⁵The bread which we break, is it not the ³⁶communion of the body of Christ? For ³⁷we being many are one bread, and ³⁸one body: for we are all ³⁹partakers of that one bread. ⁴⁰Behold Israel ⁴¹after the flesh: ⁴²are not they which eat of the sacrifices partakers of the altar? What say I then? ⁴³that the idol is any thing, or ⁴⁴that which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing? ⁴⁵But ⁴⁶I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, ⁴⁷they sacrifice to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should ⁴⁸have fellowship with ⁴⁹devils. ⁵⁰Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and ⁵¹the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils. Do we ⁵²provoke the Lord to jealousy? ⁵³are we stronger than he? ⁵⁴All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all things ⁵⁵edify not.

isaved. ^a Be ye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ.

Now ^b I praise you, brethren, ^c that ² you remember me in all things, and ^d keep the ¹ ordinances, as I delivered them to you. But I would have you ³ know, that ^e the head of every man is Christ; and ^f the head of the woman is the man; and ^g the head of Christ is God. Every man praying or ^h prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head. But every woman that ⁵ prayeth or ⁱ prophesieth with her head uncovered ^k dishonoureth her head: for that ⁶ is even all one ^l as if she were shaven. For if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorn: but if it be ⁷ ma shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be covered. For a man ⁸ indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as he is the ⁿ image and ^o glory of God: but ^p the woman is the ^q glory of the man. For the man is not of the ⁹ woman; but ^r the woman of the man. Neither was the man created for the woman; but ^r the woman for the man.

¹⁰ For this cause ought the woman to have ^s power on her head because of ^t the angels. Nevertheless ¹¹ neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man, ^u in the Lord. For as ¹² the woman is of the man, ^v even so is the man also by the woman; but ^x all ¹³ things of God. ^y Judge in yourselves: is it comely that a woman pray unto ¹⁴ God uncovered? Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have ¹⁵ long hair, it is a shame unto him? But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given her for a ¹⁶ covering. But ^z if any man ^a seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither ^b the churches of God.

¹⁷ Now in this that I declare unto you I praise you not, that you come together not for the better, but for the worse. ¹⁸ For first of all, when ye come together in the church, ^c I hear that there be ^d divisions among you; and I partly believe ¹⁹ it. For ^e there must be also ^f heresies among you, ^g that they which are ^h approved may be made manifest among ²⁰ you. When ye come together therefore into one place, ⁱ this is not to eat ^j the Lord's supper. For in eating every one ^k taketh before other his own supper: and one is hungry, and ^l another is drunken. ²² What? have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye ^k the church of God, and ¹ shame ¹ them that have not? What shall I say to you? shall I praise ²³ you in this? I praise you not. For ^m I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, ⁿ That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread: and when he had given thanks, he ^o brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is ^p broken for you: this do ¹ in remembrance ^q of me. After the same manner also ^{he} took the cup, ^r when ^{he} had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ²⁶ ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ¹ ye do shew the Lord's death ²⁷ ^s till he come. Wherefore ^t whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord ^u unworthily, shall be ^w guilty of ^x the body and blood of the Lord.

Now ¹ concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, ² I would not have you ignorant. Ye know that ³ ye were Gentiles, ⁴ carried away unto ⁵ these ⁶ dumb idols, ⁷ even as ye were led. Wherefore I give you to understand, that ⁸ no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus ⁹ accursed: and ¹⁰ that ¹¹ no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost. Now ¹² there are diversities of gifts, but ¹³ the same Spirit. And ¹⁴ there are ¹⁵ differences of ¹⁶ administrations, but ¹⁷ the same Lord. And there are diversities of ¹⁸ operations, but it is ¹⁹ the same God which worketh ²⁰ all in all. ²¹ But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal. For to one is given by the Spirit the word of ²² wisdom; to another the word of ²³ knowledge by the same Spirit; to another ²⁴ faith ²⁵ by the same Spirit; to another ²⁶ the gifts of healing by the same Spirit; to another the ²⁷ work-²⁸ ing of ²⁹ miracles; to another ³⁰ prophecy; to another ³¹ discerning of spirits; to another ³² divers kinds of tongues; to another ³³ the interpretation of tongues: but all ³⁴ these worketh ³⁵ that one and the selfsame Spirit, ³⁶ as he will.

For ¹ as the body is one, and hath ² many members, and all the members of ³ that one body, ⁴ being many, are one body: ¹ so also ² is Christ. For ³ by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, ⁴ whether ⁵ we be Jews or ⁶ Gentiles, ⁷ whether ⁸ we be bond or free; and ⁹ we have been ¹⁰ all made to drink into ¹¹ one Spirit. For the body is not one member, but many. ¹² If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; is it ¹³ therefore not of the body? And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; is it therefore not ¹⁴ of the body? If the whole body ¹⁵ were an eye, where ¹⁶ were the hearing? If the whole ¹⁷ were hearing, where ¹⁸ were the smelling? But now ¹⁹ hath God set the members every one of them in the body, ²⁰ as ²¹ it hath pleased him. And if they were all one member, where ²² were the body? ²³ But now ²⁴ are they ²⁵ many members, yet ²⁶ but one body. And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again the head to the feet, I have no need of you. Nay, much more those members of the body, which seem to be ²⁷ more feeble, are necessary: and those ²⁸ members of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we ²⁹ bestow more abundant honour; and our ³⁰ uncomely ³¹ parts have more abundant ³² comeliness. For our comely ³³ parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that ³⁴ part which lacked: ³⁵ that there should be no ³⁶ schism in the body; but ³⁷ that the members should have ³⁸ the same care one for another. And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with ³⁹ it; or one member be honoured, all the members ⁴⁰ rejoice with ⁴¹ it. Now ⁴² we are the body of Christ, and ⁴³ members ⁴⁴ in particular.

And ¹ God hath set some in the church, first ² apostles, secondarily ³ prophets, thirdly ⁴ teachers, after that ⁵ miracles, then ⁶ gifts of healings, ⁷ helps, ⁸ governments, ⁹ diversities of tongues. Are all ¹⁰ apostles? are all ¹¹ prophets? are all ¹² teachers? are all ¹³ workers of miracles? have all the ¹⁴ gifts of healing? ¹⁵ do all speak ¹⁶ with tongues? ¹⁷ do all interpret? But ¹⁸ covet earnestly the best gifts: and yet shew I unto you a more excellent way.

Though I speak with ¹ the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become ² as sounding brass, or ³ as tinkling cymbal. And though I have ⁴ the gift of ⁵ prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all ⁶ knowledge; and though I have all ^efaith, ^fso that I could remove mountains, and have no charity, I am nothing. And ^gthough I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing. Charity ^hsuffereth long, and ⁱis kind; charity ^kenvieth not; charity ^lvaunteth not itself, is not ^mpuffed up, doth not behave itself unseemly, ⁿseeketh not her own, ^ois not easily provoked, ^pthinketh no evil; ^qrejoiceth not in ^riniquity, but rejoiceth ^sin the ^ttruth; ^ubeareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, ^vendureth all things. Charity never faileth: but whether ^wthere be ^xprophecies, they shall ^yfail; whether ^zthere be ^{aa}tongues, they shall cease; whether ^{ab}there be ^{ac}knowledge, it shall ^{ad}vanish away. ^aFollow after charity, and ^{aa}desire ^bspiritual gifts, but rather that ye may ^cprophecy. For he that ^dspeaketh in an ^eunknown tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God: for no ^fman ^gunderstandeth him; howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries. But he that ^hprophecieth speaketh unto men ⁱto ^jedification, and ^kexhortation, and ^lcomfort. He that ^mprophecieth in an unknown tongue edifieth himself; but he that ⁿprophecieth ^oedifieth the church. I would that ye all ^pspake with tongues, but ^qrather that ye ^rpropheciated: for greater ^sis he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, ^texcept he interpret, that the church may receive edifying. Now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by ^urevelation, or by ^vknowledge, or by

^vpropheying, or by ^wdoctrine? And even ^xthings without life giving sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the ^ysounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped? For if ^zthe trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to ^{aa}the battle? So likewise you, except ye utter by the tongue words ^{ab}easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall ^{ac}speak into the air. There are, ^{ad}it may be, ^{ae}so many ^{af}kinds of voices in the world, and none of them ^{ag}is without signification. Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh ^{ah}a ^{ai}barbarian, and he that speaketh ^{aj}shall be a barbarian unto me. Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous ^{ak}of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to ^{al}the edifying of the church. Wherefore let him that ^{am}speaketh in an ^{an}unknown tongue pray ^{ao}that he may interpret. For if I pray in an ^{ap}unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth, but ^{aq}my understanding is unfruitful. What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and will pray with the understanding also: ^{ar}I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing ^{as}with the understanding also. Else when thou shalt ^{at}bless with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the ^{au}unlearned say ^{av}Amen at ^{aw}thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest? For thou verily givest ^{ax}thanks well, but the other is not edified. I thank my God, I ^{ay}speak with tongues more than you all: yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that ^{ba}by my voice I might ^{bb}teach others also, than ten thousand words in an ^{bc}unknown tongue. Brethren, ^{bd}be not children in understanding: howbeit in malice ^{be}be ye children, but in understanding be ^{bf}men. ^{bg}In the law it is written, ^{bh}With men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people; and yet for all that will they not hear me, saith the Lord. Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to them that believe not: but ^{bi}propheying ^{bj}serveth not for them that believe not, but for them which believe. If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in ^{bk}those that are ^{bl}unlearned, or unbelievers, ^{bm}will they not say that ye are mad? But ²⁴ if all ^kprophecy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one ^bunlearned, he is ^mconvinced of all, he is ⁿjudged of all: and thus are the secrets ²⁵ of his heart made manifest; and so ^ofalling down on his face ^phe will worship God, and ^qreport that God is in you of a truth.

How is it then, brethren? when ye ²⁶ come together, every one of you hath ^qa psalm, hath a ^rdoctrine, hath a ^stongue, hath a ^rrevelation, hath an ^sinterpretation. ^tLet all things be done unto edifying. If any man ^speak in an un- ²⁷ known tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course; and let one interpret. But if there be ²⁸ no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God. Let the ^uprophets ²⁹ speak two or three, and let the other ^wjudge. If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, ^xlet the first hold his peace. For ye may all ^kprophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be ^ycomforted. And the spirits of the ^uprophets are subject to the prophets: for God is not the author ³⁰ of ^tconfusion, but of peace, as ^zin all churches of the saints.

^aLet your women keep silence in ³⁴ the churches: for ^ait is not permitted unto them to speak; but ^b*they are commanded* to be under obedience, as also saith ^cthe law. And if they will learn ³⁵ any thing, let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church. What? came ³⁶ the word of God out from you? or came it unto you only? If any man ³⁷ ^dthink himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, ^elet him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you are the commandments of the Lord. But if ³⁸ any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant. Wherefore, brethren, ^fcovet to ³⁹ ^gprophecy, and forbid not ^gto speak with tongues. ^hLet all things be done ⁴⁰ ⁱdecently and in order.

XV. Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you ^athe gospel ^bwhich I preached unto you, which also you have received, and ^cwherein ye stand; by which also ² ye are ^dsaved, if ye ^ekeep in memory ^fwhat I preached unto you, ^eunless ye have believed in vain. For ^fI delivered ³ unto you first of all that which I also ⁴received, how that Christ died ^sfor our sins ^haccording to the scriptures; and that he was buried, and that he rose ^{again} ⁱthe third day ^jaccording to the scriptures: and that ^khe was seen of ^lCephas, then ^mof the twelve: ⁶after that, he was seen of ⁿabove five hundred brethren at once; of whom the greater part ^oremain unto this present, ⁷but some are ^pfallen asleep. After that, he was seen of ^qJames; then of ^rall the apostles. And ^slast of all ^the was seen of me also, as of ^uone born out ⁹of due time. For ^uI am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because ^xI persecuted ¹⁰the church of God. But ^yby the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was ^{bestowed} upon me was not in vain; but ^zI laboured more abundantly than they all: ^ayet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. ¹¹Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

¹²Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, ^bhow say some among you that there is no resurrection ¹³of the dead? But if there be no resurrection of the dead, ^cthen is Christ ¹⁴not risen: and if Christ be not risen, then ^{is} our preaching vain, and your ¹⁵faith ^{is} also vain. Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because we have testified of God ^dthat he raised up Christ: whom he raised not up, if ¹⁶so be that the dead rise not. For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ ¹⁷raised: and if Christ be not raised, your faith ^{is} vain; ^eye are yet in your ¹⁸sins. Then they also which are ^ffallen ¹⁹asleep in Christ are perished. If in this life only we have hope in Christ, ^gwe are ²⁰of all men most miserable. But now ^hhis Christ risen from the dead, and ⁱbecome the firstfruits of them that ^fslept ²¹For ^ksince by man came death, ^lby man came also the resurrection of the dead. ²²For ^mas in Adam all die, even so in ²³Christ shall ^{all} be made alive. But every man in his own order: ⁱChrist the firstfruits; ⁿafterward they that are ²⁴Christ's ^oat his coming. Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up ^pthe kingdom to ^{pp}God, even the Father; when he shall have ^qput down all

^c rule and all authority and ^d power. For 25 he must reign, ^e till he hath put all enemies under his feet. The last enemy ^f that shall be ^g destroyed is death. For 27 ^h he hath put all things under his feet. But when ⁱ he saith, all things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted, which did put all things under him. And when ^j all things shall be 28 subdued unto him, then ^k shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all. Else what shall they do 29 which ^l are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not ^m at all? why are they then baptized for the dead? And why stand 30 we in ⁿ jeopardy every hour? I protest 31 by ^o your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, ^p I die ^q daily. If ^r after 32 the manner of men ^s I have fought with beasts at ^t Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? ^u let us eat and drink; ^v for to morrow we die. ^w Be not deceived: ^x evil communications 33 corrupt good manners. ^y Awake to righteousness, and sin not: for ^z some have not the knowledge of God: ^{aa} I speak this to your shame.

But some man will say, ^{ab} How are the 35 dead raised up? and with what body do they come? Thou ^{ac} fool, ^{ad} that which 36 thou sowest is not quickened, except it die: and that which thou sowest, thou 37 sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, ^{ae} it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain: but God giveth it 38 a body ^{af} as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body. All flesh is 39 not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds. There are also celestial bodies, and 40 bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another. There is one glory 41 of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory. ^{ag} So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in ^{ah} corruption; it is raised in ^{ai} incorruption: ^{aj} it is sown in 43 dishonour; it ^{ak} is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power: it is sown a natural body; it is raised a 44 spiritual body. There is a ^{al} natural body, and there is a spiritual body. And so 45 it is written, ^{am} The first man Adam was made a living soul; ^{an} the last Adam was made ^{ao} a quickening spirit. 46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is ^{ap} natural; and 47 afterward that which is spiritual. ^{aq} The first man is of the earth, ^{ar} earthy: the second man is ^{as} the Lord from heaven. As is the ^{at} earthy, such are they also ^{au} that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, ^{av} such are they also that are heavenly. And ^{aw} as we have borne the image of the ^{ax} earthy, ^{ay} we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

Now this I say, brethren, that ^{az} flesh and blood ^{ba} cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth ^{bb} corruption inherit ^{bc} incorruption. Behold, I shew you a mystery; ^{bd} We shall not all ^{be} sleep, but 50 ^{bf} we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for ^{bg} the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. For this corruptible must put on ^{bh} incorruption, and ^{bi} this mortal must put on immortality. 51 So when this corruptible shall have put on ^{bj} incorruption, and ^{bk} this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, ^{bl} Death is ^{bm} swallowed up ^{bn} in victory. ^{bo} O death, where is thy sting? O ^{bp} grave, where is thy victory? The sting of death is sin; and 57 ^{bq} the strength of sin is the law. But ^{br} thanks be to God, ^{bs} which giveth us ^{bt} the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. 58 ^{bu} Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye ^{bv} stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in ^{bw} the work of the Lord, forasmuch as you know ^{bx} that your labour is not in vain ^{by} in the Lord.

PAUL, ^aan apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and ^bTimothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at ^cCorinth, ^dwith all the saints which are in all ^eAchaia: ^fgrace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

^gBlessed be ^hGod, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort; ⁱwho comforteth us in all our tribulation, ^jthat we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, ^kby the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God. For as ^lthe sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ. And whether we be afflicted, ^m*it is* for your consolation and ⁿsalvation, which ^ois effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, ^p*it is* for your consolation and salvation. And our hope of you ^q*is* stedfast, knowing, that ^ras you are partakers of the sufferings, ^sso shall ye be also of the consolation. For ^twe would not, brethren, have you ignorant of ^uour trouble which came to us in ^vAsia, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, inasmuch that we ^wdespaired even of life: but ^xwe had the ^ysentence of death in ourselves, that we should not ^ztrust in ourselves, but ^{aa}in God ^{ab}which raiseth the dead: ^{ac}who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver ^{ad}us; ^{ae}you also helping together by prayer for us, that for the gift ^{af}bestowed upon us ^{ag}by the means of many persons thanks may be given by many on our behalf.

^{at} For our rejoicing is this, ^{au}the testimony of our conscience, that in ^{av}simplicity and godly ^{aw}sincerity, ^{ax}not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-
^{ay}wards. For we write none other ^{az}things unto you, than what you read or acknowledge; and I trust you shall acknowledge even to the end; as also you have acknowledged us ^{ba}in part, that we are your ^{bb}rejoicing, even as ye also are ours ^{bc}in the day of the Lord Jesus. And in this confidence ^{bd}I was minded to come unto you before, that you might have ^{be}a second ^{bf}benefit; and to pass by you into ^{bg}Macedonia, and ^{bh}to come again out of Macedonia unto you, and of you to be ^{bi}brought on my way toward Judea.
^{bj}When I therefore was thus minded, did I use lightness? or ^{bk}the things that I purpose, do I purpose ^{bl}according to the flesh, that with me there should be yea ^{bm}yea, and nay nay? But ^{bn}as God is true, our ^{bo}word toward you was not yea and nay. For ^{bp}the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, ^{bq}even by me and ^{br}Silvanus and ^{bs}Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but ^{bt}in him was yea. For ^{bu}all the promises of God in him are ^{bv}yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us.
^{bw}Now he which stablisheth us with you in Christ, and hath ^{bx}anointed us, ^{by}is God; ^{bz}who hath also ^{ca}sealed us, and ^{cb}given the earnest of ^{cc}the Spirit in our hearts.
^{cd}Moreover ^{ce}I call God for ^{cf}an oath upon my soul, that ^{cg}to spare you I came not as yet unto Corinth. Not for that we ^{ch}have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for ^{ci}by faith ye stand. But I determined this with myself, ^athat I would not come again to you in heaviness. ^bFor if I make you sorry, who is he then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me? And I wrote this same unto you, ^clest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; ^dhaving confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all. For out of much affliction and ^eanguish of heart ^fI wrote unto you with many tears; ^gnot that you should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

But ^hif any have caused grief, ^{hh}he hath not grieved me, but ⁱin part: that I may not overcharge you all. Sufficient to such a man is this ^jpunishment, which was inflicted ^kof many. So that contrariwise ^lye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow. Wherefore I beseech you that you would ^mconfirm your love towards him. For to this end also did I write, that I might know ⁿthe proof of you, whether ^oye be obedient in all things. To whom ^pye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgave any thing, to whom I forgave it, for your sakes for-gave I it ^qin the ^rperson of Christ; lest ^sSatan should ^tget an advantage of us: for ^uwe are not ignorant of his ^vdevices.

Furthermore, when I came to ^xTroas to ^ypreach Christ's gospel, and ^za door was opened unto me of the Lord, ^zI had no rest in my spirit, because I found not ^aTitus my brother: but ^btaking my leave of them, ^cI went from thence into Macedonia. Now thanks ^dbe unto God, which always ^ecauseth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest ^fthe savour of his knowledge by us in every place. For we are unto God ^ga sweet savour of Christ, in ^hthem that are ⁱsaved, and ^jin ^kthem that perish: ^lto the one we are the savour of death unto death; and ^mto the other the savour of life unto life. And ⁿwho is sufficient for these things? For we are not as many, which ^ocorrupt the word of God: but as of ^psincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God speak we ^qin Christ.

Do we begin again to ^acommend ourselves? or need we, as ^bsome others, ^cepistles of commendation to you, or ^dletters of commendation from you? ^eYe are our epistle written in our hearts, ^fknown and read of all men: forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ^gministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of ^hthe living God; not in ⁱtables of stone, ^jbut ^kin fleshy tables of the heart. And such ^ltrust have we through Christ to ^mGodward: ⁿnot that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but ^oour sufficiency is of God; ^pwho also hath made us able ^qministers of ^rthe new ^stestament; not of ^tthe letter, but of the spirit: for ^uthe letter killeth, but ^vthe spirit ^wgiveth life. But if ^xthe ministration of death, ^ywritten and engraven in stones, ^zwas glorious, ^aso that the children of Israel could not ^bstedfastly behold the face of Moses for ^cthe glory of his countenance; which ^dglory was to be ^edone away: how shall not the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious? For if ^fthe ministration of condemnation ^gbe glory, much more doth ^hthe ministration of righteousness ⁱexceed in glory. For even that which was made glorious ^jhad no glory ^kin this respect, by reason of the glory that ^lexcelleth. For if that which is ^mdone away ⁿwas glorious, much more that ^owhich remaineth ^pis glorious. Seeing then that we have such hope, ^qwe use ^rgreat plainness of speech: and not as Moses, ^swhich put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not ^tstedfastly look to ^uthe end of that ^vwhich is ^wabolished: but ^xtheir ^yminds were ^zblinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away ^ain the reading of ^bthe old testament; which ^cvail ^dis ^edone away in Christ. But ^feven unto this day, ^gwhen Moses is read, the vail ^his upon their heart. Nevertheless ⁱwhen ^jit shall turn to the Lord, ^kthe vail shall ^lbe taken away. IV.

Therefore seeing we have ^athis ministry, ^bas we have received mercy, ^cwe faint not; but have renounced the hidden ^dthings of ^edishonesty, not walking in ^dcraftiness, nor ^ehandling the word of God deceitfully; but ^bby manifestation of ^fthe truth ^gcommending ourselves ^hto every man's conscience in the sight of God. But if our gospel be ⁱhid, ^jit is hid ^kto them that are lost: in whom ^lthe god ^mof this world ⁿhath blinded the ^ominds of them which believe not, lest ^pthe light of ^qthe glorious gospel of Christ, ^rwho is the image of God, should shine unto them. For ^swe preach not ^tourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ^uourselves your servants for Jesus' sake. For God, ^vwho commanded the ^wlight to shine out of darkness, ^xhath ^yshined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God ^zin the face of Jesus Christ.

But we have this treasure in ^yearthen ^zvessels, ^athat the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us. ^bWe ^care ^dtroubled on every side, yet not ^edistressed; ^fwe are ^gperplexed, but ^hnot in despair; ⁱpersecuted, but not ^jforsaken; ^kcast down, but not destroyed; ^lalways bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, ^mthat the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body. For we which live ⁿare always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh. So then ^odeath worketh in us, but life in you. We having ^pthe same spirit ^qof faith, according as it is written, ^rI believed, ^sand therefore have I spoken; we also believe, ^tand therefore speak; knowing that ^uhe which raised up the Lord Jesus ^vshall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall ^wpresent us with you. For ^xall things are ^yfor your sakes, that the abundant grace might ^zthrough the thanksgiving of many redound ^ato the glory of God. For which cause ^bwe faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet ^cthe inward

¹⁷ man ^wis renewed day by day. For ^xour light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us ^ya far more exceeding ^zand eternal weight of glory; ²while we look not at the ^{things} which are seen, but at the ^{things} which are not seen: for at the ^{things} which are seen ^{are} temporal; but the ^{things} which are not seen ^{are} eternal.

8. 24. So ch. 5. 7. Heb. 11. 13. ^a See Matt. 13. 21.

For we know that if ^aour earthly house of ^bthis tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house ^cnot made with hand, eternal in the heavens. ²For in this ^dwe groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed upon with our house ³which is from heaven: if so be that ^ebeing clothed we shall not be found ⁴naked. For we that are in ^bthis tabernacle ^ddo groan, being burdened: not ^ffor that ^gwe would be unclothed, ^gbut ^hclothed upon, that mortality might be ⁱswallowed up of life. Now ^jhe that hath wrought us for the selfsame ^{thing} is God, who also hath ^kgiven unto us ⁶the earnest of the Spirit. Therefore ^{we} are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we ⁷are absent from the Lord: (for ¹we walk ⁸by faith, ^mnot by sight:) ⁿwe are confident, I say, and ^owilling rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

⁹ Wherefore we ¹labour, that, whether present or absent, we may be ²accepted of him. For we must all appear ³before the judgment seat of Christ; ⁴that every one may receive the ^{things} done in ^{his} body, according to that he hath done, ¹¹whether ^{it} be good or bad. Knowing therefore ^sthe terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but ^twe are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are ^umade manifest in your consciences. ¹² For we ¹commend not ourselves ^vagain unto you, but give you ^woccasion ^xto glory on our behalf, that you may have ¹³^{some}what to answer them which glory ¹⁴in appearance, and not in heart. For whether we be ^ybesides ourselves, ^{it} is to God: or whether we ^zbe sober, ^{it} is for your cause. For ^athe love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that ^bif one died for all, then were all ¹⁵dead: ^{and} ^{that} he died for all, ^cthat they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which

Moreover, brethren, ^awe do you to wit of ^{aa}the grace of God bestowed on the churches of ^bMacedonia; how that ²in a great ^ctrial of affliction ^dthe abundance of their joy and ^dtheir deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their ¹liberality. For ^eto their power, ^II bear record, ^{yea}, and beyond their power they ^{were} willing of themselves; praying us ⁴with much intreaty [§]that we would receive the gift, and ^{take upon us} the fellowship of ^hthe ministering to the saints. And ^{this they did}, not as we ⁵ hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us ⁱby the will of God. Insomuch that ^jwe desired ^kTitus, that as he had ^xbegun, so he would also finish in ^{ye}the same ^lgrace also. Therefore, as ^{ye}abound in every thing, in faith, and ^mutterance, and ⁿknowledge, and ⁱⁿall ⁿdiligence, and ⁱⁿyour love to us, ^{see}that ye abound in this grace also. ^qI speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the ^rforwardness of others, and ^{qq}to prove the sincerity of ^oyour love. For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, ^rthough he was rich, ^{rs}for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty ^tmight be rich. And herein ^uI give my advice: for ^wthis is expedient for you, who have ^xbegun before, not only to do, but also to be ^yforward ^{ya}a year ago. ¹¹Now therefore perform the doing of it; that as ^{there was}a ^zreadiness to will, so ^{there may be}a performance also ^eout of ²that which ^{you}have. For ^bif there be first ^{2a}a willing mind, ^{it is}accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not. For ^{I mean}not that other ^{men}be eased, and you burdened; but by an ^dequality, ^{that}now at ^{this}time your abundance ^{may be a}supply ^efor their want, that their abundance also may be ^asupply for your want: ¹⁵that there may be ^dequality: as it is written, ^fHe that ^{had}gathered much had nothing over; and he that ^{had}gathered little had no lack. ¹⁶But thanks ^{be}to God, [§]which put the same ^hearnest care into the heart of ¹⁷Titus for you. For indeed he accepted ⁱthe exhortation; but being ^hmore forward, ^jof his own accord he went unto ¹⁸you. And we have sent with him ^kthe brother, whose praise ^{is}in the gospel ¹⁹throughout ^{kk}all the churches; and not ^{that}only, but who was also ^lchosen of the churches ^mto travel with us with this ^lgrace, which is ⁿadministered by us ^oto the glory of the same Lord, and ²⁰decoration of your ^zready mind: ^pavoiding this, that no ^{man}should blame us in this abundance which is ⁿadministered by us: ²¹providing ^{for}honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the ²²sight of men. And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have oftentimes proved ^hdiligent in many things, but now much ^hmore diligent, ^rupon the great confidence which ^{I have}in you.

Whether any do inquire of Titus, he is ²³ my ^spartner and ^tfellow-helper concerning you: or ^uour brethren be inquired of, they are ^wthe messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ. Wherefore shew ²⁴ ye to them, and ^{*}before the churches, the proof of ^yyour love, and of ^zour boasting on your behalf.

IX. For as touching ^athe ministering to ^bthe saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you: for I know ^cthe forward- ²ness of your mind, ^dfor which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that ^eAchaia was ready ^fa year ago; and your zeal hath provoked very many. Yet have I ³sent ^gthe brethren, lest ^hour boasting of you should be in vain ⁱin this behalf; that, ^jas I said, ye may be ready: lest ⁴haply if ^kthey of Macedonia come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, you) should be ashamed in ^lthis ^msame ⁿconfident boasting. There- ⁵fore I thought it necessary to exhort ^gthe brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your ^tbounty, ^lwhereof ^ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, ⁿas a ^{matter of} ^tbounty, and ^onot as of covetousness. But this I say, ^pHe which ⁶soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. Every man ⁷according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; ^qnot ^rgrudgingly, or of necessity: for ^sGod loveth a cheerful giver. And ^pGod is able to make all ⁸grace abound towards you; that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every ^xgood work: (as it is written, ^yHe hath dispersed a- ⁹broad; he hath given to the poor: his righteousness remaineth for ever. Now he that ^zministereth seed ¹⁰to the sower both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase ^athe fruits of your ^bbright- ¹¹eousness;) being enriched in every thing ¹²to all ^lbountifulness, which causeth ^{through} us thanksgiving to God. For ¹²ad the administration of this service not only supplieth ^ethe want of the saints, but is abundant also ^fby many thanks- ¹³givings unto God; whiles by the ^gexperiment of this ^dministration they ^hglorify God for your professed ⁱsubjection unto the gospel of Christ, and for your ^jliberal ^kdistribution unto them, and unto ¹⁴all men; and by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding ¹⁵grace of God in you. Thanks be unto ^lGod for his unspeakable gift.

Now I Paul myself ^abeseech you by the ^{aa}meekness and ^bgentleness of Christ, ^cwho ^din presence ^{am} ^{dd}base among you, but being absent ^{am} bold toward ²you: but I beseech you, ^ethat I may not be bold when I am present with that confidence, wherewith I ^lthink to be bold against ^fsome, which ^lthink of us as if we walked ^gaccording to the ³flesh. For though we walk in the flesh, ⁴we do not war ^gafter the flesh: (for ^hthe ⁱweapons of our ^kwarfare are not carnal, but ^lmighty ^lthrough God ^mto the ⁿpull- ⁵ing down of ^ostrong holds;) ^pcasting down ^limaginations, and ^qevery high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every ^rthought to ^sthe obedi- ⁶ence of Christ; and ^ehaving in a readi- ⁿness to revenge all disobedience, ^twhen your obedience is fulfilled.

⁷Do ye look on things after the out- ward appearance? ^vIf any man trust to himself that he is Christ's, let him of him- self think this again, that, as ^whe is Christ's, even so are ^xwe Christ's. For though I should ^yboast somewhat more of ^zour authority, which the Lord hath given us for ^{zz}edification, and not for your ⁿdestruction, ^aI should not be ⁹ashamed: that I may not seem as if ^lI would terrify you by letters. For ^hhis letters, ^tsay they, ^{are} ^bweighty and powerful; but ^chis bodily presence is weak, and ^dhis speech contemptible. ¹¹Let such a one think this, that, such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such will we be also in deed when we are present.

we will not ^bboast of things without our measure, but according to ⁱthe measure of the ¹rule which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you. For we stretch not ourselves beyond ^{our} measure, as though we reached not unto you: for ^kwe are ^lcome as far as to you also in preaching the gospel of Christ: not ^hboasting of things without our measure, that is, ^mof other men's labours; but having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be ¹enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly, to preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast ⁿin another man's ¹line of things made ready to our hand. But ^{he} that glorieth, let ¹⁷him glory in the Lord. For ^{not} ¹⁸he that ¹commendeth himself is ^oapproved, but ^pwhom the Lord commendeth.

XI.

Would to God you could ^abear with me a little in ^bmy folly: and indeed ¹bear with me. For I am ^cjealous over you ²with godly jealousy: for ^dI have espoused you to one husband, ^ethat ¹I may present you ^fas a chaste virgin to Christ. But I fear, lest by any means, as ^gthe serpent ^hbeguiled Eve through his ⁱsubtily, so your ^jminds ^kshould be corrupted from the ¹simplicity that is in Christ. For if ^mhe that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or ⁿif ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or ^oanother gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well ^abear ¹with him. For I ^osuppose ¹I was ^pnot a whit behind the very ^qchiefest apostles. But ^rthough ¹I be ⁶rude in speech, ^tyet not in knowledge; but ^uwe ^{have been} thoroughly made manifest among you in all things. Have I ⁷committed ^uan offence in ^vabasing myself that you might be exalted, because ^wI have preached to you the gospel of God ^xfreely? I robbed other churches, ⁸taking ^ywages of them, to do you service. And when I was present with ⁹you, and wanted, ^zI was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me ^athe brethren which came from ^bMacedonia supplied: and in all things ^cI have kept myself from being burdensome to you, and so will I keep myself. ^dAs ¹⁰

the truth of Christ is in me, ¹no man shall stop me of this ^fboasting in the ¹¹regions of ^hAchaia. Wherefore? ⁱbecause I love you not? ^kGod knoweth. But what I do, that I will do, ¹that I may cut off ^moccasion from them which desire ^moccasion; that wherein they glory, ⁿthey may be found even as we. For ^osuch ^{are} ^pfalse apostles, ^qdeceitful workers, ^rtransforming themselves into the apostles of Christ. And no marvel; for ^sSatan himself is ^rtransformed into ¹an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if ^uhis ministers also be ^rtransformed as ^vthe ministers of righteousness; ^wwhose end shall be according to their works.

I ^xsay again, ^yLet no man think me a fool; if otherwise, yet as a fool ^zreceive me, that I may boast myself a little. That which I speak, ^aI speak ⁱnot after the Lord, but as it ^{were} ⁿfoolishly, ^bin this confidence of boasting. Seeing that many glory ^cafter the flesh, ^dI will glory also. For ^eye suffer fools gladly, ^fseeing ye yourselves are wise. For ^eye suffer, if a man ^{bring} you into bondage, ^hif a man devour you, if a man ⁱtake of you, if a man exalt himself, if a man ^ksmite you on the face. I speak as concerning ¹reproach, ^{as} though we had been weak. Howbeit ^dwhereinsoever any is bold, (I speak ⁿfoolishly.) I am bold also. Are they ^oHebrews? so am I. Are they ^pIsraelites? so am I. Are they ^qthe seed of Abraham? so am I. Are they ^rministers of Christ? (I speak as a fool) I am more; ^sin labours more abundant, ^tin stripes above measure, ^uin prisons more frequent, ^vin deaths oft. ^xOf the Jews five times received I ^yforty stripes save one. Thrice was I ^zbeaten with rods, ^aonce was I stoned, thrice I ^bsuffered shipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep; ^cin journeyings often, ^din ^eperils of waters, ^fin perils of ^grobbers, ^hin ⁱperils ^jby my own countrymen, ^kin perils ^lby the heathen, ^min perils ⁿin the city, ^oin perils ^pin the wilderness, ^qin perils in the sea, ^rin perils among ^sfalse brethren; ^tin ^uweariness and ^vpainfulness, ^win watchings often.

It is not expedient for me doubtless to glory. ¹ I will come to ^a visions and ^b revelations of the Lord. I knew a man ² ^c in Christ above fourteen years ago, (whether in the body, I cannot tell; or whether out of the body, I cannot tell: ^d God knoweth;) ^e such a one ^f caught up to ^g the third heaven. ^{*} And I knew such ³ a man, (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell: ^d God knoweth;) how that he was ^f caught up into ^h paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not ⁱ lawful for a man to utter. Of such a one will I glory: yet ⁵ ^k of myself I will not glory, ^l but in mine infirmities. For though I would desire ⁶ to glory, ^m I shall not be a fool; for I will say the truth: but now ⁿ I forbear, lest any man should ^o think of me above that which he seeth me to be, or that he hearth of me. And lest I should be ⁷ exalted above measure through the abundance of the ^b revelations, ^t there was given to me ^p a thorn in the flesh, ^q the messenger of ^s Satan to ^b buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure. For ⁸ this thing ¹ besought the Lord ^t thrice, that it might depart from me. And he ⁹ said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for ^u my strength is made perfect in weakness. now I write to them ^dwhich heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that, if I come again, ^eI will not ^fspare: since ye ^gseek ^ha proof of Christ ⁱspeaking in me, ^jwhich to you-ward is not weak, but ^kis mighty ^lin you. For ^mthough he was crucified through weakness, yet ⁿhe liveth ^oby the power of God. For ^pwe also are weak ^qin him, but we shall live with him ^rby the power of God toward you. Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; ^sprove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that ^tJesus Christ is in you, except ye be ^ureprobates? But I trust that ye shall ^vknow that we are not ^wreprobates. Now I pray to God that ye do no evil; not that ^xwe should appear approved, but that ye should do that which is honest, though we be as ^yreprobates. For we can ^zdo nothing against the truth, but for the truth. For we are glad, when ^{aa}we are

PAUL, an apostle, (^anot of men, neither by man, but ^bby Jesus Christ, and God the Father, ^cwho raised him from the dead;) and all ^dthe brethren which are with me, unto the churches of ^eGalatia: ^fgrace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ, ^gwho gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this ^hpresent ⁱevil world, according to the will of ^jGod and our Father: ^kto whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

I marvel that you are ^lso soon ^mremoved from ⁿhim that called you into the grace of Christ unto ^oanother gospel: which is not another; but there be some ^pthat ^qtrouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ. But though we, or ^ran angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be ^saccursed. As we said before, so say I ^tnow again, If any man preach ^uany other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be ^vaccursed. For ^wdo I now ^xpersuade men, or God? or ^ydo I seek ^zto please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

But ^{aa}I certify you, brethren, that ^{ab}the gospel which was preached of me is not after man. For ^{ac}I neither received ^{ad}it, but by ^{ae}the revelation of Jesus Christ. For ye have heard of my ^{af}conversation ^{ag}in time past in the ^{ah}Jews' religion, how that ^{ai}beyond measure I persecuted ^{aj}the church of God, and ^{ak}wasted it: and ^{al}profited in the ^{am}Jews' religion above many ^{an}my ^{ao}equals in mine own nation, ^{ap}being more exceedingly zealous of ^{aq}the traditions of my fathers. ^{ar}*But when ^{as}it pleased God, ^{at}who separated me from my mother's womb, and ^{au}called ^{av}me by his grace, ^{aw}to reveal his Son in me, ^{ax}that I might preach him among the heathen; immediately I ^{ay}conferred not ^{az}with ^{ba}flesh and blood: neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me: but I went into ^{bb}Arabia, and returned again unto ^{bc}Damascus. ^{bd}*Then after ^{be}three years ^{bf}II I went up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and abode with him ^{bg}fifteen days. But other of the apostles saw I none, save ^{bh}James ^{bi}the Lord's brother. Now ^{bj}the things which I write unto you, behold, ^{bk}*before God, I lie not. Afterwards I came into the ^{bl}regions of ^{bm}Syria and ^{bn}Cilicia; and was unknown ^{bo}by face unto ^{bp}the churches of Judea ^{bq}which were in Christ: but they had heard only, That he which persecuted us in times past now preacheth the faith which ^{br}once he ^{bs}destroyed. should run, or had run, in vain. But ³ neither ^eTitus, who was with me, being a Greek, ^mwas compelled to be circumcised: and that ⁿbecause of ^ofalse brethren unawares brought in, who ^pcame in privily to spy out ^qour liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, ^rthat they might bring us into bondage: to whom we ⁵ gave place by subjection, no, not ^sfor an hour; that ^tthe truth of the gospel might continue with you. But of these ⁶ ^kwho seemed ^uto be somewhat, (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: ^wGod accepteth no man's person:) for ^xthey ^kwho seemed to be somewhat ^yin conference added nothing to me: but contrariwise, when they saw that ⁷ ^zthe gospel of the uncircumcision ^awas committed unto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was unto Peter; (for he ⁸ that wrought effectually in Peter to the ^bapostleship of the circumcision, the same ^cwas mighty in me towards the Gentiles:) and when ^dJames, ^eCephas, and ⁹ ^fJohn, ^gwho seemed to be ^hpillars, perceived ⁱthe grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and ^jBarnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we should ^{go} unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision. Only they would ^kthat ¹⁰ we should remember the poor; ^lthe same which I also was forward to do.

But ^mwhen Peter was come to ⁿAn-¹¹ tioch, I withstood him ^oto the face, because he was to be blamed. For be-¹² fore that certain came from ^dJames, ^phe did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing ^qthem which were of the circumcision. And the other ¹³ Jews dissembled likewise with him; in-^{son} much that ^jBarnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation. But ¹⁴ when I saw that they walked not up-^{rightly} according to ^tthe truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter ^sbefore them all, If thou, being a Jew, ^plivest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why ^{ss}compellest thou the Gentiles to ^tlive as do the Jews? ^uWe ¹⁵ who are Jews ^vby nature, and not ^wsinners of the Gentiles, knowing that ^{xa} ¹⁶ man is not justified by the works of the law, but ^yby the ^zfaith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified ^uby the ^zfaith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for ^aby the works of the law shall ¹⁷ no flesh be justified. But if, while we seek to be justified by Christ, we ourselves also are found ^bsinners, is there-^{fore} Christ ^cthe minister of sin? ^dGod ¹⁸ forbid. For if I build again the things which I destroyed, I ^emake myself a ¹⁹ transgressor. For I ^fthrough the law ^gam dead to the law, that ^hI might live unto God. I am ⁱcrucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh ^hI live by the faith of the Son of God, ^kwho loved me, and ²¹ ^lgave himself for me. I do not ^mfrustrate the grace of God: for ⁿif righteousness come by the law, then ^oChrist is dead in vain.

This only would I learn of you, ^eReceived ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or ^fby the hearing of ^efaith? Are ye so foolish? having ³ ^gbegun in the Spirit, are ye now ^gmade ⁴ perfect ^{by} the flesh? ⁱHave ye suffered ^{so} many things in vain? if it be yet ⁵ in vain. He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and ^kworketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith? ⁶ Even as ^lAbraham believed God, and it was ^laccounted to him for ⁷ righteousness. And ^othe scripture, foreseeing that God ^pwould justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, ^qIn thee shall all nations be ⁹ blessed. by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, ^aThe just shall live by faith. And the law is not of faith: ^bbut, ^cThe man that doeth them shall live in them. ^dChrist hath ^eredeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, ^fCursed is every one that ^ghath hanged on a tree: that the blessing of Abraham ^hmight come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might ⁱreceive the promise of the Spirit through faith. Brethren, I speak ^jafter the manner of ^kmen; Though it be but a man's ^lcovenant, yet if it be ^mconfirmed, no man ⁿdisannulleth, or added thereto. Now ^oto Abraham and his seed were ^pthe promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but ^qas of one, ^rAnd to thy seed, which is Christ. And this ^sI say, that the covenant, that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, ^twhich was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot ^udisannul, that ^vit should ^wmake the promise of none effect. For if ^xthe inheritance ^ybe of the law, it is no more of promise: but God gave ^zit to Abraham by promise.

Wherefore then ^aserveth the law? ^bIt ^cwas added because of transgressions, till ^dthe seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was ^eordained by angels ^fin the hand of a mediator. Now a ^gmediator is not ^ha mediator of one, but ⁱGod is one. Is the law then ^jagainst the promises of God? ^kGod forbid: ^lfor if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law. But ^mthe scripture hath ⁿconcluded ^oall under sin, ^pthat the promise by ^qa faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe. But ^rbefore faith ^scame, we were ^tkept under the law, ^ushut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed. Wherefore ^vthe law was our ^wschoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, ^xthat we might be justified by faith. But ^yafter that faith is come, ^zwe are no longer under a ^aschoolmaster. For ^bye are all the children of God by ^cfaith in Christ Jesus. For ^das many of ^eyou as have been baptized into Christ ^fhave put on Christ. There is ^gneither

Jew nor Greek, there is ^aneither bond nor free, there is ^bneither male nor female: for ^cye are all one in Christ Jesus. And if ^dye be Christ's, ^ethen are ye Abraham's seed, and ^fheirs according to the promise.

Now I say, That ^athe heir, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a ^bservant, though he be lord of all; but is under ^ctutors and ^dgovernors until the ^etime appointed of the father. Even so we, when we were children, ^fwere in bondage under ^gthe ^helements of the world: but ⁱwhen the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, ^jmade ^kof a woman, ^lmade ^munder the law, ⁿto redeem them that were under the law, ^othat we might receive the adoption of sons. And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth ^pthe Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, ^qAbba, ^rFather. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and ^sif a son, then ^tan heir of God through Christ. Howbeit then. ^uWhen ye knew not God, ^vye did service unto them which ^wby nature ^xare no gods. But now, after that ye have known God, or rather ^yare known of God, ^zhow turn ye ^aagain to the ^bweak and beggarly ^celements, whereunto ye desire again ^dto be in bondage? ^eYe observe ^fdays, and ^gmonths, and ^htimes, and ⁱyears. But ¹⁸it is good ^mto be zealously affected always in a good thing, and not only when I am present with you. ¹⁹My little children, of whom I travail in birth again until ^oChrist be ^pformed ^oin you, ²⁰I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for ¹I ^rstand in doubt of you.

Tell me, ye that desire to be under ²¹the law, do ye not hear the law? For ²²it is written, that Abraham had two sons, ^sthe one by a bondmaid, ^tthe other by a freewoman. But ^uhe who was of the bondwoman was born after the flesh; ^{tw}but he of the freewoman was by promise. Which things are an allegory: for these are the two ¹covenants; ^xthe one from the mount [†]Sinai, which gendereth ^yto bondage, which is Agar. For this Agar is mount Sinai in ^zArabia, and ¹answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and ¹is in bondage with her children. But ^aJerusalem which is ²⁶above is free, which is the mother of us all. For it is written, ^bRejoice, thou ²⁷barren that bearest not; break forth and cry, thou that travailest not: for the desolate hath many more children than she which hath a husband. Now we, ^cbrethren, as ²⁸Isaac was, are ^cthe children of promise. But as then ^dhe that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, ^eeven so it is now. Nevertheless what saith ^fthe scripture? ^gCast out the bondwoman and her son: for the son of the bondwoman shall not be heir with the son of the freewoman. So then, brethren, we are not ³¹children of the bondwoman, ^hbut of the free.

^aStand fast therefore in ^bthe liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with ^cthe yoke ^dof bondage. Behold, I Paul say unto ²you, that ^eif ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing. For I testify ³again to every man that is circumcised, ^fthat he is a debtor to do the whole law. ^gChrist is ^hbecome of no effect unto you, ^gwhosoever of you are justified by the law; ⁱye are fallen from grace. we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit. ^r Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

Brethren, ^a if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye ^b which are spiritual, restore such a one ^c in the spirit of meekness; ^d considering thyself, lest thou also ^e be tempted. ^f Bear ye one another's burdens, and ^g so fulfil ^h the law of Christ. For if a man think himself to be something, ^k when he is nothing, ^l he deceiveth himself. But let every man ^m improve his own work, and then ⁿ shall he have ^o rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another. For ^p every man shall ^q bear his own burden. Let him that is ^r taught in the word ^s communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. ^t Be not deceived; ^u God is not ^v mocked: for ^w whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For ^x he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap ^y corruption; but ^z he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. And ² let us not ^a be weary in well doing: for ^b in due season we shall reap, ^c if we faint not.

¹⁰ ^d As we have therefore opportunity, ^e let us do good unto all men, ^{ee} especially unto them who are of ^f the household of faith.

¹¹ Ye see how large a letter I have written unto you ^g with mine own hand.

¹² ^h As many as desire to make a fair shew in the flesh, they ⁱ constrain you to be circumcised; only ^k lest they should suffer persecution for the cross

¹³ of Christ. For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law; but desire to have you circumcised, that

¹⁴ they may glory in your flesh. But ^l God forbid ^m that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, ⁿ by

¹⁵ whom ^o the world ^o is crucified unto me, and I unto the world. ^p For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision avail-

¹⁶ ^q eth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but ^r a new creature. And ^s as many as

¹⁷ ^s walk according to this rule, ^t peace ^{bc} on them, and ^u mercy, and upon ^v the ^t Israel of God. From henceforth

let no man trouble me: for ^w I bear in my body the marks of the Lord

^a PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ ^bby the will of God, to the saints which are at ^cEphesus, and to ^dthe faithful in Christ Jesus: ^egrace ^fbe to you, and peace, from God our Father, and ^gfrom the Lord Jesus Christ.

^hBlessed ⁱbe ^jthe God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings ^kin heavenly ^lplaces in Christ: according as ^mhe hath ⁿchosen us in him ^obefore the foundation of the world, that we should be ^pholy and without blame before him in love: ^qhaving predestinated us unto ^rthe adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, ^saccording to the good pleasure of his will, to the praise of the glory of his grace, ^twherein he hath ^umade us accepted in ^vthe beloved: ^win whom we have ^xredemption ^ythrough his blood, ^zthe forgiveness of sins, according to ^{aa}the riches of his grace; wherein ^{ab}he hath ^{ac}abounded toward us in all ^{ad}wisdom and prudence; ^{ae}having made known ^{af}unto us the mystery of his will, ^{ag}according to his good pleasure which ^{ah}he had purposed in himself: that in the ^{ai}dispensation of ^{aj}the fulness of times ^{ak}he might gather together in one ^{al}all things in Christ, ^{am}both which are in ^{an}heaven, and which are on earth; ^{ao}even in him: in whom also ^{ap}we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated ^{aq}according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after ^{ar}the counsel of his own will: that we should ^{as}be ^{at}to the praise of his glory, who ^hfirst ⁱtrusted in Christ: in whom ye also ^jtrusted, ^kafter that ye heard ^lthe word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also ^mafter that ye believed, ye were ⁿsealed with ^othat holy Spirit of promise, which is ^pthe earnest ^qof our inheritance, until the ^rredemption of ^sthe purchased possession, ^tunto the praise of his glory.

^uWherefore I also, ^vafter I ^wheard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and ^xlove unto all the saints, ^ycease not ^zto give thanks ^{aa}for you, making mention of you in my prayers; that ^{ab}the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, ^{ac}may give unto you the spirit of ^{ad}wisdom and ^{ae}revelation ^{af}in the knowledge of him: ^{ag}the eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is ^{ah}the hope of his calling, and what ^{ai}the riches of the glory of his ^{aj}inheritance ^{ak}in the saints, and what ^{al}is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, ^{am}according to the working ^{an}of his mighty power, which he wrought in Christ, ^{ao}when he raised him from the dead, and ^{ap}set him at his own right hand ^{aq}in the heavenly places, ^{ar}far above all ^{as}principality, and ^{at}power, and might, and dominion, and ^{au}every name that is named, not only in this world, ^{av}but also in that which is to come: and ^{aw}hath put all things under his feet, and gave him ^{ax}to be ^{ay}the head over all things to the church, ^{az}which is his body, ^{ba}the fulness of him that ^{bb} filleth ^{bc}all in all. ^aAnd you ^b*hath he quickened*, ^bwho were dead in trespasses and sins; wherein ^cin time past ^{cc}ye walked according to the ^dcourse of ^ethis world, according to the ^fprince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in ^gthe children of disobedience: among whom also we all had our conversation ^cin times past in ^hthe lusts of our flesh, fulfilling ⁱthe desires of the flesh and of the mind; and ⁱwere ^jby nature ^{jj}the children of wrath, even as others. But God, who is ^krich in mercy, for ^lhis great love wherewith he loved us, even ^{abm}when we were dead in sins, hath ⁿquickened ^{us} together with Christ, (^{ll}by grace ye are saved;) and hath raised ^{us} up together, and made ^{us} sit together ^pin heavenly ^{places} in Christ Jesus: that in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding ^kriches of his grace in ^qhis kindness towards us through Christ Jesus. For ^rby grace are ye saved ^sthrough faith; and that not of yourselves: ^tit is the gift of God: ^unot of works, ^wlest any ^{man} should boast. For we are ^xhis workmanship, ^ycreated in Christ Jesus unto ^zgood works, ^awhich God hath before ^{ll}ordained ^{aa}that we should walk in them.

Wherefore remember, ^bthat ye ^{being} in ^ctime passed Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called ^dthe Circumcision in the flesh made by hands; that at that time ye were without Christ, ^ebeing aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and ^fstrangers from ^gthe covenants of promise, ^hhaving no hope, and without God in the world: but now in Christ Jesus ⁱye who ^esometimes were ^jfar off are made nigh ^kby the blood of Christ. For ^lhe is our peace, ^mwho hath made both one, and hath ⁿbroken down the middle wall of partition ^{between us}; ^ohaving abolished ^pin his flesh ^{pp}the enemy; ^{even} the law of commandments ^{contained in} ^{qq}ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one ^rnew man, ^{so}making peace; and ^{that} he might ^sre-concile both unto God in ^{ss}one body by the cross, ^{ot}having slain ^pthe enemy ^{thereby}: and came and ^wpreached peace to you which were ^jafar off, and to ^xthem that were nigh; ^{for} ^ythrough him we both ^zhave access ^aby one Spirit unto the Father. Now therefore ye are no more ^{bc}strangers and ^{cd}foreigners, but ^efellowcitizens with the saints, and ^fof the household of God; and are ^gbuilt upon the foundation of the ^hapostles and ⁱprophets, ^kJesus Christ himself being ^lthe chief corner ^{stone}; in whom all the building ^mfitly framed together groweth unto ⁿa holy temple in the Lord: in whom ^oye also are built together ^pfor a habitation of God through the Spirit.

For this cause I Paul, ^athe prisoner of Jesus Christ ^bfor you ^cGentiles, if ye have heard of ^dthe dispensation ^eof the grace of God which is given me ^cto you-ward: ^fhow that ^gby revelation ^hhe made known unto me the mystery; (^{ias} I wrote ^{ll}afore in few ^{words}, whereby, when ye read, ^kye may understand my knowledge in ^lthe mystery of Christ) ^hwhich in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, as it is now revealed unto his holy ^mapostles and prophets by the Spirit; that the Gentiles should be ⁿfellowheirs, and ^oof the same body, and ^ppartakers ⁿof his promise in Christ by the gospel: ^qwhereof I was made ^ra minister, according to the gift of ^ethe grace of God given unto me ^sby the effectual working of ^this power. Unto me, ^{who am} less than the least of all saints, ^eis this grace given, that ^I should preach ^{ca}among the Gentiles the ^{unsearchable} ^wriches of Christ; and ^hto make all ^{men} see what ^{is} the fellowship of the mystery, ^hwhich from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, ^xwho created all ^{things} by Jesus Christ: to the intent that ^ynow unto ^zthe principalities and powers ^ain heavenly ^{places} might be known by the church the

IV. I therefore, ^a the prisoner ^b of the Lord, ^c beseech you that ye ^d walk worthy of the ^e vocation wherewith ye are called, ^f with all lowliness and ^g meekness, ^h with longsuffering, ⁱ forbearing one another in love; endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in ^j the bond of peace. There is ^k one body, ^l and ^m one Spirit, even as ⁿ ye are called in one ^o hope of your calling; ^p one Lord, ^q one faith, one baptism, ^r one God and Father of all, who ^s is ^t above all, and ^u through all, and in you all. But ^v unto every one of us ^w is given grace ^x according to the measure of the gift of Christ. Wherefore ^y he saith, ^z When he ascended up on high, ^{aa} he led ^{ab} captivity captive, and ^{ac} gave gifts unto men. (^{ad} Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into ^b the lower parts of the earth? He that descended is the same also that ^c ascended up ^d far above all heavens, ^e that he might ^f fill all things.) And he gave some, ^g apostles; and some, ^h prophets; and some, ⁱ evangelists; and some, ^j pastors and ^k teachers; for the ^l perfecting of the saints for the work of the ministry, for ^m the edifying of ⁿ the body of Christ: ^o till we all come ^p in the unity of the faith, and of ^q the knowledge of the Son of God, unto ^r a perfect man, unto the measure of the ^s stature of ^t the fulness of Christ: that we ^u henceforth be no more ^v children, ^w tossed to and fro, and ^x carried about ^y with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and ^z cunning craftiness, whereby they ^{aa} lie in wait to deceive; but ^{ab} speaking ^{ac} the truth in love, may ^{ad} grow up into him in all things, ^{ae} which is ^b the head, ^{af} even Christ: ^{ag} from whom the whole body ^{ah} fitly joined together and ^{ai} compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part. maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ^c ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, ^d in the vanity of their mind, ^e having the understanding darkened, ^f being alienated from the life of God through ^g the ignorance that is in them, because of the ^h blindness of their heart: who ⁱ being past feeling ^j have given themselves over unto ^k lasciviousness, to work all ^l uncleanness with greediness. But ye have not so learned Christ; if so be that ^m ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus: that ye ⁿ put off ^o concerning the former ^p conversation ^q the old man, ^r which is corrupt according to ^s the deceitful lusts; ^t and ^u be renewed in the spirit of your mind; and that ye put on ^v the new man, which ^w after God ^x is created in ^y righteousness and ^z true ^{aa} holiness.

VI. ^a Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right. ^b Honour thy father and mother; (which is the first commandment with promise;) ^b that it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth. PAUL and ^aTimotheus, ^{aa}the servants of Jesus Christ, to all ^bthe saints in Christ Jesus which are at ^cPhilippi, with the ^dbishops and ^edeacons: ^fgrace ^{be} unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and ^{from} the Lord Jesus Christ.

§ I thank my God upon every ^lremembrance of you, always in every prayer of mine ^hfor you all making request with joy, ⁱfor your fellowship in the gospel ^jfrom the first day until now; being confident of this very ^{thing}, that he which hath ^kbegun ^{la}a good work in you ^{will} perform ^{it} ^{until} the day of Jesus Christ: even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because ^I have you ^oin ^{my} heart; inasmuch as both ⁱⁿ my ^qbonds, and ⁱⁿ ^rthe defence and ^sconfirmation of the gospel, ^{ye} all are ^{partakers} of my grace. For ^{God} is ^{my} record, how ^{greatly} ^wI long after you all in ^{the} bowels of Jesus Christ. And ^{this} I pray, that ^yyour love may abound yet more and more in ^{knowledge} and ⁱⁿ all ^{judgment}; ^athat ye may ^{approve} ^{things} that ^{are} excellent; that ye may be ^{sincere} and ^{without} offence ^{till} the day of Christ; being filled with ^{the} fruits of righteousness, ^fwhich are by Jesus Christ ^{unto} the glory and praise of God.

But I would ye should understand, ^{brethren}, that the ^{things} ^{which} ^{happened} unto me have fallen out rather unto the ^{benefurtherance} of the gospel; so that ^{my} bonds ⁱⁿ Christ ^{are} manifest in all ^{the} palace, and ⁱⁿ all other ^{places}; and many of the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by ^{my} bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without ^{fear}. Some indeed preach Christ ^{even} of envy and strife; and some also of good will: the one preach Christ ^{of} contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to ^{my} bonds: but the other of love, ^{knowing} that ^I am set ^{for} ^{the} defence of the gospel. What then? notwithstanding, every way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Christ is preached; and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice. For I know that this shall turn to my salvation ^{through} your prayer, and the supply of ^{the} Spirit of Jesus Christ, according to my ^{earnest} expectation and ^{my} hope, that ⁱⁿ nothing I shall be ashamed, but ^{that} ^{with} all boldness, as always, ^{so} now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether ^{it} ^{be} by life, or by death. For to me ^{to} live ^{is} Christ, and to die ^{is} gain. But if I live in the flesh, this ^{is} the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose I wot not. For ^I am in a strait betwixt two, ^yhaving a desire ^{to} depart, and to be with Christ; ^{which} ^{is} far better: nevertheless to abide in the flesh ^{is} more needful for you. And ^{having} this confidence, I know that I shall ^{abide} and continue with you all for your ^{comfort} and joy of faith; that ^{your} rejoicing may be ^{more} abundant in Jesus Christ for me by my coming to you again.

Only ^{let} your conversation be ^{as} it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or ^{else} be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye ^{stand} fast in one spirit, with ^{one}

If there be therefore any ^aconsolation in Christ, if any ^bcomfort of love, if ^cany fellowship ^dof the Spirit, if any ^ebowels and mercies, ^ffulfil ye my joy, that ^gye be likeminded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind. Let nothing be done through ^hstrife or ⁱvainglory; but in ^jlowliness of mind let ^keach esteem other better than themselves. Look not every man on his own things, but ^levery man also on the things of others. ^mLet this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: who, ⁿbeing in the ^oform of God, thought it not ^probbery to be ^qequal with God: but ^rmade himself of no reputation, and took ^supon him the form of ^ta servant, and ^uwas made in the likeness of men: and being found in ^vfashion as a man, ^whe humbled himself, and ^xbecame obedient unto death, even ^ythe death of the cross. ^zWherefore ^{aa}God also hath ^{ab}highly exalted him, and given him ^{ac}a name which is above every name: that at the name of Jesus ^{ad}every knee should bow, of ^{ae}things in heaven, and ^{af}things in earth, and ^{ag}things under the earth; and ^{ah}that every tongue should confess that Jesus ^{ai}Christ is ^{aj}Lord, to the glory of God the Father. Wherefore, my beloved, ^{ak}as ye have always ^{al}obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, ^{am}work out your own salvation with ^{an}fear and trembling. For ^{ao}it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of ^{ap}his ^{aq}good pleasure. Do all ^{ar}things without ^{as}murmurings and ^{at}disputings: that ye may be ^{au}blameless and ^{av}harmless, ^{aw}the sons of God ^{ax}without rebuke, ^{ay}in the midst of a ^{az}crooked and

in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh. Though ^kI might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other ^lman thinketh that ^mhe hath ⁿwhereof he might trust in the flesh, I more: ^oI circumcised the eighth day, ^pof the stock of Israel, ^qof the tribe of Benjamin, ^ran Hebrew of the Hebrews; as touching the law, ^sa Pharisee; ^tconcerning zeal, ^upersecuting the church; touching ^vthe righteousness which is in the law, ^wblameless. But ^xwhat ^ythings were gain to me, ^zthose I counted loss for Christ. Yea ¹doubtless, and I count all ²things but loss for ³the excellency of ⁴the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have ⁵suffered the loss of all ⁶things, and do count ⁷them but ⁸dung, that I may win Christ, and be found in him, not having ⁹mine own righteousness, ¹⁰which is of the law, but ¹¹that which is through ¹²the faith of Christ, ¹³the righteousness which is of God by faith: that ¹⁴I may know him, and ¹⁵the power of his resurrection, and ¹⁶the fellowship of his sufferings, ¹⁷being made conformable unto his death; if by any ¹⁸means I might ¹⁹attain unto the resurrection of the dead. Not as though I had already ²⁰attained, either were already ²¹perfect: but ²²I follow after, if that I may ²³apprehend ²⁴that for which also I am ²⁵apprehended of Christ Jesus. Brethren, I count not myself to have ²⁶apprehended: but ²⁷this one thing I do, ²⁸forgetting those things which are behind, and ²⁹reaching forth unto those things which are before, I ³⁰impress ³¹oward the mark for ³²the prize of ³³the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. Let us therefore, as many as ³⁴be ³⁵perfect, ³⁶be thus minded: and if in any ³⁷thing ³⁸ye be otherwise minded, ³⁹God shall reveal even this unto you. Nevertheless, where- ⁴⁰to we have ⁴¹already ⁴²attained, ⁴³let us walk by the same ⁴⁴rule, ⁴⁵let us mind the same thing.

Brethren, ⁴⁶be followers together of ⁴⁷me, and mark them which walk so as ye have ⁴⁸us for an ensample. (For many ⁴⁹walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell ⁵⁰you even weeping, ⁵¹that they are ⁵²the enemies of the cross of Christ: ⁵³whose end ⁵⁴is destruction, ⁵⁵whose God is their belly, and ⁵⁶whose glory is in their ⁵⁷shame, who ⁵⁸mind earthly things.) For our ⁵⁹conversation ⁶⁰is in heaven; ⁶¹from whence also ⁶²we look for the Saviour, ⁶³the Lord Jesus Christ: who shall ⁶⁴change ⁶⁵our vile body, that it may be ⁶⁶fashioned like unto his glorious body, ⁶⁷according to the working whereby he is able even ⁶⁸to subdue all ⁶⁹things unto himself.

Therefore, my brethren dearly beloved and ⁷²longed for, ⁷³be my joy and ⁷⁴crowd, so ⁷⁵stand fast in the Lord, ⁷⁶my dearly beloved. I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that ⁷⁷they be of ⁷⁸the same mind in the Lord. And I intreat thee also, ⁷⁹true yokefellow, help those ⁸⁰women which ⁸¹laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and ⁸²with other my ⁸³fellowlabourers, whose names are in ⁸⁴the book of life.

⁸⁵ Rejoice in the Lord always: ⁸⁶and again I say, Rejoice. Let your ⁸⁷moderation be known unto all men. ⁸⁸The Lord is ⁸⁹at hand. ⁹⁰Be careful for nothing; but in every ⁹¹thing by ⁹²prayer and ⁹³supplication ⁹⁴with thanksgiving let your requests ⁹⁵be made known unto God. And ⁹⁶the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and ⁹⁷minds ⁹⁸through Christ Jesus. ⁹⁹Finally, brethren, whatsoever ¹⁰⁰things are true, whatsoever ¹⁰¹things are just, whatsoever ¹⁰²things are lovely, whatsoever ¹⁰³things are ¹⁰⁴of good report; if ¹⁰⁵there be any virtue, and if ¹⁰⁶there be any ¹⁰⁷praise, think on these ¹⁰⁸things. ¹⁰⁹Those ¹¹⁰things, which ye have both learned, and ¹¹¹received, and heard, and seen in me, do: and ¹¹²the God of peace shall be with you.

But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last ¹¹³your care of me ¹¹⁴hath flourished again; ¹¹⁵wherein ye were also careful, but ¹¹⁶ye lacked opportunity. ¹¹⁷Not that I speak in respect of ¹¹⁸want: for I have learned, in whatsoever ¹¹⁹state I ¹²⁰am, ¹²¹therewith to be ¹²²content. ^a PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timotheus ^{aa} our brother, to the saints and faithful brethren ^b in Christ which are at Colosse: Grace ^{be} unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

^c We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ^{ye have} to all the saints, for ^d the hope which is ^e laid up for you in heaven, whereof ^{ye heard} before in ^f the word of the truth of the gospel; which ^{is come} unto you, ^{as it is} in all the world; and ^h bringeth forth fruit, as ^{it doth} also in you, since the day ^{ye heard} of ^{it}, and knew ⁱ the grace of God in truth: as ^{ye also} learned of ^k Epaphras our dear ^l fellowservant, who is for you ¹ a ^m faithful minister of Christ; who also ⁸ declared unto us your ⁿ love ^o in the Spirit.

For this cause we also, ^c since the day we heard ^{it}, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire ^p that ^{ye might} be filled ^{with} ^q the knowledge of his will ^r in all wisdom and spiritual ^s understanding; ^t that ^{ye might} walk worthy of the Lord ^u unto all pleasing, ^h being fruitful in ^w every good work, and ^x increasing in the knowledge of God; ^y strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and ^z longsuffering ^a with joyfulness; ^b giving thanks unto the Father, which hath ^c made us meet to be ^d partakers of ^d the inheritance of the saints in light: who hath ^e delivered ¹³ us from ^f the power of ^g darkness, and hath translated ^{us} into the kingdom of ¹⁴ ^t his ⁱ dear Son: ^j in whom we have redemption ^k through his blood, ^{even} ¹⁵ ^l the forgiveness of sins: who is ^m the image of ⁿ the invisible God, ^o the ^p first-born of every creature: for ^q by him were all ^{things} created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether ^{they be} ^{qa} thrones, or ^r dominions, or st principalities, or ^{rs} powers: ^q all ^{things} were created ^{uv} by him, and ^w for him: and ^{ow} he is before all ^{things}, and ^q by him ^x all ^{things} ^{xx} consist. And ^y he is the head of the body, the church: ^o who is ^z the beginning, ^{za} the firstborn from the dead; that ⁱⁿ ^b all ^{things} he might have the preeminence. For ^c it pleased ^{the Father} that ^d in him should all ^e fulness dwell; and, ^f having made peace ^g through the blood of his cross, ^h by him to reconcile ^b all ^{things} unto himself; by him, ⁱ I say, ⁱ whether ^{they be} ^{things} in earth, or ^j ^{things} in heaven.

²¹ ^k And you, that were ^k sometimes ^l alienated and ^m enemies ⁿ in ^{your} mind ⁿ by wicked works, yet now hath ^{reconciled} ^o in the body of his flesh through death, ^p to present you holy and unblameable and ^q unproveable ²³ in his sight: ^r if ^{ye continue} in the faith ^s grounded and ^t settled, and ^{be} not moved away from ^u the hope of the gospel, which ^{ye have} heard, ^{and} ^w which was preached ^x to every creature which is under heaven; ^y whereof ²⁴ I Paul am made a minister; ^z who now

^lMortify therefore ^myour members which are upon the earth; ⁿfornication, ^ouncleanness, ^pinordinate affection, evil ^qconcupiscence, and ^rcovetousness, ^swhich is idolatry: ^tfor which ^u*things* sake the wrath of God cometh on ^vthe children of ^wdisobedience: in the which ^xye also walked ^ysometime, when ye lived in them. But now you also ^zput off all ^{aa}these; ^{ab}anger, ^{ac}wrath, ^{ad}malice, ^{ae}blasphemy, ^{af}filthy communication out of your mouth. ^{ag}Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off ^{ah}the old man with his deeds; and ^{ai}have put on ^{aj}the new ^{ak}man, ^{al}which is renewed ^{am}in knowledge after ^{an}the image of him that ^{ao}created him: where there is neither ^{ap}Greek nor Jew, ^{aq}circumcision nor uncircumcision, ^{ar}barbarian, ^{as}Scythian, ^{at}bond ^{au}nor free: but Christ ^{av}is ^{aw}all, and in all. ^{ax}Put on therefore, ^{ay}as ^{az}the elect of God, holy and ^{ba}beloved, ^{bb}bowels of mercies, ^{bc}kindness, ^{bd}humbleness of mind, ^{be}meekness, ^{bf}long-suffering; ^{bg}forbearing one another, and ^{bh}forgiving one another, if any ^{bi}man have a ^{bj}quarrel against any: ^{bk}even as Christ forgave you, so also ^{bl}do ye. ^{bm}And above all ^{bn}these ^{bo}things ^{bp}put on ^{bq}charity, which is the ^{br}bond of ^{bs}perfectness. And let ^{bt}the peace of God rule in your hearts, ^{bu}to the which also ye are called ^{bv}in one body; ^{bw}and be ye thankful. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly ^{bx}in all wisdom; ^{by}teaching and ^{bz}admonishing one another ^{ca}in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing ^{cb}with grace in your hearts to the Lord. And ^{cc}whatsoever ye do in word or deed, ^{cd}do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, ^{ce}giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

^{cf}Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, ^{ha}as it is fit in the Lord.

^{hb}Husbands, love ^{hc}your wives, and ^{hd}be not bitter against them. ^{he}Children, obey ^{hf}your parents ^{hg}in all ^{hh}things: for this is ^{hi}well pleasing unto the Lord. ^{hj}Fathers, provoke not your children to ^{hk}anger, lest they be ^{hl}discouraged. ^{hm}Servants, obey ^{hn}in all ^{ho}things your masters according to the flesh; ^{hp}not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but ^{hq}in singleness of heart, fearing God: and ^{hr}whatsoever ye do, do it ^{hs}heartily, as ^{ht}to the Lord, and not unto men; ^{hu}knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of ^{hv}the inheritance: for ^{hw}ye serve the Lord Christ. But he that doeth wrong ^{hx}shall receive ^{hy}for the wrong which he hath done: and ^{hz}there is no respect of persons. ^{ia}Masters, give unto ^{ib}your servants that which is just and ^{ic}equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

^{id}Continue ^{ie}in prayer, and ^{if}watch in the same ^{ig}with thanksgiving; ^{ih}withal ⁱⁱpraying also for us, that God would ^{ij}open unto us a door of utterance, to speak ^{ik}the mystery of Christ, ^{il}for which I am also in bonds: that ^{im}I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak. ⁱⁿWalk ^{io}in wisdom toward ^{ip}them that are without, ^{iq}redeeming the time. Let your speech ^{ir}be always ^{is}with grace, ^{it}seasoned with salt, that ^{iu}you may know ^{iv}how ye ought to answer every man.

^{iu}All my state shall Tychicus declare unto you, ^{iv}who is a beloved brother, and ^{iv}a faithful minister and ^{iv}fellowservant in the Lord: whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and ^{iv}comfort your hearts; with ^{iv}Onesimus, a ^{iv}faithful and beloved brother, ^{iv}who is ^{iv}one of you. These only ^{iv}are my ^{iv}fellowworkers unto the kingdom of God, which have been a ^{iv}comfort unto me. ^{iv}Epaphras, ^{iv}who is ^{iv}one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always ^{iv}labouring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand ^{iv}perfect

^a PAUL, and ^{aa} Silvanus, and ^b Timothy, unto the church of the ^c Thessalonians which is in God the Father and in the Lord Jesus Christ: ^d Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

^e We give thanks to God always for ² you all, making ^f mention of you in our prayers; remembering ^g without ceasing ³ ^h your work of ⁱ faith, and ^k labour of ^l love, and ^m patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of ⁿ God and our Father; knowing, brethren ^o beloved, ^p your election of God. For our ⁵ gospel came ^q not unto you in word only, but also ^r in power, and ^s in the Holy Ghost, and in ^t much assurance; as ^u ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake. And ⁶ ^v ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, ^w having received the word in much affliction, ^x with joy of ^y the Holy Ghost: so that ye were ^z ensamples to all that believe in ¹ Macedonia and ² Achaia. For from you ³ sounded out ⁴ the word of the Lord not only in ⁵ Macedonia and ⁶ Achaia, but also ⁷ in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad; so that we need not to speak ⁸ any thing. For they themselves shew ⁹ of us what manner of ¹⁰ entering in we had unto you, and how ¹¹ ye turned to God ¹² from idols to serve ¹³ the living and ¹⁴ true God, and ¹⁵ to wait for ¹⁶ his Son ¹⁷ from heaven, ¹⁸ whom he raised from the dead, ¹⁹ even Jesus, ²⁰ which delivered us from ²¹ the wrath to come.

For yourselves, brethren, know our ¹ entrance in unto you, that it was not ² in vain: but even after that we had suffered before, and were ³ shamefully entreated, as ye know, ⁴ at Philippi, ⁵ we were bold in our God ⁶ to speak unto you the gospel of God with much ⁷ contention. For our ⁸ exhortation was not of ⁹ deceit, nor of ¹⁰ uncleanness, nor in ¹¹ guile: but as ¹² we were allowed of God ¹³ to be put in trust with the gospel, ¹⁴ even so we speak; not as ¹⁵ pleasing men, but ¹⁶ God, ¹⁷ which trieth our hearts. For neither at any time ¹⁸ used we flattering words, as ye know, nor ¹⁹ a cloke of ²⁰ covetousness; ²¹ God is witness: nor ²² of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor ²³ yet of others, when ²⁴ we might have ²⁵ been ²⁶ burdensome, as ²⁷ the apostles of ²⁸ Christ. But we were ²⁹ gentle among you, ³⁰ even ³¹ as a nurse cherisheth her children: so being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, ³² but also our own souls, because ye ³³ were dear unto us. For ye remember, brethren, ³⁴ our labour and travail: for ³⁵ labouring ³⁶ a night and day, because ³⁷ we would not ³⁸ be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel ³⁹ of God. ⁴⁰ Ye are witnesses, and ⁴¹ God also, ⁴² how ⁴³ holily and ⁴⁴ justly and ⁴⁵ unblameably we behaved ourselves among ⁴⁶ you that believe: as you know how we exhorted and ⁴⁷ comforted and charged every one of you, ⁴⁸ as a father ⁴⁹ doth his ⁵⁰ children, ⁵¹ that ye would walk worthy of God, ⁵² who hath called you unto ⁵³ his

For this cause also ¹³ thank we God ^lwithout ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God ^mwhich ye heard of us, ye received ^{it} not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe. For ye, brethren, ^obecame followers of ¹⁴ ^pthe churches of God which in Judea are in Christ Jesus: for ^qye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, ^reven as they have of the Jews: ^swho both killed the Lord Jesus, and ¹⁵ ^ttheir own prophets, and have ^lpersecuted us; and ^uthey please not God, and ^ware contrary to all men: ^xforbidding ^{us} to speak to the Gentiles that they might be saved, ^yto fill up their sins alway: for ^zthe wrath ^ais come upon them ^bto the uttermost.

But we, brethren, ^cbeing taken from ¹⁷ you ^dfor a short time ^ein presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly ^fto see your face with great desire. Wherefore we would have come ¹⁸ unto you, even I Paul, once and again; but ^gSatan ^hhindered us. For what ⁱis ¹⁹ our hope, or ^jjoy, or ^kcrown of ^lrejoicing? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ ¹at his coming? For ye are our glory and joy. ²⁰

III. Wherefore ^awhen we could no longer ^bforbear, ^cwe thought it good to be left at Athens alone; and sent ^{cd}Timotheus, ² ^{cc}our brother, and minister of God, and our ^dfellowlabourer in the gospel of Christ, ^fto establish you, and to ^gcomfort you concerning your faith: that no ³ ^{man} should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that ^hwe are appointed thereunto. For verily, when ⁴ we were with you, we told you before ^bthat we should suffer tribulation; even as ⁱit came to pass, and ye know. For ⁵ this cause, ^awhen I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, lest by some means ^kthe tempter ^lhave tempted you, and ^mour labour be in vain. For ye know ^dwhat commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus. ³ For this is ^bthe will of God, ^{even} your ^{is}sanctification, ^kthat ye should abstain ⁴ from fornication: that every one of you should know how ^lto possess ^mhis vessel in ^{sanctification} and ⁿhonour; not in ^othe lust of ^oconcupiscence, even ^{pas} the Gentiles ^qwhich know not God: ⁶ that no ^{man} go beyond and ^ddefraud ^rhis brother ^{in any} matter: because that the Lord ^sis the avenger of all ⁷ such, as we also have forewarned you ^{and} ^ttestified. ^a PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: grace unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

^bWe are bound to ^cthank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your ^cfaith groweth exceedingly, and the ^ccharity of every one of you all towards each other aboundeth; ^dso that we ourselves glory in you in ^ethe churches of God for your ^cpatience and ^cfaith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure: which is ^ga manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be ^hcounted worthy of the kingdom of God, ^ffor which ye also suffer: seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you; and ^jto you who are troubled ^krest with us, when ^lthe Lord Jesus ^mshall be revealed from heaven ⁿwith ^hhis mighty angels, ^oin flaming fire, ^ptaking vengeance on them ^qthat know not God, and ^rthat obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: ^swho shall be punished with everlasting destruction ^ufrom the presence of the Lord, and ^wfrom the glory of his power; ^xwhen he shall come ^xto be glorified in his saints, and to be admired in all them that believe (because our ^{xx}testimony among you ^ywas believed) ^zin that day. Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would ^hcount you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the ^agood pleasure of his goodness, and ^cthe work of faith with power: that the name of our Lord Jesus Christ ^dmay be glorified in you, and ye

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ ^aby the commandment of ^bGod our Saviour, and Lord Jesus Christ, ^c*which is* our hope; unto ^dTimothy, ^e*my* ^fown son in the faith: ^gGrace, ^hmercy, and ⁱpeace, from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord.

^jAs I besought thee to abide still at ^kEphesus, ^lwhen I went into ^mMacedonia, that thou mightest charge some that ⁿthey ^oteach no other doctrine, neither ^pgive heed to ^qfables and endless ^rgenealogies, which minister ^squestions, rather than godly ^tedifying which is in faith: so do. Now ^uthe end of the commandment is charity ^vout of a pure heart, and ^wof ^xa good conscience, and ^yof ^zfaith ^{aa}unfeigned: from which some ^{ab}having swerved ^{ac}have turned aside unto ^{ad}vain jangling; ^{ae}desiring to be ^{af}teachers of the law; ^{ag}understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they ^{ah}affirm. But ^{ai}we know that ^{aj}the law is good, if a man use it lawfully; knowing this, that ^{ak}the law is not made for a righteous ^{al}man, but for the lawless and ^{am}disobedient, for ^{an}the ungodly and for ^{ao}sinners, for ^{ap}unholy and ^{aq}profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers, for ^{ar}whoremongers, for ^{as}him that defile themselves with mankind, for ^{at}menstealers, for ^{au}liars, for ^{av}perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to ^{aw}sound doctrine; according to ^{ax}the glorious ^{ay}gospel of ^{az}the blessed God, ^{ba}which was

^{bb}committed to my trust. And I thank ^{bc}Christ Jesus our Lord, ^{bd}who hath enabled me, for that he counted me ^{be}faithful, ^{bf}putting me into the ministry; who was before ^{bg}a blasphemer, and ^{bh}a persecutor, and ^{bi}injurious: but ^{bj}I obtained mercy, because ^{bk}I did it ignorantly in ^{bl}unbelief. ^{bm}And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant ^{bn}with faith and ^{bo}love which is in Christ Jesus. ^{bp}This is a faithful saying, and ^{bq}worthy of all acceptation, that ^{br}Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; ^{bs}of whom ^{bt}I am chief. Howbeit for this cause ^{bu}I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all longsuffering, for ^{bv}a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting. Now unto ^{bw}the King eternal, ^{bx}immortal, ^{by}invisible, ^{bz}the only wise God, ^{ca}be ^{cb}honour and ^{cc}glory for ever ^{cd}and ever. Amen. This charge ^{ce}I commit unto thee, ^{cf}son Timothy, according to the ^{cg}prophecies which went before on thee, that thou by them mightest ^{ch}war a good warfare; ^{ci}holding faith, and ^{cj}a good conscience; which some having put away, concerning faith ^{ck}have made shipwreck: of whom is ^{cl}Hymeneus and ^{cm}Alexander; whom I have ^{cn}delivered unto Satan, that they may learn not to ^{co}blaspheme.

Not ^t a novice, lest being ^u lifted up with pride he fall into ^v the condemnation of the devil. Moreover he must ^w have a good report of ^x them which are without; lest he fall into reproach and ^y the snare of the devil. Likewise ^z must ^{aa} the deacons be ^{ab} grave, not doubletongued, ^{ac} not given to much wine, ^{ad} not greedy of filthy lucre; ^{ae} holding the mystery of the faith ^{af} in ^{ag} a pure conscience. giving of them which believe and ^aknow the truth. For ^oevery creature of God ⁴is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received ^mwith thanksgiving: for ⁵it is sanctified ^mby the word of God and ^pprayer. If thou put the brethren in ⁶remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, ^qnourished up in the words of faith and of ^qgood doctrine, whereunto thou hast ^rattained. But ^rrefuse profane and old ⁷wives' fables, and ^uexercise thyself rather unto ^vgodliness. For ^wbodily exercise profiteth ^llittle: ^xbut ^vgodliness is profitable unto all things, ^yhaving promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. ^zThis is a ⁹faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance. For therefore ^awe both labour ¹⁰and suffer reproach, because we ^btrust in ^cthe living God, who is ^dthe Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe. ^eThese things command and ¹¹teach.

^fLet no man despise ^gthy youth; ¹²but ^hbe thou ⁱan example of the believers, in word, in ^jconversation, in ^kcharity, in spirit, in ^kfaith, in ^lpurity. Till I come, give attendance to reading, to ^mexhortation, to ⁿdoctrine. ^oNeglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee ^pby prophecy, ^qwith the laying on of the hands of ^rthe presbytery. Meditate upon these things; ¹⁵give thyself wholly to them; that thy ^sprofiting may appear ^lto all. ^tTake ¹⁶heed unto thyself, and unto the ⁿdoctrine; continue in them: for in doing this ^uthou shalt both save thyself, and ^xthem that hear thee.

Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things ¹¹without preferring one before another, ^ddoing nothing by partiality. ^eLay hands ^{ee}suddenly on no man, neither ^fbe partaker of other men's sins: ^gkeep thyself pure. Drink no longer water, but use ^ha little wine ⁱfor thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities. Some men's ^jsins are ^kopen beforehand, ^lgoing before to judgment; and some men they follow after. Likewise also the good works of some ^mare ^kmanifest beforehand; and ⁿthey that are otherwise cannot be hid.

VI.

Let as many ^aservants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that ^bthe name of God and ^chis ^ddoctrine be not ^eblasphemed. And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are ^fbrethren; but rather do them service, because they are ^gfaithful and beloved, partakers of the benefit. ^gThese things teach and exhort. If any man ^hteach otherwise, and consent not to ⁱwholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine ^kwhich is according to godliness; he ^lis ^lproud, ^mknowing nothing, but ⁿdoting about ⁿquestions and ^mstrifes of words, whereof cometh ^oenvy, ^ostrife, ^prailings, evil surmises, ^qperverse disputings of ^rmen of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, ^ssupposing that gain is godliness: ^tfrom such withdraw thyself. But ^ugodliness ^vwith contentment ^wis great gain. For ^xwe brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. And ^yhaving food and raiment let us be therewith ^vcontent. But ^zthey that will be rich fall into temptation and ^aa snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, ^bwhich drown men in destruction and perdition. For ^cthe love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have ^lerred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows. But thou, ^dO man of God, ^eflee these things; and ^ffollow after righteousness, ^ggodliness, ^hfaith, ^hlove, patience, ^{hh}meekness. ⁱFight the good ^kfight of faith, ^llay hold on eternal life, whereunto ^lthou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses. ^mI give thee charge ⁿin the sight of God, ^owho quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, ^pwho before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good ^lconfession; that thou ^qkeep this commandment without spot, ^runrebukenable, ^suntil ^tthe appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ: which ^uin his times he shall shew, who is ^vthe blessed and only ^wPotentate, ^{xyz}the King of kings, and ^yLord of lords; ^zwho only hath immortality, ^{za}dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto; ^bwhom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom ^{be}honour and ^cpower everlasting. Amen.

Charge them that are rich in ^{ee}this world, that they ^fbe not highminded, ^gnor ^htrust in ⁱuncertain riches, but in ^{hj}the living God, ^kwho giveth us richly all things to enjoy; that they do good, that ^lthey be rich in good works, ready to distribute, ^mwilling to communicate; ⁿlaying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may ^olay hold on eternal life. O Timothy, keep ^pthat which is committed to thy trust, avoiding ^qprofane and vain babblings, and ^roppositions of science falsely so called: which some professing ^shave erred concerning the faith. Grace be with thee. Amen.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ
^a by the will of God, according to ^b the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus, ^c to Timothy, ^d my dearly beloved son: ^e Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

^e I thank God, ^f whom I serve ^g from ^h my forefathers with ⁱ pure conscience,
that ^j without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers ^k night
and day; ^l greatly desiring to see thee, ^m
being mindful of ⁿ thy tears, that I may be filled with joy; when I call to ^o remembrance ^p the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and ^q thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also. Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that ^r thou ^s stir up ^t the gift of God, ^u which is in thee ^v by the putting on of my hands. For God ^w hath not given us ^x the spirit of fear;
but ^y of power, and of love, and ^z of a sound mind. ^a Be not thou therefore ashamed of ^b the testimony of our Lord,
nor of me ^c his prisoner: but ^d be thou
partaker of the afflictions of the gospel
according to the power of God; ^e who hath saved us, and ^f called ^g us with ^h a holy calling, ⁱ not according to our works, but ^j according to his own purpose and ^k grace, which was given us
in Christ Jesus ^l before the world began, but ^m is now made manifest by
ⁿ the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, ^o who hath ^p abolished death,
and hath brought life and ^q immor-

talities to light through the gospel: ^a See 1 Tim.
^b whereunto I am appointed a preacher,
and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles. ^c For the which cause I also suffer these ^d things: nevertheless ^e I am not ashamed: ^f for I know whom I have ^g believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to keep ^h that which I have committed unto ⁱ him against ^j that day.
^k Hold fast ^l the form of ^m sound words,
ⁿ which thou hast heard of me, in ^o faith
and ^p love which is in Christ Jesus.
^q That good ^r thing which was committed unto ^s thee keep by the Holy Ghost ^t which dwelleth in us. This thou knowest, that ^u all they which are in Asia ^v be turned away from me; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes.
^w The Lord give mercy unto ^x the house of Onesiphorus; for he oft ^y refreshed
me, and ^z was not ashamed of ^a my chain: but, when he was in Rome, ^b he sought me out ^c very diligently,
and found ^d me. ^e The Lord grant unto him that ^f he may find mercy of the Lord
in ^g that day: and in how many ^h things
he ⁱ ministered ^j unto me at ^k Ephesus,
thou knowest ^l very well.

of me ^f among many witnesses, the
same ^g commit thou to ^h faithful men,
who shall be ⁱ able to teach others
also. Thou therefore ^j endure hard-self with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier. And ¹if a man also strive for masteries, yet is he not ¹¹crowned, except he strive lawfully. ¹²The husbandman that laboureth must be first partaker of the fruits. Consider what I say; and ¹³the Lord give thee understanding in all things. Remember that Jesus Christ ¹⁴of the seed of David ¹⁵was raised from the dead ¹⁶according to my gospel: ¹⁷wherein ¹⁸h I suffer trouble, as an evil doer, ¹⁹even unto bonds; but ²⁰the word of God is not bound. Therefore I endure all things ²¹for ²²the elects' sakes, that they may also obtain ²³the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with ²⁴eternal glory. ²⁵*It is* a faithful saying: For if ²⁶we be dead with him, we shall also live with him: ²⁷if we suffer, we shall also ²⁸reign with him: ²⁹if we deny him, he also will deny us: ³⁰if we believe not, yet ³¹he abideth faithful: ³²he cannot deny himself.

Of these things ³³put them in remembrance, ³⁴charging them before the Lord that they ³⁵strive not about words ³⁶to no profit, but to the ³⁷subverting of the hearers. Study to shew thyself ³⁸approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth. But ³⁹shun ⁴⁰profane and vain babblings: for they will ⁴¹increase unto more ungodliness. And their word will eat as doth ⁴²a ⁴³canker: of whom is ⁴⁴Hymeneus and Philetus; who concerning the truth ⁴⁵have erred, ⁴⁶saying that the resurrection is past already; and overthrow the faith of some. Nevertheless ⁴⁷the foundation of God standeth ⁴⁸sure, ⁴⁹having this seal, ⁵⁰the Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ ⁵¹depart from iniquity. But ⁵²in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and ⁵³of earth; and ⁵⁴some to honour, and some to dishonour. If ⁵⁵a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a ⁵⁶vessel unto honour, sanctified, and ⁵⁷meet for the master's use, and ⁵⁸prepared unto every ⁵⁹good work. ⁶⁰Flee also ⁶¹youthful lusts: but ⁶²follow righteousness, ⁶³a faith, ⁶⁴a charity, ⁶⁵a peace, with ⁶⁶them that call on the Lord ⁶⁷out of a pure heart. But foolish and unlearned ⁶⁸questions ⁶⁹avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes. And ⁷⁰the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be ⁷¹gentle unto all men, ⁷²apt to teach, ⁷³patient, ⁷⁴in meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; ⁷⁵if God peradventure will give them repentance ⁷⁶to the acknowledging of the truth; ⁷⁷and that they may ⁷⁸recover themselves out ⁷⁹of the snare of the devil, who are ⁸⁰taken captive by him at his will.

This know also, that ⁸¹in the last ⁸²days perilous times shall come. ⁸³Men shall be ⁸⁴lovers of their own selves, ⁸⁵covetous, ⁸⁶boasters, ⁸⁷proud, ⁸⁸blasphemers, ⁸⁹disobedient to parents, ⁹⁰unthankful, ⁹¹unholy, ⁹²without natural affection, ⁹³trucebreakers, ⁹⁴false accusers, ⁹⁵incontinent, fierce, ⁹⁶despisers of ⁹⁷those that are good, ⁹⁸traitors, ⁹⁹heady, ¹⁰⁰highminded, ¹⁰¹lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God; ¹⁰²having a ¹⁰³form of godliness, but ¹⁰⁴denying the power thereof: ¹⁰⁵from such turn away. PAUL, ^aa servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of ^{aa}God's elect, and ^bthe acknowledging of the truth ^cwhich is after ^dgodliness, ^ein ^fhope of eternal life, which God, ^fthat cannot lie, ^gpromised ^hbefore the world began; but hath ⁱin due times ^kmanifested his word ^lthrough preaching, ^mwhich is committed unto me ⁿaccording to the commandment of ^oGod our Saviour; to ^pTitus, ^qmine ^qown son after ^rthe common faith: ^qGrace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

^sFor this cause left I thee in ^tCrete, ^uthat ^uthou shouldest set in order the ^vthings that are ^vwanting, and ^wordain ^xelders in every city, as I had ^yappointed thee: ^zif any be ^ablameless, the husband of one wife, ^bhaving faithful children not accused of ^criot or ^dunruly. For ^ea bishop must be ^ablameless, as ^fthe steward of God; not ^gself-willed, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre; but a lover of hospitality, ^ha lover of ^hgood ⁱmen, ⁱsober, just, holy, temperate; ^kholding fast ^lthe faithful word ^mas ^{he} hath been taught, ⁿthat he may be able by ^osound doctrine both to exhort and to ^pconvince the gainsayers. For there are many ^dunruly and ^qvain talkers and ^rdeceivers, specially ^sthey of the circumcision; whose mouths must be stopped, ^twho subvert whole houses, teaching ^{things} which ^{they} ought not, ^ufor filthy lucre's

Wherefore ^yrebuke them ^zsharply, that they ^amay be sound in the faith; ^bnot giving heed ^cto Jewish fables, and ^{cc}commandments of men, that turn from ^dthe truth. ^eUnto the pure all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled and ^funbelieving is nothing pure; but even their ^gmind and conscience is defiled. ^hThey profess that ^{they} know God; but ⁱin works they ^jdeny ^{him}, being abominable, and ^kdisobedient, and ^lunto every good work ^{ll}reprobate.

These things are ⁹good and profitable unto men. But ^gavoid foolish ^hquestions, and ^hgenealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law; for ⁱthey are unprofitable and vain. PAUL, ^aa prisoner of Jesus Christ, and ^bTimothy our brother, unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and ^{cd}fellowlabourer, and to our beloved Apphia, ²
and ^eArchippus our ^cfellowsoldier, and to ^fthe church in thy house: ^gGrace
to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

^hI thank my God, making mention ⁴
of thee always in my prayers, ⁱhearing ⁵
of thy love and ^jfaith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints; that the communication of thy ⁶ faith may become effectual ^kby the acknowledging of every good thing
which is in you in Christ Jesus. For ⁷ ^lwe have great joy and ^mconsolation
in thy love, because ⁿthe bowels of the

Wherefore, ^pthough I might be much ⁸

would I do nothing; that thy benefit
should ^{cd}not be as it were of necessity, ¹⁵but willingly. ^eFor perhaps he therefore departed ^ffor a season, that thou ¹⁶shouldest ^greceive him for ever; ^hnot
now as a servant, but above a servant,
ⁱa brother beloved, specially to me, but
how much more unto thee, both ^kin ¹⁷the flesh, and in the Lord? If thou count me therefore ^la partner, receive ¹⁸him as myself. If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee ought, put that ¹⁹on mine account; ^mI Paul have written
it with mine own hand, I will repay it:
ⁿalbeit I do not say to thee how thou

²⁰besides. Yea, brother, let me ^ohave joy of thee in the Lord: ^prefresh my

thee, knowing that thou wilt also do ²²more than I say. But withal prepare

GOD, who at sundry times and ^a in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, hath ² in these last days ^c spoken unto us by ^d his Son, whom he hath ^e appointed ^f heir of all things, ^g by whom also he made ^h the worlds; who being ⁱ the brightness ^j of his glory, and ^k the express image of his person, and ^l upholding all things by the word of his power, ^m when he had by himself purged our sins, ⁿ sat down ^o on the right hand of the Majesty on high; being made so much better than the angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained ^p a more excellent name than they. For unto which of the angels said he at any time, ^q Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, ^r I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son? And ^s again, ^t when he bringeth in ^u the firstbegotten into ^v the world, he saith, ^w And let all the angels of God worship him. And ^x of the angels he saith, ^y Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire. But unto ^d the Son he saith, ^z Thy throne, O God, is ^a for ever and ever: a sceptre of ^t righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom. Thou hast loved righteousness, ⁹ and hated iniquity; therefore God, even thy God, ^b hath anointed thee ^{with} the oil of gladness above thy fellows. And, ^c Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands: ^d they shall perish; but thou remainest; and they all shall ^e wax old as ^{doth} a garment; and as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art ^{ee} the same, and thy years shall not fail. But to which of the angels said he at any time, ^f Sit on my right hand, until I make thine ^g enemies thy footstool? Are they not all ^h ministering spirits, ⁱ sent forth to minister for them who shall be ^j heirs of salvation?

Dan. 10. 11. Luke 1. 19, 26. & 2. 9, 13. See Matt. 18. 10. & Acts 12. 7. ¹ See Matt. 25. 34.

Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should ^a let them slip. For if the word ^a spoken by angels was stedfast, and ^b every transgression and disobedience received ^a just ^c recompence of reward; ^d how shall we escape, if we neglect so great ^e salvation; which ^f at the first began to be spoken by ^g the Lord, and was ^g confirmed unto us ^h by them that ⁱ heard him; God also bearing ^{them} witness, both with ^g signs and ⁱ wonders, and with divers ^k miracles, and ^l gifts of the Holy Ghost, ^m according to his own will?

For ⁿ unto the angels hath he not put in subjection ^o the world to come, ⁶ whereof we speak: but ^p one in a certain place ^q testified, saying, ^r What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou ^s visitest him? Thou madest him ^t a little lower than the angels;

2 fession, Christ Jesus; who was faithful to him that ¹ appointed him, as also ² Moses was faithful in all his house. ³ For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as ⁴ he who hath ¹ builded the house hath more honour than the house. For every house is ¹ builded by some man; but ² he that ¹ built all things is God. ⁵ And ² Moses verily was ^k faithful in all his house, as ¹ a servant, ^m for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after; but Christ as ⁿ a Son over his own house; ^o whose house are we, if we ^p hold fast ^q the confidence and ^r the rejoicing ^s of the hope firm ^t unto the end. Wherefore, as ^u the Holy Ghost saith, ^v To day if ye ⁸ will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness: when your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw ¹⁰ my works ^w forty years. Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do always err in their heart; and they have not ¹¹ known my ways. ^x So I swear in my wrath, ¹ They shall not enter into my rest. ¹² Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from ^y the living God. ¹³ But ^z exhort one another daily, while it is called ¹ To day; lest any of you be hardened ^a through the deceitfulness of sin. For we are made partakers of Christ, if we ^b hold the beginning of our ^c confidence ^b stedfast unto the end; ¹⁵ whilst it is said, ^d To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your ¹⁶ hearts, as in the provocation. For ^e some, when they had heard, did ^f provoke: howbeit ^g not all that came out ¹⁷ of Egypt by Moses. But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, ^h whose ¹⁸ carcasses fell in the wilderness? And ^k to whom swore he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them ¹⁹ that ¹ believed not? So we see that ^m they could not enter in because of ⁿ unbelief.

IV.

Let us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you ^a should seem ^b to come short of it. For unto us was the gospel ² preached, as well as ^c unto them: but ^d the word preached did not profit them, ^e not being mixed with faith in them that heard it. For we which have believed do enter into rest, as ^e he said, ^f As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished ^g from the foundation of the world. For ^e he ⁴ spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, ^h And God did rest the seventh day from all his works. And in this place again, ⁱ If they shall ⁵ enter into my rest. Seeing there- ⁶ fore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and ^j they to whom ^k it was first preached ^l entered not in because of unbelief, again he limiteth a certain ⁷ day, saying ^k in David, ^l To day, after so long a time; as it is said, ^l To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts. For if ^m Jesus had ⁸ given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day. There remaineth therefore a ⁿ rest to ⁹ the people of God. For ^m he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God ^{did} from his. Let us labour therefore to ¹¹ enter into that rest, lest any man fall ⁿ after the same ^o example of ^p Unbelief. For ^q the word of God is ^r quick, ¹² and powerful, and ^s sharper than any ^t twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of ^u soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is ^v a discerner of the thoughts and ^w intents of the heart. ^x Neither is there ¹³ any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are ^y naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

Seeing then that we have a great ¹⁴ ^z high priest, ^a that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, ^b let us hold fast our ^c profession. For ^d we ¹⁵ have not ^z a high priest ^e which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was ^f in all points ^g tempt-

fore ^a leaving ^b the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto ^c perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance ^d from dead works, and of faith towards God, ^e of the doctrine of baptisms, and ^f of laying on of hands, and ^g of resurrection of the dead, and ^h of eternal judgment. And ⁱ this will we do, ^k if God permit. For ^l it is ^m impossible for those who were once ⁿ enlightened, and have tasted of ^o the heavenly gift, and ^p were made partakers of ^q the Holy Ghost, and ^r have tasted ^s the good word of God, and ^t the powers of ^u the world to come, if they shall ^v fall away, to renew ^w them again ^x unto repentance; ^y seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and ^z put ^{aa} him to an open shame. Now consider how great ^l this man was, ^m unto whom even ⁿ the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils. And verily ^o they that are of the sons of Levi who receive the office of the priesthood have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though ⁱ they come ^j out of the loins of Abraham: but he whose ^k descent is not counted from them ^l received tithes of Abraham, and ^m blessed ⁿ him that had the promises. For there is verily a disannulling of the ¹⁸commandment going before ⁿfor ^wthe weakness and unprofitableness thereof. For ¹⁹the law made nothing perfect, ¹⁹but the bringing in of ^va better ²hope did; by the which ^awe draw nigh unto God. And inasmuch as not without an ²⁰oath he was made priest: (for those ²¹priests were made ¹without an oath; but this with an oath by him that said unto him, ^vThe Lord sware and will not ^brepent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec;) by so much was Jesus made ²²a surety of ^aa better ^etestament. And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death: but this man, ²⁴because he continueth ^tever, hath ¹an unchangeable priesthood. Wherefore ²⁵he is able also to save them ¹⁸to the uttermost ^ah that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth ⁱto make intercession for them.

For such ^aa high priest became us, ¹⁶who is ^kholy, ¹harmless, undefiled, ^mseparate from sinners, and made ⁿhigher than the heavens; who needeth not ²⁷daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, ^ofirst for his own sins, and ^othen for the people's: for ^phim he did ^qonce, when he offered up himself. For the law maketh men high ²⁸priests ^rwhich have infirmity; but the word of ^sthe oath, which was since the law, maketh ^tthe Son, who is ¹consecrated for evermore.

eternal Spirit ^f offered himself without ^g spot to God, ^h purge your conscience ⁱ from dead works ^k to serve ^l the living God?

15 And for this cause he is ^m the mediator of the ⁿ new ^o testament, ^p that by means of death, ^r for ^q the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, ^r they which are called ^s might receive the st promise of eternal ^u inheritance. For where a ^o testament ^{is}, there must also of necessity ^v be the death of the testator. ^v For ^o a testament ^{is} of force after ^{men} are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all ^{whilst} the testator liveth. Whereupon neither the first ^{testament} was ^w dedicated without blood. For ^x when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, ^y he took the blood of ^z calves and of goats, with ^a water, and ^{ab} scarlet wool, and ^{ac} hyssop, and sprinkled both the ^{book}, and all the people, saying, ^d This ^{is} the blood of the testament which God hath enjoined ^e unto you. Moreover ^e he sprinkled with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of ^f the ministry. And almost all ^{things} are by the law purged with blood; and ^g without shedding of blood is no remission. ^{It was} therefore necessary that ^h the patterns of ^{things} in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly ^{things} themselves with better sacrifices than ⁱ these. For ⁱ Christ is not entered into ^j the holy ^{places} ^k made with hands, ^{which are} ^l the figures of ^m the true; but ⁿ into heaven itself, now to appear ⁱⁿ the presence of God ^o for us: nor yet that he should offer himself often, ^p as the high priest entereth into ⁱ the holy ^{place} every year with blood of ^q others; for then must he often have suffered ^q since the foundation of the world: but now ^r once ^s in the end of the world ^{ss} hath he appeared to put away ^t sin by the sacrifice of himself. X. For the law having ^a a shadow ^b of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never ^c with those sacrifices which they offered year by year ^d continually ^e make the comers thereunto ^e perfect. For then ^f would ^z they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins. But ^f in those sacrifices there ^g is ^g a remembrance again made of sins ^h every year. For ⁱ it is not possible ^h that ^k the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins. Wherefore ^l when he cometh into the world, he saith, ^m Sacrifice and offering thou wouldst not, but ⁿ a body ^l hast thou prepared me: in ^o burnt offerings and ^p sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure. Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me,) to do thy will, O God. Above when he said, ^q Sacrifice and offering and ^o burnt offerings and ^p offering for sin thou wouldst not, neither hadst pleasure therein: which are offered by the law; then said he, ^r Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second. By the which will ^s we ^l are sanctified through the offering of ⁿ the body of Jesus Christ ^t once for all. And every priest standeth ^u daily ^w ministering and offering oftentimes ^x the same sacrifices, ⁱ which can never take away sins: but this man, ^y after ^z he had offered one sacrifice for sins ^d for ever, ^z sat down on the right hand of God; ^a from henceforth expecting ^z till his enemies be made his footstool. For by one offering ^c he hath ^l perfected ^c for ever ^d them that are sanctified. Whereof ^e the Holy Ghost ^l also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before, ^f This is the covenant that I will ^g make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them; ^g and their sins and iniquities will I remember no more. Now where remission of these is, there ^h is no more offering for sin.

²⁶ For ^c if we sin ^d wilfully ^e after that we have received ^f the knowledge of the truth, ^g there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins, but a certain fearful looking for of judgment and ^h fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries. ⁱ He that ^j despised Moses' law ^k died without mercy under two or three ²⁹ witnesses: ^l of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, ^m who hath trodden under foot ⁿ the Son of God, and ^o hath counted ^p the blood of the ^q covenant, wherewith he was ^r sanctified, an ^s unholy thing, ^t and hath done despite unto the ³⁰ Spirit of grace? XI.

Now faith is the ¹ substance of ² things hoped for, ³ a the evidence of ⁴ things not seen. For ⁵ by it ⁶ the elders ⁷ obtained a good report. Through faith ⁸ we understand that ⁹ the worlds were framed by ¹⁰ the word of God, so that ¹¹ things which are seen ¹² were not made of ¹³ things which do appear. By faith ¹⁴ Abel offered unto God a more excellent ¹⁵ sacrifice than Cain, by which he ¹⁶ obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his ¹⁷ gifts: and by it he ¹⁸ being dead ¹⁹ yet ²⁰ speaketh. By faith ²¹ Enoch was translated that ²² he should not ²³ see death; ²⁴ and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he ²⁵ had this testimony, ²⁶ that ²⁷ he pleased God. But without faith ²⁸ it is impossible to please ²⁹ him: for ³⁰ he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and ³¹ that he is ³² a rewarder of them that ³³ diligently seek him. By faith ³⁴ Noah, ³⁵ being warned of God of ³⁶ things not seen as yet, ³⁷ moved with fear, ³⁸ prepared an ark ³⁹ to the saving of his house; by the which ⁴⁰ he condemned the world, and became heir of ⁴¹ the righteousness which is by faith. By faith ⁴² Abraham, ⁴³ when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. By faith he ¹ sojourned in the land ² of ³ promise, as ⁴ in a strange country, ⁵ dwelling in tabernacles ⁶ with Isaac and Jacob, ⁷ the heirs with ⁸ him of the same ⁹ promise: for he looked for ¹⁰ a city ¹¹ which hath foundations, ¹² whose builder ¹³ and maker ¹⁴ is God. Through faith also ¹⁵ Sara herself received strength to conceive seed, and ¹⁶ was delivered of a child when ¹⁷ she was past age, ¹⁸ because she judged ¹⁹ him faithful ²⁰ who had ²¹ promised. Therefore sprang there even of one, and him ²² as good as dead, ²³ so ²⁴ many ²⁵ as the stars of the sky in multitude, and ²⁶ as the sand which is by ²⁷ the sea shore innumerable. These all ²⁸ died ²⁹ in faith, ³⁰ not having received the promises, but ³¹ having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of ³² them, and ³³ embraced ³⁴ them, and ³⁵ confessed that they were ³⁶ strangers and ³⁷ pilgrims on ³⁸ the earth. For they that say such ³⁹ things declare plainly that they seek a ⁴⁰ country. And truly, if they had been mindful of that ⁴¹ country from whence they came out, they might have had ⁴² opportunity to have returned. But now they desire ⁴³ a better country, that is, a heavenly: wherefore ⁴⁴ God is not ashamed ⁴⁵ to be called their God: for he hath ⁴⁶ prepared for them ⁴⁷ a city. By faith ⁴⁸ Abraham, when he was tried, offered up Isaac: and he that had received ⁴⁹ the promises offered up ⁵⁰ his only begotten son, ⁵¹ of whom it was said, ⁵² That in Isaac shall thy seed ⁵³ be called: accounting that God ⁵⁴ was able to raise ⁵⁵ him up, even from the dead; from whence also he received ⁵⁶ him in a ⁵⁷ figure. By faith ⁵⁸ Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning ⁵⁹ things to come. By faith ⁶⁰ Jacob, when he was a dying, ⁶¹ blessed both the sons of Joseph; and ⁶² worshipped, ⁶³ leaning upon the top of ⁶⁴ his staff. By faith ⁶⁵ Joseph, when he died, ⁶⁶ made mention of the departing of the children of Israel; and ⁶⁷ gave commandment concerning ⁶⁸ his bones. By faith ⁶⁹ Moses, when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, because they saw ⁷⁰ he was a ⁷¹ proper child; and they were not afraid of ⁷² the king's commandment. By faith ⁷³ Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called ^s the son of Pharaoh's daughter; ^t choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin ^u for a season; esteeming ^v the reproach ^w of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt: for he had respect unto ^x the recompence of the reward. By faith ^y ^z he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he ^{aa} endured, ^{ab} as seeing him who is ^{ac} invisible. Through ^{ad} faith ^{ae} ^{af} he kept the passover, and ^{ag} the sprinkling of blood, lest ^{ah} he that destroyed ^{ai} the firstborn should touch them. By faith ^{aj} ^{ak} they passed through the Red sea as by dry land: which the Egyptians assaying to do were drowned. By ^{al} faith ^{am} the walls of ^{an} Jericho fell down, after they were compassed about seven days. By faith ^{ao} the harlot Rahab perished not with them ^{ap} that ^{aq} believed not, ^{ar} when she had received the spies ^{as} with peace.

And what shall I more say? for the time would fail me to tell of ^{at} Gedeon, and of ^{au} Barak, and of ^{av} Samson, and of ^{aw} Jephthae; of ^{ax} David also, and of ^{ay} Samuel, and of ^{az} the prophets: who through faith ^{ba} subdued kingdoms, ^{bb} wrought righteousness, ^{bc} obtained promises, ^{bd} stopped the mouths of lions, ^{be} quenched the violence of fire, ^{bf} escaped ^{bg} the edge of the sword, ^{bh} out of weakness ^{bi} were made strong, ^{bj} waxed valiant in fight, ^{bk} turned to flight ^{bl} the armies of ^{bm} the aliens. ^{bn} Women received their dead raised to life again: and others ^{bo} were tortured, ^{bp} not accepting deliverance; ^{bq} that they might obtain ^{br} a better resurrection: and others had trial of ^{bs} cruel ^{bt} mockings and ^{bu} scourgings, yea, moreover of ^{bv} bonds and imprisonment: they were ^{bw} stoned, they were ^{bx} sawn ^{by} asunder, were tempted, ^{bz} were slain with the sword: they wandered about ^{ca} in sheepskins and goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, ^{cb} tormented; (^{cc} of whom the world was not worthy:) ^{cd} they wandered in deserts, and ^{ce} in mountains, and ^{cf} in ^{cg} dens and ^{ch} caves of the earth. And these all, ^{ci} having obtained a good report through faith, ^{cj} received not the promise: God having ^{ck} provided some ^{cl} better thing for us, ^{cm} that they without us should not be ^{cn} made perfect.

Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, ^a let us lay aside every weight, and ^b the sin which doth so easily beset us, and ^c let us run ^d with patience ^e the race that is ^f set before us, looking unto Jesus the ^g author and ^h finisher of our faith; ⁱ who for ^j the joy that was ^k set before him endured ^l the cross, despising ^m the shame, and ⁿ is set down at the right hand of the throne of God. ^o For ^p consider him that endured such ^q contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye ^r be wearied and ^s faint in your minds.

^t Ye have not yet resisted ^u unto blood, striving against sin. And ye have forgotten ^v the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, ^w My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor ^x faint when thou art rebuked of him: for whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and ^y scourgeth every son whom he ^z receiveth. If ye endure chastening, ^{aa} God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is ^{ab} he whom the father ^{ac} chasteneth not? But if ye be without chastisement, ^{ad} whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not ^{ae} sons. Furthermore we have had ^{af} fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we ^{ag} gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto ^{ah} the Father of spirits, and live? ^{ai} For they verily for a few days chastened us ^{aj} after their own pleasure; but he for ^{ak} our profit, ^{al} that we might be partakers of his holiness. Now no chastening ^{am} for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it yieldeth ^{an} the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are ^{ao} exercised thereby. Wherefore ^{ap} lift up ^{aq} the hands which hang down, and ^{ar} the feeble knees; and ^{as} make ^{at} straight paths for your feet, ^{au} lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; but ^k let it rather be healed. ^l Follow peace with all men, and ^m holiness, ⁿ without which no man shall see the Lord: looking diligently ^o lest any ^p man fail of ^q the grace of God; ^r lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled; lest there be any ^s fornicator, or ^t profligate person, as Esau, ^u who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright. For ^v ye know how that afterward, ^w when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no ^x place of repentance, though he ^y sought it carefully with tears.

For ye are not come unto ^z the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest, and ^{aa} the sound of a trumpet, and ^{ab} the voice of words; which ^{ac} voice ^{ad} they that heard intreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more: (for they ^{ae} could not endure that which was commanded, ^{af} And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart: and ^{ag} so terrible was the sight, ^{ah} that Moses said, I ^{ai} exceedingly fear and quake;) but ye are come unto ^{aj} the mount Sion, and unto ^{ak} the city of the living God, ^{al} the heavenly Jerusalem, and ^{am} to an innumerable company of angels, to the general assembly, and ^{an} church of ^{ao} the firstborn, ^{ap} which are ^{aq} written in heaven, and to ^{ar} God the Judge of all, and to ^{as} the spirits of just ^{at} men ^{au} made perfect, and to Jesus ^{av} the mediator of the new ^{aw} covenant, and to ^{ax} the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh ^{ay} better things than ^{az} that of Abel. And this ^{bi} word, Yet once more, signifieth ^{bj} the removing of those things that ^{bk} are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken

My brethren, ^fcount ^git all joy when ^hye fall into ⁱdivers temptations; knowing ^jthis, that ^kthe trying of your faith ^lworketh ^mpatience. But let patience have ⁿher perfect work, that ye may be ^operfect and entire, wanting nothing. ^pIf any of you lack wisdom, ^qlet him ask ^rof God, that giveth to all ^smen ^tliberally, and ^uupbraideth not; and ^vit shall be given him. But ^wlet him ask in faith, ^xnothing wavering: for he that wavereth is like ^ya wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed. For let not that man think that he shall receive any ^zthing of the Lord. ^{aa}A double minded man ^{ab}is ^{ac}unstable in all his ways. Let the brother of low degree ^{ad}rejoice ^{ae}in that he is exalted: but the rich, ^{af}in that he is made low: because ^{ag}as the flower of the grass ^{ah}he shall pass away. For the sun is ^{ai}sooner risen with ^{aj}a burning heat, but ^{ak}it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich ^{al}man fade away in his ways. ^{am}Blessed ^{an}is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is ^{ao}tried, he shall receive ^{ap}the crown of life, ^{aq}which the Lord hath promised to them that love him. ^{ar}Let no ^{as}man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with ^{at}evil, neither tempteth he any ^{au}man: but every man is tempted, when he is ^{av}drawn away ^{aw}of his own lust, and ^{ax}en-

^{ay}ticed. Then ^{az}when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, ^{ba}bringeth forth death. ^{bb}Do not err, my beloved brethren. ^{bc}Every good ^{bd}gift and every ^{be}perfect gift is ^{bf}from above, and cometh down from ^{bg}the Father of lights, ^{bh}with whom is no variableness, neither ^{bi}shadow of ^{bj}turning. ^{bk}Of his own will ^{bl}begat he us ^{bm}with the word of truth, ^{bn}that we should be a kind of ^{bo}firstfruits of his creatures. ^{bp}Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be ^{bq}swift to hear, ^{br}a slow to speak, ^{bs}slow to wrath: for the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. Wherefore ^{bt}lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of ^{bu}naughtiness, and receive ^{bv}with meekness the ^{bw}engrafted word, ^{bx}which is able to save your souls. But ^{by}be ye doers of the word, and ^{bz}not hearers only, ^{ca}deceiving your own selves. For ^{cb}if any be ^{cc}a hearer of the word, and ^{cd}not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in ^{ce}a glass: for he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of ^{cf}man he was. But whoso ^{cg}looketh into the perfect ^{ch}law of liberty, and continueth ^{ci}therein, he being not a forgetful ^{cj}hearer, but ^{ck}a doer of the work, this ^{cl}man shall be ^{cm}blessed in his ^{cn}deed. If any ^{co}man among you ^{cp}seem to be religious, and ^{cq}bridleth not ^{cr}his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this ^{cs}man's religion ^{ct}is vain. Pure ^{cu}religion and undefiled before ^{cv}God and the Father is this, To ^{cw}visit ^{cx}the ^{cy}fatherless and ^{cz}widows in their affliction, and ^{da}to keep himself ^{db}unspotted from the world.

My brethren, have not ^athe faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, ^b*the Lord* of glory, ^cwith respect of persons. For if ^dthere come unto your ^eassembly a man with a gold ring, in ^fgoodly apparel, and there come in also a poor ^gman in vile raiment; and ye ^hhave respect to him that weareth the ⁱgay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here ^jin a good place; and ^ksay to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool: are ye not then ^lpartial in yourselves, and are become judges of ^mevil thoughts? Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath not God ⁿchosen the poor of this world ^orich in faith, and ^pheirs of ^qthe kingdom ^rwhich he hath promised to ^sthem that love him? But ye have ^tdespised the poor. Do not rich ^umen ^voppress you, and ^wdraw you ^xbefore the judgment seats? Do not they ^yblaspheme ^zthat worthy name ^{aa}by the which ye are called? If ye fulfil ^{ab}the royal law according to ^{ac}the scripture, ^{ad}Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well: but ^{ae}if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are ^{af}convinced of the law as transgressors. For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet ^{ag}offend in one ^{ah}point, ^{ai}he is ^{aj}guilty of all. For ^{ak}he that said, ^{al}Do not commit adultery, said also, ^{am}Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet ^{an}if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law. So speak ye, and so do, as ^{ao}they that shall be judged by ^{ap}the law of liberty. For ^{aq}he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy; and ^{ar}mercy ^{as}rejoiceth against judgment.

^{at}What ^{au}doth it profit, my brethren, ^{av}though a man say ^{aw}he hath faith, and have not works? can faith save him? ^{ax}If a brother or sister be ^{ay}naked, and destitute of daily food, and ^{az}one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be you warmed and filled; ^{ba}notwithstanding ye give them not those ^{bb}things which are needful to the body; ^{bc}what ^{bd}doth it profit? Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, ^{be}being ^{bf}alone. Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works:

shew me thy faith ¹without thy works, and I will ²shew thee ³my faith by my ⁴works. ⁵Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well: ⁶the devils also ⁷believe, and tremble. But wilt thou know, O ⁸vain man, that faith ⁹without works is dead? Was not Abraham our father justified by works, ¹⁰when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar? ¹¹Seest thou ¹²how faith wrought with his works, and ¹³by works was faith made ¹⁴perfect? And ¹⁵the scripture was fulfilled which saith, ¹⁶Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was ¹⁷called ¹⁸the Friend of God. Ye see then how that ¹⁹by works a man is ²⁰justified, and ²¹not by faith only. Likewise also ²²was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she had ²³received the messengers, and had sent ²⁴them out another way? For as the body ²⁵without the ²⁶spirit is dead, so faith ²⁷without works is dead also.

1 Be patient therefore, brethren, unto 2 the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman ^wwaiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and ^xhath long patience for it, until he receive ^ythe
 early and ^{yz}latter rain. Be ye also ⁸ ^xpatient; ^astablish your hearts: for ^bthe
 coming of the Lord draweth nigh.
 3 Grudge not one against another, bre-
 4 thren, lest ye be condemned: behold,
 5 the judge standeth ^dbefore the door.
 Take, my brethren, ^ethe prophets, ^fwho
 have spoken in the name of the Lord,
 for ^gan example of suffering affliction,
 and of patience. Behold, ^hwe count ¹¹ them happy ⁱwhich endure. Ye have heard of ^jthe patience of Job, and have seen ^kthe end of the Lord; that ^lthe
 Lord is very pitiful, and ^mof tender mercy. But above all things, my bre-12 thren, ⁿswear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your ^oyea be yea;
 and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation. Is any among you af-13 flicted? let him pray. Is any merry?
 14 Let him sing psalms. Is any sick a-14

mong you? let him call for ^athe elders
 of the church; and let them pray over him, ^ranointing him with oil in the 15 name of the Lord: and ^sthe prayer of faith shall ^tsave the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and ^uif he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven 16 him. ^vConfess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, ^wthat
 ye may be healed. ^xThe effectual ^{xy}fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth 17 much. Elias was a man ^zsubject to like passions as we are, and ^ahe prayed earnestly that it might not rain: and 18 it rained not on the earth by the space of ^bthree years and six months. And 19 he prayed again, and the heaven
 gave rain, and the earth brought forth
 her fruit.

20 Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth, and ^done convert him; let him know, that ^ehe which converteth
 the sinner from the error of his way 21 shall save ^ga soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins.

God ^{ad}through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. Wherein ^{ae}ye greatly ^{af}rejoice, ^{ag}though now ^{ah}for a season, if need be, ^{ai}ye are in heaviness through ^{aj} manifold tempta-unto you: searching ^{be}what, or what

it testified beforehand ^{bh}the sufferings of Christ, and ^{bi}the glory that should

now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you with ^{bl}the Holy Ghost sent down from hea-

^{bn}look into.

Wherefore ^{bo}gird up the loins of your

^a Likewise, ^b ye wives, ^c be in subjection to your own husbands; that, if any ^d obey not the word, ^e they also may without the word be ^f won by the ^g conversation of the wives; while they ^h be- hold your chaste ⁱ conversation ^j coupled with fear. Whose adorning let it not be that outward ^k adorning of ^l plaiting the hair, and of ^m wearing of gold, or of ⁿ putting on of apparel; but let it be ^o the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price. For after this manner in the old time the holy women also, who ^k trusted in God, adorned themselves, ^b being in subjection unto their own husbands: even as Sara obeyed Abraham, ¹ calling him lord: whose ¹ daughters ye are, as long as ye do well, and ^m are not afraid with any amazement. Likewise, ^o ye husbands, ^p dwell with them according to ^q knowledge, giving ^r honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker ^s vessel, and as being ^t heirs together of the grace of life; ^u that your prayers be not hindered.

Finally, be ye ^v all of one mind, ^w having compassion one of another, ^x love as brethren, ^y be ^z pitiful, ^a be courteous: ^b not rendering evil for evil, or ^c railing for railing: but contrariwise ^d blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, ^e that ye should inherit a blessing. For ^f he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile: ^g let him eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it. For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and ^h his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil. And ⁱ who is he that will harm you, ^j if ye be strange that you run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you: who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead. For for this cause was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

But the end of all things is at hand: ye be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer. And above all things have d fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins. Use hospitality one to another without grudging. As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God. If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you: but rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy. If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, ye are happy ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified. But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, or as a busybody in other men's matters. Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf. For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God? And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear? Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator.

The elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed: feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind; neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being examples to the flock. And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away. Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble. Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time: casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you. Be sober, ye be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour: whom resist stedfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world. But the God of all grace, who hath called us into his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you. To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

By Silvanus, a faithful brother unto you, as I suppose, I have written briefly, exhorting, and testifying that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand. The church that is at Babylon, elected together with you, saluteth you; and so doth Marcus my son. Greet ye one another with a kiss of charity. Peace be with you all that are in Christ Jesus. Amen.

¹ SIMON Peter, ^a a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained ^b like precious faith with us ^c through the righteousness [†] of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ: ^d Grace and peace be multiplied unto ^e you ^e through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord.

According as his divine power hath ³ given unto us all things that pertain unto life and ^f godliness, ^{eg} through the knowledge of ^h him that hath called us ^l to ⁱ glory and ^h virtue: whereby are ⁴ given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these you might be ^k partakers of the divine nature, ^l having escaped ^m the corruption that is in the world through lust: and beside this, ⁵ giving all diligence, ⁿ add to your faith virtue; and to virtue ^o knowledge; and ⁶ to knowledge ^p temperance; and to temperance ^q patience; and to patience ^f godliness; and to ^f godliness ^r brotherly kindness; and ^s to brotherly kindness ^t charity. For if these things be in you, and ⁸ abound, they make you that ye shall neither be [†] barren nor ^u unfruitful in ^e the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. But he that lacketh these things ⁹ ^v is blind, and cannot see far off, and hath forgotten that he was ^w purged from his old sins. Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence ^x to make your ^y calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ^z ye shall never fall: for so ¹¹ an entrance shall be ^a ministered unto you abundantly ^b into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Wherefore I will not be negligent ^c to ¹² put you always in remembrance of these things, ^d though ye know them, and be ^e established in the present truth. Yea, ¹³ I think it meet, as long as I am in ^f this tabernacle, ^g to stir you up ^{eg} by putting ¹⁴ you in remembrance; ^h knowing that shortly I must ⁱ put off this ^f my tabernacle, even as ^k our Lord Jesus ¹⁵ Christ hath shewed me. Moreover I will endeavour that you may be able after my ^l decease to have these things ¹⁶ always in remembrance. For we have not followed ^m cunningly devised ⁿ fables, when we made known unto you ^o the power and ^p coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but ^q were ^r eyewitnesses ¹⁷ of his ^s majesty. For he received from God the Father ^t honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the ^u excellent glory, ^w This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. And this voice which came from heaven ^q we heard, when we were with ¹⁹ him in ^x the holy mount. We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ^y ye do well that ye take heed, as unto ^z a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and ^a the day ²⁰ star ^b arise in your hearts: knowing this first, that ^c no prophecy of the scripture ²¹ is of ^{any} private ^d interpretation. For the ^e prophecy came not ⁱⁿ old time by the will of man: but ^f holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

And many shall follow their ^lpernicious ways; by reason of whom ^jthe way of truth ^kshall be evil spoken of. And ^lthrough covetousness shall they ^mwith feigned words ⁿmake merchandise of you: ^owhose judgment now ^pof a long time lingereth not, and ⁱtheir damnation ^qslumbereth not. For if God spared not ^rthe angels ^sthat sinned, but ^tcast them down to hell, and delivered them into ^uchains of darkness, to be ^vreserved unto judgment; and ^wspared not the old world, but ^xsaved Noah the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, ^ybringing in ^zthe flood upon ^athe world of the ungodly; and ^bturning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes condemned them with ^can overthrow, ^dmaking them an ^eensample unto those that after should ^flive ungodly; and ^gdelivered ^hjust Lot, vexed with the ⁱfilthy ^kconversation of ^lthe wicked: (for that ^mrighteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, ⁿvexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds;) ⁿthe Lord knoweth ^how to deliver ^othe godly out of temptations, and ^pto reserve the unjust unto ^qthe day of judgment to be punished: but chiefly them ^rthat walk ^safter the flesh in the lust of ^tuncleanness, and despise ^ugovernment. Presumptuous ^vare they, ^wselfwilled, they are not afraid to ^xspeak evil of dignities. Whereas ^yangels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation ^lagainst them before the Lord. But these, ^yas natural brute beasts, ^zmade to be taken and destroyed, ^yas speak evil of the things that they understand not; and ^yshall utterly perish in their own ^bcorruption; and shall receive ^cthe reward of unrighteousness, ^{as} they that count it pleasure ^dto riot in the day time. ^eSpots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings ^fwhile ^gthey feast with you; having eyes full of ^hadultery and ⁱthat cannot cease from sin; ^jbeguiling ^kunstable souls: a heart they have ^lexercised with ^mcovetous practices; ⁿcursed children: which have forsaken ^othe right way, and are gone astray, following the way of ^pBalaam the son of Bosor, who loved ^cthe wages of unrighteousness; but was rebuked for his iniquity: ^qthe dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbad the madness of the prophet. These are wells ^rwithout water, ^sclouds that are carried with a tempest; ^tto whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever. For when ^uthey speak great swelling words of vanity, they ⁱallure through the lusts of the flesh, through ^vmuch wantonness, ^wthose that were ^xclean escaped from them who live in error. While they promise them ^yliberty, they themselves are ^zthe servants of ^bcorruption: for ^zof whom a man ⁱs overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage. For if after they ^whave escaped the ^apollutions of the world ^bthrough the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again ^centangled therein, and overcome, ^dthe latter end is worse with them than the beginning. For ^eit had been better for them not ^fto have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, ^gto turn from ^hthe holy commandment delivered unto them. But it is happened unto them according to the true ⁱproverb, ^kThe dog ⁱs turned to his own vomit again; and, The sow that was washed to ^hher ^lwallowing in the mire.

^a THAT which was from the beginning, which ^b we have heard, which ^c we have seen with our eyes, which ^d we have looked upon, and ^e our hands have handled, of the Word ^f of life; (for ^e the life ^f was manifested, and ^b we have seen it, and ^g bear witness, and shew unto you ^h that eternal life, ⁱ which was with the Father, and ^f was manifested unto us;) that which ^b we have seen and ^b heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly ^k our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ. And these things write we unto you, ^l that your joy may be full. ^m This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that ⁿ God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. ^o If we say that we have fellowship with him, and ^p walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth: but if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and ^q the blood of ^r Jesus Christ his Son ^s cleanseth us from all sin. ^t If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and ^u the truth is not in us. ^v If we confess our sins, he is ^x faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to ^s cleanse us from all unrighteousness. ^y If we say that we have not sinned, ^z we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, ^a we have an ^b advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: and ^c he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but ^d also ^e for the sins of the whole world. And hereby we do know that we know him, ^f if we ^e keep his commandments. ^g He that saith, ^h I know him, and ^e keepeth not his commandments, ^h is a liar, and ⁱ the truth is not in him. But whoso ^j keepeth his word, ^k in him verily is the love of God perfected: ^l hereby know we that we are in him. He that saith he ^m abideth in him ⁿ ought himself also ^o so to walk, even as he walked. Brethren, ^o I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment ^p which ye had from the beginning. ^q The old commandment is the word ^p which ye have heard from the beginning. Again, ^r a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true ^r in him and in you: because the ^s darkness ^t is past, and ^u the true light now shineth. ^v He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, ^v is in darkness even until now. ^w He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and ^x there is none ^y occasion of stumbling in him. But he that hateth his brother ^v is in darkness, and ^y walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that ^v darkness hath blinded his eyes. I write unto you, little children, because ^z your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake. I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known ^a him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because you have overcome ^b the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known ^c the Father. I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known ^a him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ^d ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome ^bthe wicked one. ^cLove not the world, neither the things that are in the world. ^dIf any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that ^eis in the world, ^fthe lust of the flesh, and ^gthe lust of the eyes, and ^hthe pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And ⁱthe world passeth away, ^jand the lust thereof: but he that doeth ^kthe will of God abideth for ever. ^lLittle children, ^mit is the last time: ⁿand as ye have heard that ^oantichrist shall come, even now are there ^pmany antichrists; whereby we know ^qthat it is the last time. ^rThey went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, ^sthey would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, ^tthat they might be made manifest that they were not ^uall of us. But ye ^vhave ^wan unction from ^xthe Holy One, and ^yye know all things. I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ^zye know it, and that no lie is of the truth. Who is a liar but ^ahe that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is ^bantichrist, that ^cdenieth the Father and the Son. ^dWhosoever ^edenieth the Son, the same ^fhath not the Father: [but] ^ghe that acknowledgeth the Son ^hhath the Father also. Let that ⁱtherefore abide in you, ^jwhich ye have heard from the beginning. If ^kthat ^lwhich ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ^mye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father. And ⁿthis is the promise that he hath promised us, ^oeven ^peternal life. These things have I written unto you concerning ^qthem that seduce you. But ^rthe anointing ^swhich ye have received of him abideth in you, and ^tye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing ^uteacheth you of all things, and ^vhis truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ^wye shall abide in ^xhim. And now, little children, abide in him; that, ^ywhen he shall appear, ^zwe may have confidence, and ^anot be ashamed ^bbefore him ^cat his coming. If ye know ^dthat ^ehe is righteous, ^fye know that ^gevery

Behold, ^awhat manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that ^bwe should be called ^cthe sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, because ^dit knew him not. Beloved, ^enow are we ^fthe sons of God, and ^git doth not yet appear what we shall be: but ^hwe know that, ⁱwhen he shall appear, ^jwe shall be like him; for ^kwe shall ^lsee him as he is. And every man ^mthat hath this hope in him ⁿpurifieth himself, ^oeven as he is pure. Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for ^psin is the transgression of the law. And ye know that ^qhe was manifested ^rto take away our sins; and ^sin him is no sin. ^tWhosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth ^uhath not seen him, ^vneither known him. Little children, ^wlet ^xno man deceive you: ^yhe that doeth righteousness is righteous, ^zeven as he is righteous. ^aHe that committeth sin is of the devil; for ^bthe devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, ^cthat he might ^ddestroy the works of the devil. ^eWhosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for ^fhis seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because ^ghe is born of God. In this ^hthe children of God are manifest, and ⁱthe children of the devil: ^jwhosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither ^khe that loveth not his brother. For ^lthis is the ^mmessage ⁿthat ye heard from the beginning, ^othat we should love one another. ^pNot as ^qCain, ^rwho was of ^sthat wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? ^tBecause his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous. Marvel not, my brethren, if ^uthe world hate you. ^vWe know that ^wwe have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not ^xhis brother abideth in death. ^yWhosoever hateth his brother is ^za murderer: and ye know that ^ano murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. ^bHereby perceive we the love of God, because ^che laid down his life for us: and ^dwe ought to lay down ^eour lives for

^a God. ^aHe that loveth not, ^bknoweth ^anot God; for ^uGod is love. ^vIn this was manifested the love of God towards us, because that ^wGod sent his only begotten Son into the world, ^xthat we might live through him. Herein is love, ^ynot that we loved God, but ^zthat he loved us, and sent his Son to be ^athe ¹¹propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us, ^bwe ought also to ¹²love one another. ^cNo man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, ^dGod dwelleth in us, and ^ehis love is ¹³perfected in us. ^fHereby know we that ^gwe ^d dwell in him, and he in us, ^gbecause he hath given us of his Spirit. ¹⁴ And ^hwe have seen and ⁱdo testify that ^jthe Father sent the Son to be ^kthe ¹⁵Saviour of the world. ^lWhosoever shall confess ^mthat Jesus is the Son of God, ^dGod dwelleth in him, and he in God. ¹⁶ And we have known and believed ⁿthe love that God hath to us. ^oGod is love; and he that dwelleth in love ^ddwelleth ¹⁷in God, and God in him. ^eHerein is ^tour love made perfect, that ^pwe may have boldness ^qin the day of judgment: because ^ras he is, so are we in this ¹⁸world. There is no fear in love; but ^sperfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth ^eis ¹⁹not made perfect in love. ^tWe love ²⁰him, because he first loved us. ^uIf a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, ^whe is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God ^{cx}whom he hath ²¹not seen? Beloved, when I gave all ^k diligence ³

^u I ^v John, who also am your brother, and ^w companion in tribulation, and ^x in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, ^y was in the isle that is called Patmos, for ^z the word of God, and for ^a the testimony of Jesus Christ. ^b I was heard behind me a great voice, ^d as of a trumpet, saying, ^e I am Alpha and Omega, ^f the first and the last: and,

are in Asia; unto ⁱ Ephesus, and unto ^j Smyrna, and unto ^k Pergamos, and unto ^l Thyatira, and unto ^m Sardis,
and unto ⁿ Philadelphia, and unto ^o Laodicea. And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned,
^p I saw ^q seven golden candlesticks; and ^r in the midst of ^s the seven candlesticks
^t one like unto the Son of man, ^u clothed with ^v a garment down to the foot, and ^w girt about the paps with a golden girdle. His head and ^x his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and ^y his eyes were as a flame of fire; ^z and his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and ^a his voice as the sound of many waters. And he had ^b in his right hand seven stars:
and ^c out of his mouth went ^d a sharp
^e twoedged sword: and ^f his counte-

Unto ^a the angel of the church of ^b Ephesus write; These things saith ^c he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh ^d in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks; ^e I know thy ² works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not ^f bear them which ³ are evil: and ⁴ thou hast tried them ⁵ which say they are ⁶ apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars: and hast ⁷ borne, and hast patience, ⁸ and for my name's sake hast laboured, and ⁹ hast not fainted. Nevertheless I ¹⁰ have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left ¹¹ thy first love. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else ¹² I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove ¹³ thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent. But this thou hast, that thou ¹⁴ hatest the deeds of ¹⁵ the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. ¹⁶ He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; ¹⁷ To him that overcometh will I give to eat of ¹⁸ the tree of life, which is in the midst of ¹⁹ the paradise of God.

And unto ^a the angel of the church ⁸ in ⁹ Smyrna write; These things saith ¹⁰ the first and the last, ¹¹ which was dead, and is alive; ¹² I know thy works, ¹³ and tribulation, and ¹⁴ poverty, (but thou art ¹⁵ rich) and ¹⁶ I know the blasphemy of ¹⁷ them which say they are Jews, and are not, but ¹⁸ are ¹⁹ the synagogue of ²⁰ Satan. So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of ³³ the Nicolaitans, which ³⁴ thing I hate. And unto ^a the angel of the church ⁸ in ⁹ Thyatira write; These things saith the Son of God, ¹⁰ who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and ¹¹ his feet ¹² are like fine brass; ¹³ I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the ¹⁴ last ¹⁵ to be more than the first. ¹⁶ Notwithstanding I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest ¹⁷ that woman ¹⁸ Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to ¹⁹ decommit fornication, and ²⁰ to eat things sacrificed unto idols. ²¹ And ²² I gave her space to repent of her fornication; and she repented not. After this I looked, and behold, a were of a trumpet talking with me;

which said, ^b Come up hither, and ^c I

for ⁱ thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created.

And I saw in the right hand of ^a him
that sat on the throne ^b a book written within and ^c on the backside, ^d sealed ² with seven seals. And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice,
Who is worthy to open the book, and ³ to loose the seals thereof? And no man ^e in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the ⁴ book, neither to look thereon. And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open and to read the book, ⁵ neither to look thereon. And ^f one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not:
behold, ^g the Lion ^h of the tribe of Juda, ⁱ the root of David, ^k hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose ⁶ the seven seals thereof. And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the throne
and of ^m the four beasts, and in ^m the midst of the elders, stood ^{no} a Lamb
as it had been ^o slain, having seven horns
and ^p seven eyes, which are ^q the seven spirits of God sent forth into all the ⁷ earth. And he came and took the book out of the right hand of ^a him ⁸ that sat upon the throne. And when he had taken the book, ^r the four beasts
and ^r four and twenty elders fell down before ⁿ the Lamb, having every one of them ^s harps, and ^t golden vials full of ^u odours, ^u which are the prayers of ⁹ saints. And they sung ^v a new ^w song, saying, ^x Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof:
for ^y thou wast slain, and ^{xx} hast redeemed us to God ^y by thy blood out of ^z every kindred, and tongue, and ¹⁰ people, and nation; and ^a hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth.

¹¹ And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels ^b round about the throne
and ^c the beasts and the elders: and the number of them was ^d ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of

on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, ^gk Blessing, and ^h honour, and ^h glory, and ^m power, be unto ⁿ him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever. And ^o the four beasts said, ^op Amen. And ^q the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped ^r him that liveth for ever and ever.

And ^a I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard, ^{aa} as it were the noise of thunder, ^b one of the four beasts saying, Come and see. And ² I saw, and behold ^{cd} a white horse: ^d and he that sat on him ^e had a bow; and ^f a crown was given unto him; and he went forth ^g conquering, and to conquer.

And when he had opened the second ³ seal, I heard ^h the second beast say, Come and see. And there went out another ⁱ horse that was red: and ^j power was given to him that sat thereon ^k to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

And when he had opened the third ⁵ seal, I heard ^h the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo ¹ a black horse; and he that sat on him had ^m a pair of balances in his hand. And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, ^u ^a A measure of wheat for ^o a penny, and three measures of barley for ^o a penny; and see thou ^{oo} hurt not the oil and the wine.

And when he had opened the fifth ⁹ seal, I saw ^u under ^v the altar ^w ^x the souls of them that were slain ^y for the word of God, and ^{yy} for the testimony which they held: and they cried with ¹⁰ a loud voice, saying, ^x How long, ^z O Lord, ^a holy and true, dost thou not ^b judge and ^c avenge our blood on

¹¹ ^d them that dwell on the earth? And ^e white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, ^f that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellowservants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, ^g should be fulfilled.

¹² And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and lo, ^h there was a great earthquake; and ⁱ the sun became black as sackcloth of ^k hair, and ^{il} the moon became as blood; and ^{im} the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even ⁿ as a fig tree casteth her ^u untimely figs, when she is shaken of a ¹⁴ mighty wind. And ^o the heaven departed ^p as a scrole when it is rolled together; and every ^{qr} mountain and ^r island were moved out of their places.

¹⁵ And the kings of the earth, and st the great men, and the rich men, and the ^{su} chief captains, and ^v the mighty men, and ^w every bondman, and ^w every free man, ^x hid themselves in the dens and ¹⁶ in the rocks of the mountains; ^y and said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of ^z him that sitteth on the throne, and from ^a the wrath of the Lamb: ¹⁷ for ^b the great day of his wrath is come; and ^c who shall be able ^d to stand?

² And I saw ^cthe seven angels ^dwhich stood before God; and to them were ³given seven ^etrumpets. And another angel came and stood at the altar, having ^fa golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should ¹offer it with ^gthe prayers of all saints upon ^hthe golden altar which ⁴was before the throne. And the smoke of the incense, which came ^gwith the prayers of the saints, ¹ascended up before God out of the angel's hand. And the angel took ^fthe censer, and ^kfilled it with fire of ^hthe altar, and cast it ¹into the earth: and there were ¹voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and ⁶^man earthquake. And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

⁷ The first angel sounded, and there followed ⁿhail and ⁿfire mingled with blood, and they were cast ^pupon the earth: and ¹⁰^pthe third part of ^q^rtrees was burnt up, and all ^qgreen grass was burnt up.

⁸ And the second angel sounded, and as it were ^sa great mountain burning with fire was cast ¹into the sea: and the third part of ^tthe sea ^ubecame ⁹blood; and the third part of ^tthe creatures which were in the sea, ^tand had life, died; and the third part of ^vthe ships were destroyed.

¹⁰ And ^wthe third angel sounded, and ^xthere fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were ^ya lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the ^zrivers, and upon the fountains of waters; and the name of the star is called ^aWormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, ^bbecause they were made bitter.

¹² And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of ^cthe sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so as the third part of them was darkened and the day shone not for a third part of ¹³it, and the night likewise. reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound.

And the fifth angel sounded, and I saw ^aa star ^bfall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given ^cthe key of ^dthe bottomless pit. And he opened ^dthe bottomless pit; and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of ^ea great furnace; and ^fthe sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit. And there came ^glocusts upon the earth: and unto them was given power, as ^hthe scorpions of the earth have power. And it was commanded them ⁱthat they should not hurt ^kthe grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only ^lthose men which have not ^lthe seal of God in their foreheads. And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented ^mfive months: and their torment ^{was} as the torment of ⁿa scorpion, when he striketh a man. And in those days ^oshall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them. And ^othe shapes of ^gthe locusts ^{were} like unto horses prepared unto battle; and on their heads ^{were} as it ^{were} ^pcrowns like gold, and their faces ^{were} as the faces ^qof men. And they had hair as the hair of women, and ^rtheir teeth were as the ^{teeth} of lions. And they had breastplates, as it ^{were} breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings ^{was} ^sas the sound of chariots of many horses running ^tto battle. And they had tails like unto ^hscorpions, and there were stings in their tails: and their power ^{was} to hurt men ^mfive months. And they had ^ua king over them, ^{which is} ^athe angel of ^dthe bottomless pit, whose name ^vin the Hebrew tongue ^{is} ^wAbaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath ^{his}name ^xApollyon. ^yOne woe is past; and behold, ^zthere come two woes more hereafter.

And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from ^zthe four horns of ^athe golden altar which is before God, saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose ^bthe four angels which are bound in ^cthe great river Euphrates. And ^bthe four angels were loosed, which were prepared ^lfor ^dan hour, and ^ea day, and ^ga month, and ^fa year, for to slay ^{ff}the third ^{part} of men. And ^bthe number of the army ⁱof the horsemen ^{were} ^htwo hundred thousand thousand: ^kand I heard the number of them. And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire, and ^lof jacinth, and brimstone: and ^mthe heads of the horses ^{were} as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths issued ⁿfire and smoke and brimstone. By these three was the third ^{part} of men killed, ⁿby the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths. For their power is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails ^{were} like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt. And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues ^{yet} ⁿⁿrepented not of ^othe works of their hands, that they should not worship ^pdevils, and ^qidols ^{rs}of gold, and ^{rs}silver, and ^sbrass, and ^sstone, and ^sof wood: ^{rs}which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk: neither repented they of their ^tmurders, nor of their ^{tu}sorceries, nor of their ^{tv}fornication, nor of their thefts.

And I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, ^aclothed with a cloud: and ^ba rainbow ^{was} upon his head, and ^chis face ^{was} as it ^{were} the sun, and ^dhis feet as ^epillars of fire: and ^fhe had in his hand a little book open: and ^ghe set his right foot upon the sea, and ^{his}left foot on the earth, and cried with a loud voice, as ^{when} ^ha lion ⁱroareth: and when he had cried, seven ^jthunders uttered their voices. And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and ^kI heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, ^lSeal ^{up} ^{those things} which the seven thunders uttered, and ^lwrite them not. And the angel which I saw ^{stand} upon the sea and upon the earth ^mlifted up his hand to heaven, and ⁿswore by ⁿhim that liveth for ever and ever, ^owho created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, ^pthat there should be time no longer: but ^qin the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, ^{qa}the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.

^d Matt. 10. 2. crown of ^d twelve stars : and ^e she being ^e with child cried, ^f travelling in birth, and pained to be delivered. And there ³ appeared another ^g wonder in heaven ; and behold a great ^h red ^h dragon, ⁱ having seven heads and ^j ten horns, and seven ^k crowns upon his heads. And ⁴ his tail ^l drew ^m the third ^{part} of the stars of heaven, and ⁿ did cast them to the earth : and ^h the dragon stood before ^o the woman which was ready to be delivered, ^p for to devour her child as soon as it was born. And she ⁵ brought forth a man child, who was to ^q rule all nations with a rod of iron : and her child was ^r caught up unto God, and ^{to} his throne. And ^o the ⁶ woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there ^s a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

And there was war in heaven : ⁷ ^t Michael and his angels fought against ^h the dragon ; and the dragon fought and ^u his angels, and prevailed not ; ⁸ ^v neither was their place found any more in heaven. And the great ^h dragon ^w was cast out, ^x that old ^y serpent, called the devil, and ^z Satan, ^{ya} which deceiveth ^b the whole world : ^c he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him. And I heard ¹⁰ a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come ^d salvation, and ^{dd} strength, and ^e the kingdom of our God, and the power of ^e his Christ : for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, ^f which accused them before our God ^g day and night. And ^h they overcame him by the blood ¹¹ of the Lamb, and by ⁱ the word of their testimony ; and ^k they loved not their lives unto the death. Therefore ¹² ^l rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that ^m dwell in them. ⁿ Woe to the inhabitants of the earth and of the sea ! for ^o the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, ^p because he knoweth that he hath ^{but} a short time.

And when the dragon saw that he ¹³ was cast ^q unto the earth, he persecuted ^r the woman which brought forth the man ^{child}. And to the woman were ¹⁴ given ^s two wings of a great eagle, ^t that she might fly ^u into the wilderness, ^t into her place, where she is nourished ^v for a time, and times, and half a time, from ¹⁵ the face of the serpent. And the serpent cast out of his mouth water ^w as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the ¹⁶ flood. And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the ¹⁷ dragon cast out of his mouth. And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went ^x to make war with the remnant of her seed, ^y which keep the commandments of God, and ^z have ⁱ the testimony of Jesus Christ.

And I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw ^a a beast rise up ^a out of the sea, ^b having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten ^b crowns, and upon his heads the ⁱ name of blasphemy. And the beast which I saw was ^c like unto a leopard, and his feet ^{were} as ^{the feet} of ^d a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of ^e a lion : and ^f the dragon gave him his power, and ^g his seat, and great ^h authority. And I saw one of his heads as ^{it were} ⁱ wounded to death ; and ⁱ his deadly wound was healed : and ^k all the world ⁴ wondered ^l after the beast. And they worshipped the dragon which gave ^h power unto the beast : and they worshipped the beast, saying, ^m Who ^{is} like unto the beast ? who is able to make ⁵ war with him ? And there was given unto him ⁿ a mouth speaking great ^{things} and blasphemies ; and ^h power was given unto him ^l to ^o continue ^p forty ⁶ and two months. And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and ^q them that dwell in heaven. ⁷ And it was given unto him ^r to make war with the saints, and to overcome them : and ^h power was given him over ^s all kindreds, and tongues, and nations. ⁸ And all ^t that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, ^k whose names are not written in ^u the book of life of ^v the Lamb slain ^w from the foundation of the ⁹ world. ^x If any ^{man} have an ear, let ¹⁰ him hear. ^y He that ^z leadeth into captivity ^{shall} go into captivity : ^a he that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword. ^b Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

And I looked, and lo, ^a a Lamb stood on ^b the mount Sion, and with him ^c an hundred forty and four thousand, ^d having his Father's name written in their foreheads. And I heard a voice ² from heaven, ^e as the voice of many waters, and ^f as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers ^g harping with their harps: and ³
they sung as it were ^h a new song before
the throne, and before ^s the four beasts,
and the elders: and ⁱ no man could learn that song but ^c the hundred and forty and four thousand, ^h which were redeemed from the earth. These are ⁴
they which ^j were not defiled with women; for ^k they are virgins. These are they ^l which follow the Lamb whither-soever he goeth. These ^t ^h were redeemed from among men, being ^m the firstfruits unto God and to the Lamb.

5 And ⁿ in their mouth was found no
guile: for they are ^o without fault before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another ^p angel fly in the midst of heaven, having ^q the everlasting gospel to preach unto ^r them that dwell on the earth, and to ^s every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people, saying with a loud voice, ^t Fear God, and ^u give glory to him; for ^v the hour ^w of his judgment is come: and ^x worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains
^s of waters. And there followed another angel, saying, ^y ^z Babylon is fallen, is fallen, ^a that great city, because ^b she made all nations drink of the wine of ⁹ the wrath of her fornication. And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man ^c worship the beast and his image, and receive ^c his mark in his forehead, or in his hand, ¹⁰ the same ^d shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is ^e poured out ^f without mixture into ^d the cup of his indignation; and ^g he shall be tormented with ^g fire and ^g brimstone in the presence of ⁱ the holy angels, and in the ¹¹ presence of the Lamb: and ^k the smoke
of their torment ascendeth up for ever
and ever: and ^l they have no rest day
nor night, ^c who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth ^e the ¹² mark of his name. ^m Here is the patience of the saints: here are ⁿ they that

¹³ ^o the faith of Jesus. And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, ^p Write, ^q Blessed are the dead ^r which die in the Lord ^s from henceforth: Yea,
saith the Spirit, ^t that they may rest
from their labours; and ^u their works do follow them.

14 And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and ^v upon the cloud one sat ^w like unto the Son of man, ^x having on his head a golden crown, and in ¹⁵ his hand a sharp sickle. And another angel came ^y out of the temple, crying
with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Thrust in ^z thy sickle, and reap: for ^a the time is come for thee to reap; for the harvest of the earth is ^r ripe.

in his sickle on the earth; and the earth

And another angel came ^cout of the ¹⁷ temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle. And another angel ¹⁸ came out from ^dthe altar, ^ewhich had power over fire; and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; ^ffor her grapes are fully ripe. And the angel thrust in his sickle into ¹⁹ the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast ^{it} into the great ^gwinepress of the wrath of God. And ^gh^e ²⁰ winepress was trodden ⁱwithout ^kthe city, and blood came out of the winepress, ^{even} ^lunto ^mthe horse bridles, by the space of a thousand ^{and} six hundred ⁿfurlongs.

And I saw ^aanother sign in heaven, great and marvellous, ^bseven angels having the seven last plagues; ^cfor in them is filled up the wrath of God. And after that I looked, and behold, ⁵ ^wthe temple of ^xthe tabernacle of the testimony ^yin heaven was opened: and ⁶ ^bthe seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, ^zclothed in ^{zz}pure and white linen, and ^ahaving their breasts girded with golden girdles. ³ And the second angel poured out his vial ⁱupon the sea; and ^{it} became as the blood of a dead ^{man}: and ^{every} living soul died in the sea.

⁴ And the third angel poured out his vial ⁱupon the rivers and fountains of ⁵ waters; and ^mthey became blood. And I heard the angel of the waters say, ⁿThou art righteous, O Lord, ^owhich art, and wast, and shalt be, because ⁶thou hast judged thus. ¹² And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon ^jthe great river Euphrates; and ^kthe water thereof was dried up, that ^lthe way of the kings of the east ¹³ might be prepared. And is become ^ethe habitation of devils,
And the hold of ^fevery foul spirit,
And a cage of ^gevery unclean and hateful bird.
For ^hall nations have drunk of the ⁱwine
of the wrath of her fornication,
And ^jthe kings of the earth have committed fornication with her,
And ^kthe merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the ^labundance
of her ^mdelicacies.
And I heard another voice from heaven, saying,
ⁿCome out of her, my people,
That ye be not partakers of her sins,
And that ye receive not of her plagues.
^oFor her sins have reached unto ^pheaven,
And ^qGod hath remembered her ini-quities.
^rReward her even as she rewarded ^syou,
And double unto her double according to her works :
^tIn the cup which she hath filled fill
to her double.
^uHow much she hath glorified herself, ^vand
^wlived deliciously,
So much torment and sorrow give
her :
For ^xshe saith in her heart, ^yI sit a queen,
And ^zI am no widow, and shall see
no sorrow.
^{aa}Therefore shall her plagues come ^{ab}in ^{ac}one day,
Death, and mourning, and famine ;
And ^{ad}she shall be utterly burnt with fire :
For ^{ae}strong is the Lord God who judgeth her.
And ^{af}the kings of the earth, ^{ag}who have committed fornication and ^{ah}lived deliciously with her, ^{ai}Shall bewail her, and lament for
her,
^{aj}When they shall see the smoke of her burning,
Standing afar off for the fear of her ^{ak}torment.
Saying, ^{al}Alas, alas, that great city
Babylon, that mighty city !
For ^{am}in one hour is thy judgment
come.

11 And ^dthe merchants of the earth shall
weep and mourn over her ; ^eFor no man buyeth their merchandise any more :
12 The merchandise ^fof gold, and silver,
And ^gprecious stones, and ^hof pearls,
And ⁱfine linen, and ^jpurple, and
silk, and ^kscarlet,
And all ^lthyine wood, and all manner
vessels of ivory,
And all manner vessels of most precious wood,
And of brass, and iron, and ^mmarble,
13 And ⁿcinnamon, and odours,
And ointments, and ^ofrankincense,
And wine, and oil,
And ^pfine flour, and wheat,
And beasts, and sheep, and horses,
and chariots,
And ^qslaves, and ^rsouls of men.
14 And the fruits that thy soul lusted
after are departed from thee,
And all things which were dainty and goodly are departed from thee,
And thou shalt find them no more
at all.
15 ^eThe merchants of these things,
^owhich were made rich by her,
Shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment,
16 Weeping and wailing, and saying,
^bAlas, alas, that great city,
^pThat was clothed in ^gfine linen, and ^fpurple, and ^fscarlet,
And decked ^fwith gold, and precious stones, and ^fpearls :
17 For ^cin one hour so great riches ^qis
come to nought.

And every ^tshipmaster, and all the company in ships,
And sailers, and as many as trade
by sea,
18 Stood afar off, and cried ^aWhen they saw the smoke of her burning, saying,
^sWhat city is like unto this great city?
19 And ^tthey cast dust on their heads,
And cried, ^uweeping and wailing,
saying,
^bAlas, alas, that great city,
^oWherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness :
For ^cin one hour ^qis she made desolate.
20 ^vRejoice over her, thou heaven,
And ye holy ^wapostles and prophets ;
For ^xGod hath avenged you on her.

And after these things ^aI heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, ^bAlleluia; ^cSalvation, and ^dglory, and ^ehonour, and ^fpower, unto the Lord our God: for ^ftrue and righteous ²*are* his judgments: for ^ghe hath judged ^hthe great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and ^ghath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand. And again they said, ^bAlleluia. And ^kher smoke rose up for ever and ever. And ^lthe four ⁴and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, ^mAmen; ^bAlleluia. And a voice came out of the ⁵throne, saying, ⁿPraise our God, all ^oye his servants, and ^pye that fear him, ^pboth small and great. And I heard ⁶*as it were* ^rthe voice of a great multitude, and ^sas the voice of many waters, and ^tas the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, ^bAlleluia: for ^vthe Lord God ^vOmnipotent reigneth. that she should be ^aarrayed in ^bfine linen, ^cclean and ^dwhite: for ^dthe fine linen is ^ethe righteousness of saints.
⁹ And he saith unto me, ^fWrite, ^gBlessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, ^hThese are the true sayings of God. And ⁱI fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, ^jSee thou do it not: I am ^kthy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that ^lhave the testimony of Jesus: ^mworship God: for ⁿthe testimony of Jesus is ^othe spirit of prophecy.

And I ¹John saw these things, and ⁸heard them. And when I had heard and seen, ¹⁰I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things. ¹¹Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God. And he saith unto me, ¹²Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: ¹³for the time is at hand. ¹⁴He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still. And ¹⁵behold, ¹⁶I come quickly; and ¹⁷my reward is with me, ¹⁸to give every man according as his work shall be. ¹⁹I am Alpha and ²⁰Omega, ²¹the beginning and the end, ²²the first and the last. ²³Blessed are ²⁴they that do his commandments, ²⁵that they may have right to ²⁶the tree of life, and ²⁷may enter in through the ²⁸gates into the city. For ²⁹without are ³⁰dogs, ³¹and ³²sorcerers, and ³³whoremongers, and

³⁷I Jesus have sent mine angel to ³⁸testify unto you these things in the churches. ³⁹I am the root and the offspring of David, ⁴⁰and the bright and ⁴¹morning ⁴²star. And the Spirit and ⁴³the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And ⁴⁴let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take ⁴⁵the water of life ⁴⁶freely. For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, ⁴⁷If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written ⁴⁸in this book: and if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, ⁴⁹God shall take away his part ⁵⁰out of ⁵¹the book of life, and out of ⁵²the holy city, and ⁵³from the things which are written in this book. ⁵⁴He which testifieth these things saith, ⁵⁵Surely I come quickly. Amen. ⁵⁶Even ⁵⁷so, come, Lord Jesus. ⁵⁸The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.
